NON-ATHLETIC BOARD MAKES FIRST RULINGS

ORGANIZATIONS SOLVENT

Purple Cow to Run Two Issues This Spring—Cap and Bells and "Lit." to Suspend

Yesterday evening, in Jesup Hall, the first meeting of the Board of Governors of the Non-athletic Council was held. At this time, officers of the board were elected for the coming year, and the advisability of reorganizing various undergraduate activities for the remainder of the college year was determined.

President Wright called the meeting to order, and the election of the other officers of the council then took place. Wyckoff '19 was chosen vice-president, and R. H. Smith '19 secretary of the board, and Mr. Botsford was reappointed graduate treasurer of the organization. The report of the graduate treasurer was then read and accepted, and a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Botsford for the time and attention he has given in this position.

The present status of undergraduate activities is remarkable, in that, taken altogether, the student body does not owe a single dollar, as, under the new board, the resources of all non-athletic activities have been pooled, it is found by the Graduate Treasurer's report that the total assets more than overbalance the liabilities. This condition obtains in spite of the fact that several of the single organizations were thrown heavily into debt by the war.

The council then proceeded with the determining of a policy regarding the reorganizing of several undergraduate activities. It was voted to substitute the word "Forensic" for "Adelphic" in Article 4, of the constitution of the Non-athletic Organizations. It was the sentiment of the board that Cap and Bells should not attempt to reorganize this spring, and consequently no plays will be given. Regarding the re-establishment of the Press Club, it was voted that the college should back this organization to the extent of $35. This amount is to cover any expense that may be entailed by members of the club in corresponding with newspapers which will not pay for such news as the club may furnish them. It was decided, in regard to the Williams publications, that the Literary Monthly should further suspend activities until the opening of college next fall. The Purple Cow, however, was authorized to issue two numbers this spring. As to the reorganization of the Good Government Club, the council took no action, and this matter will be decided at the next meeting. Because arrangements for several concerts by the Musical Clubs had already been made, no objection was raised to carrying out the spring trip.

The report of the Graduate Treasurer of the Non-Athletic Organizations follows:

TO CHOOSE TRUSTEE Ballots for Annual Election to be Sent to Alumni

Ballots for alumni trustee of the College for the term 1919-1920 will be sent out next week to all Williams graduates by the secretary of the Society of Alumni, Mr. William C. Hart '94. The five nominations were made last June at the annual meeting of the Society, and each alumnus will vote for one of the men on the ballot. At the same time he will indicate the five candidates whom he proposes for the 1920-1921 term. The five men who receive the greatest number of votes from this balloting will be announced at the annual meeting of the Society in June.

The following are the nominees for this year's term: Hon. John M. Killits '80, of Toledo, O., Judge of the U. S. District Court for the Northern District of Ohio.

Loran L. Lewis, Jr., '87, of Buffalo, N. Y., Professor of Law, Buffalo Law School, and Director of the Buffalo Historical Society.

Damon E. Hall, Esq., '97, of Boston, Mass., Permanent Class Secretary, Trial Attorney of the Boston and Maine Railroad and the Union Street Railway Co.

Frederic T. Wood, Esq., '98, of New York City, President of the Williams Club of New York.

FRATERNITIES DISCUSS CHANGES IN AGREEMENT

Revision Accepted By Thirteen Societies—Constitutional Amendment Is Proposed

With the addition of several minor changes made during the past week, the newly formulated interfraternity agreement was presented for the approval of the delegates at a meeting of the Interfraternity Council last Tuesday evening. Article I of the agreement has been changed to allow fraternity matters to be discussed with sub-freshmen previous to the opening of College, but no bidding or pledging will be allowed at that time. The period of ineligibility of men who break their pledges for fraternity election was changed from three to two months.

These revisions were acceptable to thirteen of the fraternities. The other fraternity consented to consider the agreement if certain matters concerning the making of amendments could be satisfactorily arranged. It is desired to change the constitution of the Council so that amendments to the agreement can be made by a majority vote instead of the ten to four vote necessary heretofore. An added provision states that amendments shall be made only during the period of two months which intervenes between the close of the rushing season and the re-ratification of the agreement. No decision was reached in regard to this matter.

Questions concerning the establishment of a two period or three period rushing season, and concerning the setting aside of a definite evening for all fraternity meetings, were discussed. These matters are to be brought up before the individual fraternities before the next meeting of the Council.

Intramurals Near Close

Phi Gamma Delta defeated Phi Sigma Kappa 12-6 last Wednesday evening in the Lasell Gymnasium and thus clinched the championship of League C in the Intramural Basketball League. Starting at 2.00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, the fifth and final round of the series will be played with the following contests scheduled:

2.00 p. m.—League A, Psi Upsilon vs. Delta Psi; Theta Delta Chi vs. Phi Delta Theta; 3.00 p. m.—League B, Delta Upsilon vs. Chi Psi; Alpha Delta Phi vs. Beta Theta Pi; 4.00 p. m.—League C, Zeta Psi vs. Sigma Phi.

Mass Meeting Tomorrow

In view of the fact that tomorrow's game with Amherst will be the last of the season, there will be a mass meeting of the entire College body on the steps of Lasell Gymnasium at 12.00 o'clock noon tomorrow to give the team a final send-off. Manager Roth requests that as many undergraduates as possible be on hand at that time.

FORUM HOLDS FIRST GENERAL DISCUSSION

PROF. PRATT IS SPEAKER

Knox Criticisms of League of Nations Said to be Founded on Fallacious Principles

At the first meeting of the Forum held last Monday evening in Jesup Hall, Professor J. B. Pratt addressed a large number of undergraduates on the general subject of "The League of Nations", stressing particularly the criticisms of the League presented by Senator Knox. The meeting was followed by a general discussion in which many new and interesting views of the present international situation were advanced.

Hedden '19, as chairman, opened the meeting with a brief statement of the rules which will guide future meetings of the Forum. Meetings are open to all and, everyone present is invited and expected to contribute to the discussions. The principal speaker will not be limited to any definite period of time, but will not be expected to speak longer than thirty minutes, while speeches during the period of open discussion will be limited to five minutes each. The principal speaker will be allowed to conclude the discussion by a brief defense of any points of his speech which may be attacked.

As the best method of analyzing the principles involved in the League of Nations, Professor Pratt chose to discuss and refute, wherever possible, the objections and criticisms of the League submitted by Senator Knox. The contents of the Senator's speech can be classified under three heads, the first of which deals with minor problems which must necessarily be dealt with by the League itself.

The second part of the speech, however, sets forth four definite objections to the plan recently outlined by President Wilson: first, that the League of Nations would render war probable and even necessary in some cases; second, it would be contrary to the Constitution of the United States; third, it would destroy our independence and leave

EX-PRESIDENT CARTER TELLS OF GEORGE ELIOT

Characteristics and Works of Noted Novelist Discussed in Tuesday Lecture

Taking as his subject "Stories of George Eliot", Ex-President Franklin Carter delivered the ninth of the current series of Tuesday Lectures last Tuesday afternoon in the Thompson Physical Laboratory. In the lecture he gave a brief insight into George Eliot's life, showing her deep interest in the human race and made a critical examination of her works.

Dr. Carter started his lecture with the statement that George Eliot has often been looked down upon because she had no ceremony to her first marriage. But he went on to explain how unjust the criticism is, since she could not see the wrong, although she expected condemnation. Furthermore her second marriage was made in a purely Christian manner and, unsatisfactory as her ethical principles may seem to some people, there is no reason why her works should be condemned.

Speaking about her works, Dr. Carter stated that the loss of those novels would have meant a calamity to the multitude of admirers of literature. Her writings are to be classed with those of Thackeray, Dickens, and other great English novelists. He then asked the question, "Are the authors of the mid-Victorian period (in which she came) more entrancing than those of the present?" and gave his reasons for believing in the affirmative.

George Eliot's first clerical stories were printed when she was thirty-eight years of age. Three years later her first long story, Adam Bede was published. She is supposed to have obtained the plot from a visit to a prison where she found a woman who had murdered her child and had been condemned to death. Throughout the novel there are evidences of circumstances which occurred in her own early life, and Adam Bede is in some ways the characterization of her father.

Adam Bede has often been said to be her best story, but unlike many great authors, her first book does not stand out as being far superior to her other works and since all of her inspiration was not embodied in this one book, she was able to write other great novels. Many people prefer Silas Marner, while Williams will end this year's basketball season by the contest with Amherst tomorrow evening at 8.00 o'clock in the Pratt Gymnasium at Amherst. The Purple and White has lost the last three games in a row to the varsity, and since 1901, when the first contest was held, it has won but five times to a total of seven victories for the Williams team. Five weeks ago Williams triumphed over Amherst in the Lasell Gymnasium by a score of 30-17, and since the line-ups will be practically the same for tomorrow's game, an exceedingly close and exciting battle is predicted.

So far this year, the two teams have a similar record of three victories and six defeats each. The comparative results in games against common opponents point to an even greater rivalry. Amherst and Williams have both lost twice to Union, though Amherst was defeated by a narrower margin, and won from M. A. C. once. But Wesleyan, which overcame the varsity twice, was vanquished by the Purple and White. A comparison of the scores, however, furnishes little with which to judge the relative merits of the opposing fives. The Red and Black easily trimmed Williams at the first meeting by 30-17, but three periods were required to decide the second contest in favor of Wesleyan by a 39-35 score. After winning from the latter 23-20, the Amherst quintet expected to gain a fairly easy victory over the varsity. But they were literally swept off their feet by a 30-17 defeat.

Captain Kennedy, at right forward on the home team, has been the most consistent player throughout the season, scoring more points than any other man. The other forward, Zink, who runs close on the heels of Kennedy in points scored, showed up to good advantage in the first game at Williamstown. Palmer and Snider have both made good at the guard positions, while Maynard has been a strong factor at center. This line-up, which will in all probability start in the game tomorrow, is the same as that which opposed Williams in the former contest.

Since there was no game scheduled for last Saturday, the practice has been light for the last two weeks. Coach Wachter has been trying to preserve the men's strength as much as possible, and has particularly emphasized the practice in passing and shooting, in which the five has shown itself erratic heretofore. Manning has entirely recovered from the muscle bruise sustained

Vol. 33 MARCH 14, 1919 No. 1

At a meeting of the Board yesterday afternoon in 17 Jesup Hall, Howard Radcliffe Coan, 1921, of New York, Richard Horrocks Balch, 1921, of Utica, N. Y., Herbert Maxwell Brune, 1922, of Baltimore, Md., and Harry Klock Schaulier, 1922, of Washington, D. C. were elected to the editorial staff. At the same time Oliver Vanderbilt Lee, 1920, of East Orange, N. J., and Charles Casper Noble, 1921, of Newton Highlands, Mass., were elected to the business staff.

Volume XXXIII

With this issue the 1920 Board takes over the administration of the Record, volume XXXII having been completed, and 1919 having finished its tour of duty. A new administration always brings with it new ideas and new ideals, fresh aspirations and fresh enthusiasm, and accordingly we think it fitting to state at this time the general principles which are to guide us in the publication of this new volume.

In the larger questions of purpose we naturally differ not at all from our predecessors. The welfare of Williams College as a whole has always been the fundamental reason for the existence of the Record, as it is of all undergraduate institutions. Through progress alone can this end be realized; for in the absence of progress stagnation of necessity sets in. The old question of destructive and constructive criticism enters here, and it is well to define our attitude on this question. Nothing but construction can be consistent with progress. We consider, therefore, anything which tends towards a better Williams as being of its nature constructive. It is entirely probable that we shall find, in the course of our year's work, the kind of evil which needs nothing but tearing down. It is evident that the mere destruction of harmful states of affairs is in itself constructive. But if the nature of the object of our criticism is such that a substitute is necessary, then we shall endeavor to suggest one.

The criticism of the bad, the commendation and encouragement of the good, and the suggestion of the better we conceive to be the primary function of such a column as this. The Record expects to take sides, but before choosing any one attitude of thought we purpose to investigate, to weigh all the evidence available, and to take our stand only when we have achieved a logical decision and a firm conviction. Our course will be thoroughly independent which welcomes criticism and advice from others, taking them for what they are worth in the light of impartial reasoning. Adverse criticism is expected, and, indeed, welcomed, and it is largely for that purpose that we keep open the column for communications on this page. This year we are anxious to make more of this column than ever before. We wish to enlarge and vitalize it in order to give undergraduate opinion, in particular, a chance to become articulate and concrete. Let this communication column be a meeting ground of public opinion, which is greatly in need of a crystalizing agent. The alumni, too, have here a means of communication with the active college. Especially will we welcome suggestions and criticism on the policy of the Record; for the clash of opposing ideas is productive of energy and clarity of thought. A man never really understands his own position until he has heard the other point of view expressed.

In the news columns, we can place before ourselves no higher purpose than a return to the standards of a few years ago. The Record has felt the blighting hand of war in many ways, all of which have tended to lower its quality. It would have been impossible to maintain the old level of accuracy, completeness, and interest during those chaotic months, but now that the College is once more on the road of recovery of its normalness, handicaps are removed. A return to the schedule of three issues a week is not yet possible. We hope to recommence that custom at the beginning of the next college year.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Record:
Sir:

I desire to apologize to the college body for the manner in which The Mountains was rendered at the "Eph" Williams smoker last Friday night. It was entirely my thoughtlessness, and the blame should not rest with anyone else.

in practice recently, and will be able to alternate with Bonner at center. Chapman and Gahagan will also be taken along to substitute for Richmond and Burrows at guard. Wright has proved to be the highest point scorer in field baskets, but Captain Carick has developed particular accuracy in the free throws. The statistics on points scored this season by the individual players is as follows: Carick 68, Wright 42, Burrows 26, Bonner 18, Manning 14, Chapman 6, and Carson 4, making a total of 178 tallies to the opponents 211. Amherst has scored a total of 202 points to their opponents 226. This is 24 more than was made by the Williams five.

The probable line-up for the game tomorrow evening is as follows:

Bonner, c.	c., Maynard
Burrows, l. g.	r. f., Kennedy, Capt.

us defenseless; fourth, that such a League would be inconsistent with our national interests, the Monroe Doctrine in particular. Professor Pratt successfully refuted the first of these objections in a very convincing manner and showed that the possibilities of war mentioned by Senator Knox, are at best, very improbable. The only way to obviate such possibilities would be to deprive the nations of their sovereign right of declaring war, a method which the senator declares unconstitutional in his second criticism of the League.

Senator Knox's second criticism maintains the unconstitutionality of the League. In such an event it would seem that the senator has failed to note that the arbitration and Panama Canal treaties, which he negotiated as Secretary of State, can also be judged unconstitutional by the same standards. The third and fourth criticisms are of similar import, and Professor Pratt showed that the principles set forth by them are of a contradictory nature and refute each other to a marked degree. It is true that the League of Nations would be inconsistent with the method adopted by the United States of enforcing the Monroe Doctrine, that is, the policy of isolation. However, it would secure the protection of the weaker nations in this hemisphere, which is the original purpose of the Doctrine.

The discussion which followed the main address brought out several other points in favor of the League. The equal share of all nations in the advantages as well as the burdens of membership were emphasized, as well as the impossibility of large combinations of Powers within the League. The point was brought out that the permanent bureaus which are to be established to settle colonial disputes, labor questions, and other matters of similar import, may well be expected to prove efficient and satisfactory.

In concluding the session, Professor Pratt answered numerous questions which were put to him. He asserted that the present opportunity of establishing a League of Nations will not be repeated until after another long and bloody war, and that it is to the distinct advantage of this nation to make use of this opportunity in the near future.

Ex-President Carter

others consider Romola her greatest work. It is practically impossible to declare any one of her greater novels better than the others, and one may only express his preference. All of her longest books have been said to be her best by different critics.

In Romola the degeneracy of Tito excites the extreme interest. She shows how this character sacrifices honor and duty for pleasure, and traces out the conflict between liberal culture and shame. In this book, as well as in other ones, she developed her characters with great intensity of feeling.

In all of her writings she has shown how acute her sympathy was for man kind. Her stories exhibit the author's fine discernment of humanity, and give us an idea of the reality of children's struggles. When she wrote a book, she placed herself in the position of the character, and mentally lived the life of the character. Often she took events from her own life. As her own marriage was considered unsatisfactory, so were the marriages of her characters often open to criticism.

To show how she felt when she was writing a book, one of the Harper brothers tells us that when he called on her, he noticed as she came down the stairs, that her eyes were red from weeping. On being questioned, she admitted that she had been crying for one of her child characters. It is this intense interest in her work that has helped to make her novels so realistic and the characters so true to life.

To Discuss Proposed League

In a speaking tour of the western part of the state to win support for the League of Nations, J. Randolph Coolidge, Jr., president of the Massachusetts branch of the League to Enforce Peace, will deliver an address this afternoon at 4.45 o'clock in the Thompson Physical Laboratory. Mr. Coolidge is an intimate friend of Ex-President Taft, and is thus eminently qualified to speak with authority on the subject. Since graduating from Harvard and Massachusetts Institute of Technology, he has gained a wide reputation as an architect in Boston. From 1891-1894 he was a student of the Ecole des Beaux Arts, Paris. Mr. Coolidge is now a trustee of the Boston Athenaeum and of the Museum of Fine Arts, and director of the Associated Charities of Boston. Following his address here he will go to North Adams, where he will speak this evening on the same topic.

Council Awards Train Agencies

Various agencies were awarded at a meeting of the Student Council held last Wednesday evening in Jesup Hall. Davis '19 and Carick '20 will have charge of the special trains running to New York at the Easter vacation, and Squire '19 and Thexton '21 those for Chicago and western points. The agency for senior caps and gowns was given to Coates and Parker '19. At the same time the Council decided to change Section I of the Undergraduate Rules relating to the election of assistant managers of major teams to read "25 semester hours" instead of 38 semester hours which a candidate must have completed to be eligible for election.

Hoyt '19 has been elected chairman and Merselis '19 treasurer of the Class Day Committee.

Rev. Dr. Ross Preaches Sunday

Rev. G. A. Johnston Ross, D. D., of the Union Theological Seminary, New York City, will occupy the pulpit in the College Chapel next Sunday morning. Dr. Ross graduated from the Royal Academy, at Inverness, Scotland, and in 1884 received his M. A. degree from the University of Edinburgh. Four years later he completed his preparation for the ministry at the United Presbyterian College in Edinburgh and was ordained in 1890. After preaching in Scotland and England for 19 years, he accepted a pastorate at Bryn Mawr, Pa. In 1912 he was made Professor of Practical Theology at the Presbyterian College in Montreal, and later in the same year he accepted his present position as Professor of Homiletics at the Union Theological Seminary.

The regular Sunday evening meeting of the Williams Christian Association will be omitted this week and a meeting of the cabinet will be held in its stead, for the purpose of discussing the plans for this year and the year to come.

At the meeting the rules of the competition will be explained and work will not be handed in until the following night.

Forum to Hear Prof. Morton

Professor Morton will speak on "The League of Nations" before the second meeting of the Forum in the Reading Room of Jesup Hall at eight o'clock next Thursday evening. He will defend the negative side of the question attacked by Prof. Pratt at the last session, laying particular stress on the dangers incurred in surrendering our national sovereignty, entering entangling alliances, and departing from the traditional policy of isolation.

At the conclusion of this address the college body will have had the opportunity of hearing both sides of the question presented and should have come to a definite conclusion as to the advisability or inadvisability of such a League of Nations. As a method of giving expression to this sentiment The Record in co-operation with the Forum intends to take a straw vote of the undergraduate body on next Friday. The results of the poll will be sent to the Massachusetts Senators and Representatives in Congress, and to President Wilson.

To Lecture on Walt Whitman

Prof. A. H. Licklider will deliver the tenth of the current series of Tuesday Lectures tomorrow afternoon at 4.45 o'clock in the Thompson Physical Laboratory, taking as his subject "Walt Whitman, 1819-1919". The lecture will commemorate the one-hundredth anniversary of Mr. Whitman's birth.

J. RANDOLPH COOLIDGE SPEAKS ON LEAGUE PLAN

Present Covenant Will Prevent Future Wars—Does Not En- danger Sovereignty

Upholding vigorously various phases of the proposed covenant of the League of Nations, Mr. J. Randolph Coolidge Jr. of Boston, president of the Massachusetts branch of the League to Enforce Peace, delivered an interesting address before a large audience of students and townspeople last Friday afternoon in the Thompson Physical Laboratory. The speaker emphasized particularly the structure of the Body of Delegates and the Executive Council, which, he claimed, will give the United States a fair representation and in no way will endanger our sovereignty.

In introducing the main subject of his lecture, Mr. Coolidge described the desolation which the war brought to Europe and the great efforts put forth by the various allied nations to bring the war to a successful conclusion. Scotland sent one-seventh of her total population to the front, many of whom never returned, and her record is equaled by that of France and many parts of the British empire. Even Switzerland, a neutral country, had to mobilize 450,000 men for the defense of her boundaries and expend over $300,000,000. Such sufferings as these, the speaker said, have not been felt in the United States.

WILLIAMS OVERWHELMS AMHERST BY DECISIVE SCORE OF 41-28

BURROWS IS CAPTAIN-ELECT FOR NEXT YEAR'S TEAM

Wright and Carick Star for Williams, Scoring Total of 33 out of 41 Points—Kennedy Plays Best Game for Amherst —Team Ends Season with 6 Defeats and 4 Victories

At the banquet held at the Draper Hotel in Northampton after the Amherst game last Saturday, the basketball team elected Frank Ely Burrows 1920 of Lake Placid, N. Y., captain for next year. Through the basketball season this year he has played a consistently hard game at guard, and has been one of the mainstays of the team in both defensive and offensive work.

Burrows prepared for Williams at Ridgefield School in Ridgefield, Conn., where he was active in athletics during the four years that he spent there. In his senior year he was captain of the basketball and baseball teams, and was also a member of the football team. Late in the season his leg was crushed by a steamroller so that he was unable to take part in class sports in his freshman year at College. Last year he substituted at forward on the varsity basketball team. After playing for a short time with his class nine in the spring, he was taken on the varsity as pitcher.

On returning to College this winter after being stationed with the S. A. T. C. at Yale last fall, Burrows started the basketball season in the position of guard, and has since proved himself reliable in every department of the game. In points scored he stands third, ranking next to the forwards with a record of 32 and he has succeeded in keeping his opponents down to comparatively low scores. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

On both sides to rely on long shots with the result that the Varsity secured seven field goals to Amherst's five.

Snider and Kennedy, who scored all but two points for their team, starred for Amherst. They worked well together and by their clever passing often carried the ball well into Williams territory, but they were erratic in shooting. The opposing guards were unable to cover the varsity forwards and their playing was not up to the standard set by their team mates. On the whole, they displayed better form than in their previous games but did not equal the unusual speed shown by their opponents.

Wright with six field goals and Carick with five led the Purple's attack. Burrows was a mainstay of the defense, holding his opponent to three baskets and scoring twice. Chapman played a brilliant defensive game while Bonner at center held his opponent scoreless and accounted for two baskets himself. At first the varsity five exhibited a tendency to bunch when they had the ball, due, probably, to the fact that they were playing on a larger court than that to which they are accustomed. They soon remedied this fault and were able to penetrate the Amherst defense by fast teamwork and clever passing. Wright repeatedly avoided his guard and made several neat shots from near the basket. Carick and Burrows showed unusual skill in their long shots from the center of the floor.

Carick showed his usual accuracy from the foul line, caging 11 out of a possible 15 goals from the foul line. Kennedy of Amherst made 12 free throws out of 19. 27 out of the 34 fouls made were personals but Zink of Amherst was the only man put out of the game with four against him.

Amherst took the lead at the very beginning of the game and scored seven points while Williams had only one free throw to her credit. Two baskets in Playing the fastest and most accurate brand of basketball of the season, the varsity defeated the Amherst five by the decisive score of 41 to 28 last Saturday evening in Pratt gymnasium. The game was closely contested throughout, although the Purple's lead was never overcome after the first five minutes of play.

Very few chances for scoring were lost by the varsity and many of the shots were from the middle of the floor. The passing was of high order and enabled the Varsity forwards to make many shots from under the basket. The playing was close during the entire game but was marred by many fouls. In the first half the Williams forwards secured seven field goals by repeatedly breaking through the Purple and White defense. During the second period there was a tendency

It is with honest regret that the Record notes the decision of the Non-Athletic Board restraining the Literary Monthly from publication this spring. By giving an opportunity to Williams men to develop, while they are at the right age for it, facility and style in self-expression, the Lit. has long played an essential part in rounding out the many-sided culture on which the College prides itself. That this opportunity is refused for one whole year is truly unfortunate. May it enjoy a worthy resurrection next fall.

The Record is strongly tempted not to allow to pass without editorial comment the record of success evidenced in the initial meeting of the Non-Athletic Board. Finances have always been a problem to undergraduate organizations and during war times the problem assumed threatening proportions. The principle of communization as applied in this case has had excellent results (for which the Graduate Treasurer is in large degree responsible), and equal benefits will doubtless accrue from its workings in the future.

Publicity

Lack of publicity of the proper sort has been a much lamented fault in the scheme of things at Williams in recent years. Now that the Press Club has been reorganized and is backed by the authority and the dollars of the Non-Athletic Board, this deficiency has at last been filled. If the members of the Club recognize the responsibility which rests upon them and will lend their best energies to the task, the College will once again have its due representation in the reading rooms of preparatory schools and in the columns of daily papers.

One further step forward, however, suggests itself. Closer relations between Williams men and the schools at which they prepared can do much towards attracting the right sort of freshmen. Although this is largely a matter for the attention of the individual man, there is a way by which the Faculty can facilitate such relations,—a way which in at least one university has been practiced with great success. Each student is allowed to visit his preparatory school over the week-end ad lib., and to make this possible absences from Sunday services are excused upon presentation to the Dean of a statement, certified by the proper authorities, that he has attended the regular religious services at his school. Would this not be both worth-while and practical at Williams?

To Construct Three Baseball Diamonds

cluding three regulation-size, well-built diamonds will be furnished, and frequent intramural games will be encouraged.

The diamonds are to be built on Cole Field, and will be complete in every detail, including "skinned" grass infields, raised pitchers' mounds, and backstops sunk in concrete foundations. After these are completed, and until Weston Field is in proper condition the varsity will use the new diamonds for practice. The real purpose for which they are to be constructed, however, is to offer to the college body a satisfactory place to play baseball.

Coach Thomas, the author of the idea, is a firm believer in baseball as a recreation and a physical developer, and has expressed many times during the two years he has been at Williams his regret that more men were not able to take up the game. In hope of altering this condition Mr. Thomas conferred with Mr. Botsford, Graduate Treasurer of the Athletic Council, Mr. Hoyt, College Treasurer, and several members of the faculty. He found them all heartily in favor of the plan and with their aid hopes to have the work on the diamonds begun as soon as weather conditions make it practicable.

Mr. Thomas' action in this matter is an evidence of the unselfish interest he has taken in Williams students ever since his advent as baseball coach in the spring of 1917. He has been one of the most popular coaches Williams has ever had, with both the team and the College body as a whole. In regard to his new project Coach Thomas stated, "I shall do everything I can to help men, no matter how little baseball they know, even if it takes me from early in the morning until late at night." With the benefit of instruction such as Mr. Thomas is qualified to give, and with three diamonds soon to be completed, there seems no reason why an unparalleled interest in baseball should not be aroused among Williams men.

and consequently the American people are not so eager to form a league which will prevent future warfare. This country has not done enough because it aided in bringing the war to a successful conclusion; it must be mindful of its interest in protecting the future safety of the world.

Mr. Coolidge then sketched briefly the beginnings of the league plan, telling how the Peace Conference decided early that the final treaty of peace should contain the constitution of a league of the free nations of the world. In three weeks the committee which was charged with drawing up the plan reported unanimously in favor of the present draft. The shortness of the time, the speaker said justifies certain omissions and testifies to the extreme anxiety of the committee to complete their labors. Mr. Coolidge violently attacked Senator Knox who said that the constitution of the league would increase rather than diminish causes for future wars. The plan is the work of the responsible heads of the greatest nations of the world. "Of what avail," he asked, "is the word of Senator Knox on this subject against that of the representatives of the nations who made war and who were even instrumental in beginning the war?" Perhaps some of the objections of prominent Americans to the proposed covenant may be explained by the fact that it represents the British rather than the American idea of a constitution. The present draft follows very closely the plan proposed by General Jan Christian Smuts of the Union of South Africa about a year ago. General Smuts made it clear that there were many functions of the league which will spring up in the future, although they are quite unthought of now. It may even lead to an international control of raw materials and the economic needs of the world will be regulated just as the manufacture and distribution of food and war materials were regulated by the Allies during the war. This will no more endanger our sovereignty than does the present universal postal union.

Mr. Coolidge then went into a discussion of the structure of the league which consists principally of three main features, a body of delegates, an executive council and a permanent secretariat. Concerning the last, which will exercise the administrative functions of the league, there has been little controversy. The Body of Delegates will be a forum for the consideration of international questions and therefore it is only just that every nation, great and small, should be represented there.

No nation will have more than three delegates, who may be chosen in any way that the nation desires. The speaker said that he hoped that the delegates from this country will be chosen by popular vote and that in time this condition will spread to the other nations thus making the league one of peoples not of governments. There will even be a chance for representation of the minority in countries that have over one delegate, thus giving a continuity of representation. The executive council will consist of nine members, five representing the five great nations, United States, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan and four who will not represent any specific nations but a group of small nations. The constitution provides that every nation must be given a hearing before this body. The council will use its executive power in maintaining the safety of the world against possible outbreaks of war. It will consider the reduction of armaments and make recommendations to the various governments as to the extent to which they should reduce their military forces and still maintain a sufficient force to keep internal order and fulfill their international obligations. The covenant also provides for a military commission to investigate the armaments of the various nations and to report if a nation is exceeding her needs or is endeavoring to build up a military machine. As an alternative to this gradual disarmament, Mr. Coolidge vividly painted future warfare, in which

U. S. R. CORPS FORMED

All Officers Who Have Served During War Are Eligible

Men who have served as officers in the war are to be formed into an Officers' Reserve Corps, according to recent plans of the War Department. While the number in the corps has not been limited, 70,000 to 100,000 are expected to enlist. In times of war the President may order a reserve corps officer to active duty, when he will receive mileage at seven cents a mile to his first station and compensation at the prescribed rate for the corresponding grade in the regular army will be paid while he is on active duty. No reserve officer will be called during the present emergency, however. In time of peace, reserve corps officers can be called for only fifteen days in any one calendar year, but because of present conditions, it is not believed that they will be called for training in 1919.

Reserve officers desiring to leave the continental limits of the United States will have to obtain permission for such absence from the Adjutant General, but in order to be absent more than a year they will have to resign their commissions. Acceptance of resignations, which may be made at any time, is at the discretion of the President of the United States.

Requests for appointment to the Reserve Officers' Corps should be sent to Major Philoon Chief of the Concurrence Section, Washington, D. C. War Department records of applicants will be assembled and passed upon in this office and referred to that branch of the service in which appointment is desired. Commissions will be sent out from the Adjutant General's office, and upon their acceptance by the candidates, they become members of the Officers' Reserve Corps.

In order to keep informed of the latest military thought, reserve officers may obtain at small cost publications from the Superintendent of Public Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Williams Overwhelms Amherst

and the Williams five gained confidence and began to roll up a large score. Amherst scored on a foul, and on a basket from the center of the floor by Snider, while Williams finished up the half with three more free throws, a basket by Bonner after a hot scrimmage, and a clever shot by Wright from near the side lines. The score at the end of the first period stood 22 to 12 in the varsity's favor.

Carick started the scoring in the second half with a basket from the center of the court. Kennedy then broke away from his guard and scored twice but Wright carried the ball down the floor on the next play and, after shaking off the opposing guards, caged an easy shot. Burrows soon tallied two pretty shots from difficult positions. Carick made two more baskets and a free shot and Bonner, receiving the ball on a clever pass added two a minute later. The Amherst team was slowed down by this attack and, by the work of Snider, Kennedy and Kilby tallied only three more field goals. Kennedy made six shots from the foul line during this half and Carick made five. During the last minutes of play both teams made several substitutions, Manning and Gahagan going in for Williams and Eames and MacCormack for Amherst.

The lineup and summary follow:

Williams	Amherst

GREYLOCK REMODELED

Hotel, Altered After $18,000 Fire, to Open May 24

Repairs and alterations costing in the neighborhood of $18,000 are being made on the Greylock Hotel because of the fire last October. The greatest loss was incurred in the rooms on the top floor, but the water penetrated everywhere necessitating redecoration and new painting throughout the building.

The greatest change is in the office or lounge on the first floor which has been enlarged by the addition of what used to be the ladies' parlor. New windows, a new hardwood floor and a paneled ceiling will add greatly to the attractiveness of the room. The former ballroom, with a fireplace added will serve as a ladies' parlor. Another big item in the renovation is the installation of a fireproof elevator to take the place of the present one which is not of modern construction.

All of the rooms for the 300 guests that can be accommodated in the hotel are undergoing complete refinishing, which includes new wallpaper, and painting, new lighting arrangements, and closets instead of wooden wardrobes.

Mr. C. O. Chapman of Williamstown who has charge of the renovation and alterations expects everything, including the painting of the whole building the color of the new annex, to be ready by the middle of May. The opening of the hotel is set for May 24.

HOW TO GET $60 BONUS

Discharged Men Eligible for Additional Compensation

Section 1406 of the Revenue Act, approved February 14, 1919, authorizes the payment of a bonus of $60 to all officers and enlisted men of the army and navy who are no longer in active service. Inasmuch as there has been some question as to the correct procedure necessary to secure this money, the following information from a circular of the War Department is given: "Those men who have been discharged and have received their final pay without the $60 bonus should write to the Zone Finance Officer, Lemon Building, Washington, D. C., stating their service since April 6, 1917, the date of their last discharge, and the address to which they wish the bonus checks to be sent. In this letter it is necessary to enclose their discharge certificate or military order for discharge, or both, if both were issued. Checks will be drawn by the Zone Finance Officer and mailed to the claimants in the order in which their claims reach him. The discharge certificate will be returned with the check. Because of the great number of men already discharged, it will manifestly take considerable time to write and mail the checks. Men discharged from the navy will write for their bonuses to the Disbursing Department, Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

REGULAR SCHEDULE OF INTRAMURALS FINISHED

Phi Delta Theta, Chi Psi, and Phi Gamma Delta to Play for the Championship

With the exception of the Theta Delta Chi-Phi Delta Theta contest for the championship of League B, the game of the fifth round of the intramural basketball schedule played last week were unimportant and had little bearing on the final standings. However, a spirited competition for the cellar championship in two of the three leagues developed into some of the fastest plays of the entire series.

In League A, Phi Delta Theta established a clear title for first honors by defeating Theta Delta Chi by a score of 16 to 5 last Friday evening. Chi Psi strengthened its claim to the championship of League B by winning from Delta Upsilon the following afternoon, while Phi Gamma Delta is the only five in League C which has not met defeat.

Psi Upsilon opposed Delta Psi in the first game Saturday afternoon and succeeded in nosing out a 6 to 4 victory. The contest was very close at all times and it was only during the final minutes of play that a basket by Tyler decided the struggle in favor of Psi Upsilon. Goals by Coughlin and Patton placed their team in the lead in the first half but the Delta Psi five was unable to score during the final period. Score—Psi Upsilon 6, Delta Psi 4. Referee—Thexton '21.

In the second game Chi Psi had little trouble in overwhelming Delta Upsilon by a score of 26 to 7. The winning five made nine of their thirteen baskets during the second half and held their opponents to two points during that period. The contest was one of the roughest of the season and was marred by several altercations. Lyon and Fieser did most of the scoring for Chi Psi while Kellogg played the best game for the losers. Score—Chi Psi 26, Delta Upsilon 7. Referee—Thexton '21.

The third and final game of the afternoon was by far the fastest and most interesting, with Alpha Delta Phi and Beta Theta Pi contending for the cellar championship of League C. Alpha Delta Phi gained a two point lead over their opponents early in the game and were on the long end of a 6 to 4 score at half time. Baskets by Kimball and Henderson gave Beta Theta Pi a slight advantage in the second period but a last minute rally decided the contest in favor of Alpha Delta Phi. Score—Alpha Delta Phi 14, Beta Theta Pi 8. Referee—Carson '20.

Zeta Psi failed to put a team on the floor for their game scheduled with Sigma Phi and the contest was forfeited to their opponents.

The final standing of the teams in the three leagues follows:—

League A
	Won	Lost	Av'ge
Phi Delta Theta	4	0	1.000
Theta Delta Chi	3	1	.750
Delta Psi	1	3	.250
Commons Club	1	3	.250
Psi Upsilon	1	3	.250
League B
Chi Psi	4	0	1.000
Delta Kappa Epsilon	3	1	.750
Delta Upsilon	2	2	.500
Alpha Delta Phi	1	3	.250
Beta Theta Pi	0	4	.000
League C
Phi Gamma Delta	4	0	1.000
Phi Sigma Kappa	2	2	.500
Kappa Alpha	2	2	.500
Sigma Phi	2	2	.500
Zeta Psi	0	4	.000

MUSICAL CLUBS APPEAR

Hold Initial Performance of Year at Empire Theatre

Last night at the Empire Theatre in North Adams the Combined Musical Clubs made their first appearance of the year when they took part in a program for the benefit of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. This was in preparation for the extended trip which the Clubs will make during the Easter vacation. The first number, a medley of college songs, which was sung by the Glee Club to the accompaniment of the Mandolin Club, was very well received, and the other numbers were also rendered very creditably. One of the features of the program was furnished by a quintet, consisting of Power '20 on the mandolin, Foster '20 on the traps, Tiebout '20 on the violin, Gray '21 on the guitar, and Coleman '22 at the piano, which played a number of popular songs. The complete program was as follows:

Medley of College Songs

Combined Musical Clubs
The Ghost Dance Mandolin Club
The Dance of the Dolls Mandolin Club Popular Songs Quintet
John Peel Glee Club
Foolish Questions Glee Club
Kreutzer '18 as soloist

aircraft and poison gas will figure to a great extent.

The function of mandatory, whereby a powerful nation takes over the control and development of some dependent nation like Armenia or Palestine, was then explained at length. For the first time in the history of the world, a state takes control of an undeveloped country for the benefit of the dependent, not for its exploitation. Every state that holds a mandatory over another must submit an annual report to the Executive Council.

As an alternative to the covenant of the League of Nations, Mr. Coolidge spoke of the Monroe Doctrine. Our stewardship of the South American countries has been to our credit but nevertheless it has always implied that our will is law and thus is decidedly imperialistic in its operation. He also claimed that on account of our interference in Panama, the United States was held in dread by many of the other countries of the western hemisphere.

Matters arising which will require arbitration between two countries will be taken care by the countries interested unless they affect the international situation, when they will be referred to an executive court created by the executive council. A nation, outside the league, that fails to accept the findings of this court will be merely defying public opinion, but a member of the league will be committing an act of war. Retaliation will be brought about by an economic boycott. The covenant has been purposely made very difficult to amend in order that no nation will find herself being forced to accept something which she does not desire. A unanimous vote of the executive council and a three-fourths vote of the body of delegates is necessary to pass an amendment.

Mr. Coolidge closed his talk by remarking the singular attractiveness of the league in regard to international financial co-operation. The war debt of the world, he said, might be assumed by the league and paid by a tax on international trade. Germany, however, must be taxed to her utmost in order that she pay off the indemnity which will be accorded to her.

FOOTBALL AND TRACK SCHEDULES RATIFIED

AMHERST HERE NEXT FALL

Three Dual Meets to Be Held in May—Smith '19 Resigns Managership of Track

The ratification of schedules for the spring track season and next fall's football games was the principal business of a meeting of the Athletic Council held yesterday afternoon in Jesup Hall. At the same time the resignation of Smith '19 from the managership of track was accepted, and class insignia was awarded to the members of the Freshman basketball team. Smith's successor has not as yet been chosen.

The football schedule is comprised of eight games with exactly the same opponents that were faced by Williams in the fall of 1917. Four of the contests will be played at Williamstown, including that with Amherst, which will end the season. The Purple and White team also came here in 1917, but in view of the fact that the team representing the Williams unit of the S. A. T. C. played at Amherst last fall, the Williams-Amherst game, always the biggest affair of the season, will be at Williamstown on Nov. 15. The schedule follows:

Sept. 27—Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy.
Oct. 4—Union at Williamstown.
Oct. 11—Cornell at Ithaca.
Oct. 18—Columbia at New York City.
Oct. 25—Hamilton at Williamstown.
Nov. 1—Wesleyan at Middletown.
Nov. 8—Middlebury at Williamstown.
Nov. 15—Amherst at Williamstown.

Three dual track-meets and the annual New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association meet at Boston form the track schedule. The addition of Wesleyan to the list is the only change from last year. The schedule follows:

May 3—Union at Williamstown.
May 10—Wesleyan at Williamstown.
May 17—Amherst at Amherst.
May 23-24—N. E. I. C. A. A. meet at Boston.

Eight freshmen were awarded 1922 insignia for class basketball. They are as follows: Baker, J. M., Cobb, Hyde, Kellogg, Richmond, Wilcox, Wilson, Bro-man '22.

Oxford Man to Preach Sunday

The Rev. Willard L. Sperry, pastor of the Central Congregational Church of Boston, will occupy the pulpit in the College Chapel next Sunday morning. Mr. Sperry graduated from Olivet College, Mich., in 1904, and was one of the first Rhodes scholars from the United States, taking his degree from Queens College, Oxford, in 1907. While pursuing his studies at Oxford, he acted as captain and coach of the first crew. Immediately after his return to America, he was called to the First Congregational Church of Fall River, Mass., where he remained as pastor for three years until he went to his present position in the Central Congregational Church of Boston, Mass.

W. C. A. to Collect Old Clothes

In conjunction with the local Red Cross Society, the W. C. A. will conduct a campaign for old clothing, starting next Monday and lasting for one week. The Red Cross societies all over the country are making similar campaigns for the purpose of getting ten thousand tons of old clothing to send to the refugees of the devastated countries abroad, and the W. C. A. is taking charge of the Williams College district. All of the dormitories and fraternity houses will be canvassed and on Wednesdays members of the local society of the Red Cross will collect any articles of clothing to be given for this cause.

VOTE ON THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

It is particularly appropriate at the present critical time in the decisions of the Versailles Peace Conference that the carefully-formed sentiment of Williams students in regard to the proposed League of Nations should be canvassed and placed on record. This census of opinion may not vitally effect the present situation, but past incidents in American history have amply illustrated the fact that often college decisions have accurately foretold the future policy of the nation.

Ample opportunity has been afforded the undergraduate body to weigh carefully the fundamental arguments advanced for or against a League of Nations. Supplementary to the thorough discussions published in the daily press, Professor Pratt and Professor Morton have spoken on the subject from opposing viewpoints before well-attended Forum meetings, while Mr. Coolidge of Boston has delivered a public address in favor of the League. A straw vote at this time will serve to crystallize this opinion.

The object of such a straw vote is to reflect the sentiment of those who have really considered the question with some understanding of the subject. Snap judgments and guesses are not desired, and in pursuance of this end, men who have not made honest judgments are requested to refrain from signifying any opinion.

In each fraternity house and at the Commons Club one man has been asked to be responsible for the collection of ballots. At noon Saturday a RECORD representative will collect the ballots from the various houses. The results of the count will be forwarded direct to the Massachusetts Senators in Congress, and through President Garfield to President Wilson in France.

MONISTIC FAITH BASIS OF WHITMAN'S POETRY

Prof. Licklider Styles Writer Apostle of Soul's Divinity in Tuesday Lecture

Walt Whitman's beliefs and poetry formed the subject of the tenth of the current series of Tuesday lectures delivered by Professor Licklider last Tuesday afternoon in the Thompson Physical Laboratory. After stating that Whitman held a really high place in poetry, Professor Licklider made an analysis of his great influence over men, and interpreted his poetry in the light of his monistic theory of philosophy.

However much one may differ with Walt Whitman's ideas and poetry, Professor Licklider maintained that his importance cannot be denied. Longfellow, Emerson, Swinburne, Tennyson and other of his contemporaries hailed his greatness 60 years ago when even Lincoln praised him and read his Leaves of Grass. Nor have the years that have passed in any way dimmed his fame. Professor Bliss Perry affirms that, "Upon the whole, Whitman is the most original and poetic figure since Wordsworth," and continues by declaring, "He was a seer and a prophet, far in advance of his time."

But Whitman, the founder of the modern school of writers, arrived at his place in the poetic world by none of the usual methods. In his conception of a new type of poetry adapted to the new civilization he not only ignored but even scorned the well worn route of metrics and style as trodden by his predecessors. He also refused to hold a mirror to nature and affirm that beauty is truth.

Professor Licklider then went on to show that Whitman does not secure his right to fame either by the power of his personality, by the genuine poetic value scattered in the mass of his work, or by the peculiar power of his primitive and barbaric methods of expression. Walt Whitman's real dynamics are his ideas of man, of God, and of society. Whether the sources of his monistic idea, that "there is no God any more divine than yourself", are to be found in the transcendentalism of his time or in the newly translated Bhagavad-Gita of India, is of little importance. What does matter is that underlying all the good and bad in Whitman's philosophy is this theory: "God, man, and the universe are identical; this reality is essentially good and moral in the cosmic sense; since I am identical with the All, I must venerate myself; since every human is identical with the All, there can be no degradation among men; and finally, love, or as Whitman called it, 'adhesiveness', is the binding quality of all."

NOT TO RUN AT PENN

Coe Will Represent Williams at N. E. I. A. A. Meeting

Definite announcement has been made by the track managers that Williams will not be represented in the annual relay carnival to be held at the University of Pennsylvania on April 25 and 26. An invitation to attend a meeting of the newly-formed Eastern Intercollegiate Athletic Association tomorrow afternoon in Springfield, Mass., has also been refused. This association now includes nine New England colleges, while Columbia and Rensselaer are expected to apply for membership at the meeting tomorrow. Brown, Tufts and Amherst have taken the same stand as Williams in regard to entering the association, while several other of the smaller colleges of the East are being sounded as to their position. Coe '20 will represent Williams at a meeting of the Executive Committee of the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association next Sunday afternoon in Boston, when the place for the annual track meet to be held May 30 will be decided.

As soon as weather conditions permit the use of the track on Weston Field, a new call will be made for men in the dashes. So far Coach Seeley has had little opportunity to develop men in any events save the distance and middle distance runs.

Mr. Plaisance at Montpelier

Mr. Robert Plaisance, former instructor in French at Williams, has accepted the position of Dean of American Students at the University of Montpelier, France. Mr. Plaisance, who was called to Williams in 1915, resigned his position last spring to enter the Y. M. C. A.—Foyer du Soldat work in France, from which he was later transferred to an administrative position in social welfare work in Marseilles.

PROF. MORTON SCORES PRESENT LEAGUE PLAN

FORUM ELECTS OFFICERS

Speaker Especially Objects to Tenth Article of Present Covenant of League

Speaking in support of the negative side of the League of Nations question, Professor Morton addressed the second meeting of the Forum held last evening in Jesup Hall. The discussion was based on the belief that a League of some kind is sure to be formed and resolved itself into a criticism of the present draft and the proposing of amendments which ought to be introduced in President Wilson's present plan.

Professor Morton confined his talk entirely to a criticism of the present form of the draft and discussed the question of how far the United States ought to go in committing itself to such a League. The speaker cited article X of the League of Nations constitution, which states that the territorial and political integrity of all nations party to the League shall be guaranteed against external aggression, as the weakest point of the entire draft. If the United States were to support such an agreement to guarantee the status quo of the world as it is divided at the present time, this nation would apparently be entering a partnership in which it would furnish all the assets while other world powers would supply only liabilities.

Senator Lodge, during his recent debate with President Lowell of Harvard, pointed out the fact that a nation like Great Britain with large colonial possessions would be greatly benefited by the guarantee of its territorial integrity while the United States, with comparatively few colonial interests, would gain little. Furthermore, since Great Britain is the only power with territory contiguous to the United States and in which this nation is directly interested, it would be of no advantage for us to extend to other Powers the guarantees which have already long existed between the United States and the British Empire.

Great Britain's passive acquiescence to the views of President Wilson, as expressed in the present draft of the League of Nations, has been construed as a great victory for the President, but upon close observation it is found that nothing could be more beneficial to British interests than the guarantee proposed in Article X of the constitution. On the other hand, the principle involved holds little significance for the United States. The provision guaranteeing territorial integrity for all nations is not necessary for the success of the League, and none of its advocates have thus far presented proof to contradict this statement.

The speaker also discussed another important question concerning the purpose of the League. The drafters of the constitution had no thought of preventing all future wars by means of a League of Nations but purposed, rather, (Continued on page 4, col. 3.)

The following members of the Freshman Class have entered the second competition for memberships on the 1922 editorial board of the Record: Blake, Cameron, Ewing, Fernald, Field, Hurst, Humes, H. M. Lawder, W. H. Prescott, Rose, and Slack. These men are authorized to collect news for publication in the Record. Two men will be elected to the board from this competition on March 23.

Williams and the World

In another column of this issue appears an announcement concerning the informal ballot to be taken on the League of Nations among the undergraduates. In view of the fact that the results of this voting are to be given wide publicity, it is necessary that each man give due thought and consideration to both sides before signifying any opinions. We have made the request that only those who have formulated matured decisions on the aspects of the matter which are placed before them should vote at all. This request we think to be essential in order that the balloting may represent thought and not mere feeling or guesswork.

The lack of honest effort of judgment, which is unquestionably a tendency of the undergraduate mind wherever it is found, is something which the newly founded Forum in the College takes as its chief purpose to minimize. Williams men, because of the isolating influence of our mountain solitude and rural surroundings, are certainly no better than other undergraduates in this respect. However, that there is an element which is not only deeply interested in the larger problems of the world at large, but is glad to devote time and effort to a better understanding of them, has been abundantly proven by the first two meetings of the Forum. The attendance at each was large and interested, and furthermore it was representative of all types, none excepted, of undergraduates. The Forum is to be highly congratulated on the excellent start it has made. It seems in a fair way to accomplish at least two great purposes,—that of increasing the quality of public speaking among Williams undergraduates, and that of spreading the foundations of a better understanding and appreciation of significant questions of national and international affairs.

The Classics on Trial

In the restlessness and desire for change aroused by the war, not even the universities and colleges have been spared. They have all tried to return as quickly as possible to their pre-war basis, yet many of them have gone further and are undergoing tremendous changes of policy. There is first of all a strong tendency to overthrow the classics which have hitherto maintained their place in our colleges and universities despite all efforts to dethrone them.

Greek and Latin have ever found their strongest defenders in the two great English universities of Oxford and Cambridge. Yet only a short time ago, Cambridge announced that Greek would no longer be demanded as an entrance requirement or as an essential for a degree. Whether her sister university will follow her lead is not yet apparent.

But this tendency is not confined to the Old World institutions of learning. Only Wednesday of this week, the Yale corporation announced a radical departure from its previous policy. It has decided to take Latin from the list of required subjects both for entrance and for a Bachelor of Arts degree. While Latin will still be taught, its change from a required to an elective subject is a tremendous blow to the classics.

Princeton has taken action of a similar nature as regards Greek, which will no longer be absolutely necessary for a Bachelor of Arts degree. A modern language may replace Greek as an entrance requirement, but the amount of entrance and freshman Latin has not been changed.

Of a different nature, yet indicative of the trend in the policies of our educational institutions, is the decision of Columbia University to abolish traditional entrance examinations. Educators have long recognized the evils in long examinations of that kind, but there had apparently been no way to avoid them until the American army gave prominence to the value of psychological examinations as tests of a man's intelligence. Accordingly, next fall prospective students of Columbia who have satisfactorily completed preparatory school requirements will be exempt from further examinations upon them. Instead, each man will be given a psychological test, similar in many ways to that given candidates for commissions in the army. If a candidate obtains a satisfactory grade in this test, he will be admitted without further examination. The University of Pennsylvania is considering taking similar action.

In these changes is evident a growing tendency on the part of institutions of higher education to break with tradition and enter new fields. It will be interesting to see how many other colleges and universities follow the examples of Cambridge, Princeton, Yale, and Columbia. It is a question which Williams will be called upon to face, and therefore, one which demands consideration from alumni, trustees, faculty, and undergraduates.

PHI GAMMA DELTA WINS

Chi Psi Defeated by 18-6 in Intramural Semi-finals

Phi Gamma Delta, in a close and well-played game, triumphed over Chi Psi yesterday afternoon in the Lasell Gymnasium by a score of 18-6, thus winning the semi-finals of the Intramural Basketball League. Tomorrow afternoon they will meet Phi Delta Theta in the final and deciding contest of the series, the winner of which will receive the cup.

Early in the game the victors took the lead and were not headed once throughout the game, though for a few minutes in the second half the Chi Psi team made a strong rally in an effort to diminish their opponent's advantage. The first period was particularly hard-fought, Phi Gamma Delta displaying only a slight superiority, so that at half time they stood in the lead by 6-2. In the second period they succeeded in stretching it out much further, and at the final whistle they were on the long end of an 18-6 score. For the winners, E. P. Taylor made the highest number of points caging three baskets, while Bonner and Hedden each have two goals to their credit. Lyon played the best game for Chi Psi and was responsible for four of his team's six points.

The line-up follows:
Doherty, L. F. r. g., Humphreys, Wilson
Squire, Lyon, r. f. l. g., Wilson, Finn
Fieser, c. c., Bonner
McLean, l. g. r. f., Taylor, E. P.

ALTERATIONS COMPLETED

Repairs in Jesup Hall Will Be Finished in Near Future

The renovation of Jesup Hall, which has been going on ever since the fire last fall, will be completed some time this week. Since the blaze was confined to the top floor, most of the damage was caused by water, necessitating a complete redecoration of the entire building. No actual changes have been made in the arrangements of the rooms with the exception of the fourth floor, which has been partitioned off so that it may be occupied by the Gargoyle Society and the Musical Clubs. The new seats which have been ordered for the Auditorium have not yet arrived, but it is hoped that within the week they will be ready to be installed. Also the Williams Christian Association is expecting some new furniture which ought to add materially to the general appearance and comfort of the reading room.

Monistic Faith Basis

of Whitman's Poetry

His conception of love is a bold apotheosis of body and sex, in which the essential idea is sex, and woman plays but a minor part. In his attitude toward friendship, which is similar to that of the Greeks, Whitman reveals his only idea of romantic love, but even here he is not above criticism.

Only in his later poems on the subject of democracy, does Whitman allow to be overcome by a growing spiritual sense the physical idea which often disgusts the reader of his earlier works.
A direct outgrowth of his monistic theory, is his conception of a democracy consisting of individuals, all gods. The cath-licity of such a democracy includes men of every nation and of every degree of virtue and crime. But while his patriotism has been criticised as narrow, in it he is really praising America as the home of all freedom.

Purging away all the dross in Whitman the gold remains despite his repulsive ideas on love and friendship and his advocacy of what is now called Bolshevism. From the mass of his works, Walt Whitman emerges as the great apostle of the religion of the immortal human soul.

Prof. Morton Scores

Present League Plan

to minimize the probability of wars resulting from reconcilable disputes involving no important principle. Professor Morton emphasized the fact that the League actually provides rules for the conduct of war and recognizes the belief that no covenant, however potential, can ever eliminate the possibility of civil war between the contracting parties.

In concluding his talk, Professor Morton discussed briefly the principle of Washington which has been upheld by the United States for more than a century.
He pointed out that there is no real reason for a change in this principle of avoiding permanent alliances. It is sometimes maintained that the past war has brought about changes in our relations with Europe which render the perpetuation of the Washington theory very inadvisable, but careful consideration of the facts show that the United States is no
"nearer" Europe than a century ago.
The statement that "no future war can take place in the world without involving United States interests" yet remains to be proven. It would have been possible for this nation to have stood aloof from the past war had not Germany persisted in unrestricted submarine warfare. The fact that German submarines continually destroyed American vessels was alone responsible for our entrance into the European struggle. No other American interests in Europe were seriously involved.

In the discussion which followed
Professor Morton's address, Professor Pratt spoke in support of the criticisms of the League made during the evening and answered questions put to him by members of the Forum. The meeting then resolved itself into an executive session and the permanent organization of the Forum was effected. Hedden '20 was unanimously elected president in recognition of his interest and past work in behalf of the society. Reinhardt '20 was chosen as vice-president and Joslyn
'21 will fill the office of secretary-treasurer.
Committees to draw up a constitution and prepare programs for meetings will be appointed in the near future.

PHI DELTA THETA INTRAMURAL CHAMPION

CLOSEST GAME OF SEASON

Phi Gamma Delta Succumbs to Opponents by 10-9 Score —Platt Stars for Victors

Phi Delta Theta, despite all forecasts to the contrary, literally smashed its way through to a 10-9 victory over Phi Gamma Delta in the intramural finals played off last Saturday afternoon in the Lasell Gymnasium. Few intramural contests have equalled the speed and closeness of Saturday's game, which up to the final whistle might fairly have been claimed by either side. The trophy annually awarded to the winners of the Intramural Basketball League will therefore go to the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Hedden of Phi Gamma Delta and Platt of Phi Delta Theta started the scoring for their respective teams with a free throw each. Throughout the remainder of the first period the advantage seemed to be gained by neither side, with neither side able to gain a material lead over its opponent. For Phi Gamma Delta, Wilson did most of the scoring with a total of six points, while E. P. Taylor added another two. Platt succeeded in caging two more goals from fouls, and Fleming, with three baskets to his credit, evened up the score, so that at half time the two teams were in a dead-lock with nine points each.

For the greater part of the second half there was no score by either side. Then Platt had an opportunity for a free throw and made the point which decided the game for Phi Delta Theta. Hedden later had two chances to even it up, but both times failed to score the necessary tally. This period was even more bitterly contested than the previous one, as is shown by the fact that neither team was able to make a goal from the floor. In the last few seconds it seemed like a victory for Phi Gamma Delta when a shot by Wilson hesitated on the edge of the basket, but the losers had no other chance for a score and the game ended with Phi Delta Theta in the lead by one point.

The line-up of the two teams follows:
Phi Gamma Delta      Phi Delta Theta
Hedden, A. H., l. f.      r. g., Acken
Taylor, E. P., Finn, r. f.      l. g., Freeman
Bonner, C. W., c.      e., Platt
Wilson, J. E., l. g.      r. f., Milton, D. M.
Humphreys, White, G. M., r. g.      l. f., Fleming

Van Vechtens Announced

All seniors who desire to enter the Van Vechten Extemporaneous Speaking Contest must give their names to Mr. Griscom by next Thursday. The prize of $70 for this contest, is awarded by a committee of the faculty from a gift of the late A. V. W. Van Vechten '47. There will be four trials, at which each man will choose his own subject from a list of six, one hour before he is to deliver it. Three judges, usually chosen from the faculty, decide the trials. Two thirds credit is granted on the subject matter presented and one third on the delivery.

Outing Club to Reorganize

All men interested in the reorganization of the Williams Outing Club will meet next Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Reading Room in Jesup Hall. Officers will be elected and plans for the coming year discussed. The activities for the remainder of the semester will consist mainly of hikes and the re-marking of the Outing Club trails, and it is expected that plans will be drawn up for a winter carnival to be held next year.

Diamonds Nearly Completed

As a result of the good work done in the past few days by the Freshmen and the baseball competitors, the first baseball diamond as laid out on Cole Field by Coach Thomas is almost completed. In fact, the work is so far advanced that there will be a game between the first and second teams on the new field next Wednesday if the weather is favorable. It is expected that the second diamond will be ready for use by the end of the week. Those men who have been retained on the first squad after last week's cut are as follows: Boyden, Manning, Mason, Roth '19; Burrows, Callahan, Papin, Ward '20; Finn, Frazier, McLean, Patton '21; Buell, Nichols, and Wakeman '22. There are some other men who have also been kept on the squad, though the varsity will probably be picked from the fifteen listed above.

ISSUES FIRST BULLETIN

Press Club Sends College News to Prominent Newspapers

News bulletins were sent to thirty prominent newspapers in the East and Middle West last Saturday as the first action of the newly organized Williams College Press Club. The issue of bulletins is the first step of its kind ever undertaken at Williams. They contained the facts concerning the results of the vote on the League of Nations as conducted by the Record; the statistics of the enrollment in College; the football and track schedules for the coming season.

The Press Club has received the official backing of the College Administration and will issue these weekly bulletins containing information of interest to the general public. Papers desiring such an arrangement will receive, in addition to the bulletins, daily service which will include telegraphic reports on the more important athletic events and college activities.

The Press Club will have an office in Jesup Hall. Its membership has been limited to seven, and new men will be elected only when vacancies occur. They will be chosen according to their ability, regardless of their class in College.

Call for Competitors

All sophomores desiring to enter the competition for the assistant managership of tennis or golf should hand their names as soon as possible to Kimball '19 or Behre '20.

Seventeen Men to Take Trip

Seventeen men have been chosen by the leader of the Mandolin Club to be the personnel of the club for the Easter trip. Until that time practice will be held three times a week on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons at 5.15 o'clock in the Reading Room of Jesup Hall; a fine of 50 cents will be assessed for unexcused absences. The permanent membership of the Club follows: First Mandolin—Collins, Fillebrown '19, Power, Robinson, Whittier '20; Second Mandolin—Holt '20, Dana, Kent '21; Guitars—Brigham '20, Gray '21, Lyons '22; Cello—Stabler '20; Flute—Leeming '18; Violin—Tiebout '20; Mandobass—Van Deusen '21; Piano—W. D. Coleman '22; Traps—Foster '20.

American Students Aided

In order to further the American intellectual and academic interests in Europe, the Municipal Council of Paris has presented to the original committee of the Maison des Etudiants a valuable piece of ground between the University of Paris and the Ecole des Beaux-Arts as a site for a building to serve as a centre for American students. By an agreement between the local committee at Paris and the American University Union, the support to make this an influential American organization has been secured.

Business Competition Opens

The Business Manager will meet all competitors for the business staff of the RECORD Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Press Room.

The competition is open to all freshmen and presents a better opportunity for securing real business experience than any other in college.

At the meeting the rules of the competition will be explained and work will not commence until the following day.

LATHERS AND GRAVES CONTESTS TO BE HELD

Date for Submitting Lathers Essays Changed to June 1 by Action of Faculty

Announcement has been made that the Lathers and Graves prizes for essays by members of the Senior Class will be awarded as usual this year. By special action of the Faculty the date for submitting manuscripts for the Lathers Prize and Medal contest has been changed for this year from March 1 to June 1.

The late Col. Richard Lathers donated the income of a fund of $1000, part of which is to be used each year as a cash prize and part for the making of a bronze medal. These are offered in a competition open to all Seniors and will be given to the writer of the best essay on a subject assigned by the Faculty. The essay selected will be sent by the Secretary of the Faculty to the Springfield Republican or to a journal published in Pittsfield with the request that it may appear in an early issue of the newspaper. The subject for this year is "The political duties of citizens of the United States." In case none of the competing essays is considered worthy of publication, no medal will be awarded.

Seniors desiring to compete for the Graves Prizes, established by the late Arthur B. Graves '58, must hand in their essays to the Dean by April 19. Six prizes of $20 each will be awarded for the six best pieces of writing on subjects which have been assigned by the Faculty. The list of topics for this year is now posted in Hopkins Hall. An additional prize of $80 will be awarded the contestant who delivers his essay in the most effective manner before a public audience.

"Cow" Board to Meet Tonight

Material for the first issue of the Purple Cow will be considered at a meeting of the editorial board this evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall. Contributions of competitors will be judged at this time and plans made for the first number, which will appear late in April.

Mr. Salter to Speak on Music

Taking as his subject, "Values in Music", Mr. Sumner Salter will deliver the eleventh of the current series of Tuesday Lectures tomorrow afternoon at 4.45 o'clock in the Reading Room of Jesup Hall. Mr. Salter will illustrate his lecture by piano selections.

In order to have as far as possible the support of the alumni in the new interfraternity Rushing agreement, the Interfraternity Council has submitted copies to Mr. Franklin H. Mills '93, chairman of the Alumni Committee, and to Professor Wild and Mr. T. M. Banks '90. As soon as their opinions have been learned, the Council will proceed with the business of ratifying the agreement.

In response to a request by the Interfraternity Council, all of the fraternities have voted to hold their meetings on Tuesday evenings. The Faculty will take this fact into consideration in arranging lecture and entertainment courses, and heads of organizations are requested not to call meetings on Tuesday evenings.

DR. FARQUHAR ON INDIA

Famous Authority to Address W. C. A. Meeting Thursday

Dr. J. N. Farquhar, Chief Literary Secretary for the Y. M. C. A. movement of the Indian Empire, will address an open meeting of the W. C. A. Thursday evening at 8.00 o'clock in the Thompson Physical Laboratory. Dr. Farquhar, who is a recognized authority on India and its religion, especially Hinduism, will lecture upon some of his experiences in the Orient.

A native of Aberdeen, Scotland, Dr. Farquhar graduated from Oxford with double first class honors in 1899. In January, 1901, he became a professor of English in the London Missionary Society's college in Calcutta and continued there until 1902. His wide scholarship made possible quick contacts with educated Indians and his great mission in India has been that of interpreting Christianity to the student classes and of interpreting the best in Indian life to Europe and America.

Dr. Farquhar is the author of a Primer of Hinduism, The Crown of Hinduism, and Modern Religious Movements which Professor Pratt of Williams, who has himself written a book on India, declares to be "among the very best books to be found on Indian matters, both because of their accurate scholarship and because the author's attitude is both liberal and sympathetic." Professor Pratt also considers that "Dr. Farquhar is certainly one of the best informed and most trustworthy expounders of Indian customs and beliefs that one can find anywhere."

Prelude to the Blessed Damsel

The Little Shepherd      Claude Debussy
Clock Movement from Symphony in D      Claude Debussy

Scherzo      Josef Haydn
Oriental Schetch      Gottfried H. Federlein
Dance of the Mirlitons      Arthur Foote

Prelude in C Sharp Minor      P. I. Tchaikowsky Sergei Rachmanoff

"Record" Board Holds Banquet

Members of the editorial and business boards of the Record held their annual banquet last Saturday evening at the Hotel Richmond in North Adams. Both old and new boards attended, besides one member of the 1918 board. After-dinner speeches were omitted, and the banquet broke up at 8.30 o'clock in favor of the "Movies".

TENTATIVE COVENANT OPPOSED BY COLLEGE

Straw Vote Shows That Majority Reject Pres. Wilson's League of Nations Plan

FAVOR FUNDAMENTALS

218 out of 230 Ballots Cast in Support of the Principle of the League

How the College Voted

	Yes	No
(1) Do you favor THE PRINCIPLE of the League of Nations?	218	12
(2) Do you favor the PROPOSED COVENANT without fundamental change?	85	152
(3) Do you favor including the League in the peace treaty?	98	123

Only 12 undergraduates oppose the principle of the League of Nations, according to the straw ballot conducted last Saturday by the Record. The proposed covenant in its present form was rejected by the majority, as was the project of including the League in the peace treaty.

The ballot included three questions: first, "Do you favor the principle of the League of Nations?"; second, "Do you favor the proposed covenant without fundamental change?"; third, "Do you favor including the League in the peace treaty?". It was specifically requested that all votes be the results of carefully-formed judgments on the part of the voters, and that men who had not considered the matter fully should refrain from expressing their opinions. The result was that only 237 ballots were cast by the undergraduate body.

On the whole, the attitude of the College as expressed in the ballot seems to coincide with that adopted by Senator Lodge, who has stated in several speeches that he is in favor of the principle of the League, but considers that the proposed covenant requires many alterations before it should be accepted. Practically all American statesmen have expressed a favorable judgment on the first issue, however, their division in sentiment arising from different opinions regarding the degree of imperfection in the draft drawn up by President Wilson. This is well exemplified by the recent debate between Senator Lodge and President Lowell of Harvard. Both speakers agreed that the document is imperfect, but the former considered it impossible of acceptance in anything like its present form, while the latter favored its adoption with only minor changes.

Almost two-thirds of Williams undergraduates, it would seem, agree with the former view, thereby concurring also with Professor Morton, who spoke upon the subject before the last meeting of the Forum. Professor Morton's talk, in support of the negative side of the question, resolved itself into a severe criticism of President Wilson's plan, which he declared contains so many flaws and omissions as to be unacceptable in its present form. This seems also to be the opinion of 152 out of 237 Williams men.

Although the first two questions have been thoroughly discussed in the press and in the talks of Professors Morton and Pratt before the Forum, the third query, concerning the inclusion of the League (Continued on page 4, col. 3)

It is the contention of many that the college of liberal arts, its "humanitas" and culture notwithstanding, fails in its primary purpose in that it does not offer to young men who are to enter the business world courses of practical value for success in life. Whether or not this allegation be true, there is at least one opportunity for undergraduates to get real business training along with their Literature and Philosophy,—on the business staff of the Record. Efficiency, working under pressure, practice in handling money and men, and actual knowledge of the ways of the business man are learned by experience and contact. During his last year on the Board the winner of the competition announced on the first page of this issue will have complete charge of the finances and advertising of the Record.

As a concrete witness of the attitude of Williams men, and especially of the success of the Forum in its avowed purposes, the result of the straw ballot on the League of Nations is interesting news to all well-wishers of the College. The general stand that the undergraduates have taken seems a thoroughly logical one, and this indicates at least a certain amount of thought on the question. Moreover, the fact that on only one of the three queries was the opinion overwhelmingly strong for either side is in itself indicative of individuality in formulating decisions. Only one blemish is to be detected from the statistics which were compiled from the ballots, and that is in the number of men who failed to signify any opinion. The total vote was but 230, approximately one half of the enrollment. Even this may be considered encouraging, however, for the first attempt of its kind, and in view of the absence of a number at the time when the ballot was taken. That so many should hold convictions and take the trouble to support them shows a praiseworthy interest in matters of public importance.

"It is good to learn that the cause of underpaid college instructors has finally received recognition from one university at least. The raise in the salaries of instructors and assistant professors, which has just been announced at Yale University, is a tardy compensation for the great increase in living expenses that has occurred during the last few years. Though the action is belated indeed, yet it is a pioneer movement among educational institutions in this respect.

"Business men have long since learned that 'the laborer is worthy of his hire.' If the profession of teaching expects to attract men who are fitted for the work, then it must offer something better than a meagre existence during the apprenticeship years. Otherwise those who are qualified to carry on this responsible work will be turned aside into professions where the reward is more in proportion to their education and ability. It is a problem which must be satisfactorily met in the very near future, or educational standards will receive a setback that belated relief cannot entirely eliminate."

—The Harvard Crimson

"Any real student would prefer a 'Mark Hopkins on one end of a log' and himself on the other rather than the most elaborate buildings and equipment with Mark Hopkins absent", says the Cornell Daily Sun.

DONOR DESCRIBES GIFT
Mr. Howe Writes on History of Lowell Memorial

In a letter to Mr. Willard E. Hoyt, Mr. Fisher Howe gives some interesting additional information concerning the triple-piece memorial of James Russell Lowell which he recently presented to the College. He writes as follows concerning his gift, which consists of a letter of Dr. Lowell's in praise of Williams College, a medallion portrait in bronze, and an engraving of the poet:

"Mr. Lowell addressed this letter to Parker C. Chandler, my classmate at Williams—Chandler happened to be Secretary of the Association of Alumni about Boston in 1877 so that this letter, intended as a dinner 'regret' came to him. * * * It is, perhaps, not remarkable that this precious bit of Williamsiana came then into my possession. Grant me the license to call it a 'sonnet'."

"The bronze medallion of Lowell was remodelled in 1896 by Charles Calverly for the Crier Club of New York. This was my own subscription copy."

"The wood-cut portrait was engraved by Thomas Johnson for the Century Magazine. This is the proof selected by the engraver for presentation to Mr. William Cary of the Century Company. It may fairly be considered the choicest impression printed from the block. With some books, autographs, and other prints of superlative quality, I bought this portrait of Mr. Lowell at the sale in New York in 1902, of the literary property of Mr. Cary, then deceased."

AVIATORS GET BACK PAY
New Government Ruling
Rectifies Previous Error

Recent announcements from United States Air Service officials in Washington are of considerable interest to those Williams men who have been serving in the various aviation branches of the Army.

It is stated that the provisions in Circular 4 of the Division of Military Aeronautics, issued last spring, were enforced without authority. This circular provided that the pay of aviators should be reduced from $100 to a maximum of $75 a month, and in some cases to a figure as low as $33 a month.

The department's new ruling is that all cadets on actual flying duty subsequent to April 1, 1918, are entitled to the cash difference between what they were receiving and $100, for the period between that date and July 1, 1918. From that time on to the date of discharge, fifty per cent of their monthly pay will be granted them in addition. This ruling does not apply in the case of ground school men. Applications should be made to the Director of Finance, Munitions Building, Room 3202, Washington, D. C.

Three Games for Freshmen

Three games with preparatory schools comprise the freshman baseball schedule for this spring according to an announcement made last week. The only contest to be played away from home will be that with Hotchkiss, whose team opposed 1921 last year. Practice has not yet been in progress long enough to warrant a prediction of the strength of the Freshmen or of their opponents. The schedule follows:

May 10—Taft at Williamstown
May 17—Pawling at Williamstown
May 24—Hotchkiss at Lakeville, Conn.INTERCOLLEGIATES*R. O. T. C. Started at Penn.

Announcement has been made of the actual work to be covered by the Reserve Officers' Training Corps which has just been instituted at the University of Pennsylvania. Practical work will consist of military drill through the school of the company, physical training will be rifle shooting, and the theoretical work will take in military topography and problems in minor tactics for infantry.

in the peace treaty, has not been so strongly stressed by students of the problem, and was more difficult to answer. Only 221 men voted, and the result was indecisive. A majority of only 56 per cent expressed a negative opinion.

Uniforms Cannot Be Donated

In connection with the W. C. A. Red Cross campaign for old clothes for the destitute in Europe's devastated regions, attention is called to the military and naval regulations which forbid the giving away of United States uniforms. Other woolen articles, of any kind whatsoever, are especially desired.

Y. M. C. A. Defeats D. U.

In spite of the presence of three varsity men in their line-up, the Delta Upsilon five met defeat at the hands of the North Adams Y. M. C. A. team last Saturday evening by a score of 40 to 21. The North Adams men ran up a lead early in the game through the sensational work of Bergerson, and the result of the contest was never in doubt. Wright and Carick starred for the fraternity five but were unable to overcome the speedy attack of their opponents.

Episcopalians Predominate

Statistics compiled by the W. C. A. of the various religious denominations professed by this year's Freshmen bring out the fact that the Episcopalians predominate with nearly twice as many adherents as their nearest rivals, while the Congregationalists and Presbyterians divide the honors for second place. The results by sects of the investigation follow: Episcopalian 63, Congregational 35, Presbyterian 30, Methodist Episcopalian 13, Baptist 11, Catholic 8, Reformed 7, Unitarian 5, Christian Science 4, Jewish 2, Lutheran 1.

Belgium Honors Wickes '12

As a reward for the work which he did with the Commission for Relief in Belgium from 1915 to 1917, Captain Francis C. Wickes '12 has been awarded the decoration of Chevalier of the Order of Couronne by the Belgian government. Captain Wickes went to Europe in 1915 and was at once assigned to the Mons district. He later served near Namur and Longwy, France, but resigned when this country entered the war and went to Paris where he obtained a commission in the Intelligence Department of the American army. About three months ago he was ordered back to work with the Relief Commission, and he now has complete charge of the Longwy and Charleville districts.

Business competitors for the Purple Cow will meet in the office, Jesup Hall, at 7:30 o'clock next Friday evening.

COLLINS MADE TRACK MANAGER ON RECOUNT

N. E. I. A. A. MEET MAY 24

Will Be Held at M. I. T. Field —Coe Elected Vice-President in Smith's Place

Homer Collins, Jr., 1919, of Duluth, Minn., was elected to the position of track manager, left vacant by the resignation of R. H. Smith '19, as a result of a recount of ballots by the No-Deal Committee. His election was ratified at a meeting of the Student Council yesterday evening in Jesup Hall.

Collins prepared for college at the Duluth Central High School, where he played on the football and hockey teams. Since entering Williams he has been active in athletics, playing for the last four years on the varsity hockey team, and being a substitute on the undefeated football eleven of 1917. After attending the government R. O. T. C. camp at Plattsburg last June, he went to Camp Hancock, Ga., where he received his commission in a machine gun battalion. He was discharged from the service in time to return to College at the opening of the term last January. Collins has played on the Mandolin Club this year and was recently elected treasurer of his class. He is a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity.

Coe '20, assistant track manager represented Williams at a meeting of executive committee of the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association held in Boston last Sunday afternoon. He was elected vice-president to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of R. H. Smith '19. At the same time the committee adopted a recommendation to hold the N. E. I. A. A. track meet on May 24 at the M. I. T. field in Cambridge. The meet will be held on only one day this year, which is a departure from the usual custom of holding it on two consecutive days. The first decision of the executive committee this year was to have the games on May 23-24, but the opinion of the delegates of the colleges represented was to shorten the meet. This decision is to be sent to the various colleges in the association to be ratified by their athletic authorities. Mr. F. H. Briggs of Boston, a graduate of M. I. T., was chosen by the committee to act as referee.

OUTING CLUB MEETS Plans Made for Weekly Hikes to Be Held This Spring

Plans for complete reorganization of the Outing Club were made at a meeting held last evening in Jesup Hall. Officers were elected by the thirty men present, and it was decided to hold the first hike tomorrow afternoon, leaving the gymnasium at 1.30 o'clock.

The following officers were chosen: president, Squire '19; vice-president, Reinhardt '20; Secretary, Baker '21; treasurer, Wilson '22. Tomorrow's hike, which will be open to everybody, is to be the first of a series, which will be held every week during the spring. The old Outing Club trails will be freshly marked and if possible a cabin will be built on the trail between here and Mt. Greylock, thus connecting Williamstown with the long trail which leads from Greylock to the Canadian border. Next year a Winter Carnival will be held in Williamstown, and a long winter trip to the Adirondacks will be made by the members of the club. Professor Licklider, who was present at yesterday's meeting, intends to write to the Dartmouth Outing Club, with the view of borrowing the stock of between 200 and 300 lantern slides owned by that organization illustrating trips in the White Mountains. In case the slides can be safely transported here, Professor Licklider will deliver an illustrated lecture on the subject in the near future. 1

W. C. A. ELECTS APRIL 7 Nominating Committee Selects Candidates for Offices

Nominations have been made for the annual election of officers of the Williams Christian Association, which will take place on Monday, April 7. The nominating committee has selected the following men as candidates: Carson, Kimberly, and Mills '20 for president and vice-president; Bullock, Coan, C. P. Hall, and Joslyn '21 for corresponding secretary; C. C. Noble, Seager, and C. L. Taylor, Jr. '21 for recording secretary; and W. H. Prescott, Preston, and Schaulfler '22 for treasurer.

Further nominations for the above named offices may be made by petition provided that they are signed by at least ten members of the Association and that they are handed to the General Secretary on or before Wednesday, April 2.

Due to the unusual conditions this year, the rule adopted in 1918, limiting the privilege of voting to men who have been members for several months, will be suspended, and everyone who is a member of the Association at the time of the elections will be entitled to a vote. According to a recent amendment to the constitution of the W. C. A., all men, to retain their membership, must enroll themselves each year while they are in College.

Membership cards may be obtained from the General Secretary at his office in Jesup Hall. To become a member it is necessary to sign the following statement, which is the same in form as that of the College Church.

"I accept the teachings of Christ as the best guide for living and therefore desire to associate myself with the Williams Christian Association."

MR. SALTER DISCUSSES PRINCIPLES OF MUSIC

Musical Components Analyzed and Futurism Criticized in Tuesday Lecture

"Values in Music" formed the subject of the eleventh of the current series of Tuesday lectures delivered by Mr. Sumner Salter last Tuesday afternoon in the Reading Room of Jesup Hall. After mentioning the general value of music for purposes of recreation and enjoyment, Mr. Salter took up a more detailed analysis of the constituents of instrumental music, illustrating his points by numerous well-chosen and highly entertaining selections on the piano.

However much one may believe in the present tendency toward scientific pursuits, Mr. Salter maintained that the importance of music cannot be denied. The present United States Commissioner of Education asserted that he would place music next to the three fundamentals, reading, writing, and arithmetic. Quotations from famous men of letters of all ages, from the golden Greek era of musical poetry down to our own day, may be cited in support of the high moral value of music.

Music through all its growth has shown to a greater or less degree four constituents: rhythm, melody or tone, harmony, form or structure of musical intervals. Rhythm forms the framework, the practical background on which all music is laid, while melody affords psychical effect. In illustration of this Mr. Salter played To a Wild Rose by MacDowell and Meditation by Prentiss, the former piece being characterized by unusual simplicity, while the latter appeared more complex. Three selections from Bach, Prelude in D, Innovation in C, and Fugue in C Minor, gave a vivid impression of outline and figuration with but slight emotional color, aptly compared by Mr. Salter to a drawing in black and white.

CAMPUS REGULATIONS CHANGED AND AMENDED

STUDENT COUNCIL MEETS

New Freshman Rules to Go Into Effect Next September— College Spirit Deplored

Radical changes in the rules governing the actions of Freshmen on the campus formed the chief item of business at the meeting of the Student Council held last evening in Jesup Hall. Several of the existing regulations were discarded and new rules substituted, to go into effect next September. The amended regulations are as follows:—

1. Freshmen must not appear on the street coatless or bareheaded and must wear the regulation cap in Williamstown and North Adams until the Spring recess.

2. Freshmen must not smoke on the street at any time of the year.

3. Freshmen must not sit in front rows in Lasell Gymnasium and Jesup Hall, nor in front rows or boxes at the theatres in North Adams unless accompanied by an upperclassman; they must occupy seats in the gallery in Jesup Hall at College meetings and smokers.

4. Freshmen must not wear purple in any form unless they have won varsity or class insignia, and then only on jerseys or sweaters.

5. Freshmen must not wear preparatory school insignia on caps, jerseys, or sweaters.

6. Freshmen must yield precedence to upperclassmen on the street and in trolley cars and upon entering or leaving all buildings.

7. Freshmen must not sit on Spring Street benches. Only Seniors may sit on the Lab. fence.

8. Freshmen must not wear sheepskin, mackinaw, leather, or fur coats.

9. Freshmen must not dance at the Greylock, the Opera House, or in any dance hall or hotel in North Adams.

10. Freshmen must wear black ties.

11. Freshmen must not wear knickerbockers or army breeches.

12. Freshmen and sophomores must not lead varsity cheers or the singing of The Mountains.

13. Freshmen must not sit in the center section of Walden's theatre unless accompanied by an upper classman.

Other business brought before the meeting included the acceptance of the resignation from the track manager-ship of R. H. Smith '19 and the formal appointment of Collins '19 as his successor. The Council expressed its approval of the wearing of the "W" and other athletic insignia on the campus and deplored the present condition of College spirit and athletic competition.

A petition was then drawn up, to be submitted to the Faculty, asking that the classes on the afternoon of Wednesday, April 8, be held according to the old schedule, beginning at one o'clock, to enable men living in Boston and New York to catch the afternoon trains.

No action was taken concerning the Trophy of Trophies, since the local committee has been unable to communicate with the Amherst representative.

TO HOLD LEHMAN MEET

Contest for Championship Cup Wednesday and Thursday

Arrangements for the annual Lehman Cup Track Meet to be held Wednesday and Thursday afternoons of next week have been completed by the committee in charge which is composed of Dr. Frank W. Olds '76, Mr. E. Herbert Botsford '82, Mr. Charles F. Seeley, and Coe '20. Inasmuch as there has been no fall or winter track this year, the meet will offer the first opportunity to size up the material in the Freshman class, and Coach Seeley is particularly anxious to have full entries, especially in the dashes and hurdles. All contestants are requested to hand their names to Captain Stewart '19 as soon as possible, although the entries remain open until the time of the meet.

The competition will be held on two instead of on three days as last year. If the weather permits, the events will be run off on Weston Field instead of on the board track and in the gymnasium as in previous years. The only changes in the contest are the lengthening of the dashes from 35 to 50 yards, and the hurdles, both high and low, from 40 to 50 yards. The schedule will be announced in the next issue of the Record.

A complete list of the events with the points for the first five places in each follows:

Two 50-yd. dashes (5,3,2,1,½); 50-yd. high hurdles (5,3,2,1,½); 50-yd. low hurdles (5, 3, 2, 1, ½); 440-yd. dash (10, 7, 4, 2, 1); 880-yd. dash (10, 7, 4, 2, 1); mile run (10, 7, 4, 2, 1); shot put (one point for every 6 inches over 29 ft.); high jump (one point for every inch over 4 ft. 6 in.); pole vault (one point for every two inches over 8 ft. 6 in.); potato race (10, 7, 4, 2, 1).

HAWES '20 IS CHOSEN TO HEAD PURPLE COW

Exchange and Art Editors Also Elected—Acken Assistant Circulation Manager

Stewart Starks Hawes, 1920, of Oak Park, Ill., was elected editor-in-chief of the Purple Cow for the ensuing year at a meeting of the board in Jesup Hall last Monday evening. At the same time Joseph Percival Pollard, 1920, of Chicago, Ill., and Robert Carey, Jr., 1920, of Jersey City, N. J., were chosen art editor and exchange editor, respectively, and Henry Acken, Jr., 1920, of Newark, N. J., was made assistant circulation manager.

Hawes prepared for College at the Oak Park High School, where he was editor-in-chief of the school paper, president of the Debating Society, and a member of the Dramatic Association and of the tennis team. He is editor-in-chief of the 1920 Guttemensian, managing editor of the Record, chairman of the Press Club, and a member of the Literary Monthly Board and the Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Pollard attended Evanston Academy, Evanston, Ill. He is captain of the tennis team and is on the Honor System Committee. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Carey secured his secondary education at the Stevens School in Hoboken, N. J., where he played on the lacrosse team of which he was manager during his last year. He is swimming manager and 1920 baseball manager. In his freshman year he played on his class soccer team and last year on the golf team. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Material for the initial issue of the Cow was then considered, and, because of the financial condition of the publication, it was decided to make it smaller than usual. The limited number of

COUNCIL RATIFIES BASEBALL SCHEDULE

AMHERST CONTEST MAY 24

Yale and Harvard Among Opponents—Seven Contests to Be Away from Home

Numerous changes from last year's baseball schedule appear in the 1919 schedule as drawn up by Manager Becket and approved and ratified by the Athletic Council. Eight games will be held at Williamstown, while seven will be played out of town.

Six teams which were not among the Purple's opponents last season appear on the new schedule to replace Boston College, Brown, Hamilton, Springfield College, and Tufts, which have been dropped from this year's list. The schedule is stiffer, and the team should receive a more thorough test throughout the season, as the additions include such strong contenders as Yale, Harvard, and Union.

The season is remarkably well arranged in that the nine will not have to oppose two exceptionally strong teams in successive games, with the single exception of the first Wesleyan and Amherst games which are four days apart. Further, at no time during the season are more than two successive games played either at home or out of town.

The customary trip during the spring recess has been omitted this year, and the season will open April 19 in Williamstown with a game scheduled against Massachusetts Agricultural College. The first Amherst game will be played May 30 at home for the benefit of houseparty visitors, and the second contest will be June 17 at Amherst. A home contest against Wesleyan on June 21 closes the season.

The schedule, in detail, is as follows: April 19—M. A. C. at Williamstown. April 26—Holy Cross at Worcester. May 3—Union at Williamstown. May 8—Colgate at Williamstown. May 10—Army at West Point. May 14—Harvard at Cambridge. May 17—Bowdoin at Williamstown. May 21—Yale at New Haven. May 24—R. P. I. at Troy. May 30—Amherst at Williamstown. May 31—Holy Cross at Williamstown. June 3—Wesleyan at Middletown. June 17—Amherst at Amherst. June 19—University of Vermont at Williamstown. June 21—Wesleyan at Williamstown.

Daylight Saving Starts Sunday

In accordance with the Daylight Saving Law the College clock will be set forward one hour tomorrow night. Beginning with Sunday morning, therefore, all College exercises, although nominally taking place at the usual time, in reality will be one hour earlier. The date set for the return to actual time is October 26, 1919.

Opportunity to Learn Banking

Opportunities to enroll under the scholarship plan of the National City Bank of New York are open to undergraduates and recent graduates. The plan is that the men shall receive, during two summers and for several months after graduation, a year's schooling in the National City Bank, receiving $60 to $75 a month during the period of training. They will then be obliged to go to whatever position they are assigned by the Bank. It is probable that the work will be in foreign countries. An advance will be made to each man for his outfitting expenses and for the passage to his post, but he will have to give a demand note for it, which will not be cancelled until the man has served satisfactorily for three years. Any additional information can be secured from Dean Maxey.

Books Wanted for A. E. F. Men

From the College Library comes the report that contributions of books and magazines to be sent to the Expeditionary Force over-seas have recently dropped off to practically none at all. Those who had been in the habit of giving their used literature to libraries for the men in the service have apparently decided that since actual warfare has ceased the need for books has ceased with it. Such, however, is far from being the case. Cablegrams have repeatedly been received from the authorities in France stating that the demand is now actually greater than before the armistice. The men who are still in the war zone have now more leisure time than ever, and they are depending on the libraries in the camps to furnish amusement and maintain morale. Books and magazines then, old and new, of all kinds, will be welcomed as contributions for war libraries by the College Library in Lawrence Hall.

Smoker Expenses

The College Smoker Committee, in preparing for the coming entertainment, has met several difficult situations, to overcome which it has been forced to levy what would superficially seem to be an unnecessarily heavy tax on the student body. What looks like extravagance, however, proves on investigation to be merely unavoidable expenditure. Hitherto, smokers have been costumed from the wardrobe of "Cap and Bells", but this is now impossible owing to the ravages of the Jesup Hall fire, which destroyed what remained from previous years. The same is true of scenery and other properties, so that this year costumes and stage accessories must be hired or manufactured for the occasion. Furthermore, owing to the small size of the present stage in the Gymnasium, additions there are necessary which will be the cause of considerable expense. In order to alleviate the burden for those who are less able to bear it than others, scholarship students and men who are dependent on their own efforts for all or a large part of their support will be given a generous rebate, amounting to two-thirds of the regular tax.

Unity, together with variety, produces the best musical effect. In this connection Mr. Salter considered briefly the recent mania for ragtime and showed that syncopation, which is simply the lengthening and stressing of ordinarily weak notes, in reality originated in the very earliest times. "Ragtime is simply syncopation gone mad," he stated.

A more real danger to classical music is Futurism, the socialism and anarchy of the artistic world. Active propaganda and the craze of the public for novelty have furthered the cause unduly. Several selections clearly indicated the absurdity of such disregard of dissonance, a Hungarian conception of Aurora in particular showing unrelated tonalities—a complete disregard for unity. The most striking example of all, however, was furnished in the Impression of Notre Dame by Leo Ornstein, a native-born Russian. A noted critic has accurately characterized this piece as containing "a certain mysterious aloofness, emphasized by a truly cubistic conception of tone unity." The third of this series of Futurist selections, a Prelude by Schonberg, was the most characteristic of all, and Mr. Salter's entire description of it was summed up in the one word "Bolshevism."

Painting began as an art by dealing with concrete objects and later grew toward abstract and vague ideas. Music, however, is the exact converse in development, starting with general themes and now constantly progressing toward definite delineations and realities. In illustration and as a fitting conclusion Mr. Salter played MacDowell's The Eagle, a splendid vision of the great American bird soaring slowly into the distance, lord of all he surveys.

Sophomore and freshman competitors for the business managership of the Purple Cow will meet this evening at 7.30 o'clock in Room 23, Jesup Hall.

Varsity Easily Wins First Practice Game

Downs Second Team 8 to 1 on New Diamond Fielding and Hitting Ability Shown

Showing considerable hitting ability and a few flashes of brilliant fielding, the varsity baseball team was seen in action for the first time last Wednesday, when it defeated the second team by the score of 8 to 1. The game, which began at 4.30 o'clock was played on one of the newly constructed diamonds on Cole Field, which was rough enough to slow up the fielding considerably.

Although the contest had to be stopped at the end of five innings on account of darkness, it lasted long enough for the nine to show a great deal of promise in all departments of the game. The line-up included eight veterans of the 1917 and 1918 teams, and the new man, McLean, seemed to fit in well at third base; he also drove out two singles in three trips to the plate. Callahan, who played in the outfield last year, was moved in to shortstop and handled all his chances quickly and cleanly. The batting was good, although there were no particularly long hits. Patton and J. D. Ewing pitched steady ball, striking out seven men altogether.

On the second team the infielders played fast baseball and worked well together. The outfielders executed some brilliant individual work, but there were several times when, due to poor teamwork, flies that should easily have been caught went for hits.

The second team scored its only run in the first inning, when Frazier led off with a single and came in on H. A. Brown's hit. Two errors and McLean's timely single were responsible for two scores for the varsity in the second half of the same inning. Most of the scoring came in the third. After Mason had walked, McLean hit a Texas leaguer to center, which Frazier barely missed. Manning laid down a bunt, filling the bases. The next man up, Finn, drove the ball to center field and cleared the bases, taking second on the play. A sacrifice, a pop fly, and a strike-out finished the inning. In the next inning Mason was again given a pass, and McLean brought him in. Two more runs were scored in the fifth on hits by Papin and Callahan.

The score:

	1	2	3	4	5	R	H	E
Varsity	2	0	3	1	2	8	6	2
Second Team	1	0	0	0	0	1	3	3

Batteries: Varsity—Patton, J. D. Ewing, and Finn; Second Team—Dorsey, H. M. Rounds, W. C. Burger, and R. W. Smith.

Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, of Malden, Mass., will occupy the pulpit in the College Chapel next Sunday morning and will address a meeting under the auspices of the W. C. A. in the evening. Dr. Hughes graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University in 1889 and from the Boston University Theological School in 1892. He was President of DePauw University from 1903 to 1908 and has been a Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church since that time. Among his many interests is the Carnegie Foundation, of which he is a Trustee. He is the author of several books, including The Teaching of Citizenship and The Bible and Life.

At the meeting in the evening, which will take place in the Jesup Hall auditorium at 7.30 o'clock, Dr. Hughes will speak of his experiences overseas. Since he last preached here, on June 2, 1918, he has spent most of his time in France doing war work, having returned only a few weeks ago.

DR. FARQUHAR SHOWS CONDITIONS IN INDIA

Political, Social, and Religious Situation Explained at W. C. A. Meeting

Dr. J. N. Farquhar, the Chief Literary Secretary for the Y. M. C. A. movement of the Indian Empire, addressed the W. C. A. meeting yesterday evening at 8.00 o'clock in the Thompson Physical Laboratory. He spoke on the political, social, and religious conditions in India, explaining the accomplishments made by Christianity.

India has approximately one fifth of the population of the world, equaling that of North America, Central America, including the islands, South America, and Africa combined. In this vast empire the poverty is extreme. In addition to this great poverty, ninety-four per cent of the inhabitants are illiterate. About 200,000,000 men, women, and children are forced to live in crudely constructed mud huts with thatched roofs living a simple, quiet, regular life with no ambition to better themselves. Such are the conditions at present, which, with the introduction of Christianity, are slowly being bettered.

The Indian government is at present heavily in debt and is unable to pay it off. Due to this great debt, the taxation is necessarily high, which fact is one of the great causes for the high degree of poverty. In order to pay the interest on the debt, the government is forced to obtain money at usurers rates, due to its instability and the eastern customs. The government is such that it is at present unable to operate by itself with the result that England has been forced to help out. But Great Britain has adopted the same policy as that of the United States toward the Philippines and is gradually introducing self representation, leading up to the time when India will be able to become self governing.

India has numberless religions, the Mohammedan, Hindu, and different forms of Buddhism being the most prevalent. The Mohammedans number about 66,000,000 now, and the English-speaking Christians nearly 200,000. Christianity, however, is the only one that is showing a steady increase.

The English and American missionaries and Y. M. C. A. secretaries have been slowly working into the communities and introducing the teachings of Christ, getting at the Indians through their schools. They are working against great odds, since the people are so scattered, a very few living in cities and seventy per cent being dependent on the farms. There are 187 languages recognized by the government, and in all such sections of the country there are the different superstitions to be overcome. They have, however, set up schools and in the cities have even started universities. They are promoting the saving of money by instituting land banks, and gradually the Indians are being introduced to the western civilization. But although there are a great many who have not dropped their religions for Christianity, the mere statement of Christian principles have had a great influence. There are those who will accept the Christian morals, educations, modes of living, and even its principles, but are unwilling to acknowledge it, thus showing what great progress has really been made.

Donations for Williams Room

Although there is a room in the University Union in the Royal Palace Hotel of Paris intended for the special use of Williams and Harvard men, the furnishings and decorations are nearly all from Harvard. Hedden and Richardson '18 have therefore been appointed by the Student Council to send over a box of Williams banners, pictures and publications to help make the room more interesting to Williams men, of whom there are still a large number in France. Contributions are acceptable from any organization, fraternity, or individual, and campus pictures, Williams Banners, a subscription to the Record, and copies of recent Guls. and Class Books are especially desired. All donations are wanted immediately, as the box is to be sent to Paris before the Spring Recess.

THERE is nothing haphazard in the construction of Best & Co.'s Clothes for young men. Every step is controlled by thought and experience. Models, cloths, tailoring—from first to last—every garment is the result of exact knowledge. The experts who choose the fabrics, the designers who create the styles, and the bushelmen who sit on their benches and sew—all work with one purpose: To sustain the high standard originated here.

"NINETEENTH CENTURY LETTERS" COMMENDED

NEW BOOK BY PROF. REES

Reviewer Favorably Impressed by New Volume from Press of Scribner and Sons

It is impossible in short space to give an adequate notion of the charm and variety and rich human interest that attach to Professor Rees's collection of Nineteenth Century Letters just published by Scribners. Presenting as it does specimens from the familiar correspondence of the great literary figures of the period, the book affords inimitable glimpses of the gods off parade. In this "equable stream of twaddle" that Stevenson thought the essence of friendly letters, we discover the morbid Poe taking a homely satisfaction in ham and eggs, the transcendental Coleridge pluming himself upon being a man of fashion, Carlyle fretful at moving-day, Keats remiss in returning that borrowed copy of Chapman's Homer, Arnold rejoicing over broiled oysters at Amherst. The gods are mortal, "capable of our flesh."

Many of the details savor of the present. Thackeray caught the distinctive quality of New York: "always being torn down and built up again." Influenza filled the world with sneezes even in those unprogressive years. The tigress in Jane Welsh dwarfs the swaggering masculinity of a dozen Rebecca Wests.

There is more, however, to these letters than that gossip "twaddle" that lets the reader into the secret of personality. There are the meetings of mind with mind, the stir and sweep of ideas, that give significance and depth to personality. In casual lightning flashes the activities and interests of a century are indicated.

And those magnificent scenes of death! We have nothing like them in the writings of this youthful age, in which the mortality of nature is reduced to a biological impertinence. For the Victorians, moon and stars and wind and clouds sang together to glorify the climactic moment of life.

With all of their variety and power, these examples of "the epistolical art" display delightful genuineness and spontaneity; unaffected good spirits, unstudied dejection, unlabored intelligence. They are authentic. If now and then we suspect a bit of innocent posturing and strutting, it is all one. The fundamental truth is not concealed.

It would be an error to regard the editor's part as the mere employment of scissors and paste. His unpretentious but invaluable analysis of the characteristics of a good letter is a real contribution to our knowledge of the subject. His labors of examining and sifting the enormous mass of available correspondence are happily hidden; but the nice judgment and discriminating taste exercised in the choice of material are indisputable.

The result is a volume that will appeal to student and general reader alike. It is a friendly book. To refashion a line from one of the letters, there is a sort of geniality and inward fire about it that warms the heart.

Subscriptions to Fund Due

Subscriptions to the fund for the support of W. Russell Augur '15 on the faculty of the Canton Christian College must be paid to C. L. Taylor, Jr., '21 before the Easter recess and if possible by tomorrow evening. Several hundred dollars have already been pledged, and if the undergraduate body can raise $500, the Alumni Committee of the W. C. A. will make up the remaining $225 which will complete the fund.

TELLS OF EXPERIENCES AS PREACHER IN FRANCE

Bishop E. H. Hughes Emphasizes Changed Conditions of Life for American Soldiers

Emphasizing the vastly changed conditions under which the American soldiers in France and Germany are living, Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, of Malden, Mass., addressed a meeting under the auspices of the W. C. A. last evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Jesup Hall auditorium, which was in use for the first time since the fire last fall. Dr. Hughes has been overseas for six months with the Y. M. C. A. and has also been in charge of the chaplains of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Dr. Hughes began by telling three main differences between the life that the soldiers led in this country and the life that they are now leading abroad. In the first place they are 3000 miles away, and this distance is not only material, but spiritual as well, for the religion of France is far different from the religion of America. Some of the men have not even heard organ pipes for a year and half. Then there is a vast social difference between the two countries, although a strong bond of friendship unites them. Dr. Hughes illustrated this point with the fact that a French family with whom he was staying expected him to enjoy the wine they brought him, not in spite of but rather because of the fact that he was a bishop. In the third place the absence of the soldiers from women breeds a coarseness which is exemplified in profanity. Dr. Hughes once denounced swearing in vigorous terms before an audience of soldiers and was applauded because they liked his sincerity even if they did not agree with him.

The speaker stated his belief that "as all light leads to the sun, so all right leads to God". He said that the soldiers somehow seemed to feel that they were in the divine presence, because they had been sent to France to rid the country of the ruthless German invaders. Some people, he declared, say that a man should not permit himself to pray more in great physical danger. But when a big shell explodes close at hand, such theories are forgotten and the soldier turns to his Maker. One captain, about to go into the front line, said to a chaplain, "I have long been intending to register myself for Christ, and I have a premonition that I must not expect to live long". The chaplain baptized him with water from his canteen and went through the communion service with him; three hours later the captain was dead. The speaker said that the nearer he came to the front, the better was the religious response he received; but on the other hand, the nearer the soldiers came to (Continued on page 4, col. 3)

PRESIDENT GARFIELD FAVORS LEAGUE PLAN

MAKES PUBLIC STATEMENT

Has Long Advocated Plan That Would Unite Nations—Must Sacrifice Sovereignty

In a statement recently issued to the press from the Fuel Administration office in Washington, President Harry A. Garfield heartily endorsed the plan for a League of Nations, which has been proposed by the Peace Conference in Paris. He especially emphasized the fact that all nations must be willing to sacrifice some of their sovereignty in order to form a lasting and efficient league. The text of his statement follows: "I am heartily in favor of the League of Nations."

"As long ago as May 5, 1916, before the United States had entered the war, I urged in a speech at Tremont Temple, Boston, the creation of a concert of powers to bring about the end now embodied in the purpose of the League of Nations, and subsequent events have strengthened my convictions."

"As I said then, there was a time not many generations ago when men thought as well as fought in small groups,—the tribe, the clan, and by and by the narrow feudal state claimed the whole allegiance of men. Gradually the idea of nationality emerged."

"We are now entering upon a new stage of development. Out of this war is bound to come a clearer vision of international relations—carrying with it a sense of allegiance to a power above the sovereignty we now recognize."

"It does not follow that nationality will become a thing of the past. All that is good in national life, all that has added to the sum of human happiness, all that has proved effective in the conduct of affairs, will be preserved to strengthen and enrich the life of a larger group to which the several states belong."

"Alliances for aggression were long ago frowned upon with the growth of civilization. This war has proved that defensive alliances lead to aggression."

"The balance of power in 1914 meant repression and prevention of growth, lest one nation become too strong. The League of Nations means cooperation among nations, not only for mutual protection, but that each may grow and develop according to the nature and genius of its people."

"The time has come to try the experiment of a concert of powers, to promote the welfare of men and nations. The opinion of the world is rapidly appreciating the gathering force of internationality. We feel the presence of it as of something real and imminent. We are restive when governments talk of dictating terms to one another and are moved to repudiate denunciation." (Continued on page 4, col. 3)

HEDDEN '20 TO SPEAK

Russian Policy to Be Discussed at Forum Meeting

Hedden '20 will speak on "A Policy Toward Russia" at the third regular meeting of the Forum to be held next Thursday evening at 8.00 o'clock in the Jesup Hall Reading Room. The scheduled talk will be the first of a series to be delivered by the undergraduate members of the organization and will be followed by a short business meeting during which a constitution will be presented for ratification.

For the purpose of increasing the value and interest of the discussions which follow the principal speech of the evening, pamphlets and various articles have been placed in the Jesup Hall Reading Room and in Lawrence Hall, which may be used by any members of the Forum who desire information on the subject of Russian policy. It is thought that previous knowledge of the topic under discussion will encourage more lively debates.

Parker '19 has been appointed chairman of the Program Committee, and Pike '20 will head the Library Committee. These men and the officers of the organization will comprise the executive council of the Forum.

MUSICAL CLUBS GIVE SECOND PERFORMANCE

Instrumental Septet Will Feature Program to Be Presented Next Thursday Evening

Next Thursday evening at 8.15 o'clock, the Combined Musical Clubs will make their second appearance of the year in a concert at the Drury High School auditorium in North Adams. The program will be the same as the one to be presented during the Easter trip of the organization and will include several of the numbers played in the recent engagement at the Empire Theatre.

The entertainment next Thursday evening will be the last step in preparation for the spring trip. The Musical Clubs have been severely handicapped this year by lack of time for sufficient practice but due to effective coaching by Mrs. Seeley and persistent effort of the members, a program has been developed which will compare favorably with the productions of previous years. Kreutzer '18 will appear as soloist in the feature entitled Foolish Questions, which made a decided hit at the house-party entertainment last year. Goodrich '19 will also take solo parts in several of the numbers. An added novelty of the program will be an instrumental septet playing a medley of selected popular songs.

The complete program follows:—

LEHMAN MEET TO BE HELD BEFORE RECESS

SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED

Sprinters and Hurlers Needed on Track Team—Practice to Be Held Daily

Although the heavy snowfall of the past few days has been a severe handicap to track practice, Coach Seeley and Captain Stewart have prepared a tentative schedule for the annual Lehman Cup track meet which will be held on the first favorable day before the Easter recess. It was originally planned to hold the meet next Wednesday and Thursday, but inasmuch as it is to take place on the Weston Field track, it will be necessary to await the disappearance of the snow.

The idea of this contest has always been to discover latent ability in men who would not ordinarily go out for track, especially among members of the Freshman Class. The track management therefore urges that every man who has any ability whatsoever in this branch of athletics should enter the meet regardless of his chances to win the cup. Sprinters and hurlers are especially lacking on this season's squad and any men who have ever run in either of these classes are urged to compete. The ineligibility of Goodrich '21, who was a reliable man in 100 and 220-yard dashes, and of McWhorter '22, who was counted on to gain points in the dashes and the high jump, will severely handicap the team unless new material can be found.

In spite of the unfavorable weather, practice is to be held every day from now on. Although a large number of men reported while training was being held on Weston Field, some have ceased reporting since the heavy snowfall has driven the squad into the gymnasium. Inasmuch as the first meet will take place with Union on May 3, only two weeks after the close of the Easter recess, it is highly important that the entire squad report every day.

Two changes from last year's schedule appear in the program for this season's Lehman Cup meet. The 35-yard dash has been lengthened to one of 50 yards, and the hurdles, both high and low, from 40 yards to 50 yards. The following events, with the point credits for the first five places, will take place on the first day of the meet: first 50-yd. dash (5, 3, 2, 1,  $\frac{1}{2}$ ); 50-yd. high hurdles (5, 3, 2, 1,  $\frac{1}{2}$ ); 440-yd. dash (10, 7, 4, 2, 1); mile run (10, 7, 4, 2, 1); pole vault (one point for every two inches over 8 ft. 6 in.); shot put (one point for every six inches over 29 ft.). The schedule for the second day of the meet is as follows: second 50-yd. dash; 50-yd. low hurdles (5, 3, 2, 1,  $\frac{1}{2}$ ); 880-yd. dash (10, 7, 4, 2, 1); potato race (10, 7, 4, 2, 1); high jump (one point for every inch over 4 ft. 6 in.).

Outing Club Takes First Hike

About 25 members of the Outing Club took advantage of the recent heavy snow-fall last Saturday afternoon and, dividing their number into three groups, went on hikes and snow shoe trips. One group, headed by Platt '19, climbed Greylock Mountain and experienced some difficulty with the heavy snow-drifts. Squire '19 conducted a skiing party up the Dome, while the third group snow-shoed in the general direction of Northwest Hill. Another series of hikes is being planned for the next weekend.

To Build Morale

"Back to normal" is the message to be read between the lines of the 1919 baseball schedule just announced. Once again the Williams team will meet colleges of the caliber of Yale and Harvard, which is a fact of cheerful significance to gloomy fans. That the Purple will pass through the coming season with credit to itself seems to be foretold by the brand of baseball evidenced even thus early in the season, in the practice game last Wednesday with the second team. But in baseball the factor of morale is an influential one. Large and enthusiastic bands of Williams rooters are necessary to express to the team our backing of it, and without the unqualified support of all, morale is impossible. One suggestion with such an end in view might be that all who can should attend the preliminary practice games, and make their presence felt. Athletic teams in the past two years have not been given the best possible support, such as they were given in former years. Whatever may be the reason for such a failing of interest, every effort should be made to recoup the loss now that turbulent times are over.

College Men and Bolshevism

Those who maintain that the modern college fails in that it does not educate for the essentials of actual life have an opportunity of proving their sincerity by their participation in the activities of the Forum. Next Thursday's meeting in particular is of a nature to prepare the undergraduate for a problem which is practically certain to confront him. The growth of socialism, whether we like it or not, is virulent and ever increasing. In its perverted form it has shown its influence in this country in the form of labor riots, strikes, and organized and violent opposition to capital. Bolshevism, ugly as the word sounds to us, is but an exaggeration of this very movement which is becoming more and more powerful in this country. What the future holds is only conjecturable, but it can be supposed with reasonable certainty that the menace of socialism, if it be a menace, must be met energetically and dealt a death blow by the concerted action of all its opponents. Those present college men who will in the business world have relations with labor in any form whatever must be prepared with an understanding of the socialistic movement to cope with difficulties arising from its influence on their employees. Those who purpose to exercise the powers of the ballot in the interests of the best government must have a knowledge of socialism in order to vote rationally on questions that are bound to come up.

The Idea of Mass Athletics

Popular participation in athletics for the sole purpose of the betterment of varsity teams is the reform urged by the Daily Princetonian. "So called mass athletics do not mean the abolishing or lowering of the standard of varsity sport—if they do we condemn the idea out and out," says that paper editorially. Princeton, at least as represented by its daily, seems to have failed completely to grasp the fundamental purpose of the new sentiment which has arisen among those interested in college sport. To return to an approximation in result of the ancient Greek educational idea, in which the development of a well-rounded man was the object, is the truth of this new movement, and in order to give the physical in some degree its rightful position alongside of the mental, its exponents favor an extension of the benefits of athletics to as many students as possible. Such a purpose is a most worthy one, tending as it does towards the American ideal of alertness and aggressiveness combined with culture and intellectual power, and to place the improvement of varsity athletic teams in such a position as to block the path of progress, is a narrow and shortsighted way of looking at things. We would rather say that when the time becomes ripe for the realization of mass athletics, then if we find varsity sport standing in its way, let the obstruction go by the board; we will have none of it.

SNOW DELAYS PRACTICE

Baseball Nine to Return Early from Spring Recess

Practice for the baseball squad has been severely hampered during the past few days by the inclement weather, and according to the weekly forecast issued by the weather bureau at Washington last Saturday the temperature will not return to normal until late in the week. Since this would leave but a short time for practice before the spring recess, it was decided at a meeting of the team held yesterday noon that all members of the nine would return to Williamstown on Wednesday, April 16, one day early. This will provide three days for practice before the opening game with M. A. C. on the following Saturday.

The last outdoor practice was held last Thursday afternoon, the ensuing snowfall and drop in temperature forcing the nine to use the cage on the next two days. At yesterday's meeting of the squad Coach Thomas discussed "Inside Baseball" and plays for the coming season.

home, the more religions they seemed, for part were actuated by a feeling of repentance and the rest by a feeling of gratitude.

Dr. Hughes concluded with a strong defense of the part that the churches have played in the war. He said, in part, "Whenever anyone implies that the men are coming back from France and from the training camps hostile to religion, I say that he is very much mistaken. I have talked with thousands of soldiers who did not know that I was a preacher, and I have not heard a single bitter indictment of the churches. The men will come back to brand this charge as false with the firm belief which they have developed in the Christian religion."

whether of our own or of another government, as inconsistent with equal and just laws, equally enforced.

"Some of our fellow-citizens argue that participation in the proposed league will rob us of some measure of sovereign power and that this is a new as well as dangerous proposal, but it is neither. If I may be pardoned for again quoting from my address of May 5, 1916: 'The new relation between states will necessarily take somewhat from the sovereignty of each, at least in practical results. No nation can henceforth be a law unto itself, but if the old formula is insisted upon, each, exercising its sovereign powers, will choose to do that which all agree it ought to do.'

"But already we have overcome that difficulty. When a sovereign state enters into a treaty with another sovereign state, each surrenders something. Thenceforth neither is free to act as it was before. Internationality is therefore no new thing. The principle is already established."

Oldest Alumnus Is 98

The oldest living graduate of Williams College, Reverend Edward Lord '43 of Clifton Springs, New York, was ninety-eight years of age on March 29, and in recognition of the anniversary Professor Wild sent him the following telegram, to reach him on that day:

"To her oldest living graduate on his ninety-eighth birthday anniversary Williams College sends her affectionate greeting. Alumni, Trustees, Faculty, and Students unite in remembering you with honor and in wishing you a happiness that shall match your years."

After having graduated from Williams College in the class of 1843 Mr. Lord studied for three years at Auburn Theological Seminary and afterward became Pastor of Presbyterian Churches in Romulus, Fulton, and Adams, New York. During the Civil War he was Chaplain of the 110th New York Volunteers in the Department of the Gulf. One of the features of the recent Williams reunion in New York was the reading of a letter from Mr. Lord and the sending of a message to him on the part of the alumni.

HEDDEN '20 SPEAKS ON RUSSIAN PROBLEM

FORUM HOLDS MEETING

A Policy Towards Russia Is Discussed by Organization— Constitution Ratified

"A Policy Towards Russia" was the topic discussed at the third regular meeting of the Forum held Thursday evening in the Jesup Hall reading room. Hedden '20, who was the speaker of the evening, delivered a short address on the subject, after which the meeting was turned over to the members for discussion. This is the first of a series of talks to be delivered by the undergraduate members of the organization dealing with vital topics of the day. A constitution was also presented and ratified unanimously.

Hedden began his talk with a brief review of Russian history since the Revolution and overthrow of the Czar in March 1917. He emphasized the fact that the Soviets, or the Councils of Workmen and Soldiers, were the real power throughout, even under the provisional government of Kerensky. The latter represented the less radical Socialist party and was overthrown late in 1917 by the Bolsheviks, who succeeded in gaining the popular favor with their cry of "Peace and Land." Immediately they placed their peace terms before the world and endeavored to persuade the Allies to join in the peace discussion. Failing in this they treated with Germany at Brest-Litovsk, and though they refused to concede to the German demands at first, finally declared peace and dismissed their armies. Since then they have sought to work out their own salvation or ruin under Lenin and Trotsky.

From the first the policy of the Allies was to keep Russia in the war, but when they failed in this they adopted intervention as a measure for protecting their interests. Expeditions were sent to Vladivostok on the Pacific and to Archangel on the Murman Coast, supposedly for the purpose of rescuing stores and supplies at those points, but both were more successful in causing distrust of the Allies' motives than in tending to restore order to the country. It might have been better if they had recognized the Bolshevik government at first because now that peace is in sight it becomes more and more imperative to treat with them. In order to bring about more friendly relations several things ought to be done. For instance the embargo on Russia should be lifted and an armistice concluded between the opposing forces. Also the Allies should help organize the transportation facilities and through the Red Cross the miseries of the people could be alleviated to a remarkable degree.

In conclusion Hedden stated again that the Allies must eventually co-operate with the Bolsheviks to aid them in working out their policy for the future, and to put an end to the reign of anarchy and disorder.

During the discussion which followed, Hedden was asked to explain the working of the present constitution of the Russian Soviets. Parker then compared Wilson's policy in Mexico with the Allies' method of dealing with Russia, and emphasized the importance of coming to an understanding with the Bolsheviks in order to quit the turmoil which is now disturbing the country. He further defined Bolshevism as a sort of internationalism which is bound to spread over the world unless measures are taken to forestall it.

Before adjourning the meeting, Hedden read the constitution drawn up for the Forum which was ratified unanimously.

MUSICAL CLUBS PLEASE NORTH ADAMS AUDIENCE

Instrumental Septet Features Program—Kreutzer '18 and Goodrich '19 in Solos

Appearing before a large audience in the Drury High School auditorium in North Adams, the Combined Musical Clubs gave their second performance of the season yesterday evening at 8.15 o'clock. The feature of the entertainment was the rendering of several popular songs by an instrumental septet taken from the Mandolin Club, while this was closely approached in excellence by the Glee Club's selection, Foolish Questions.

The Clubs showed little effects of the short time which they have practiced and were a credit to the able coaching of Mrs. Seeley. The program was essentially the same as that which will be presented on the Easter trip and includes several Williams songs, given at the request of the alumni.

The solo numbers by Kreutzer '18 and Goodrich '19 were also well received by the audience. Kreutzer sang the solo part of Foolish Questions, as well as I Think, and Goodrich gave a splendid interpretation of Woodford-Finden's O Flower of all the World. In response to the continued applause of the crowd, the Mandolin Club rendered The Big Show as an encore. It was enthusiastically received.

The complete program follows:

- (a) Come Fill Your Glasses Up Patterson '9

DR. BRADLEY TO PREACH

Will Address W. C. A. in Jesup Hall on Vital Question

The Reverend Henry Stiles Bradley, D. D., of the Piedmont Congregational Church, Worcester, Mass., will conduct the regular Sunday morning services tomorrow in the College Chapel. Dr. Bradley is a native of Georgia and a graduate of Emory College in that state. In his early career he devoted himself to the study of biology and was connected with Emory College for several years as Professor of Natural Sciences. Later he entered the ministry and became pastor of churches in Atlanta and St. Louis, after which he was transferred to his present pastorate, where he has remained since 1909. In 1904 he received the degree of D. D. from the University of Georgia. In the evening Dr. Bradley will address the meeting of the Williams Christian Association in the reading room of Jesup Hall on "The World's Unrest", a question of vital importance to everyone.

LEHMAN CUP MEET NEXT WEEK

Announcement has been made that the annual Lehman Cup track meet, scheduled for last Wednesday and yesterday, will take place next Monday and Tuesday if Weston Field can be put in condition by that time. The heavy snow-fall made it look for a time as if the meet could not be held before the vacation. Captain Stewart '19 will receive entries at any time before the beginning of the meet.

ELECT MANAGERS AND W. C. A. HEADS MONDAY

Elections of second assistant managers of basketball, hockey and swimming and of officers of the Williams Christian Association will be held at the polls in Jesup Hall next Monday afternoon and evening from 12.00 to 2.00 and from 5.30 to 7.30 o'clock respectively. In the managership elections all men registered in College will be eligible to vote. Only members of the association, however, have the right to vote for officers of the W. C. A. and men who desire to become members may do so by signing membership cards and giving them to one of the present officers by Sunday evening. To retain membership in the association it is necessary to sign a card every year.

In addition to the candidates for offices announced in the Record a week ago, Tyler '21 has been nominated for corresponding secretary and Blake '22 for treasurer of the W. C. A. Nominations for basketball and hockey and swimming managerships were made at the meeting of the Sophomore class last Wednesday evening and are announced elsewhere in this issue of the Record.

PLAYS MODERN NUMBERS

Mr. Salter Gives Last of Or- gan Recital Series

Modern numbers made up the program of Mr. Salter's one hundred and eighty-sixth organ recital in Grace Hall last Wednesday afternoon at 4.45 o'clock. The most impressive selection was Sonata I, in D minor, by Alexandre Guilmant, Professor at the Paris Conservatory until his death in 1911. The piece was in three movements and was characterized by its quick changes from the quiet charm of a choral accompaniment by muted strings to the great brilliance and vigor produced by the full organ. Among the other numbers were three composed recently in this country. The recital was the last of the current series. Following is the program in detail:

- Sonata I, in D minor* Alexandre Guilmant
- I. Introduction and Allegro*
- II. Pastorale*
- III. Finale*
- The Cuckoo* Edward J. Horsman
- Spring Song* Will C. Macfarlane
- Caprice: "The Brook"* Gaston M. Dethier
- Berceuse from "Jocelyn"* Benjamin Godard
- Fantaisie Symphonique* Rosseter G. Cole

CHICAGO LAWYER GIVES FINAL TUESDAY LECTURE

Mr. Truman Discusses Re- lation of State to Church During Reign of Frederick II

Appearing in the final number of the Tuesday Lecture Course, Mr. Percival H. Truman, an eminent Chicago lawyer, lectured on "Frederick the Second and His Conflict with the Church", last Tuesday afternoon in the Thompson Physical Laboratory. Mr. Truman has devoted much of his time to the study of medieval history and, therefore, was able to develop his topic in an unusually scholarly and detailed manner.

Three events of especial interest and significance took place in the year 1215. The Magna Charta was signed by King John of England, thus establishing the basis of British free government and parliamentary legislation. In the same year, the Fourth Lateran Council was held for the purpose of reforming the Church and establishing it as an institution. An unsuccessful attempt was also made to stimulate interest in a Crusade. The third event, and the most pertinent to the topic discussed by Mr. Truman, was the coronation of Frederick II of Sicily as emperor of the Holy Roman Empire.

During the thirty-five years of his reign, Frederick the Second showed himself to be an able general, politician, and diplomatist. Added to these qualities, his ardent patronage of learning and the sciences, his unusual linguistic ability, and his generally tolerant attitude in religious matters, won for him the title of "The Wonder of the World". His talents were misdirected, however, and his attempt to unite Germany and Italy, thus combining the two most powerful existing institutions, Church and Empire, ended in disaster for the whole of Europe. It was this attempt that was directly responsible for the conflict between Frederick and the Church which ended in a costly victory for the Pope and his supporters.

Frederick of Sicily came to the throne at the age of eighteen. From early youth he had been under the tutelage of Pope Innocent and had shown such promise that he had won the confidence of the Church. However, a few years after his accession to the throne the young Emperor violated all of his "election promises" and inaugurated an attempt to annex Italy to his empire. His efforts for a time were directed to guaranteeing the succession of his son to the throne, a step made necessary

Non-Athletic Council Recog- nizes Outing Club

Recognition of the Outing Club, the selection of a committee to consider the advisability of reorganizing the Good Government Club, and the appointment of a delegate to the conference with Amherst and Wesleyan concerning intercollegiate debating, comprised the business brought before the Board of Governors of Non-Athletic Organizations at a meeting last Monday afternoon. Power '20 was also elected secretary of the Council.

Permission was granted to the Outing Club to continue the activities planned for the coming year, and it was given recognition as an undergraduate organization. The matter of reestablishing the Good Government Club, which has been allowed to lapse so far this year, was left to a committee to be chosen by Wright '19, the chairman. The report of this committee will be made at the next meeting. Goodman '19 was appointed to confer with Amherst and Wesleyan on intercollegiate debating situation existing between the three institutions.

Balch, Coan, North, and Thex- ton Made Associate Editors of "Gul."—Prom Voted Dry

Ogden William Heath 1921, of New York City, was elected editor-in-chief of the 1921 Gulielmsonian by the board of editors, which was chosen at a meeting of the Sophomore Class, held last Wednesday evening at 7.15 o'clock in the Reading Room of Jesup Hall. At the same meeting, five men from the competition for the assistant managership of basketball and six from that of hockey and swimming were chosen to be voted on by the College body next Tuesday and the chairman of the Sophomore Prom Committee briefly outlined the work that the Committee had already done.

The associate editors of the 1921 Gul. are Richard Horrocks Balch 1921, of Utica, N. Y.; Howard Radcliffe Coan 1921, of Urumia, Persia; Edgerton Grant North 1921, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; and Arthur Louis Thexton 1921, of Oak Park, Ill.

Heath prepared for Williams at the St. Paul's School, Garden City, N. Y., where he was on his school paper, a member of the football squad, and manager of track. He was elected to the Record board in his freshman year at College and to the Handbook board this year. Heath is a member of the Sophomore Prom Committee, the Press Club, and the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Balch graduated from the Utica Free Academy, Utica, N. Y., where he was business manager of the school paper, a member of the debating society, and president of the glee club. In his first year at Williams he won the second prize in the Freshman Declamation Contest. He is a member of the editorial boards of the Record and the Handbook. Coan prepared for College at the Central High School, Minneapolis, Minn. There he was editor-in-chief of his school paper, on the year book board, a member of the debating team, on the track team, and valedictorian of his class. In his first year at College he was on his class relay team, captain of the freshman debating team, and an alternate on the varsity debating team. He is a member of the editorial boards of the Record and the Handbook and is on the track squad. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

North came to Williams from the Polytechnic Preparatory School, Brooklyn, N. Y. where he was a member of the track team, the literary magazine staff, and was editor-in-chief of the school paper. He is now on the Literary Monthly, the Smoker Committee, and was manager of the S. A. T. C. football team last fall. He is a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity.

Thexton graduated from the Oak Park High School, Oak Park, Ill. He was on the school paper, a member of the dramatic society, on the football team, and vice-president of the debating club. In his first year at Williams he was on the freshman football squad and was elected to the Record. He is secretary and treasurer of the Press Club, and a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

The class selected Dana, Finn, Joslyn, Roth, and Ufford from the basketball competition, one of whom will be elected assistant manager by the College body. From the hockey and swimming competition Allen, Hyndman, Lohrke, Patton, Power, and C. L. Taylor, Jr. were retained. The College body will choose two of them, one to be assistant manager of hockey and the other to be assistant manager of swimming.

Why Is Latin?

"Whither is it leading us, this new trend in education?", asks in a bewildered tone the spectacled gentleman who was brought up on classics almost undiluted. Attacks on the old and established things in life always frighten the illiberal conservative. And yet if it were not for such attacks, whence would come progress? Christ, Galileo, Columbus, Patrick Henry, and scores of others found advance opposed by such men. If education is meant to fit people for the world, and if it tries to place each new generation on a little better footing than the last in order that culture may not stagnate, must it not then change as the world changes; move forward with the culture of the time?

Your young man of the present who specializes in the classics steps forth from his cloistered years armed with Homer and Virgil and Catullus, and what does he meet? Masfield and spiritualism and the exchange. Your young man of the present who does not specialize in the classics, and he is in the vast majority, spends perhaps a fourth of his time during five or six years with his Latin Grammar, his Caesar, Cicero, and Livy, and after his freshman year at college with a sigh of relief he turns his back on the mechanical drudgery of principal parts and scansion, and great literature robbed of its pleasures by the pains of arduous translation. For to ask the average college man to read and understand the classics in the original is like asking an American business man to eat soup with chopsticks and enjoy it. He simply hasn't the necessary tools.

And after all, what has he reaped from this study of Latin which has occupied fully one eighth of his days of education? An understanding of modern life, perhaps. But obviously this is accomplished as effectively by reading the excellent translations of classical authors which are to be had, without the waste of time devoted to grammar and the mechanics of the language, which is at least half of the whole. He gets increased brain power, maybe. Why not achieve this result in some other way which will kill two birds with one stone and give him learning of actual value along with intellectual exercise? And is it entirely certain that reading Catullus with a trot does greatly strengthen and fortify the mind? To master a thing half-way and then drop it would seem a peculiar kind of training to produce sturdy brain power. Well, then, says the classicist, at least it helps the student to a better understanding of the romance languages and of the words of Latin derivation in our own vocabulary. Admitted—but as this is the sole gain, is it not palpably outweighed by the loss of time and energy that might have been devoted to other and greater ends? It begins to look as if the arguments for Latin were of not much more rationality than those in favor of Greek put forward by an ancient Dean of a certain English college: "It enables you to read the words of the Saviour in the original tongue; it gives you a proper contempt for those who are ignorant of it; and it leads to situations of emolument."

One further consideration urged in the favor of the classics is that they open up a rich field where beauty and human truths grow and are waiting to be harvested. Above and beyond the possibility of reaping this harvest more efficiently with a modern machine,—the translation, such an argument directly suggests another of the same nature to be turned against it. If our educators were but to remove compulsory Latin from all curriculums, behold what a wonderful row of blank hours there remain to be filled with truly educating studies! What fields of truth and light are disclosed along the road of learning! And these fields are not enclosed with the forbidding walls of mechanical preparation, syntax and conjugation, which exclude entirely the reaper who is unable to climb, or force his stronger brother to consume half the autumn in surmounting them, only to find his crops well eaten into by the dry rot that comes of standing too long.

We do not pretend that the last word has been said on this very important subject. We hope to hear comment from the other side and to be able to discuss at a future date other aspects of the case. But let it not be understood that we favor making all Latin and Greek literature taboo; for we highly appreciate its necessity as a part of every true education. What we do favor is the abolishment of the study of Latin as a compulsory language. Thus doing away with the fruitless labor involved in mastering the mechanical side of the tongue would leave enormous opportunities for the substitution of a deeper, more sympathetic, and more by the complex political situation then existing in Europe. To accomplish his end, Frederick was forced to expend a great part of the resources of the Empire in bribes to political enemies and he thus seriously undermined the foundations of the government. The desired guarantee was later obtained, and a temporary truce with the Church was effected. From this time on, the power of Frederick the Second steadily waned.

Pope Innocent III soon died and the succeeding regime under Pope Gregory carried on successful military operations against the Empire. It was not, however, until the accession of Pope Innocence
IV to leadership of the Church that Frederick encountered a truly dangerous opponent. Innocent was an administrator of no mean ability and his avowed intention of destroying Frederick showed him to be no pacifist. His first step was to call a council at Lyons in a successful attempt to bring about the excommunication of his opponent, the Emperor. The ensuing struggle between Empire and Church lasted for five years and ended, in 1248, in a complete victory for the Church. Frederick died two years later and his death marked the real fall of the Holy Roman Empire.

During the rest of his lecture, Mr.
Truman explained the relations which existed between the State and the Church in medieval times and how the monarchical ideals governing these relations were later overthrown by the growing tendency toward individualism and nationalism. The old idea of uniting the Church and State into one political entity met with failure. If the modern world is to be regulated on a substantial basis, politics must be controlled not by the Church but by the great principle of the Church, morality.
Only when nations are united by bonds of moral obligation can a lasting peace be established.

Varsity Practice Held in Cage

Unfavorable weather conditions have made it necessary for varsity baseball practice to be held in the cage during the past week. Coach Thomas has been giving special attention to the development of the pitching staff and has stated that McLean, Patton, and Burrows will probably do most of the mound work during the coming season. Several freshman pitchers are also being tried out and may be added to the squad at a later date. Much of the cage work for the varsity has consisted of batting, fielding practice being generally postponed until the outdoor diamonds are again ready for use.

MUSICAL CLUBS WILL GIVE FIVE CONCERTS

FIRST TRIP IN TWO YEARS

Easter Vacation Performances in Troy, Montclair, East Orange, and New York

Concerts in Troy, Montclair, East Orange, and two in New York form the schedule for the Easter trip of the Combined Musical Clubs as arranged by Manager Goodman '19. This is the first extensive Spring tour undertaken by the Clubs since 1917, and even then three performances were omitted because of the critical national situation.

Through the excellent coaching of Mrs. Charles F. Seeley and the faithful practice of the Glee and Mandolin Clubs, the members have overcome the severe handicap imposed by the late opening of College. The second appearance of the Clubs, at the Drury High School in North Adams Thursday evening, was greeted with enthusiasm. Practically every number on the program was encored. The solos by Goodrich '19, leader of the Glee Club, and by Kreutzer '18, the selection by the instrumental septet, in which Frazier '21 took a leading part, and the medley of war songs given as an encore were very enthusiastically received. In fact, basing their judgment on the first two performances of the Clubs, critics consider them the finest that have represented Williams in many years.

The Glee Club has especially fine tenor voices, among them being that of Goodrich '19, one of the soloists. Power '20, leader of the Mandolin Club, has also been able to form a splendid instrumental organization which includes a 'cellist, violinist, and flutist. But, after giving credit to the members of the Clubs for their persistent and faithful practice the past two months, a great deal of praise for their excellence is due to Mrs. Seeley for her very effective coaching.

The Combined Musical Clubs will leave Williamstown on the special train at 4.45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for Troy, N. Y., where they will give their first concert at the Emma Willard School at 8.30 o'clock in the evening. With the exception of the solos, the program will be the same throughout the trip as that rendered last Thursday evening. The choice of selections, as will be seen from the program given below, has been made with the preferences of the alumni in view, and includes nine Williams songs, counting the medley of class songs. The program is as follows:

VARSITY WINS AGAIN

Defeats Second Team in Practice Game on Cole Field

With the ground wet and slippery due to the recent snow the varsity again defeated the second team 9-3 on Cole Field last Saturday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock. Although the game was the first nine-inning contest of the year, it gave little indication of the strength of the team on account of the poor condition of the diamond.

The game was fairly close until the seventh inning, with the varsity showing good form and maintaining a slight advantage. The pitching of Ewing was effective, as he scored six strike-outs and kept the hits well scattered. The second team's fielding was generally weak, but at times they showed some fast playing.

In the seventh inning the varsity batters struck their stride. Wakeman, who was pitching for the second team, was unable to control the situation, and his team nearly went to pieces. Six hits and an error gave the varsity six runs before the rally ended.

The score:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Varsity	1	2	0	0	0	6	0	0	9	12	4
Second Team	0	0	0	1	0	1	1	0	0	3	4	6

Batteries: Varsity—J. D. Ewing and Finn; Second Team—Dorsey, Wakeman, and W. C. Burger.

FUTURE OCCUPATIONS OF '18 AND '19 MEN

COMPILED FOR CLASS BOOK

Activities After Graduation Are Given for Two Classes —Business Predominates

According to the statistics regarding the post-graduation activities of the classes of 1918 and 1919 which have been compiled for the 1919 Class Book, there are a great many more men who intend to enter business than any other profession, 32 having signified this as their intention. 14 men will continue their studies at technical schools, of whom five will take up engineering, four medicine, and two law. Manufacturing will claim six members of the two classes, while four will devote themselves to banking. There are also 15 men who are as yet undecided as to what their future course will be. The statistics of the two classes are as follows:

1918

Bartram will study engineering at M. I. T.
Bonner is undecided.
Bowen will enter business.
Brewer will enter business.
F. D. Chapman will study engineering at Columbia.
R. W. Chapman will enter business.
Coleman will study law at Columbia.
Hedden is undecided.
Kreutzer will take up banking.
Leeming will enter business.
McKelvy will enter business.
Miller is undecided.
Morris is undecided.
Orr is undecided.
Phelps will attend the Harvard Business School.
Powers is undecided.

College Elects Today

Elections of the assistant managers of basketball, hockey, and swimming and the officers of the Williams Christian Association will be held this afternoon and evening from 12.00 to 2.00 and from 5.30 to 7.30 o'clock, respectively, at the polls in Jesup Hall. All men enrolled in College will be eligible to vote for the assistant managers but only members of the Association may vote for the W. C. A. officers.

STAR FIVES PICKED FROM CLASS TEAMS

CHOSEN BY MANAGEMENT

Sophomores and Freshmen Fill Nine Out of Ten Positions on Imaginary Quintets

First Team	Second Team
Hyde '22	rf J. M. Baker '22
Finn '21	lf Munger '21
Gay '21	c Vroman '22
W. C. Gahagan '20
	rg D. M. Milton '21
Richmond '22	lg J. E. Wilson '22

Two all-star basketball teams, given as above, have been picked by the basketball management from the four class fives. The season ended on February 13 with a 17-9 victory for the Freshmen over the Sophomores, and as both these teams showed marked superiority over those of the upper classes, they have been given nine out of the ten places.

There was a great deal of good material from which to pick the forwards. Finn and Hyde were chosen for their exceedingly accurate shooting; the former was a dangerous man from any part of the floor, and the latter also used an aggressive style of play that proved very effective. Baker was entitled to a place on the second team on account of his excellent passing, and Munger because of his hard work and his ability to put life into his team. Kellogg '22 was accurate in his shooting, but showed a tendency to keep out of the rougher part of the play. Among the others who deserve mention for their consistently good playing are Mersdis '19, Foster, White '20, and Frazier '21.

Choosing the centers was not so easy, as the work of most of the men in this position was mediocre. Gay was hard-working and good in his floor work; Vroman was inclined to take things easy, but played a good game when aroused. Among the guards Richmond was the most aggressive and was also accurate.

Eight Games in Williamstown, Seven Out of Town—Bright Prospects for Season

As a result of the favorable weather which has permitted the baseball squad to begin practicing out-of-doors earlier than usual this spring, Coach Ira Thomas is looking forward to one of the most successful baseball seasons in several years. An excellent schedule has been arranged for the team which already has begun to display signs of unusual promise.

Especially in the batting department the squad has developed a strength which, if maintained throughout the season, ought to surpass that of the past five years. The pitching staff too appears exceedingly formidable. McLean, who was ineligible last year, has shown very good form, while Burrows and Patton, the mainstays of the 1918 pitching staff, may be depended upon to make a good showing. Finn is one of the most reliable catchers in college baseball, and will have no difficulty in holding up his end. The infield will feel the loss of Boynton at short-stop, but it is hoped that before the season is over an inner defense will be built up around Capt. Manning at first base, which will offset this disadvantage. Boyden, Papin, and Roth of last year's nine will compose the outfield.

CAPTAIN MANNING '19

In order to get in an extra day of practice in preparation for the first contest with Massachusetts Agricultural College on April 19, the team will return to college from the spring vacation on Wednesday, April 16, a day earlier than the remainder of the student body. Little is known of the comparative strength of the opponents, since it is also their first game of the season. This will also be the first time since 1916 that the college has been represented by a baseball team. At the first call for candidates on March 26, forty men came out, but Manager Buffum has had the difficult task of rounding a well-balanced nine out of green material.

The second game is scheduled with Holy Cross for Saturday, April 26, and promises to be a more difficult proposition. More candidates have turned out for the Holy Cross team than in any year previous, among whom are seven of last year's nine. Santoro and Duffy, both letter men who were in the service last spring, have returned to college, as well as Bowen, who is captain of the team (Continued on page 9, col. 1)

56 CONTESTS PLANNED

Season to Open on April 22— Committee Chosen and Call for Ten Umpires Issued

Williams will be offered its first real opportunity to try out the newly adopted slogan "Athletics for All" in the intramural baseball season of 56 games, to open Tuesday, April 22, and close Monday, May 26. Sixteen teams, representing the fourteen fraternities, the Commons Club, and the Faculty, have been formed into two leagues, the American and National, and the final winners of each league will decide the championship by means of a post-season "world's series" of three games for the silver loving cup offered the winning team.

The two leagues will be composed of the following teams: American League—Commons Club, Beta Theta Pi, Chi Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Alpha, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Phi, and Zeta Psi; National League—Faculty Club, Alpha Delta Phi, Delta Psi, Delta Upsilon, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Sigma Kappa, Psi Upsilon, and Theta Delta Chi. Teams should be organized immediately and captains and managers elected. Each team will be charged an entry fee of $1.50 toward the purchase of the silver loving cup, which will be engraved with the name of the winner.

An Executive Committee of three has been appointed to take charge of the series and in general to promote the interests of both leagues. This "National Commission" will consist of the Managing Editor of the Record, Hawes '20, the manager of Baseball, Becket '19, and the baseball coach, Ira Thomas. This body will handle all disputes, such as games protested over the decisions of umpires, conflicts in regard to dates which are unsatisfactory to one or both teams, and like matters. In short everything concerning the good and welfare of the series should be brought up before this committee, and also any criticisms or suggestions.

All men in College are eligible to play in the intramural series with the exception of those who have won a baseball "W" or who are on the list of varsity players to be posted by Coach Thomas at a future date. The series is expected to offer an opportunity for finding good undeveloped material, and outstanding stars Coach Thomas expects to draft for the varsity squad at any time during the season.

The schedule as arranged divides the games throughout the week, leaving many open dates to be filled with contests postponed on account of rain. All games will be of five innings duration in order to permit of finishing by dinner time on week days, but in case of scores (Continued on page 8, col. 1)

The second concert will be held on Thursday evening at 8.15 o'clock at the Montclair Club, Montclair, N. J. On Friday evening the Combined Clubs will appear at the Woman's Club in East Orange, N. J., and at both these performances will be followed by dances at which Jacobs of Brooklyn will furnish the music.

Saturday evening at 8.15 o'clock, the Clubs will give their last regular concert at Sherry's, Fifth Ave. and 4th St., New York City. Joseph C. Smith of the Plaza will furnish the music at the dance which will follow. A benefit performance for the New York War Camp Community Service, which will be given at the Manhattan Opera House, New York City, at 2.00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, will end the Easter trip of the Combined Musical Clubs. It is the largest tour of its kind undertaken by any Williams organization since war was declared in 1917.

Goodman '19, manager of the Clubs, has done excellent work in making all the arrangements for the trip and in giving it greater publicity than those of previous years have enjoyed. Since assuming the responsibilities of the position on the re-ignation of Wyckoff '19 early in March, Goodman has sent out 1200 invitations to patronesses of the Clubs in addition to letters to all the alumni residing in the cities in which the Clubs will appear. In the advertising and arranging of the details of the concerts, the local managers—Alfred W. Gale '14 in Troy, William K. Paton '15 in Montclair, Donald D. Brumbaugh '16 in East Orange, and Stuart Peabody ex-'15 in New York have rendered very valuable assistance.

Thirty-eight men will make the Easter trip in addition to Goodman '19 and Hutton '20, manager and assistant manager, respectively, of the Combined Musical Clubs. Those on the Glee Club are: first tenors—Goodrich '19, Wells '21, Brigham, Olmsted, and Story '22; second tenors—Prentiss and Sperry '23, Oppenheimer '20, and Lewis '22; first basses—Kreutzer '18, Wild '19, Grindy '20, Allen and C. C. Noble '21; second basses—Rogers '18, A. R. Harden, Perry, and Stabler '20, Van Deusen '21, and Chapman '22. The Mandolin Club consists of the following men: first mandolins—Collins and Fillebrown '19, Power, Robinson, and Whittier '20; second mandolins—Hol '20, Dana and Kent '21; guitars—Brigham '20, Gray '21, and Lyons '22; 'cello—Stabler '20; flute—Leeming '18; violin—Tiebout '20; mandobas—Van Deusen '21; piano—W. D. Coleman '22; traps—Foster '20; comedian—Frazier '21.

The schedule of the five concerts is as follows:

Wednesday, April 9
8.30 p. m.—The Emma Willard School, Troy, N. Y.
Thursday, April 10

Seniors Discuss Final Plans

Further arrangements for the closing activities of the year were discussed at a meeting of the Senior Class held last Monday evening in Jesup Hall. As a result of the decision to place the Class Supper and the Senior Prom in the hands of special committees, Brown, Farr and Fitch '19 were appointed by the Class Day Committee to make plans for the supper and Nordhouse, Powell, Prescott, Squires and Spink '19 to arrange for the Prom. At the same time the class agreed that each member should take out a $250 endowment policy with the College as beneficiary. Drew, Powell and Squire '19 were chosen by the president to select a company from whom to obtain this insurance and to make the necessary arrangements. The evening of Commencement Day, June 23, was set as the date for the Class Supper, while the Senior Prom will be held on Friday of the week preceding Commencement. Members of 1918 were invited to join with 1919 in senior activities, as were also all former members of the class of 1919 who are now in College.

COLONEL WHITTLESEY
GAVE "OTHER ANSWER"

ADJUTANT RELATES STORY

Aide of Commander of Famous
"Lost Battalion" Tells of Refusal to Surrender

Among the many Williams men who have made brilliant records in the war, probably the best known is Lieutenant-Colonel Charles W. Whittlesey '05, commander of the famous "Lost Battalion" and winner of the first Congressional Medal of Honor.

Since the news of Colonel Whittlesey's exploit in the Argonne forest reached this country last September, his fame has spread until he is now a hero to the entire American people. Articles concerning him have appeared during the past six months in prominent newspapers and magazines all over the United States. One of the most interesting of these was published in the April number of Everybody's Magazine, written by Lieutenant Arthur McKeough, Colonel Whittlesey's adjutant.

In this article Lieutenant McKeough gives a new view of Colonel Whittlesey's character and also relates the true story concerning the famed "Go to Hell" message which he is supposed to have sent to the commander of the attacking German force. Concerning the latter he says:—

"Now the story goes that the colonel sent back the pithy answer: 'Go to hell!' As a matter of fact, he sent back no written answer whatever. To those near him he did suggest that the Boches could take the well-known facilis des-census.

"But what good purpose could have been served by sending a refusal? It was an ideal setting for battle-front theatricals, if you will, but the colonel was conserving white paper, let us say. Further, to have sent a messenger would have necessitated showing a white flag, at least temporarily. And whether or not it's a case of truce flags, the one thing 'white' about Whit is himself—and he's that, clear through.

"No, he sent no message. But the most complete, practical and splendid answer that could have been made to the German proposal, he made, as he finished reading the note.

"On the side of the hill our airplane liaison agent had spread out his panel to indicate the battalion's position to the divisional 'planes that had been trying to drop message cylinders and even food within reach of the command. That panel was an equilateral cloth triangle, more than six feet long. Moreover, with the exception of a small black patch, it was white. The thought sprang into the colonel's mind that inclined as it was on comparatively open ground the big signaling device was probably visible in the Boche lines. And it was white! Messages and food were essential enough, God knows; but suppose the German mistook that panel for surrender!

CONGRESSIONAL MEDAL AWARD-ED TO WHITTLESEY

"Whit ordered it taken in at once. That was his answer.

"What words could have been as magnificent?"

points

Your competitor can follow any pace you can set for him in the manufacturing end of the business. He can buy raw materials in the same market and at the same figure as you can. He can buy a duplicate of any labor-saving machine; he can install the same cost finding and efficiency methods. There's no advantage there.

This does not only apply to the manufacturer, but it also applies to you, Mr. Business Man; regardless of what your line of business is—your competitor has the same advantages in the open market as you have.

But you can gain an advantage over him on the selling end—if you advertise.

Make your printing sell your goods

Arrange a form of advertising—or if you are too busy let us arrange it for you—but the main thing is to advertise, continually keep before your customers and prospective customers the name of your house, your trade-mark, the quality of your goods, the service you render, and the selling end of your business will be well taken care of, and you will never have to fear your competitor.

Remember, that the success of any business is the selling end.

But don't make the serious mistake of having your advertising poorly printed, cheaply gotten up and distastefully arranged; insist upon as high a quality of Printing as your customers insist upon when they buy your goods.

Our reputation for Quality alleviates any form of inferiority, and our organization which is composed of experts in their line renders a service to you that profits.

What men want today is style, not stunts; tailoring, not tricks; sanity, not novelty. And that is purely a matter of hand-workmanship, for only the skill and cunning of the human hand can impart the note of distinction to present suit and topcoat lines.

That's why Franklin Simon Clothes appeal alike to city men and college men. They have all the distinction of a hand-tailored origin, and the simpler the lines the handsomer they look.

With today the Record suspends publication for two issues during the Spring vacation. The next issue will appear on Friday, April 18.

For the purpose of interesting those alumni who are not subscribers, this special issue is being sent gratis to them. We hope to increase the circulation among Williams men, young and old, in all parts of the world, in order that the Record may better accomplish its function as a tie between the alumni and the college and among the alumni themselves. It is our plan to enlarge greatly the "Alumni Notes" column, and to give it a regular position in the paper, thus increasing its value to subscribers outside of the College.

If Latin Goes

In these days when the classics are being attacked from all quarters and seem likely to crumble under the strain, it is well to be prepared with some plan for the reorganization of the curricula of schools and colleges in case they do disappear. The motive of the anti-classicists is, of course, that of increasing the efficacy of modern education, but they have not fulfilled their mission when they have merely destroyed a part of the course of study. They must also come forward with constructive ideas, in order that destruction may not be all, and that a new and better city may rise on the ruins of the old. A suggestion, therefore, as to new methods may not be out of place.

Modern education has two parts: the preparation, which lays the foundation and supplies the tools to build with by putting the mind in a condition to assimilate; and the education proper, which raises the edifice above ground. Preparatory schools are of necessity only preliminary. On the other hand, it should be the function of the college and university to take the student,—properly matured and (to use another figure) armed with the tools to crack the safe whose content is culture, understanding, and adaptability,—to place this safe before him, and to help him to get possession of the treasures within. Now undoubtedly this distinction does not make two absolutely separate divisions of the subject; the work a boy does in learning the rudiments is productive of something which in itself is valuable. But the higher studies have immeasurably the greater influence in turning out useful and cultured men, and it is unfortunate but inescapable that the student is prevented by the immaturity of his intellect from entering upon them earlier in life. Such, therefore, is the distinction that we find. It points a significant moral: give over the preparatory schools to the mechanics which form the basis of learning, and devote the higher institutions to the higher subjects.

Now let us relate the hypothetical abolishment of compulsory ancient languages to the principle evolved above. How may we best fill the blank spaces, both in school and in college? French and German are taught extensively nowadays, and rightly; for they are languages able to be mastered by the English speaking youth to the point at which the foreign words no longer "hang like a veil between him and the thought". But the mechanics of French and German, which ought to form a part of the preparation, are pushed over into the student's maturer years, thus crowding out more valuable things,—the literature of those countries viewed as pure literature. Let us, then, devote the time we have at our disposal in the preparatory stage to a thorough mastering of these languages so that the thought they express may be delivered from the fetters of word-for-word translation. Later, in college, these living literatures may be studied for their worth, and no longer as a shapeless hodge-podge of grammar and ideas, which is at present only too apt to be the case. There remains the place vacated by compulsory freshman Latin, and it affords us an inspiring opportunity. Here we can satisfy the legitimate demands of the classicists, and by giving a course in Greek and Latin life and thought, studied chiefly in translations of the great authors, we can enormously strengthen the benefit the college man of today gets from classical studies. Plato, Aristotle, the Stoics, all are little more than names to the ordinary student. His circumscribed education brings him a knowledge of only a few Latin writers, and an imperfect and unenduring knowledge of them.

All of which is in effect simply another argument against compulsory classics, as they are now taught. Why waste such opportunities for improving our present curriculum? Does the classicist not see that such a plan would actually improve our understanding of his own field?

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Record,
Dear Sir:

Although the financial status of the Literary Monthly makes publication this spring a practical impossibility it is the belief of the editors that there is no lack of literary ability present in the College. Two, and perhaps three meetings of the board of the Monthly will therefore be held following the Spring Recess. It is not unlikely that many changes will be effected in the constitution of the board modifying the regulations regarding eligibility requirements for election to editorship.

It is also desired to secure sufficient literary material this spring to insure the profitable publication of the magazine in the fall. All men in College, especially from the two underclasses are urged to submit for publication such vagaries of fancy and imagination as they may have indulged in, and to consider if they do not possess ability in literary lines, which might not be profitably exercised with profit both to themselves and to Williams' second oldest publication.

Manuscripts may be handed or sent to the chairman of the board at any time.

A. C. Swinnerton.

To the Editor of the Record,

Sir:—

It is with pain and regret that I contemplate your recent editorial condemning the retention of Latin as a compulsory course. I feel that many voices are joined to mine in firm protest against the slightest suggestion hostile to this time-honored practice. In pressing forward toward the "higher culture" to which you refer, we must not be overprodigal of the seasoned precepts that have ameliorated the hardships of our forefathers. Who that can speak from experience will assert that to the manifold difficulties which beset our Freshmen another should be added; or that we should remove from our curriculum that oasis in the desert,—a course which, through the daily and judicious use of a "trot", may be "prepared" in ten or even five minutes? These are strenuous times no less in College than in state or in commerce. May I not suggest that a periodical which professes its issue to be for and by the undergraduates should use more reticence in unveiling the few remaining sinecures of its constituency?

Scholasticus

The Editor of the Record,

Sir:—

At the present time, when we are all united in pride for the magnificent record of Williams College in the recent war, it is strange that one hears so few expressions of the reason for this fine showing. Is it not possible that the results of Williams training, so successful that they are almost unique, may have been effected by the conditions which are present here to a degree rarely seen elsewhere, and which are now the subject of such violent attacks?

By these conditions, I mean the general atmosphere of conservatism, and the classical character of the system of study. Even the curriculum, much reviled for its compulsory elements, which make it broad of necessity, may be preferable to one composed entirely of electives, in which the short-sighted youth is allowed to develop along one narrow line alone.

The general attitude toward the classics is now being expressed by antagonism to the compulsory study of Latin. "The last word" however, has most decidedly not "been said on this very important subject", and there still remain a few arguments in favor of required Latin. In the past, proficiency in that language has been one of the standards by which men were judged as to their fitness for admission into Williams College. The deeds of these men have justified the method of their selection.

The mere fact that a Senior who has had no Latin since Freshman year cannot recite a book of the Aeneid from memory does not prove the absolute uselessness of the study of that ancient tongue. Those influences which we best remember and enjoy are not of necessity the most beneficial. No man can claim a knowledge of the world if he knows not Greece and Rome, and he can learn of them in no better way than through Homer and Virgil and Cicero in the original. Pope's Iliad is Pope's, not Homer's, though you exhaust dictionaries in discussing "excellent translations of classical authors."

Few men who feel the least interest in the not inconsiderable art of Poetry will regret the hours spent on "Frater Ave atque Vale". As for the "mechanical drudgery of principal parts", there is mental training, of a quality not to be found elsewhere, in the study of a highly inflected language; there is abstract thought whose superiority over that required in the mastery of a modern language may be compared to the superiority of pure over applied mathematics as an exercise for the brain.

More convincing, though, than a book full of theorizing, is the evidence that we see in the world about us, of

FOUR MEETS SCHEDULED

Union, Wesleyan, and Amherst to Meet Purple—Team Entered in N. E. I. C. A. A. Games

Prospects of a successful season for the Williams track team are generally conceded to be as good this year as in former years, and, in the four meets which compose the varsity schedule for this season even better results are expected than have been obtained in the past. Manager Collins has arranged for dual competitions at Williamstown with Union, on May 3, Wesleyan, on May 10, and with Amherst at Amherst on May 17 and has entered the team in the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association meet at Boston on May 24.

Several veterans of former teams will constitute the nucleus of the new squad and may be expected to be consistent point winners. Kieser '20, the New England broad jump champion, will be entered in that event, and H. H. Brown '19, the New England cross country champion, will materially strengthen the team in the distance runs. Capt. Stewart '19 is again entered in the half mile while Parker '20 and Crofts '21 will be among the entrants in the mile and two mile events. The tentative disposition of the squad is as follows:

Sprints—Carick '20, Coddling '21.
440-yard dash—Martyn '19, Kieser '20, Allen '21.
880-yard run—Stewart '19, Olson '20, Kellogg '21.
One-mile run—Parker '20, Joslyn, Coan '21.

Two-mile run—Brown, Penfield '19, Crofts '21, Adams '22.

Hurdles—Harden, Schermerhorn '20, Dana, Mixer '21, Atwater, P. Phillips '22.

High Jump—Anderson, Wickwire '20, H. S. Prescott '22.

Broad jump—Kieser, Wickwire '20.

Weight events—Harden, Mills '20, Hibbard '21, Castle '22.

Pole vault—Platt, Spink, Wyman '19.

The Union team, which will oppose Williams in the first meet of the season, is reported to be unusually strong this year. At the first call for candidates forty-seven men came out, among whom is a large amount of material for the jumps, sprints, and field events. Coach Northrup is attempting to convert some

WORLD'S DISCONTENT IS GREAT PROBLEM OF TODAY

Rev. Henry Stiles Bradley Analyzes Causes of Unusual Unrest of Modern Time

"Rest is to be found not in inactivity or stagnation, but in the adjustment of energy to one's task", said the Reverend Henry Stiles Bradley of Worcester, Mass., before the meeting of the Williams Christian Association last evening. Speaking on the subject "The World's Unrest", Dr. Bradley first stated that there is more unrest in the world today than ever before, and went on to analyze the reasons for this condition.

"There are many people in the world who have a just basis for unrest because of suffering inflicted upon them," said the speaker, "but the discontent of the majority of people comes not from the faults of the world's social or industrial systems, but from the old homespun sin of envy. The fundamental error is that peace comes from externals, and each man, no matter how well off, is envious of the superior possessions of his neighbor.

"Contentment does not come from the possession of riches or of knowledge; it does not come from freedom from labor; it does not come from freedom from restraint. It arises only out of the true relation of one's self to God." Dr. Bradley illustrated this truth by the example of Russia, where the people have brought themselves into abject misery because they have striven after those things which can never bring peace.

"To find true satisfaction we must turn to nature", he continued; "but we must not make the mistake here of attributing the peacefulness of nature to inactivity. Nature in all its forms is in action all the time, but has adapted its energy to its task."

of his numerous runners into weight men, and if he is successful, he will have a well rounded team. Several veterans including Rapelje, Potter, Friedman, and captain Jones have reported. Rapelje was a consistent point winner in the high jump last year and will also enter the high hurdles and pole vault. Friedman and Potter run the two mile and the 440 yard dash in fast time, and captain Jones is expected to place in the sprints. The Garnet coach hopes to bring a squad to Williamstown which will make up for the decisive.

tioned at the end of five innings the necessary number of extra innings to decide the game will be played. Throughout the week all three diamonds on Cole field will be used by the intramural nines, and on Saturdays, when the varsity is playing away from Williams-town, Weston field will also be used. On such dates four games will start simultaneously on the diamonds at Cole and Weston fields at two o'clock, and another set of four games at three thirty o'clock.

In order to conduct these games properly a body of at least ten efficient umpires will be needed. The larger the number of men who volunteer, the less will be the work assigned to each individual. All prospective umpires are requested to hand in their names immediately to Coach Thomas before leaving for the Easter vacation.

The schedule for the post-season series of three games will not be decided until toward the close of the regular season. At least one game of the series will probably be played during house-party week, the others finishing up the schedule the following week.

defeat at the hands of the Purple last year.

Similar optimistic reports have been received from Wesleyan, which will compete with Williams on May 10 Rausch in the 440 yard dash, Gorsuch in the sprints, and Post in the high jump are showing up well, and Hoagland has also given promise of developing into a speedy quarter miler. Two veterans, Keeler and Stimpson, are expected to return to college at the beginning of the spring term in April. Keeler is reputed to be one of the fastest sprinters in the east and was a star at the recent Naval Aviation meet in Boston, defeating Erdman of Princeton and Shea of Pittsburg. H. M. Grinton will enter the high jump and shows promise of surpassing his old record in that event, while Anderson will be Wesleyan's mainstay in the weight contests. Although the Red and Black squad was not on the Williams schedule last year, it tied the Purple for fifth place in the New England intercollegiate meet at Boston.

Conflicting reports have been received from Amherst concerning track prospects. Coach Nelligan has said that he has the best group of candidates for the last ten years, while undergraduate reports are not so optimistic. Several of last year's men, Low, Wolff, Parker, Barnes, and Bliss, have returned to college. Low will be entered in the hurdles, Wolff in the dashes, and Parker and Barnes will run in the middle distance events. Bliss is expected to be a point winner in the shot put. Captain Keeney is one of the fastest men on the squad and was a dangerous opponent in the Williams-Amherst track meet last spring. This meet resulted in a tie score for the first time in the history of track competition between the two colleges.

present team. Burkett, who has served as coach of Holy Cross teams in former years, has been secured again, and is confident of a successful season. Holy Cross will later meet such formidable opponents as Harvard, Yale, and Columbia. A return game will be played in Williamstown May 31.

On the following Saturday, May 3, the varsity will oppose Union at Williamstown. Sixty men have daily been reporting for the squad, which is considerably strengthened by the return of six letter men. "Matty" Fitzgerald, formerly catcher of the New York Giants, and coach for the Union nine, is devoting himself particularly to the development of a strong pitching staff and infield. With three veterans on the bases, he has only to fill the short-stop position, for which a wealth of good material has been discovered among the freshmen. Several practice games have already been held, in which Gilbert and Butler have shown up well in the pitcher's box, although a definite varsity has not yet been picked.

Colgate, the next rival on the schedule, against whom the Purple will be forced to put up a stiff fight, will come to Williamstown on Thursday, May 8. Twelve veterans of last year's squad have served as a nucleus around which Coach Hammond is building a strong aggregation. Three old men form the mainstays of the mound position, while three new twirlers have also shown promising form. Carrol, of last year's squad, is expected to resume his place behind the bat. In the infield, the only position which is not filled is first base, and Pennel, a freshman, is working well in that capacity. Capt. Cunningham, Schilling, and Anderson, all experienced men, will probably make up the outfield. The Maroon plays its first game of the season on April 25 against Columbia.

On Saturday, May 10, Williams will journey to West Point to cross bats with the army. No information whatever has been obtained concerning its relative strength, but it is safe to foretell an exceedingly close contest.

A trip to Cambridge the following Wednesday, May 14, to play Harvard is next on the schedule. About sixty men reported for the University squad two weeks ago. The team is very strong at bat, but the pitching staff is rather weak. A fair infield is being moulded about Capt. McLeod, the second baseman, who was elected last Monday.

Bowdoin, coming to Williamstown Saturday, May 17, is also an unknown quantity. Last year however they defeated the Purple in a close game by the score of 6-4.

One of the hardest tests of the season will be the contest in New Haven with Yale University on Wednesday, May 21. Coach Lauder is rapidly rounding into form the thirty candidates who were kept in New Haven during the spring recess the latter part of last month. On April 22 the Yale nine will meet the New York Giants at the Po'o Grounds in New York, and the rest of the schedule is almost as hard. Cox, Robinson, and O'Connor are likely candidates for pitcher, while Holmes will probably do the catching. A tentative team has already been picked which will engage in short games with the scrubs during the week.

Saturday, May 24, the varsity will play Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy, about whose prospects nothing certain could be determined. No forecast for this season's game is possible, as it was not included in last year's schedule.

As usual two games will be played with Amherst, the first one in Williamstown on Decoration Day, and a return match at Amherst on June 17. The Athletic Association has secured the services of Jacklitsch as coach for the squad, who ought to do much towards developing a successful team. He has played with both the Philadelphia Nationals and the Chicago Cubs, and for a while was manager of the Rochester Club of the International League. Amherst has seven home and eight out of town games on its schedule, including contests with Yale, Harvard, Brown, Dartmouth, and Columbia. It is too early as yet to make any definite forecast for the two contests with the Purple and White, though they will, of course, be marked by the customary strong rivalry. Capt. Maynard has had a squad of fifty men working out daily in the cage for the past three weeks, and he is fortunate in that only two members of last year's organization have been lost from the line-up.

The first game with Wesleyan will be held at Middletown on June 3, and the return engagement on June 21 at Williamstown will conclude the season. Ten letter men of the Red and Black team have returned to college, but Coach Liston is at present stressing the work of the battery candidates. Captain Boote, as catcher, has proved himself to be a reliable backstop, and all the infield positions except shortstop will be filled by veterans. Much new material has been uncovered for the outfield, besides the two old men who remain in that department. In the box, Thornton will be the chief performer, aided by new men from the freshman class. Woodward, last season's varsity twirler, will be ineligible this year.

On June 19 the next to the last game of the season will be at home against the University of Vermont. Much available material reported to Capt. Hamilton at the first call for candidates three weeks ago. Hamilton will direct the activities of the squad until the coach arrives. Unfavorable conditions have kept the men in the cage until recently, but it is hoped that with the return of warm weather the squad will be able to work out some of its kinks out side.

Williams men, leaders in thought and deed, who have been trained in the very system that is now being attacked. If, in the midst of this struggle for numbers and popularity, we would preserve the individuality of our college, if we desire that the name of Williams graduate shall continue in the future to mean all that it has meant in the past, let us remember this. In Williams College, and in almost every other educational institution, men have been trained in the classical tradition, in the conservative school that is based on experience and fact, and it is these men who have developed into the leaders of the world. Before we take the great step and turn our backs on this tradition, let us have proofs to justify the change!

Nelson Sherwin Bushnell

(Lest unjust implications be drawn from the communication above, we wish to state that the Record absolutely condemns having the Williams curriculum "composed entirely of electives" and looks with hearty disfavor on any struggle for mere "numbers and popularity". We are puzzled by our correspondent's reference to the inability of a Senior to recite a book of the Aeneid from memory. Whoever tried to prove the uselessness of the study of Latin by such a reason would seem too childish to be in need of refutation.)

INTERCLASS BASEBALL SERIES IS ANNOUNCED

Schedule Arranged by Manager
Becket '19 Will Open April 18 and End May 27

Acting upon the advice of Coach Thomas, Manager Becket '19 has arranged the schedule of the interclass baseball series that will start on Friday, April 18, and extend to Tuesday, May 27. To secure the best possible results, Coach Thomas will personally supervise the picking of the teams with the further purpose of obtaining fresh recruits for the varsity.

Each class will play the other three times, ample time being allowed between contests for team practices and changes. The games are to be played on Cole field at the times specified in the schedule below, and no game may be postponed without the consent of the captain and manager of each team scheduled to play. In case of such a postponement, a future date for the play-off of the game is to be decided upon immediately. All undergraduates are eligible for this series except such as may be designated by Coach Thomas as members of the varsity squad in a list to be published shortly. This list, according to the coach, will be by no means a final cut in the squad, but merely a statement of those men whose ability would be unfair advantages to class teams.

Baseball class numerals will be awarded to men taking part in at least eighteen innings of the interclass baseball series, and to the managers of these teams. This series offers the first opportunity for undergraduates to win baseball numerals since the return of the College to a normal basis.

The schedule as arranged by Manager Becket follows:

Friday, April 18
4.15 p. m.—1921 vs. 1922
Monday, April 21
4.15 p. m.—1919 vs. 1921.

Tuesday, May 27

4.15 p. m.—1920 vs. 1922.

The various class teams must be formed and organized immediately to enable them to start their preliminary practice, as the season will open immediately upon the resumption of College activities after the spring vacation. Each team will choose a captain at its first meeting.

Military Training at Columbia

Plans for the establishment of military training schools in universities and colleges have just been announced by the War Department at Washington, D. C. Not only will the work in these schools be more intensive than in the former R. O. T. C. units but it will also include compulsory service during the summer.

Columbia University, the first institution to adopt the new War Department plans, will offer military training in three branches of the service, infantry, artillery and signal corps. The requirements of the artillery school include training during the summer months, but it is believed that remuneration will be offered for this service. The government will furnish officers and military equipment for these courses which will be offered next fall in conjunction with the regular academic studies.

Favorable Forecast For 1919 Track Team

Ten colleges, M. I. T., Brown, Wesleyan, Williams, Amherst, Tufts, Bowdoin, Middlebury, Holy Cross, and Boston College, will probably be entered in the thirty-third annual N. E. I. C. A. A. meet to be held in Boston on May 24. M. I. T. has won the last two meets with total scores more than double those of its nearest opponent and is expected to turn out an equally strong team this year. No reports have been received concerning most of the other teams entered, but the return of men from the service to all colleges will undoubtedly strengthen the contestants and increase competition.

Buffalo and Chicago Reunions

Western New York alumni will hold a reunion dinner next Friday evening at the University Club, Buffalo, N. Y. Professor Henry D. Wild, who will be the principal speaker of the evening, will talk on Williams and its present activities in general. Others on the after-dinner program are Adjutant J. Norton Cru of the French army, former instructor at Williams and Lieut. Walter L. Hinman ex-'19, if he receives his discharge in time to permit his presence at the reunion. Lieut. Hinman has just returned from a year of service overseas with the French and American forces, during the course of which he won the Croix de Guerre. Dana L. Spring '99 and Thomas R. Wheeler '07 constitute the committee in charge of the arrangements.

From Buffalo, Professor Wild will go to Chicago, Ill., where he will speak at the reunion of the Chicago Alumni Society to be held next Saturday evening at the University Club.

Morris ex-'20 is studying chemical engineering at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

Alumni Report on Agreement

With the receipt of the minutes of the recent meeting of the Alumni Interfraternity Council in New York City, the fraternities will now be able to take up once more consideration of the proposed agreement. Before presenting the constitution of the agreement to the fourteen fraternities for final ratification, the Interfraternity Council will discuss the report of the Alumni Council at a meeting to be held this evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall.

"Doc" Barrett in California

Charles E. Barrett, for 20 years trainer to the Williams teams, is now stationed at Rockwell Field, San Diego, Cal. He entered the U. S. Air Service last spring and won his wings and commission as first lieutenant. He has recently been recommended for a captaincy. Part of Lt. Barrett's work consists in weekly flights, but he hopes to be able to secure leave sometime in the near future when he will visit Williamstown. He did not state, however, in a recent letter received by Ira Thomas, how long he expects to remain in the Service.

1921 Chooses Baseball Captain

C. C. Noble '21 was elected captain of the Sophomore baseball team at a meeting of the squad last Saturday afternoon at 1.00 o'clock in 31 Williams Hall.

Men Urged to Keep Insurance

Information concerning War Risk Insurance has been sent out by the Northeastern Department for the purpose of encouraging all discharged soldiers and sailors to keep up their government insurance. After the declaration of peace, men who have continued payments since their discharge will be permitted to convert their present insurance into other forms without further physical examination. Any discharged soldier who has permitted his insurance to lapse should correspond with Captain T. J. Johnston, Department Insurance Officer, Headquarters Northeastern Department, Room 717, 99 Chauncy Street, Boston, Mass., as soon as possible. It is not yet too late to be reinstated.

Publish Letters of H. J. Smith

"Letters of Harry James Smith" is the title of a book recently issued by Houghton Mifflin Company, containing excerpts from the correspondence of the late brilliant author and playwright. Mr. Smith who graduated from Williams in the class of 1902, was killed in an automobile accident in March, 1917, while serving the Red Cross in Canada. His best known plays were Mrs. Bumpstead Leigh, The Tailor Made Man, and The Little Teacher.

Research Fellowships

$500,000 has recently been entrusted by the Rockefeller Foundation to the National Research Council to be expended within the next five years for promoting fundamental research in physics and chemistry in educational institutions of the United States. The primary feature of the plan is the initiation and maintenance of a system of National Research Fellowships, to be awarded to persons who have demonstrated a high order of ability in research, thus enabling them to conduct investigations at institutions where adequate provisions are made for such work.

MILLS '20 CHOSEN W. C. A. PRESIDENT

FIVE OFFICERS ELECTED

Kimberly '20, C. C. Noble, Joslyn '21, and Blake '22 to Fill Other Positions

J. T. MILLS '20

John Tyler Mills, 1920, of New York City, was chosen president of the W. C. A. for the coming year at elections held Monday, April 7. Ballots cast at the same time for the four other offices of the association resulted in the following choices: vice-president—Charles Hazard Kimberly, 1920, of Watervliet, N. Y.; corresponding secretary—Alan Wilson Joslyn, 1921, of Detroit, Mich.; recording secretary—Charles Casper Noble, 1921, of Newton Highlands, Mass.; treasurer—Philip Randall Blake, 1922, of Springfield, Mass.

Mills prepared for Williams at Lawrenceville where he played on the hockey and football teams. In his Freshman year in College he was on his class football and hockey teams. He was center on the championship 1917 football eleven and was a member of the hockey and track teams in the same year. Last February he was chosen captain of the varsity hockey seven. He is a member of the Student Council and the Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Kimberly received his secondary education at Watervliet High School where he was treasurer of his class for four years and was a member of the dramatic society. Since entering college he has been a member of the Handbook board, on the Smoker Committee, and assistant business manager of Cap and Bells. During his sophomore year he was recording secretary of the W. C. A. He is a member of the Psi Upsilon fraternity.

Joslyn comes from the Detroit Central High School where he was editor-in-chief of the school magazine and on the football squad. Last year he was a member of the 1921 football eleven, and of the varsity track team. He is secretary and treasurer of the Forum, manager of his class basketball team, and a member of the Chi Psi fraternity.

Noble attended Wilbraham Academy where he was on the baseball nine and was captain of the debating team. He has been on the Glee Club and choir for the past two years, is a member of the editorial board of the Handbook and the business staff of the Record, and is captain of the 1921 baseball team. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Blake entered Williams from the Springfield High School where he was president of his class in his junior year and was business manager of the school paper. Last January he was elected treasurer of the Freshman Class. He is a member of the Delta Psi fraternity.

CLASS BASEBALL STARTS

1921 Plays 1922 on Cole Field This Afternoon at 4.15

1921 and 1922 will open the interclass baseball season this afternoon with a game scheduled at 4.15 o'clock. C. C. Noble '21 has been chosen captain of the Sophomore baseball team, and the Freshman captain will be elected before the game starts.

Two contests are scheduled for next Monday afternoon, 1919 vs. 1921 and 1920 vs. 1922, and in the meantime the Senior and Junior teams must organize and elect their respective captains. All undergraduates are eligible for the series except those designated by Coach Thomas as members of the varsity squad. Class baseball numerals will be awarded to men taking part in at least eighteen innings of the series, and to the managers of the four teams. Each team will play two games with each of the other three teams.

MARCH PRECIPITATION GREATEST SINCE 1888

Observations of Weather Show Temperature and Snowfall Also Above Normal

Observations taken at the College meteorological station show that the month of March, although exceedingly warm and wet, broke none of the records that have been established during the past twenty years. The general impression, however, that this winter has been unusually mild is nevertheless true, since this is the sixth month in succession that the average temperature has been above normal.

The thermometer reached its highest point, 63, on March 26, and its lowest, 12, on the morning of the fourteenth. Neither of these temperatures is unusual as the extremes for the past 20 years for March are 75 degrees above and ten degrees below zero, respectively. The average temperature for the month, 36.2 degrees, surpasses the normal for the last 20 years by four degrees. It has been exceeded, however, five times during this period, while the highest average temperature for March was 41.6 degrees in 1903.

The total precipitation for the month, including rain and snow, was also considerably above the normal, with 7.39 inches as compared to the usual 2.94. This month's figure has not been surpassed since March, 1888, when the total was 7.89 inches. An exceptionally large amount of snow fell during March, 11.3 inches, which is 2.3 inches above the normal. There were five clear days, 17 partly cloudy days, and nine cloudy days during the month. A measurable amount of rain or snow fell on 14 days.

Council Awaits Alumni Report

In response to a request from the Alumni Interfraternity Council, ratification of a rushing agreement for next year was again postponed at a meeting of the Interfraternity Council held in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock on the Monday evening before the spring recess. A motion was passed to withhold action on any agreement until a report has been received from the Alumni Council.

The undergraduate council, however, passed the following regulation to govern the treatment of 1923 men this spring: "Prospective students may be entertained in Williamstown and the vicinity previous to May 30, 1919, or until such preceding date as an interfraternity rushing agreement shall be ratified. But until such date, there shall be no bidding or pledging or promises of any nature made regarding possible future bidding or pledging."

FIRST CONTEST OF SEASON WITH M. A. C.

8 VETERANS ON VARSITY

Lack of Experienced Material on Opponents' Squad Gives Advantage to Williams

Massachusetts Agricultural College will face the varsity in the first baseball game of the season tomorrow afternoon at 3.30 o'clock on Weston Field. Very little can be conjectured regarding the probable outcome of the contest as it is also the opponents' first contest, but reports from Amherst seem to indicate that Coach Gore will send a team to Williamstown which will give a good account of itself.

This year is the first time since 1916 that M. A. C. has been represented by a baseball team, so that it will necessarily be made up of entirely new men. Only two of the men have played with the varsity before, and then as substitutes. At the first call for candidates on March 26 forty reported to Coach Gore, who has been working hard to build up a well-balanced team. Crafts and Luce have shown up especially well in the pitcher's box, and Faxon and Gasser have both proved themselves reliable as backstops. Shortstop and centerfield positions have not yet been definitely filled.

Judging from the showing of the varsity in its two games with the second team before the spring recess, the Purple ought to put up a stiff exhibition in tomorrow's game. The squad is especially strong in the batting department, and the battery too, appears exceedingly formidable. McLean, Burrows, and Patton have all displayed good form on the mound, and Finn is counted on for good work as backstop. Boyden, Papin, and Roth compose an outfield made up entirely of last year's veterans. A freshman, Nichols, will probably cover third base, but the rest of the infield will also be filled with letter men. This wealth of experienced material ought to give Williams a decided advantage over tomorrow's opponents.

The probable line-up of the two teams is as follows:

M. A. C.	Williams
Carleton lf	Callahan ss
Ball 2b	Mason 2b
Coombs cf	Papin lf
Jakeman 3b	Manning 1b
Pond 1b	Finn c
Dewing rf	J. L. Roth cf

ALUMNI HOLD REUNION

Sears '99 Elected President of Western New York Club

Election of officers of the Western New York Alumni Association for the following year were held Friday evening, April 11, at a banquet in the University Club, Buffalo, N. Y. After the meeting Professor Wild, Norton Cru, instructor in French now on leave and Lieut. Hinman ex-'19 spoke before the Association. About forty alumni were present.

S. Fay Carr '01, the retiring President, acted as chairman, and the following officers were elected for the coming year: George D. Sears '99, President; Julian D. Parks '10, Vice-President; Thomas R. Wheeler '07, Secretary and Treasurer; and George P. Keating '90, Chairman of the Williams Debating Cup Committee, which annually presents a silver loving cup to the Buffalo high school that is the winner of a joint debate, individual gold medals to the members of the winning team, and silver ones to those of the second team.

Professor Wild gave the Association an idea of what the College is doing. Mr. Cru told of his experiences with the French Army, and Lieut. Hinman described his active participation in the war as an infantry officer.

MUSICAL CLUBS PLAY TO LARGE AUDIENCES

Over 800 Witness Performance at Sherry's—Alumni Give Enthusiastic Support

Large and enthusiastic audiences greeted the Combined Musical Clubs at each of the five performances given on the trip during the spring recess. Over 800 attended the concert given at Sherry's in New York City on Saturday, crowding the seating capacity of the ball room to overflowing.

The concerts in East Orange and Montclair were also very well supported, each audience numbering about 500. Every performance was followed by a dance except the benefit given at the Manhattan Opera House on Sunday, which ended the trip. The music was furnished by Jacobs in East Orange and Montclair, and by Joe Smith at Sherry's. At the Emma Willard School in Troy one hour of dancing followed the concert.

The most successful selection was Foolish Questions by the Glee Club. John Peel was also very well received, as was the Mandolin Club's rendering of the Big Show. The instrumental septet, with the accompanying skit by Frazier '21, was excellent except that it was somewhat too long.

The large numbers which attended the concerts may be attributed largely to the hearty support given by the alumni, who turned out in full force at each performance. This is the first trip made by Williams Musical Clubs since 1917, but judging from the success met with this spring, it is expected that such trips will be made more frequently in the future.

Chicago Alumni Hold Banquet

About 60 alumni living in the vicinity of Chicago were present at the reunion banquet held last Saturday evening at the University Club as a welcome to men returned from the service. The speakers were Professor Henry D. Wild who spoke in behalf of the College, Dr. Harry Pratt Judson '70, and Professor Birge '73, president of the University of Wisconsin. The committee in charge of the reunion was composed of William C. Smith '92, Stuart J. Templeton '10, Richard Jenkins and Parson Warren '07, Raymond Waite '09, and Harry F. Tenny '12.

FINN IS ELECTED TO MANAGE BASKETBALL

MINOR MANAGERS CHOSEN

College Body Selects Patton for Hockey and Power for Swimming Assistants

J. H. FINN '21

John Hartney Finn, 1921, of Northampton, Mass., was chosen assistant manager of basketball at the College election held Monday, April 7, in Jesup Hall. At the same time Philip Stokes Patton, 1921, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and John Whittlesley Power, 1921, of Pittsfield, Mass., were elected to the positions of assistant managers of hockey and swimming respectively.

Finn prepared for Williams at the Northampton High School, Northampton, Mass., and at the Williston Seminary, East Hampton, Mass. At the former school he played on the basketball team and was captain of the baseball team for two years. He was also a member of the dramatic society. At the Williston Seminary he was on the debating team. Since entering College Finn has played on his class basketball team and was picked by the Record for the all-star five. He was on the class debating team and caught on the varsity baseball nine in his Freshman year. He is a member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Patton graduated from the Hackley School at Tarrytown, N. Y., where he played on the baseball and basketball teams. He was also a member of the glee club and leader of the mandolin club. In College Patton is playing on the baseball team for the second year. He is a member of the Delta Psi fraternity.

Power prepared for College at the Pittsfield High School, where he was a director of the athletic association and a member of the debating team. He was also on his school paper and an associate editor of the year book. Power is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Cap and Bells has announced the opening of a Sophomore competition for the positions of assistant stage manager and assistant costume manager for next year. Men who were in the competition for the second assistant managership last year are requested to hand their names to Anderson or Coe '20 at once. Freshmen interested in the competition, which will end next year, will meet at 7.30 o'clock this evening in the Jesup Hall Reading Room.

Freshmen of the Commons Club gave a smoker on Tuesday evening, April 8, in the Currier Hall Common Room for members of the Club and guests from the College body and Faculty.

A Sign of the Times

Last term saw the laborious transition from the military to the academic well begun and carried far towards its completion. With the return from vacation and the beginning of a new term, we are now practically back in the ante-bellum condition of things. There are numerous evidences to prove that reconstruction, with only minor details missing, is at last an accomplished fact, and not the least significant of these is the opening of the baseball season tomorrow on Weston Field.

Last year, it is true, had its baseball schedule, but it was a sadly abbreviated one, and in but few respects similar to the usual kind. Then practice was held intermittently, between sieges of drill. This spring, though the southern trip was lacking, the team has had regular work, including a good deal of out-of-door playing, and can hope to face its opponents with something like the old sureness and co-ordinated effort.

Both the varsity and M. A. C. are to a large extent unknown quantities, and the game should prove interesting to Williams rooters as giving them their first opportunity to judge of the ability of the new team. Not a little depends on the opening game for its psychological effect. It is essential that the College be present en masse, to lend moral strength to the varsity at the crucial commencement of its season. Hand in hand with the resumption of pre-war athletics must come the pre-war spirit in support of athletics.

FAMOUS MEN TO SPEAK*Northfield Conference Starts Full Program on June 20

Details so far announced regarding the Northfield conference indicate that the present year's program will easily surpass all past endeavors. The date set is from June 20 to 30. The main purpose of the conference will be to bring before the students a task which has become a reality since the war, the task of building up the new world which is inherently theirs.

Among the list of speakers who have been engaged to speak and lecture during the ten-day period appear such names as John R. Mott, Robert A. Speer, Sherwood Eddy, Bishop Lawrence. The conference will offer plenty of recreation and diversion from the more serious problems under discussion by means of intercollegiate athletic contests; competitions between the various college delegations in singing and theatricals, as well as congenial gatherings of all varieties will serve the same purpose.
It is expected that over 40 colleges will be represented, and more interest in the conference is being shown than ever before. Yale with a consistent record of large delegations in past years plans to have nearly 100 men in attendance.
Students from China, Japan, and Latin America will be present to learn of this new civilization to which they are modelling their lives.

Coincident with the dropping of Greek as an entrance requirement at Princeton,
Yale announced last Wednesday that Latin will not be a required subject in the future, either for a degree or for entrance into the college. Solid geometry, advanced algebra, and trigonometry are also removed from the list of requirements for Sheffield Scientific School and placed in the list of electives.

Paul K. Phillips '20 has been elected captain of the Amherst football team for the coming year. Phillips was captain-

Problem for Yale and Princeton

Many recommendations for changes in the curriculum at Yale have been made by the Alumni Committee on Plans for University Development. The most important suggestion is the institution of a common freshman year for both the college and the Sheffield Scientific School. Princeton is also considering making several radical departures from the normal curriculum.

Amend War Credit Rulings

Radical changes in the former rules at Dartmouth regarding the awarding of degrees to men discharged from military service were approved at a recent meeting of the trustees. Before the change it was possible in some cases to gain more credit in the service than during the same period at college, but this was considered unfair to the students who had remained in the college.

ALUMNUS RECEIVES HIGHEST WAR HONOR

TURNER '14 IS DECORATED

Congress Presents to Graduate Posthumous Award For Con- spicuous Intrepidity

Lieutenant William B. Turner '14 has been posthumously awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor in recognition of his "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action" while engaged in an attack on the Hindenburg line. Lieut. Turner is the second Williams alumnus to be honored with this highly prized decoration. Lieut.-Colonel Charles W. Whittlesey '05, commander of the "Lost Battalion" in its battle in the Argonne forest, is the other graduate to whom Congress has awarded the medal.

Lieut. Turner was serving as an acting company commander with the 105th Infantry, a unit of the 27th Division, when that division was engaged with the British in an attack upon a strongly fortified portion of the Hindenburg line. After he had rushed an enemy machine gun nest single-handed and killed the crew with his revolver, he led his command over three lines of German trenches. "With the utmost bravery," reads the citation, "He continued to lead his men over three lines of hostile trenches regardless of the fact that he had been wounded three times." The supporting forces, however, failed to break the German defence with the result that Lieut. Turner and his men were cut off and only four men out of his entire command survived to be taken prisoners. These men were recently released and were able to give a full account of the gallant action and death of their commander. His family in Dorchester, Mass., now have possession of the medal.

Van Vechten Entrants To Meet

All seniors who desire to enter the Van Vechten Extemporaneous Speaking Contest should meet Mr. Griscom next Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Jesup Hall reading room. The dates for the four trials will be decided at the meeting and the rules of the contest explained. The prize of $70 for this contest is awarded by a committee of the faculty from a gift of the late A. V. W. Van Vechten '47. Each entrant must compete in three out of the four trials or he may speak in all four, his three highest marks counting.

FRATERNITY COMPACT PROPOSED BY ALUMNI

As a result of the recent action taken by the Alumni on the agreement proposed by the Interfraternity Council, a set of rules governing the entertainment, bidding, and pledging of freshmen and prospective freshmen has been submitted and will be acted upon by the Interfraternity Council in the near future. Several drastic changes are incorporated in the new agreement, making it entirely different from any other plan heretofore proposed. The Interfraternity Council, however, is unwilling to have it published until some definite action has been taken on it.

This new agreement was drawn up by the Alumni in order to replace that of the Interfraternity Council, which was considered by them as faulty in several respects. This does not mean, however, that the new agreement will be adopted as that matter remains to be decided by the undergraduate representatives of the fraternities. The primary purpose of this new agreement is to find some means of simplifying the old system and to make some arrangements by which all fourteen fraternities may join together.

SOPHOMORES WIN 2-1 GAME FROM FRESHMEN

Newell, Pitching for 1921 in First Game, Allows No Hits and Strikes Out 15 Men

Failure to hit the sophomore twirler and poor pitching were responsible for the defeat of the Freshman team by a 2-1 score in the opening game of the interclass series played Saturday afternoon on Cole Field. Newell, the 1921 pitcher, was invincible, not allowing a single hit throughout the extra-inning game and striking out 15 men, although he passed five. The victory of the Sophomores came as a surprise to those who have been watching the teams, because the first year men have had steady practice with the varsity for the past month, holding it to a 5-3 score in a practice game Thursday. The Sophomores, on the other hand, have had but two days of practice together this season.

At the beginning of the second inning, Brown opened the way for the first run of the game, when he reached first on an error by Harder and advanced to second when Eaton was put out by a throw from third to first. Roth's single to center brought him home for the only score by either team until the sixth inning.

The Freshman did not succeed in securing a run until the sixth period when Clark got on first through Newell's error but was forced out at second on Harder's grounder to Belcher. Wilson grounded to Newell whose low throw to second made both men safe. Harder stole third while Marian struck out and reached home on the first ball pitched to Chapman who was substituted for Cobb, thus tying the score and necessitating the playing of an extra inning.

In the seventh inning, with one man out, Newell singled to center and Gay, who was substituted for Wasson, drove a liner through third base. Wilkinson then hit a hard grounder to first base which went for a single, allowing Newell to score the winning run from second base.

Nine Cheerleaders Retained

Nine juniors were retained in the competition for College cheerleaders at a cut made last Friday evening. Six of these will be elected by the undergraduate body next September. Those retained are: Behre, Blanchard, Carick, Finder, Henderson, Kieser, Lee, Stabler, White '20.

TEAM NEEDS SPRINTERS

Other Events Well Taken Care of—Practice Intensified

With only two weeks left before the first meet of the season, the track team is taking advantage of every opportunity for practice, and is fast rounding into shape. The squad at present numbers about thirty, and there is much promising material among the new men.

The hurdles and the hammer and discus throws have been greatly strengthened by the addition of new material, and the distance runs are well taken care of by veterans. The sprints, however, remain a weak spot, and Captain Stewart has issued a call for more men in these events. All undergraduates who have any ability in this line are urged to report, regardless of inexperience.

A schedule has been arranged for the squad whereby practice will be held in the morning as well as in the afternoons, men reporting in vacant periods. The schedule also provides that the men for only one event will report at the same time, in order that they may receive individual attention.

INTRAMURALS TO START

To Play National and American League Games Tomorrow

Williams will put into effect its newly adopted slogan, "Athletics for All" next Tuesday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock, when the first three of the fifty-six intramural games scheduled will be played. At this time the American League will play two of its games, and the National League one. On Thursday afternoon, however, things will be reversed, the National League playing the two games, and the American League but one. All games will be only of five innings duration, except in the case of a tie.

All men in College are eligible to play in the intramural series with the exception of those who have won a baseball "W" or those who are on Coach Thomas's list of varsity players. The series is expected to offer an opportunity for finding good undeveloped material, and outstanding stars Coach Thomas expects to draft for the varsity squad at any time during the season.

The schedule of the American League games follows:

Tuesday, April 22—Beta Theta Pi vs. Phi Gamma Delta, Delta Kappa Epsilon vs. Kappa Alpha.

Thursday, April 24—Sigma Phi vs. Chi Psi.

The schedule of National League Games follows:

Tuesday, April 22—Alpha Delta Phi vs. Psi Upsilon.

Thursday, April 24—Delta Upsilon vs. Delta Psi, Phi Delta Theta vs. Theta Delta Chi.

OTHER COLLEGE SCORES

Universities Prove Unequal to Colleges on the Diamond

Amherst lost its first game of the season to Brown by a 7 to 0 score, last Saturday afternoon at Providence, R. I. The effective pitching of Knight and Brisk of Brown caused the downfall of the Purple and White, which was able to get only three hits. Clever hunting by the Brunonians and the wild throws of the Amherst nine decided the game in the second inning.

In a pitchers' duel between Delaney of New York University and Hollern of Union, the former defeated the Garnet nine by a 7 to 3 score. Delaney finished the game with ten strikeouts to his credit, and Hollern with twelve. With the exception of the fourth inning when the Violet team concentrated its hits, the game was closely contested throughout.

The Army was severely beaten by Tufts 12 to 0 due to numerous errors on the part of the losers and the timely hits of the victors. The Springfield Y. M. C. A. decisively defeated Harvard in a loosely played game, which was featured by errors by the Crimson players. Yale also succumbed to Johns Hopkins by a 9 to 5 score in a game featured by the brilliant fielding of Sawyer, Sellers, and Fredericks of Johns Hopkins.

The results of other intercollegiate games are as follows:

VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN OPENS TODAY

$231,000 Williamstown's Quota of $4,500,000,000 Issue— College to Participate

Because of the lack of any organization like the Good Government Club to take charge of the arrangements, the Williams College campaign for the Victory Liberty Loan launched today will be conducted under the supervision of the Williams-town committee. Chairman F. E. Moore of the local committee, had appointed Talcott M. Banks '90 to take charge of the campaign for subscriptions from the undergraduates, but he has been called away on jury duty and no one else has yet been named. Professor Hardy is in charge of subscriptions from the College and from the Faculty.

A committee of 25 under the chairmanship of Mr. F. E. Moore has been organized to conduct the campaign, and has already made a good start in the arrangements. Mr. Crosby Doughty is secretary of the committee and Mr. W. S. Cameron has charge of the publicity. The terms of the Loan, are much the same as those of other Loans although the committee has not received very definite information as yet. A house to house solicitation will start Thursday.

Williamstown's quota of the $4,500,000,000 Victory Loan is $231,000 or three fourths of the amount required in the Fourth Loan. The committee feels sure that it will be subscribed, since in every previous Loan and in the matter of War Savings Stamps, Williamstown has never failed to go over the top.

Mr. Moore was not yet certain what would be the quota for the College. The amount of $20,000 called for from Williams in the Second Liberty Loan Campaign was 25% oversubscribed and the College has done its share in the other Loans that have come while it has been in session. Mr. W. B. Clark of the Williamstown National Bank will receive subscriptions, commencing today, as he has done in the previous campaigns.

In addition to F. E. Moore, chairman, and Crosby E. Doughty, secretary, the committee in charge of the campaign is composed of the following men: E. H. Arnold, George Blair, John S. Boyd, W. S. Cameron, W. B. Clark, P. J. Dempsey, Howard Doughty, Charles Downing, Alfred Fortin, Earl Green, George W. Grundy, C. K. Potter, E. P. Prindle, Nelson A. Roberts, Norman H. Sanford, Donald Sinclair, C. M. Smith, Harold Stacey, Robert A. Stacey, L. G. Treadway and James H. Weleh.

GOLF AND TENNIS START

Many Veterans Brighten Pros- pects in Minor Sports

On account of the poor condition of the golf course and the tennis courts, the candidates for the golf and tennis teams have had very little opportunity for practice up to the present time. The schedules for the teams have not yet been ratified by the Athletic Association, but the respective managers have secured several good matches in each case. Both teams will play for the first time on Saturday, May 3, which is less than two weeks off.

Prospects for the golf team this season appear exceedingly bright with seven veterans of former squads now in college. These include Coleman, Pierson, and C. P. Smith '18, Captain Hegardt and Murdock '19, Carey '20, and Adams '21. Redfield '21, and Baker and Rowse '22 have also shown good form in practice. Captain Pollard is likewise confident of a successful season on the courts. He expects to build a strong team around the three letter men, Shepard '18, and Bullock and Fraker '21. All new men who would like to try out for the team are requested to report at once to Pollard.

WILLIAMS DEFEATS M. A. C. IN LONG GAME

13 Inning Contest Results in 5 to 4 Victory for Purple Nine—Errors Numerous

McLEAN AND POND STAR

Misplay Has Disastrous Result for Visitors—Batting Hon- ors Go to Finn and Pond

In the opening game of the season played last Saturday afternoon on Weston Field, the varsity nine defeated Massachusetts Agricultural College 5 to 4 after 13 innings of close play. Although the visitors had only two veteran players in their lineup, they were able to play on even terms with the Purple, until a mis-play in the 13th inning enabled Brown, running for Roth, to score the winning run.

Williams took the field with a veteran lineup, excepting Nichols at third base and McLean, who featured his first appearance on the mound by pitching an effective brand of ball throughout the 13 innings of the long contest. Although in tight places on more than one occasion, he never lost his head and usually had the opposing batsmen at his mercy. Collins started the game, pitching for M. A. C., and held the varsity scoreless until the eighth inning, when two bases on balls and several hits resulted in four runs for the Purple. Luce replaced him in the ninth and finished the game in good style.

Neither team was able to score until the fourth inning, when Collins, the M. A. C. pitcher, reached first base on Nichols' error, stole second, went to third on Jakeman's out, and scored on Pond's single to right field. The visitors brought in another run in the next inning as a result of singles by Dewing and Coombs and Faxon's out. A fast double play, Nichols to Manning, retired the side.

Williams went into the lead in the eighth inning when two bases on balls and several hits accounted for four runs. Nichols grounded out to Collins. McLean and Callahan walked. McLean scored, Callahan went to third, and Mason reached first on Ball's error. Callahan scored on Manning's sharp single through shortstop, Mason going to third. Mason and Manning scored when Finn hit a long double to center field. Roth grounded out, retiring the side. There was no more scoring until the first half of the ninth. In that inning, M. A. C. scored two runs on singles by Jakeman and Dewing and Roth's error, making the score 4 to 4.

Both sides were retired in order in the next three frames, the play being faster and the pitching more effective than at any previous time during the contest. Luce, who replaced Collins in the ninth, was a bit wild at times but tightened up in the pinches, sending three of the Purple batsmen to the bench via the strikeout route.

After M. A. C. had been retired in the 13th, Finn led off for the Purple with a long double to center field, his second extra base hit of the game. He was caught napping off second base a minute later by a fast peg from Luce and for a time it looked as if the Purple had lost its chance to finish the contest in this inning. Roth, however, saved the situation by hitting a fast single down the third base foul line. Brown was put in to run for Roth and went to second when Nichols walked. With two out, McLean hit to Ball who, on a fielder's choice, attempted to catch Nichols instead of retiring McLean at first base. The throw to McCarty at second rolled to left field and Brown sprinted home with the winning tally.

A Weighty Accusation

The communication which appears in another column on this page calls attention to a consideration which is at least important. Written as it is by an alumnus of comparatively recent years, it shows an impression made upon eyes and ears which have not been dulled by becoming accustomed to present conditions. Whether or not this letter voices the sentiments of other graduates who have attended recent athletic contests in Williamstown we do not know, but at least two instances in the past two years could be cited in which the conduct of Williams rooters has elicited unfavorable comment in the newspapers of other colleges.

That the same things are done elsewhere is no argument for us to do it. Williams ideals have never bowed to comparison with those of other colleges, nor do Williams men feel that such comparison bears weight; for we aim to place and maintain Williams in a position of unique pre-eminence among its kind. It is trite to say that Williams men are gentlemen, but the very triteness of such a statement proves its universal acceptance as a standard. The present undergraduate should feel a stroke of conscience on being accused of allowing the ideals and traditions of his predecessors to depreciate. If no improvement can be made on those standards, it should be accepted as his personal duty by every undergraduate to keep his actions up to the level of the best that has gone before. If Williams men aim to be gentlemen and if loud personal comments on the opposing players are all ungentlemanly, there is plainly room for improvement.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, or the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Record

Sir:—

To one who was seeing a Williams baseball team in action for the first time in several years, and who recalled the standards in force only a short time ago, the conduct of the student body at the recent M. A. C. game came as a distinctly unpleasant shock. In place of concerted support of the home team there was a large amount of personal comment directed at the M. A. C. players, particularly at the pitcher, a practice which one is accustomed to meet with in spectators at professional games, but which is distinctly out of place on Weston Field. The errors of the opposing team were invariably cheered, a practice which formerly would have been instantly frowned upon. The singing of "The Grand Old Duke of York" has been relegated to oblivion, but the present actions of the undergraduates are far more objectionable.

The support of the team left much to be desired. The organized cheering lacked drive and enthusiasm, and men, particularly freshmen, were wandering casually from the field at a time when a tied score called for sustained backing.

It is probable that the war conditions of the last few years have been partly responsible for the breaking away from many of the traditions of the past. If steps are taken in the near future to turn some of the energy now spent in rowdy demonstrations into clean, concerted backing of the team, not only will more satisfactory results be obtained, but we shall be able to feel once more that Williams stands for straightforward, manly play and a determined effort to win, but also for fair treatment to opponents.

Howard A. Scholle, 1906.

Williams Men in "Let's Go"

The cast of the A. E. F.'s official musical comedy, Let's Go, composed of men from all branches of the service in France, includes three Williams men: C. P. Gordon Landon, and Goodrich Schaeffer '18, and Francis Everett ex-'20. The comedy is at present in the midst of a remarkably successful tour through France.

After giving the first performance in Tours, it showed in Paris before crowded houses and was characterized by the daily press as the greatest sensation of the season. General Pershing has declared it to be the cleverest and best musical comedy he has ever seen. The itinerary includes performances in Brest, Lille, Bordeaux, Monte Carlo, Southern France, and the occupied portions of Germany. After showing in London present plans provide for a rapid passage to New York in time for several performances in aid of the Fifth Liberty Loan.

Vassar Re-Chickenizes France

According to an article in the Vassar Miscellany News, the girls of Vassar, following the inspiring slogan "Big Oaks from Little Acorns Grow", have embarked with great fervor upon a campaign to help the French refugees by augmenting the chicken population of France. A tag day is to be held for the purpose of raising money to buy hatching eggs, and the class team producing the greatest sum will be awarded thrift stamps. Every effort will be made to insure the success of the drive, and, to quote the News, "we can't count our chickens before they're hatched, but every class can try to build a large nest of eggs."

HAND-TAILORING gives something to a suit of clothes or a Topcoat, which is absolutely essential to style. It gives it character and tone and exerts a softening influence on its lines. Add to these considerations, soft-finish cheviots and flannels and worsteds, and you have a combination which no machine-work can approach and no custom tailor improve. We know you will like the models, and the fabrics, and you cannot get anything finer in the shape of workmanship and finish.

Two Interclass Games Today

1919 faces 1921 and 1920 plays 1922 in the second day of play in the interclass baseball series this afternoon at 4.15 o'clock on the new diamonds on Cole Field. The brand of baseball shown by the Sophomores and Freshmen in an extra-inning contest last Saturday indicates that the Seniors and Juniors will have a difficult task in overcoming their opponents.

Dr. J. L. Findlay Here Thursday

Dr. John Logan Findlay, pastor of Old South Church, Worcester, Mass., will speak next Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall under the auspices of the Williams Christian Association on the subject of "Americanism and Bolshevism". Dr. Findlay is a very well-known speaker and is considered an authority on the subject.

INTERCOLLEGIATES

Announce Union Tennis Schedule

Union has announced a tennis schedule of six matches for this spring. The contest with Williams will be played here on May 10.

Naval Academy Crew Easily Wins

In a regatta on the Severn River last Saturday the Naval Academy crew finished 14 lengths ahead of Harvard and 17 lengths ahead of Princeton, and the Navy plebes crossed the line eight lengths ahead of the Harvard freshmen and nearly 10 lengths ahead of the Princeton freshmen.

2021 Registered at Harvard

Final registration figures for Harvard show that 2021 students are enrolled in the University. 539 of these are members of the class of 1922.

Harvard to Have Aero Training

As a result of the announcement by the War Department that aeronautic units of the R. O. T. C. would be established this fall at all colleges and universities which applied for them, Harvard is considering the addition of this feature to its curriculum. Actual flying would be done only during the summers, and classes in the winter would be concerned with instruction in ground work such as was taught at the aviation schools during the war. It also seems probable that R. O. T. C. units for the Signal Corps and the Motor Transport Corps will be formed at the University.

Yale Undergraduates Want Control

A movement is on foot among the undergraduates at Yale to secure greater representation in the general Yale Athletic Council with a view to directing undergraduate policy in athletics. The unrest is occasioned by the Council's failure to complete arrangements for the football season next fall.

Discussion Groups at Cornell

Groups in fraternity and rooming houses to discuss current topics are being formed at Cornell, each class meeting once a week. The leaders of the different units will undergo a special course of instruction carried on simultaneously.

The trend of modern conditions makes a knowledge of law necessary to the heads of all great industrial enterprises.

Whether a young man contemplates following the legal profession, or whether he hopes to head any great industrial organization, he will find a legal training of utmost value to him in after life.

Two-Power-Range EIGHT

*The

Modern Lightness—With Stability

THERE is much to be said for the closed car bodies that set the first high standards of coach building applied to motor cars.

Peerless leadership in Closed Car construction was established in the early days of the industry.

There is much to be said for newer methods—where they work real improvement.

The Peerless Closed Cars of today embody those fundamental principles developed by the old master coach builders, combined with all that constitutes genuine improvement in modern methods.

The result—modern lightness with stability.

Mounted on the famous Peerless Eight chassis, with its two separate and distinct ranges of power, the Peerless Closed Cars of today maintain their leadership.

In substantial comfort they are not to be surpassed.

In operation they give the most distinctive performance yet attained by motor cars.

The "loafing" range offers the acme of soft, smooth, efficient, economical application of power.

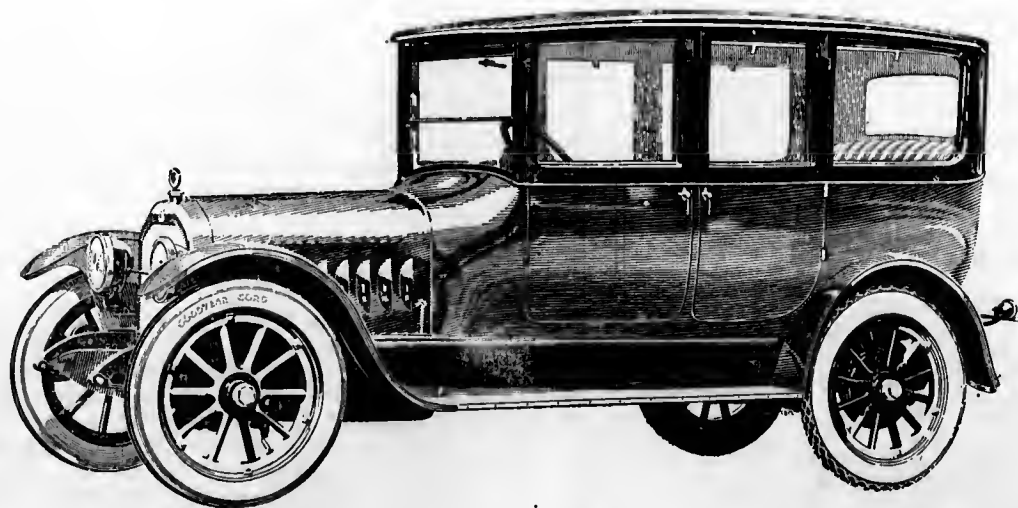

The "sporting" range releases an abundance of power for emergencies and speed which few cars now possess.

Let us show you its remarkable range of performance—those contrasts of opposite virtues which have made the Peerless Two-Power-Range the distinctive motor car of the day.

ALUMNI REVIEW MAKES IMPORTANT DEPARTURES

Present Board of Editors to Resign—Correspondents' Forum Is Instituted

Numerous wide-spread changes in the publishing and in the character of the Williams Alumni Review will go into effect following the publication of the April issue which will appear in a couple of weeks. In order to further all plans for revising the Review and to leave a clear field for the development of the new alumni plans, the present Board of Editors have handed in their resignations to the Society of Alumni.

This action comes as a result of several suggestions made at a joint meeting of the Trustees of the Alumni and the Alumni Advisory Board in New York City last December for the reorganization of the type of material to be put into the magazine and its method of publication. Hitherto publication has been under the supervision of the Society of Alumni and the larger part of the space has been devoted to alumni notes. The plan provides for the changing of the supervision from the present one to a new organization called an Alumni Bureau to be placed in some large city, such as New York or Boston, where it will be more accessible to the alumni.

As it is believed too much space has previously been occupied by alumni notes of no vital interest, the present plan provides for radically cutting down this part of the publication and opening up a new department for correspondence. With a forum for the alumni to discuss pertinent questions regarding College and education in general, new interest should be stimulated, and it should lead to a more rapid solution of such problems of interest in the future.

The present editors who have handed in their resignations are: Talcott M. Banks '90, as Editor-in-chief; Judge Sanborn G. Tenney '86, Dean Carrol L. Maxcy '87, and William C. Hart '94 as Associate Editors, and E. Herbert Botsford '82 as Business Manager. Their resignations will go into effect with the publication of the April number of the Alumni Review which will undoubtedly be the last one published under the old regime, as the feeling of Williams alumni as a whole seems to indicate a desire for somewhat radical changes in their quarterly magazine.

1918 To Hold Reunion

Plans for the first 1918 class reunion to be held this June are being made by a committee working in conjunction with Withrow, the class secretary. A room in the Adams block on Spring Street has been secured for the class headquarters during Commencement Week, and a banquet will be held in the Richmond hotel at North Adams on Saturday evening, June 21. The class will wear no special costume except for some kind of distinctive hat. Withrow will send notices to all members of the class, announcing the full details of the reunion, and soliciting a tax of $10.00 to defray the necessary expenses. Checks to cover this tax should be made payable to Charles W. Bonner, Jr., treasurer.

Seniors Wear Caps and Gowns

Yesterday morning's chapel service marked the first appearance of the Seniors in their caps and gowns. As is the custom, they will continue this practice as well as that of singing hymns and Williams songs on the southern steps of the chapel after the Sunday morning services, during the remainder of the semester. The class has decided not to wear caps and gowns at vesper services.

One National and three American League games were played in the intramural baseball series last Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons on Cole Field. Three contests scheduled for Thursday afternoon were postponed on account of rain, and will be played as soon as weather conditions allow.

Although the brand of baseball exhibited in the opening games showed evidences of the usual raggedness of intramural contests, there were many cases of individual excellence, and promise was given of better baseball later in the season. Pitching was the greatest factor in determining the results of all the games, passes and bunched hits accounting for the outcome in each case.

The results of the games on Tuesday afternoon were as follows: Phi Gamma Delta 11, Beta Theta Pi 4; Kappa Alpha 10, Delta Kappa Epsilon 6; Psi Upsilon 12, Alpha Delta Phi 3.

Superior hitting and several passes gave the first game to Phi Gamma Delta. The ground was in bad condition, especially the "skinned" part of the infield, and many errors were the result. In the second inning Davis '19, Beta Theta Pi third baseman and captain, was forced out of the contest when he was severely spiked just above the left knee. The summary:

	1	2	3	4	5
Phi Gamma Delta	1	5	0	3	2—11
Beta Theta Pi	0	4	0	0	0—4

Batteries—Buell and Wilkinson; Painter and C. L. Taylor.

Kappa Alpha had no difficulty in defeating its opponents, 10-6, hitting Hall, the Delta Kappa Epsilon pitcher, heavily in the first few innings. The brand of baseball in general was very poor, and errors were numerous. Farr '19 pitched a good game for the victors. The summary:

	1	2	3	4	5
Kappa Alpha	3	1	2	2	2—10
Delta Kappa Epsilon	3	1	0	1	1—6

Batteries—Farr and Phelps; Hall, Fuller and Burger.

The third game was a walkaway for Psi Upsilon. The victors secured a lead of four runs in the first inning, and outplayed their opponents throughout the contest. The summary:

	1	2	3	4	5
Psi Upsilon	4	1	0	3	4—12
Alpha Delta Phi	0	2	1	0	0—3

Batteries—Dorsey and Christian; W. King, Stites, and McKelvey.

DR. BARBOUR TO PREACH

Noted Theologian to Speak at Williams for Third Time

The Rev. Clarence A. Barbour, President of the Rochester Theological Seminary, will preach at the morning chapel service on Sunday for the third time this year. His first visit was during the S. A. T. C. period, when he spoke at Williams and at a number of army posts and cantonments in the capacity of a Y. M. C. A. worker. He preached here for the second time on March 7.

Dr. Barbour graduated from Brown University in 1888 and the Rochester Theological Seminary in 1891. Ten years later he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity from the University of Rochester and in 1909 a similar degree from Brown. He was for several years the pastor of the Lake Avenue Baptist Church of Rochester, N. Y. Dr. Barbour was president of the New York State Society of Christian Endeavor in 1896 and the vice-president of the Rochester Good Government Club from 1894 to 1902.

1919 TENNIS AND GOLF SEASONS TO OPEN MAY 3

Several New Opponents Appear on Varsity Schedule—1922 Nine Arranges Games

Seven matches and one open date comprise the 1919 tennis schedule, and five dates appear on the golf schedule, as drawn up by Managers Kimball and Hoyt '19 and ratified by the Athletic Council at a meeting held last Tuesday afternoon. Three games arranged for the 1922 baseball nine were also approved, only one of which will be played at Williamstown.

Union, whose team is the only one which reappears on the tennis schedule from last year, was defeated by the varsity, four to two in 1918. Matches with the other listed opponents were discontinued last season on account of war conditions and their revival is indicative of the increase of interest which is being manifested in all Eastern colleges. The New England Intercollegiate tournament will be played in Boston on May 12 to 14, whereas the matches with Colgate, Trinity, Union, and Wesleyan will take place in Williamstown. No opponent has been secured, as yet, for May 24. The entire schedule follows:—

May 3—Dartmouth at Hanover.
May 10—Union at Williamstown.
May 12 to 14—N. E. Intercollegiate, at Boston.
May 16—Colgate, at Williamstown.
May 17—Trinity, at Williamstown.
May 22—Amherst, at Amherst.
May 24—Open.

May 31—Wesleyan, at Williamstown.

Matches with Columbia, Harvard, and the University of Pennsylvania, and tentative dates with Amherst and the Greenfield Country Club make up the golf schedule. The five contests to be held contrast with two held last year and the usual pre-war average of three. The varsity was defeated last season by the first three colleges mentioned, as well as by Dartmouth, which does not appear among the opponents listed for this Spring. None of the matches will be played in Williamstown. The schedule follows:—

May 3—Harvard, at Springfield.
May 9—Columbia, at Garden City, L. I.

May 10—University of Pennsylvania at Nassau, L. I.

May 17—Amherst, at North Adams. (tentative).

May 24—Greenfield Country Club, at Greenfield. (tentative).

The schedule for the freshman baseball nine provides for two out of town games and one to be played at home, in contrast with the one out of town contest

VICTORY LOAN DRIVE BEGINS FOR COLLEGE

MR. W. C. HART IS AT HEAD

Fraternity Houses and Commons to Be Canvassed—Campaign to Last Until May 3

Under the direction of Mr. William C. Hart, assistant treasurer of the College, the Williams College drive for the Victory Liberty Loan begins today at the fourteen fraternity houses and at the Commons Club, and will continue until Saturday, May 3.

One man at each eating place will be responsible for the subscriptions and will make his report to Mr. Hart, who will speak at each house during the next few days. No quota has been set for the undergraduates and Faculty to obtain but those in charge are endeavoring to raise every possible dollar and to help the local Liberty Loan committee go over the top. $231,000 has been set as the amount which Williamstown must subscribe.

In an interview yesterday, Mr. Hart emphasized the extreme importance which is attached to this final effort of the war, and the necessity of every man subscribing to the limit of his ability. "There is not a fraternity here," he said, "in which there are not several men who have but recently returned from the zone of fighting. Thus, the necessity for finishing up the task which we undertook in the spring of 1917 and have so far pushed to such a successful conclusion is brought home with added strength to every one of us." Mr. Hart also explained the favorable terms upon which these bonds have been issued and the exceptional rate of interest (4 3-4 per cent) which they bear.

Pledges will be distributed to the various eating places today and tomorrow by the men whom Mr. Hart has chosen to assist him in the campaign. According to the term of the pledge each subscriber must pay ten per cent of his subscription by check, money order, or cash at the time he makes his pledge. The remainder he may pay in installments arranged by the bank, or at some later date. The latter arrangements must be made individually with the Williamstown National Bank through Mr. W. B. Clark. Subscriptions from the Faculty and from the College authorities will count toward the total which will be credited as the amount raised by Williams College. Professor Hardy has been chosen by the local committee to take charge of this part of the drive.

Interclass Baseball Today

1919 will oppose 1922 and 1920 will face 1921 this afternoon on Cole Field in the interclass baseball series. The underclass teams seem the favorites thus far in the season, the Sophomores having defeated both the Seniors and the Freshmen whereas 1922 was victorious over the Juniors.

ASSESSMENTS LEVIED

Juniors and Freshmen Taxed to Support Baseball Teams

At the 1920 class meeting held last Monday evening in Jesup Hall at 7.30 p. m. it was voted to assess each member of the class $1.00 in order to give sweaters to the team in place of the uniforms which have been furnished in past years.

For the support of the Freshman class team an assessment of $2.50 will be collected this year. This fund in addition to paying for baseball uniforms, supplies, and expenses incidental to the three out-of-town trips, will also take care of basketball uniforms and several other minor expenses. Men of both classes who are working their way through college will be exempt from these taxes, while holders of scholarships need pay only two-thirds of the amount. Freshmen have been appointed at each fraternity house and at the Commons to collect the money, and payments should be made promptly.

SENIORS AND JUNIORS BOW TO 1921 AND 1922

Sophomores Severely Trounce Opponents 21-3—1920 and 1922 Play Close Game

STANDING OF THE CLASSES

1919	0	1	.000

Last Monday afternoon on Cole Field the Sophomores overwhelmed the Seniors 21-3 and the Freshmen defeated the Juniors 3-2 in the second day of play in the interclass baseball series. The Senior-Sophomore game was marked by excessive hitting, but the Junior-Freshman contest on the other hand was noticeable for the scarcity of hits and a general looseness in fielding.

The 1919-1921 game early developed into a wild batting orgy for the Sophomores who in six innings were able to make a total of twenty-one runs and seventeen hits, whereas Dorsey held the Seniors to three runs and five hits. The Sophomore twirler also struck out eleven of his opponents and passed but one, while the Seniors used three pitchers, who struck out nine men and gave five bases on balls. Wilkinson was the heaviest scorer with four runs and three hits, one of which went for three bases, to his credit, and Noble also gave a good account of himself with two runs and three hits, including a double and a home run. Of the 1919 team only eight men succeeded in reaching first base. The Seniors started off in the first inning with two runs, but in the second frame 1921 took the lead with three tallies, and from then on the result was never in doubt. The fourth inning proved to be the most fertile for the Sophomores, when sixteen men came to bat and pounded out seven hits and ten runs.

The Freshmen, in a rather loosely played game, nosed out a 3-2 victory over the Juniors, although in the fifth inning the latter started a rally and came very near tying the score. In fact, had it not been for Fitch's attempt to steal home, which resulted in failure because of a misunderstanding regarding an extra ball which was tossed into

STRONG HOLY CROSS NINE FACES VARSITY

FIRST OUT OF TOWN GAME

Opponents Victors over Trinity, U. of Pennsylvania, Columbia, and Princeton

In its first game of the season out of town, the Williams baseball team will face the strong Holy Cross nine tomorrow afternoon on Fittin Field, in Worcester. This contest should prove to be one of the stiffest and most exciting on the varsity's schedule because of the very formidable appearance presented by the Worcester team.

Coach Burkett had seven members of last year's team and two letter men of the 1917 season returned from service in the unusually large squad that reported for practice this spring. Out of this material he has made a team with a record of four straight victories in its regular schedule to date, victories over Trinity, 20-1, over the University of Pennsylvania, 4-2, over Columbia, 12-6, and over Princeton, 5-2.

In its victory over Pennsylvania, the Holy Cross team broke the hoodoo that has followed its Patriots' Day game for the past 12 years. The contest was marked by the creditable pitching of McLaughlin, a Worcester freshman. He allowed seven hits but kept them so well scattered that they gave only two runs. Although but three hits were yielded by the Pennsylvania twirler, Holy Cross was able to score four runs. Gagnon at third base put up a fine fielding game shutting out a score in the eighth by an unassisted double play. Slatz, Gagnon, and Eschman did the hitting for the winners who, however, made three errors throughout the game.

Columbia was the next victim of the Holy Cross team, falling by a 12-6 score last Tuesday. The victors had all three of the New York pitchers at their mercy, smashing out 13 hits which included a home run by Daley, a triple by Dignan, and two-base hits by Dignan, O'Connor, and Martin. Wednesday, the Holy Cross nine continued its winning streak by defeating Princeton 5-2 in a game in which errors counted for four of the seven runs. Gill was on the mound for Holy Cross allowing but two hits, striking out six men, and giving only one base on balls. O'Connor pounded out a triple and Slatz made a double. Gill and O'Connor put up the best game for the winners.

For Williams, Coach Thomas will present the same line-up as that successfully employed in the game with Massachusetts Agricultural College last Saturday. He characterized that contest as a beautiful game of ball in which the varsity played satisfactorily the only weakness being in the hitting. As this was a fault largely due to the interference of spring recess with practice, the emphasis this week has been laid almost entirely on batting and, by tomorrow, the Purple should be back in good form.

Since Williams and Holy Cross have not yet played a common opponent, no real comparison of the relative strength of the teams can be made. The probable line-up for tomorrow is as follows:

Williams	Holy Cross
Callahan ss	Statz lf
Mason 2b	Bowen cf
Papin lf	Gagnon 3b
Manning 1b	O'Connor 1b
Finn c	Daley rf
J. L. Roth cf	Maguire 2b

At a meeting of the Board in the press room, Jesup Hall, last evening, a cut was made in the list of competitors for the editorial side of the Record. The following freshmen were retained for further competition, and are authorized to collect news for the Record: Blake, Humes, Ewing, H. M. Lavder, W. H. Prescott, and Rose.

The Record learns with a feeling of pleasure and the anticipation of more that its old friend and enemy, the Purple Cow, is to grace the campus once again. It is good to see that the ancient stand-bys are one by one returning from their enforced exile to make the College even more completely like its old, pre-war self. The Cow in particular is a welcome prodigal, standing as it does for the lighter side of academic life, after the seriousness and gloom of war times.

A Result of the War

Ages of thrilling events have ever been a potent stimulus to thought and action. The greatest literatures have resulted from the stirring up of ideas and jarring of the settled ways brought about by war. Turbulent times tend to force men's minds out their ruts and make them explore the rich fields that lie beside the beaten road. Not only in literature is this apparent; for no field of human activity and interest escapes the vitalizing, energizing influence of heroic times upon the men concerned in them.

Perhaps the effect of the recent war has yet to make its mark on the literature of our age. Possibly it shall never do so, but has chosen instead to appear in other parts of social life. In government it is certainly to be seen. Mankind seems imbued with a spirit of iconoclasm,—with the impulse to question the rights and positions of its rulers. Now seems to be the time to take stock, to reckon up good and bad, past facts and future probabilities, and to seize the opportunity once for all to get rid of what is judged to be evil and experiment in substitutes. Peoples everywhere are stirring beneath the yoke; Germany, Austria, Russia, and a host of others have risen to throw off the weight of autocratic rule. Labor is restless, socialism and kindred "progressive" movements are waxing, and Bolshevism has raised its ugly head.

Even college men feel the influence of this mighty force. They are looking about them and becoming dissatisfied with things as they are. Revolutionary sentiments are heard continually. Administration, faculty, rules of all kinds, conditions of all sorts are subjected to a microscopic scrutiny, and a restive desire for change is apparent. Daily conversations, little incidents, and groups gathered around the fire in the evening are the outward signs of inner unrest.

Whether such a state of affairs is good or whether it is bad rests with the future to decide. Results are the only criterion. Whether a bolshevik-like catastrophe is to be the outcome, whether the spirit will burn a while and then die down resultless, of whether its energy can be directed into proper channels with beneficent results is yet to be seen. But at least it can, and should, be controlled, governed, and rationalized and used for good instead of bad. That such energy should be suffered to expend itself in vain murmurings would indeed be unfortunate, unless present conditions be perfect and unalterable. If there are faults in things as they are, if the ultimate has not yet been attained, much may be accomplished by grasping the opportunity and utilizing the forces at present undirected. It is healthy to look at conditions with a critical eye,—to test them in the light of high truth. But in ordinary times such criticism frequently fails to be productive of positive gain. If now the will, the energy to accomplish are with us, let us join action with thought, give to criticism its logical and necessary complement, and leave the mark of war's influence in the shape of lasting benefit.

Men holding scholarships and those working their way through college will be admitted for $.50. This tax must be paid before Monday noon to the man delegated to each fraternity house and the Commons Club to collect it, and at that time tickets of admission will be issued to those who have paid this assessment.

Wesleyan Track Men Here May 10

Wesleyan has announced a track schedule of five matches, two of them to be played at home and three away. The second meet is with Williams on May 10 and will be played in Williams-town. R. J. Keeler '19 has been elected captain for the present season.

Victory for Pennsylvania State

The baseball team of Pennsylvania State College defeated Virginia Military Institute 6 to 4 at Lexington, Va., last Wednesday afternoon.

University of Virginia Wins

Maryland State last Wednesday afternoon lost to the University of Virginia nine at Charlottesville, Va., by the score of 7 to 5.

Harvard Crew Gets Shake-Up

As a result of the defeat by Annapolis last week, three of the Harvard oarsmen have been dropped to the second crew, and only two have retained their original places.

Colby Easy for Harvard Nine

Bullard, pitching his first game of the season for Harvard, shut out Colby 6 to 0 at Cambridge, Mass., last Wednesday afternoon. The Crimson batters drove Bucknam from the box in the seventh inning.

To Have Compulsory Athletics

Hamilton has announced the adoption of a plan for compulsory athletics, which is to go into effect in the near future. Every man who is physically able and is not out for some team must take at least four hours of gymnasium work a week.

West Point Breaks Losing Streak

Led by a plebe pitcher, West Point at last found itself Wednesday afternoon and by heavy hitting pounded out a 12 to 2 victory over Lehigh. Loose fielding characterized the play of both teams. Johnson, said to be Lehigh's best pitcher, lasted only one inning, five hits, one of them a double, a base on balls, and an error netting the cadets five tallies.

Seventh Inning Victory for Navy

Coming from behind in the Fordham contest on April 23 the Naval Academy baseball team tied the score in the sixth inning with three runs. A home-run by the Fordham star short-stop in the next inning apparently assured them the game until the second half when the Midshipmen developed unexpected batting strength knocking in four runs. The final score was 9 to 6 in their favor.

Giants Have Trouble with Yale

In the annual Giants-Yale contest last Tuesday at the Polo Grounds in New York the major league baseball team nearly came to grief in the proverbially critical seventh inning when Yale, taking advantage of its opponent's temporary disorganization, brought home two runs, sending them into the lead. A double by the New York pitcher in the eighth inning, however, brought in the winning run for the Giants, and the final score stood 4 to 3. The Yale team, aside from a rather shaky defense, played a good game, out-batting the Giants 9 hits to 7. The Yale southpaw, Cox, showed good form and looks like a dangerous pitcher for intercollegiate games.

Brown to Publish War Record

Brown's honor roll of 43 men who died in the service together with a personal sketch of each and the war record of the university itself in the S. A. T. C. and B. N. T. U. will be features of a volume to be entitled the "War Record of Brown University". It is hoped the publication will be ready for distribution by Commencement.

New Course at Sheffield

A new major course, Chemical Engineering, the first of its kind in any university in the country, will be established at the Sheffield Scientific School next fall. Its aim will be to produce practical industrial chemists rather than theoretically trained scientists. Thomas A. Edison has expressed an enthusiastic approval of the new course.

the field by a spectator, it is very likely that the necessary run would have been scored. As it was the Juniors had already made two runs on passed balls by Clark, and Buell, and the latter, pitching for 1922, seemed to be having difficulty in finding the plate. But this proved to be the Junior's last chance for a score and the game ended in the next inning in favor of the Freshmen. Harder of the latter team rapped out a double in the first inning, and soon after crossed the plate for the first score of the contest, and in the next frame, Stites, pitching for 1920, filled the bases on passes and forced in two more runs. Both sides had trouble with their twirlers, the Juniors using two and the Freshmen, three. However there were only three scattered hits allowed in the entire game on both sides, two of these being made by Finder and Sackett for 1920, and the other by Harder for 1922.

Intramural Season

On Wednesday afternoon Zeta Psi went down in defeat before the strong Commons Club team in a close and well played contest. Neither team was able to hit, the game resolving itself into a pitcher's battle between Wake-man '22 and Foster '20. Foster allowed only one hit, the Commons team making their two runs on fielding errors. The summary:

held last year with Hotchkiss. The 1922 team has been showing good form in practise, holding the varsity to low scores on several occasions, and a successful season is to be expected. The schedule follows:—

May 10—Taft, at Williamstown.
May 17—Pawling, at Williamstown.
May 24—Hotchkiss, at Lakeville,

W. C. A. Meeting Postponed

Dr. John Logan Findlay, pastor of Old South Church, Worcester, Mass., was unable to come to Williamstown for the meeting of the Williams Christian Association scheduled for yesterday evening, and the meeting was postponed. The officers are trying to secure Dr. Findlay for next Sunday evening.

TRACK TRIALS SATURDAY*Team to Be Picked for First Meet with Union, May 3

Trials for the first track meet of the year with Union on May 3 and for the meets that follow it every Saturday throughout the season will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2.00 o'clock on Weston Field. Inasmuch as the fall interclass and cross country meets and the winter interclass relay races and indoor meets could not be held this year, these trials will furnish Coach Seely with his first opportunity of really sizing up the track material available for this year's varsity team. Even the Lehman Cup meet, which is ordinarily held in the spring, had to be postponed until after the intercollegiate season.

Although there is a regular squad of about 40 practising every day, the trials are open to anyone in college who is scholastically eligible and any men who have not been able to report before but who have ability are asked to compete. Three men will be picked in each event although it is not yet certain how many will run in the Union meet.

The order of events in the trials, which will be the same as that used in the intercollegiate meets, is as follows: 100-yard dash, one-mile run, 120-yard high hurdles, 440-yard dash, two-mile run, 220-yard low hurdles, half-mile run, 220-yard dash, shot put, pole vault, high jump, hammer throw; and broad jump.

COLLEGE NOTES

All men wishing to try out for the golf team are requested to hand their names to Captain Hegardt '19 before Sunday night.

H. M. Rounds '22 has entered the competition for second assistant stage manager of Cap and Bells.

D. Milton and Roth '21 have resigned from the competition for the second assistant managership of tennis and golf.

Practise for the tennis team began last Wednesday on the College courts. Only one court is now in condition but the others will be ready for use by the end of the week.

Manager Coe '20 has announced that the Lehman Cup Meet will not be held until late in May.

INTERCOLLEGIATES*Amherst to Entertain 1923

An extensive program to last from May 9 to 11 inclusive has been announced by Amherst for the entertainment of prospective freshmen. Invitations have been sent to various preparatory schools and to all men who have signified their intention of entering Amherst. The program will include a Sophomore smoker, a varsity baseball game, and three one-act plays, as well as a number of informal entertainments.

Northwestern Welcomes Unit

On last Saturday, Hospital Unit No. 12 received an enthusiastic welcome home to Northwestern University after 22 months service overseas on active duty with the British Second Army Corps in Flanders. Evidence of the splendid work of the unit is shown by that fact that 24 of its members have received decorations of various kinds.

Tennis Tournament at Dartmouth

Sixty-four men have entered the tennis tournament now in progress at Dartmouth, the results of which will largely determine the selection of the team to face Williams on May 10. Three members of last year's team including the captain, R. R. Larmon '19, are entered in the tournament.

Princeton Track Squad Busy

Princeton is holding both the Varsity and Freshman track squads in rigid training and daily practice at the University throughout the Easter vacation. The Varsity track team will have its first meet of the season when it participates in the Penn Relays on April 25 and 26, and the first Freshman contest is with Lawrenceville on April 24.

DESCRIBES SURRENDER

Ensign Baldwin '16 Writes of Taking Austrian Ships

Ensign Elbert Baldwin '16 describes the taking over of the Austrian battleships, Radetzky and Zriny, in an interesting letter which appeared in a recent issue of the Lakewood (N. J.) Times and Journal. Ensign Baldwin is at present stationed as a Naval Post Officer at Trieste.

"Certainly in naval history", he writes, "there is nothing more picturesque than the adventure of the men from the fifteen submarine chasers, which recently sailed into the harbor of Spalato on the Dalmatian coast and found themselves in possession of the ex-Austrian dreadnought Radetzky."

In speaking of their approach to the battleships, Ensign Baldwin writes, "But this sight—those guns—big fellows, too—had been made for our destruction; those men on topside there—they had been intended to man those guns. We were coming to take them away and there they stood like so many statues, with hats most unstatuesque, above their heads, shouting like oracles. What flag were they flying? On both ships floated an American ensign!"

Baldwin goes on to say that once the Americans were on board the Austrian ships "a great bartering for things American for conveniences Austrian, took place." A supper was prepared for our sailors by the crew, who lent them their mess gear. A day or so later about thirty of our officers were given a dinner on shore by the Yugoslav members of the crew, and in the absence of the American commander, Ensign Baldwin had to answer their cordial speeches of welcome.

Van Vechtens to Start Monday

Meeting yesterday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall the seniors who have entered the Van Vechten Extemporaneous Speaking Contest decided to start the trials next week. Meetings will take place at 5.00 o'clock in the Common Room Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, of next week, and Monday, May 5. At 4.00 o'clock on each of these days the contestants will be given a choice of six subjects, on one of which each man will have an hour to prepare a speech. Ten minutes will be allowed for the delivery of each address. The contestants are given one "cut", but can speak at the four meetings and have their three best marks counted. The prize for the contest is $70. All of the meetings will be open to the public.

Alumni to Discuss Agreement

A meeting of the Interfraternity Council will be held tomorrow evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall at which five or six alumni will be present to discuss the proposed agreement recently sent up from the Alumni Interfraternity Council of New York.

The games are as follows: American League: 2.00 o'clock—Beta Theta Pi vs. Kappa Alpha; 3.30 o'clock—Sigma Phi vs. Phi Gamma Delta, Delta Kappa Epsilon vs. Chi Psi. National League: 2.00 o'clock—Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Faculty, Alpha Delta Phi vs. Delta Psi; 3.30 o'clock—Phi Delta Theta vs. Psi Upsilon, Delta Upsilon vs. Theta Delta Chi.

Inebriate "Cow" To Appear

In commemoration of the sad blight due to descend on these parts about July first the Purple Cow has decided to emit one last protesting wail of self-commiseration, which ode will be sorrowfully and solemnly entitled the "Departing Spirits Number". This issue, to appear next Monday, will be the first since June 1918, the Cow having suspended publication during the S. A. T. C. period, and it will also be the swan song of the 1919 board which retires with this number. It will be marked by a profusion of illustrations and rather a dearth of jokes and light literary articles. In harmony with the title will be some verses by Hawes '20. Full page illustrations will be the feature work, drawn by Pollard '20, Huckel '22, and Wallace '22. The cover design will be executed by Wasson '21.

Prize Competition Announced

In order to arouse an interest in the study of topics relating to commerce and industry, Messrs. Hart Schaffner and Marx, of Chicago, have offered four prizes for the best studies in the economic field. In Class A, a first prize of one thousand dollars and a second prize of five hundred dollars will be awarded, and in Class B, which includes college undergraduates, the prizes will be three hundred dollars, and two hundred dollars. Class A prizes may be awarded to men in Class B if the merits of the paper demand it. Essays should be sent on or before June 1, 1920, to J. Laurence Laughlin, University of Chicago. Further information and a list of available topics may be obtained from Professor Wild.

MINOR CHANGES MADE IN NEW RUSHING PACT

FOUR ALUMNI AT MEETING

Question of Fraternity Talk Previous to Third Period Delays Ratification

Minor changes in the proposed rushing agreement were made at a meeting of the Interfraternity Council held at 7.30 o'clock Saturday evening in Jesup Hall. Four alumni delegates, sent by the Alumni Interfraternity Council of New York, with James A. Garfield '16 as their spokesman, were present to give the views of the alumni on various articles in the agreement.

All action on the newly formulated agreement, which has been approved by all the fraternities on a straw vote, has been suspended since March 14 in order to secure the alumni sentiment on the subject. At the suggestion of the alumni delegates, the Council made changes in regard to a few of the minor articles in the agreement. In the first place, it was voted to make the agreement binding on all the fraternities until two months after the end of the rushing season. It was also suggested that a committee of three undergraduates and three alumni be chosen each year to consider the preparation of an agreement for the following year.

At the instance of the alumni delegates, Article IV which reads, "Any undergraduate bound by this agreement may report any suspected violation to the Interfraternity Council. The Council shall investigate such cases. The only penalty to be imposed shall be a reprimand," was stricken from the agreement.

Article XIII, reading, "Any first year man breaking a pledge with any fraternity shall thereby render himself ineligible for fraternity membership to Williams College for a period of two months following such break and during this time shall not be entertained at any fraternity house at Williams College," was amended, extending the period of ineligibility after the breaking of a pledge from two to six months.

The Council further voted to strike from the agreement Article XV which states, "No member of a fraternity shall bring influence to bear upon a man, pledged another fraternity, calculated to make him dissatisfied with the fraternity to which he is pledged." This was considered to impugn the honor of Williams men.

A great deal of discussion, which developed into a debate between Garfield '16 and Greeff '19, centered around Section VI which provides that, "After two weeks before the opening of College and up to the beginning of the Third Rushing Period, conversation with first year men shall be confined to transactions of the usual College business and to greetings and brief non-fraternity conversation upon the street." The alumni wished this section amended in order to allow conversation upon fraternity matters during the second rushing period, instead of postponing it until the third period when pledging may begin. Finally, a straw ballot on the question was taken, which resulted in a ten to three vote against the discussion of fraternity matters previous to the third rushing period. One fraternity did not vote. Inasmuch as the members of the Council could not take further action without instructions from their fraternities, final ratification of the agreement had to be postponed, but the Interfraternity Council expects that this may be accomplished within a week or ten days.

CAMPAIGN PROGRESSES

Mr. William C. Hart Speaks in Behalf of Liberty Loan

Started by speeches of Mr. William C. Hart at fraternity houses and at the Commons Club, the first four days of the Williams College campaign for the Victory Liberty Loan have passed with excellent results. Owing to the fact that the bank closed at noon last Saturday and that the men in charge of the campaign at the various eating places have been unable to make their reports, no estimate of the amount which has been subscribed can be given.

Mr. F. C. Moore, chairman of the local loan committee, has announced that substantial progress has been made in Williamstown, but that he is still unable to announce a definite total. The committee will exert its greatest efforts this week in order to obtain the town's quota of $231,000 before next Saturday. Mr. W. B. Clark, president of the Williamstown National Bank, will make arrangements with any students who desire to purchase bonds.

BAD WEATHER HAMPERS MEN IN TRACK TRIALS

Snow and High Wind Slow Down Times and Prevent Several of Field Events

In order that Coach Seely might judge the comparative abilities of the men on the track squad, a trial track meet was held last Saturday afternoon at 2.00 o'clock on Weston Field. Due to the high wind and poor condition of the track, which was partially covered with snow, the times were slower than usual, and the slipperiness of the ground necessitated the omission of the running broad jump, the pole vault, and the high jump.

The 100 and 220 yard dashes were the most closely contested races, Allen '21 winning both. The 880 yard run was won by Kellogg '21 in the last few seconds, when he sprinted by Captain Stewart '19, who had been in the lead throughout the greater part of the race.

The summary is as follows:

120 yard high hurdles—won by Greeff '19; second, P. Phillips '22; third, Schermerhorn '20.

220 yard low hurdles—won by Cruise '22; second, Atwater '22; third, Dana '21.

100 yard dash—won by Allen '21; second, Carick '20; third, B. K. Woodward '19.

220 yard dash—won by Allen '21; second, B. K. Woodward '19; third, Carick '20.

440 yard dash—won by Kieser '20; second, Olson '20.

880 yard run—won by Kellogg '21; second, Stewarts '19; third, Penfield '19.

One mile run—won by Parker '20; second, Coan '21; third, Joslyn '21.

Two mile run—won by Brown '19; second, Adams '22.

Shot put—won by Mills '20; second, Carick '20; third, Sidley '22.

Hammer throw—won by Sidley '22; second, Lasell '20.

Van Vechtens Begin Today

Trials for the Van Vechten Extemporaneous Speaking Contest will begin at 5.00 o'clock this afternoon in the Commons Room. The other three contests will take place at 5.00 o'clock in the Commons Room on Wednesday and Friday of this week and next Monday. All of the trials are open to the public.

Garfield Honored at Dinner

President Harry A. Garfield was the guest of honor at a dinner given by the executive heads of the United States Fuel Administration last Thursday evening in the Hotel Waldorf-Astoria, New York City. After a speech by W. E. Hope, Dr. Garfield was presented with a bronze representation of the "Soldier and Miner" poster.

DR. FINDLAY RELATES RUSSIAN EXPERIENCES

UNDER W. C. A. AUSPICES

Speaking on the Topic, "Americanism and Bolshevism," He Talks of Work in Russia

"Americanism and Bolshevism" was the subject chosen by Dr. John L. Findlay, pastor of Old South Church, Worcester, in his address before the W. C. A. yesterday evening in the Jesup Hall auditorium. It consisted mainly in an exceedingly interesting recital of his personal adventures while engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in Russia during the past year and a half.

Setting out from San Francisco shortly after America's entrance into the war, as a Y. M. C. A. secretary, he reached Vladivostok, Siberia, by way of Honolulu and Japan. Here he commented on the wonderful influence of the United States in making civilized people out of the formerly cannibalistic Hawaiians and in modernizing the Japanese by persuading them to open their country to world trade. From Vladivostok by the Trans-Siberian Railroad he arrived at Petrograd after a fourteen day trip and received permission from Kerensky to go to the front and conduct his work among the troops.

Dr. Findlay then gave a brief review of the history of Russia since the Revolution of March, 1917, laying particular emphasis upon the treachery of Germany. She was enabled to put the Bolsheviks in power by poisoning the minds of the masses of illiterate peasants. Out of a total population of 190,000,000, but 11,000,000, or six in every hundred persons, are educated in Russia. For months they have had nothing to eat except black bread and tea, and the German agents, by preying on the people's desire for land, food, and clothing, plunged the country into a state of anarchy and bloodshed. One significant fact to which he called attention was that twenty-two of the Bolshevik leaders in Moscow received their early training in the slums of New York, Boston, and Philadelphia, where their view-point of life became entirely warped.

During the past eighteen months it has been the common policy of everyone to condemn Russia as a degraded country and to make little or no attempt to correct her faults. But it should be

COLD PREVENTS GAME

Varsity Unable to Meet Holy Cross in Baseball

Cold weather and a slight flurry of snow prevented the Williams-Holy Cross baseball game from taking place at Worcester, Mass., last Saturday afternoon. Although the Williams players were extremely anxious to take the field in spite of the conditions, Holy Cross officials declined, and offered to meet Williams again under the same financial arrangements that were made for last week's game.

Thursday was suggested as a possible date for playing off the contest, as it is a holiday at Holy Cross and a large attendance would be assured. This offers a financial inducement to Williams in that a share of the gate receipts would be allowed to the visitors in addition to the fixed guarantee. It will be necessary for the matter to be brought before the Athletic Council before a conclusion can be reached. When interviewed last night Mr. Botsford, Graduate Treasurer, said: "The affair will have to be discussed by the Athletic Council, and I believe the matter of cuts will be a serious obstacle to the arrangement of the game."

TRIANGULAR DEBATING LEAGUE TO BE RESUMED

Delegates of Amherst, Wesleyan, and Williams Decide on Plans for Coming Year

Meeting at the Hotel Kimball in Springfield last Saturday afternoon, representatives from Amherst, Wesleyan, and Williams formed plans for the resumption of the Triangular Debating League next fall. Williams was represented by Goodman '19, Amherst by Paul Rauschenbusch, and Wesleyan by M. A. Potter. The date for the debates was set as December 5, 1919, and several changes were made in the general plan for conducting them.

The teams, which formerly consisted of two men and the alternate, will now be made up of three men and the alternate. The time that each speaker is to hold the floor was also increased to nine minutes for the main speech and seven minutes for rebuttal. These changes were due mainly to the feeling current among intercollegiate debaters that not enough time has been given them to develop their subjects. Each college will enter two teams, one of which will support the affirmative, the other the negative. The affirmative team will debate at home while the negative team will speak at one of the opposing colleges. The program for the debates and the subject will be decided upon at a meeting of the representatives of the three colleges next October.

The college both of whose teams are successful, secures the cup, which is now in possession of Williams. In case of a tie the cup remains with the college which won it the previous year. The last triangular debate, which resulted in a tie, was held on December 4, 1916 on the question of compulsory arbitration between employers and employees. Williams defeated Wesleyan, but a unanimous decision gave Amherst the verdict in the out of town debate.

Musical Clubs Concert May 30

On Friday evening, May 30, the night following the Sophomore Prom., the Musical Clubs will give their annual house-party performance. The program will be substantially the same as that delivered on the recent trip, except that the instrumental septet will have a new act, and some of the music in the College Smoker, which is to be presented Thursday, may be used. Tickets, which will cost $1.25, will be on sale about a week before the performance. Fraternities will draw for blocks of seats at that time.

"OH MY YES!" WILL APPEAR ON THURSDAY

SMOKER TO BE MUSICAL

Combined Talent of College to Present Tuneful Comedy of Satire, Wit and Beauty

Next Thursday evening, as the ancient Lasell Gymnasium clock laboriously tolls eight-thirty o'clock, in the interior of that time-worn edifice there will be ushered forth amid a blaze of glory the long-awaited College Smoker.

Superintended by the satirical, sagacious, and sanctimonious satraps so superbly selected by the College body to prepare the production of this plenipotent, precocious, and potent performance, a carefully-collected coalition of clever, competent, and capable contortionists will attempt to amuse the assembled aggregation. Although marvelously muffled in manifold mystery during the period of its preparation, this will be the most scintillating, side-splitting, and stupendous smoker ever presented, rumors according to that have recently reached the Record.

Taking the form of a musical comedy playfully entitled "Oh, My Yes!", the creation will consist of three throbbing acts of thuriferous theatricals, intricately interspersed with a multitude of magnificent, mellow, mesmerizing melodies. The lyrics are by Oppenheimer '20, and the music is the work of Luedeke '22, with one number by Banks '21.

Primarily due to the recent activity of the laudable and deservedly famous Faculty, one prominent feature of the piece is to be its praiseworthy and puritanical virtue. In speaking of this matter one member of the stellar cast stated to a Record reporter late last night, "We have all faith that the show will be a great success. It is true that the entire performance has been thoroughly purified by the Dean, but it is not altogether ruined."

Tobacco and refreshments will be supplied as usual. 2000 Murads and 2000 Melachrinos, furnished by the S. Anargyris and Melachrin Companies through the courtesy of Quinn and Manley, will be dispersed among the audience by the fair hands of the ladies of the chorus. Liquid invigoration of an exceedingly soft variety will also be served.

Tickets of admission may be secured by undergraduates at the door. Each man who has not previously undergone the process will be relieved of a dollar and a half by the hold-up expert who will be present for the occasion.

College Baseball Results

Scores of the baseball games held last Saturday afternoon between the different eastern colleges and universities are as follows:

At Newton, Mass.—Boston College 6, University of Maine 0.

At Providence, R. I.—Brown 8, New Hampshire State College 3.

At Medford, Mass.—Bowdoin 2, Tufts 0. (10 innings).

At Washington, D. C.—Fordham 15, Catholic University 4.

At Storrs, Conn.—Connecticut Agricultural College 3, Rhode Island State College 2. (13 innings).

At Amherst, Mass.—Dartmouth 5, Amherst 1.

At Annapolis, Md.—Navy 5, Swarthmore 4. (11 innings).

1922 Special Students to Meet

1922 Special Students and all men with entrance conditions will meet this evening at 7.45 o'clock in Jesup Hall to make arrangements for organizing classes in which they may be tutored in preparation for the June entrance examinations.

"Jack-of-All-Tradeism"

The subject of "Jack-of-All-Tradeism", as it has been called, in extra-curriculum activities is one which has come in for a great deal of attention during recent days at Yale. The academic college has accepted and the Scientific School has rejected an amendment classifying activities and restricting men from engaging in an undue amount of them, with an elastic clause allowing the governing body to use its discretion in making rulings.

The application of the same thing to Williams might be made with even more beneficial results than in a larger college. Actual experience and observation, not mere theorizing, lead to such a belief. Examples of any number might be quoted from among members of present and recent undergraduate classes who have been so burdened with extra-curriculum jobs that the curriculum and, most important of all, that intangible good called "association with men" have suffered from enforced neglect. On the other hand, there have been plenty of willing and capable workers who have fretted on the outside, kept from participation in this or that activity in which they are truly interested, or from activities in general, in spite of their anxious desire to get in the game.

Your popular or particularly talented man gets his start from an election or from his own labor, and once he is started there is no stopping him. He is continually a candidate, whether of his own volition or not, and frequently a successful one. The very fact that he already is prominent in college activities puts him in the way of more work. It is hardly consistent with human nature to expect the majority of men under those conditions to refuse the offer of further honors. Public opinion is generally hard on him if he does, and numerous honors have a most irresistible appeal to the college man. Under such circumstances it is quite natural for a man to forget relative values. This is continually being done, and the inevitable result of it is that one who is most fitted to receive benefit from the more important things in college is actually narrowed by confining his hours to less improving occupations. Every year Phi Beta Kappa, judged by each succeeding senior class to be of great value, and by the world at large to be of even greater, loses men of high mental capacity through their over occupation in college organizations.

From the standpoint of the organizations themselves the spreading of officers among a larger number of competent men would also be beneficial. A Jack-of-All-Trades can never be master of one. As the Yale News says, "No activity has as yet approached so near the pinnacle of perfection that it cannot demand more care, more thought, more system." And it is a matter of actual experience here at Williams that much important work in such activities is done in a slipshod, precisionless manner because the worker is too busy to devote to it the really requisite amount of time and labor.

Any activity which can boast a few good men who have plenty of time and interest to give it is more successful, more efficient than the one which is managed by a number of comparatively brilliant yet over occupied Jack of All Trades.

To accomplish the result which Yale has succeeded in reaching, two methods are open. The first is an addition to the Rules of Undergraduate activities, modeled on the Yale amendment. This puts the matter under the legal supervision of a committee of the Student Council, who act in accordance with a carefully framed law. The other alternative might be better adapted to Williams, or a college of its type, as being more flexible and easier to make successful in a small college than in a large one,—namely, through recognized public opinion. To build up such a "moral crusade", and to give it the force of recognition, the Student Council might adopt a resolution to the desired effect, to be promulgated and kept before the public eye in such a manner as to prevent the sentiment from dying a natural death. The latter solution to the question presents certain difficulties, however, along the line of indefiniteness, lack of permanent effect, and deficiency in force. If the College should see fit to enact a law for the limitation of participation in activities, it is provided an excellent and carefully planned model in that recently adopted at Yale.

To Discuss "Fiume and Italy"

Professor T. C. Smith will address a meeting of the Forum this evening at 8.00 o'clock in the Jesup Hall auditorium on the subject "Fiume and Italy." Professor Smith will not present the opposing claims in detail, but will speak concerning the effect which this crisis will probably have on international relations. He will also describe the position which the United States has taken and the course which this country should now pursue. The meeting, which will be the first to be held in the large auditorium, will be open to the public.

Amherst Tennis Team Badly Beaten

The Yale tennis team won all six matches from Amherst in straight sets at New Haven last Saturday. The playing of Garland, the Yale captain, was the feature. He defeated Henricks, 6-3, 6-0. There were five love sets.

remembered that Germany is at the bottom of all Russia's misfortunes. Forty years ago, thousands of young Germans were sent into Russia to obtain positions anywhere where they could further the interests of the Fatherland. They became represented in every walk of life, from the mill hand to the highest office in the state department. When war broke out in 1914, there were nine generals in the Russian army, and also the prime minister, the Czarina, and many others who were German in sympathy. But despite this betrayal, the troops fought desperately against tremendous odds. Late in 1917 the Bolsheviks overthrew Kerensky and gained the power through the help of German agents. The latter, professing friendship, persuaded the war-weary troops to murder their officers and return to their homes. Then came the disgraceful treaty of Brest-Litovsk and the seizure by Germany of all the food she could lay her hands on in Russia. As a result thousands upon thousands of young children died of starvation in Petrograd alone during the following year.

After the peace treaty had been signed, Dr. Findlay and his companions were forced to flee the country. By alternately walking bare-footed and travelling in box cars, he finally reached Vladivostok again, where he succeeded in getting a passage back to the United States.

GUN CLUB ORGANIZED*Professor Kellogg Meets Men Interested in Project

Fourteen men met Professor Kellogg last Friday evening at 8.00 o'clock in the Thompson Biological Laboratory and decided to form a gun club. A committee consisting of C. M. Smith, chairman, Behre, and Sutton '20 was appointed to make a report on the kind of organization possible. This committee has drawn up a constitution and by-laws which are to be presented for ratification this evening at a meeting to be held at 8.00 o'clock in the Biological Laboratory. Professor Kellogg told of the activities of a gun club formed in 1902 which lasted for eight years, and outlined the expenses and equipment necessary to form a new club, quoting prices given by Albany firms.

The club's activities are to be extended to rifle and revolver practice, and the meeting tonight is to be held particularly for those men who would be interested in this branch. In order to defray the expenses caused by the purchase of equipment and its later upkeep, an initiation fee will be levied, the amount of which will depend upon the number who join the club. The list of the fourteen men who attended Friday's meeting is as follows: Spencer and Wild '19; Behre, Brandegee, Smith, and Sutton '20; Denison, and R. P. Towne '21; Burger, Field, Grout, Loizeau, W. H. Prescott, and H. C. Smith '22.

INTERCOLLEGIATES*Yale Athletes to Pay for Board

Under an arrangement recently approved Yale men eating at the training tables must pay for their own board. The idea of general participation in athletics is still being pushed at the university, the latest step being the appointment of a committee to make plans for a large new athletic field to surround the Yale Bowl.

Pen Captures One-Mile Relay

Pennsylvania won the one-mile relay race in its track and Field Carnival at Philadelphia last Saturday, barely defeating Nebraska and Cornell. Chicago won the two-mile relay championship with Harvard second and Notre Dame third, and Cornell took first place in the four-mile event with Syracuse and Princeton finishing second and third respectively. Pennsylvania also won the one-mile freshman relay, and Syracuse the one-mile class B relay.

Dartmouth Wins from Amherst

Amherst's failure to bunch hits lost the contest with Dartmouth at Amherst last Saturday afternoon by a 5 to 1 score. Cold weather stopped fast play, but the game furnished a great deal of excitement. Both Clark, of Amherst, and Murphy, of Dartmouth, showed good form for an early-season game. By bunching hits in the seventh and ninth innings, Dartmouth put four runs across.

WILLIAMSTOWN, MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1919

NO. 12

WILLIAMS TO OPPOSE UNION IN TRACK MEET

FIRST CONTEST OF SEASON

Few Veterans of Former Years on Purple Squad—Team Is Strong in Distances

Williams will face Union in the first track meet of the season tomorrow afternoon at 1.30 o'clock on Weston Field. Little can be prophesied concerning the comparative strength of the two teams as they are both made up mostly of new men and are considered the strongest that either college has had for several years.

Several veterans of former teams constitute the nucleus of Williams' squad and may be expected to be consistent point winners. Kieser '20, the New England broad jump champion, is entered in that event and has been doing consistently good work this year. H. H. Brown '19, who ran the two mile in record breaking time two years ago, will compete again in the distance events, and Captain Stewart '19 and Olson and Parker '20 will be the mainstays of the team in the half mile and mile runs. Williams is strongest in the distance runs and is relied upon to gain many points in those events.

Union is relying upon Rapelje to be its individual star. He was a consistent point winner last year and is entered in the 100-yard dash, 120-yard high hurdles, running broad jump, and high jump in Saturday's meet. Potter will again represent the Garnet in the dashes, and Freedman is counted upon to place in the two mile run. Union, however, is weak in the weight events, and the Garnet coach has found it necessary to convert some of his runners into hammer throwers and shot putters.

The list of entries are as follows:

100-yard dash—Graubart, Hawkes, Lyman, Potter, Rapelje (U); Allen, Carick, Kieser, Olson, Rawson (W).

220-yard dash—Graubart, Lyman, Potter, Stevens, Zehfuss (U); Allen, Kieser, Olson, Rawson, B. K. Woodward (W).

440-yard dash—Eberls, Graubart, Potter, Stevens, Zehfuss (U); Allen, Atwell, Kieser, Olson (W).

880-yard run—Dean, Locke, Lyman, Speer, Zehfuss (U); Kellogg, Lattner, Northrup, Penfield, Stewart (W).

One mile run—Barrett, Eberls, Locke, Speer, Snyder (U); Adams, Coan, Joslyn, R. Parker, Penfield (W).

Two mile run—Barrett, Dean, Freedman, MacMillan, Snyder (U); Adams, H. H. Brown, Crofts, Penfield (W).

120-yard high hurdles—Campfield, Eddy, Holmes, Rapelje, Rowe (U); Cruse, Greeff, P. Phillips, Schermerhorn, Spink (W).

220-yard low hurdles—Campfield, Eddy, Holmes, Lyman, Rowe (U); Atwater, Cruse, Dana, Schermerhorn, Greeff (W).

Shot put—Beekman, Graubart, Hanley, Holmes, Speer (U); Carick, Castle, Lasell, Mills, Sidley (W).

Hammer throw—Beekman, Hanley, Meyers, Speer (U); Harden, Lasell, Sidley, H. L. Towne (W).

Discus throw—Beekman, Hanley, Meyers, Speer (U); Brigham, Fieser, Lasell, Sidley, H. L. Towne (W).

High jump—Beekman, Campfield, Knight, Rapelje, Speer (U); Anderson, J. P. Prescott, Wallace, Wickwire (W).

Pole vault—Campfield, Davies, Hale, Hawkes, Lyman (U); P. Brown, D. M. Brigham, Platt, Spink, Wyman (W).

Running broad jump—Graubart, Lyman, Rapelje, Richards, Rowe (U); Alderman, D. M. Brigham, Kieser, J. P. Prescott, Wickwire (W).

Four National and three American League games were played in the Intramural Baseball Series last Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday afternoons on Cole field. Three contests scheduled for Thursday afternoon were postponed on account of rain and will be played as soon as weather conditions permit.

Raggedness characteristic of most intramural contests was still largely in evidence, but individual stars are rapidly developing and give promise of unusual work during the remainder of the schedule. The playing on the whole showed a decided improvement over that of the first week of play, and the competition is livening up. Pitching still proved to be the main factor in winning games, although several teams are developing strong batting lists.

The results of the games on Monday afternoon were as follows: Phi Sigma Kappa 14, Delta Psi 13; Zeta Psi 8, Kappa Alpha 4; Commons 6, Beta Theta Pi 5.

Innings marked by wild batting outbursts were the main factors in the victory of the Phi Sigma Kappa team over Delta Psi. A constant drizzle bothered the pitchers and prevented any attempt at efficient fielding. Ten runs in the third inning decided the contest, although the losers staged a substantial rally in the next inning. The summary:

COMBINED COLLEGE SMOKER SCORES HIT

"Oh My Yes!" Is Enthusiastically Received by Faculty and Undergraduates

MUSIC IS EXCELLENT

Entire Performance Is Witty and Free from Vulgarity— Clever Songs Feature

In spite of the fact that the Combined College Smoker, presented last night in the Lasell Gymnasium, was "purified and disinfected by the faculty", it could not be "entirely ruined". On the contrary it will probably go down as one of the wittiest and most musical smokers on record, and as such received an overwhelming and instantaneous success. Special credit for this triumph must be accorded to the Smoker Committee which is made up of the following men: Fillebrown '19, Chairman, Phelps '18, Nordhouse and Wyman '19, Kimberly and Oppenheimer '20, Hall and North '21, and G. Rounds '22. The men taking part in the performance are also to be commended for the excellence of the acting. The words, which were remarkably clever and free from the vulgarity usually heard in class smokers, were written by the Committee, and Oppenheimer '20 and Ludeke '22 were the composers of the lyrics and music respectively.

The first act of the "show", which was entitled "Oh, My Yes!" and was presented in a "drink, a chaser, and a belch", represented the Chem. Lab., in which Bray, Foster '20, was characteristically engaged in lecturing to his class and in making experiments. But upon the arrival of Ray, Phelps '18, who announced that the coast was clear, the Laboratory was quickly turned into a bar and a remarkable array of bottles was brought forth upon the counter. At this juncture Birdie, Brown '22 and Elmer, Pollard '20, put in an appearance and began with Bray and Ray to conduct an experiment which they hoped would summon the devil to their aid. In a flash and a cloud of smoke his Satanic majesty, Frazier '21, miraculously arose from behind the counter and sang "I'm a Devil". After a short dance by Birdie and the Devil, the latter offered the song, "Historical Dances", which was very enthusiastically received. Asked to demonstrate his power, Satan then introduced the four famous women, Love, Fashion, Beauty, and Passion, parts played by Irwin, Banks, Stanley, and Thexton '21, respectively. He also summoned his band of little devils, which made an

SIX MEN COMPETE IN VAN VECHTEN CONTEST

Hold Trials for Prizes in Ex- temporaneous Speaking— Six Minute Talks

Trials in the Van Vechten Extemporaneous Speaking Contest were held last Monday and Wednesday afternoons at 5.00 o'clock in the Common Room. At these times each competitor delivered a six minute speech on some subject closely related to the war.

In the first set of trials, Greeff '19 spoke on "The French Attitude Toward Peace." He traced historically the present aspirations of the French nation and showed how their present attitude toward peace is a compromise between their national ambitions and their internal equity. Speaking on the same subject, Albert '19 explained how, at the conference at Versailles, the French have shown their views to be imperialistic and not in agreement with the League of Nations, but in favor of the old system of maintaining the balance of power. He also showed the steadfastness with which France was going about the tremendous task of reconstruction and the bravery which is being exhibited.

Speaking on "Propaganda," Parker '19 stated that it was merely the natural expression of a man who was convinced of an idea. He went on to show how President Wilson is a propagandist, since the latter expresses himself for democracy with vehemence. But Wilson is not looked upon as such because he has the backing of the people. Parker also stated that the way to ward off the effects from it is not by stifling the press, but by intelligent discussion and counter-propaganda. Then Leeming '18 spoke on the subject in a general manner, showing what it had done in the war and how it is being used now to promote industry. He also explained the good and evil results which can be brought about by the use of propaganda.

Bonner '18, who had as his subject, "The Best Play of the Season," chose Tolstoi's "Redemption", making a careful analysis of it. He based his choice on the significance and potency of the theme, the dramatic qualities in the plot and motivation, and the excellence of the characterization.

In the second set of trials, Bonner spoke on "Williams College After the War." He discussed the differences the war had made in the intellectual, spiritual, and physical conditions of the undergraduates. He stated that the war had brought about a broadening of minds, and that they were more liberal now. He also said their views were more idealistic, and their bodies in a

UNION NINE FACES VARSITY TOMORROW

McLEAN TO START IN BOX

New Candidates for Third Base to Be Tried Out—Strength of Visitors Is Unknown

Weston Field will be the scene of the second game of the baseball season when the varsity opposes the Union nine tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Although the visitors have played more games this season than Coach Thomas's team, their success has not been marked enough to give them any great advantage in tomorrow's contest.

Sixty candidates, including six letter men, reported at the first spring practice of the Union squad. Coach "Matty" Fitzgerald, formerly catcher for the New York Giants, has been devoting himself particularly to the development of a strong pitching staff and infield, but judging from the results of early season games, he has met with only mediocre success. In a game last Wednesday the Schenectady nine was defeated by West Point by a score of 13 to 7. Holleran was knocked out of the box in the fifth inning and was replaced by Butler, who pitched steady ball during the rest of the game. Union's fielding was reported "ragged throughout". Too much significance should not be attached to this game, however, as it was only a seven inning contest and played against an unusually hard-hitting aggregation. Three veterans, Hanley, Bartley, and Mallory, will probably appear in the Union infield, and Lewis at shortstop has been showing ability.

McLean will probably start the game for Williams tomorrow in the pitcher's box, although Burrows has been rapidly rounding into form and may be used. McLean's performance in the long M. A. C. game two weeks ago showed that he is in good form this spring and capable of high grade work. Burrows has an effective assortment of curves and showed up well in the game last Wednesday when the varsity defeated Prindle's Williamstown nine by a score of 4 to 1. Coach Thomas has been using Brown '19 at third base during the past week and seems to be satisfied with the result. Nichols or C. C. Noble may also be used in that position or even McLean, in case he does not pitch.

The probable lineup follows:—

WILLIAMS	UNION
Callahan ss	Reynolds cf
Mason 2b	Beaver lf
Papin lf	Wittner c
Manning lb	Hanley 1b
Finn c	Clark rf
Roth cf	Lewis ss
Boyden rf	Bartley 2b

In Spite of Obstacles

All honor and glory to the Smoker Committee, who prepared and carried through to a most successful presentation one of the best entertainments that has ever been set before the College. For the quality of the smoker, for its splendid success as a diversion from the hum-drum of college life, great is the praise due the writers, managers, and actors. But even greater is their praise for the patient way in which they stuck by the ship in the worst of difficulties and disappointments during the days of preparation and rehearsal. This entertainment has had to wade through bogs, swim rivers, dodge pit-falls, and climb mountains on its way.

The use of Jesup Hall was denied the committee for the production. It had recently been re-painted and furnished with new chairs, and the ruinous effect of flying ginger ale and doughnuts was dreaded. To make possible the use of the Gymnasium in its place, the stage had to be rebuilt and added to, and a curtain provided, at no little expenditure of money, time, and energy. In the second place, the loan of a piano was for a long time refused by the authorities, terrified by the ubiquitous precedent bogey. It took nearly two weeks before they would consent to moving a piano into the Gymnasium.

But the climax was capped when, with dire threats, the administration demanded that the skit conform to Purity League standards, long after rehearsals had begun and the parts were learned. The committee was forced to re-write much of the book and the actors to forget their old parts and learn new ones. They persevered, and it is to their everlasting credit that a finished production was turned out and it was proven that writers of smokers do not have to depend on the "snappy" and suggestive for humorous material.

The College and the "Crowd"

The April number of the Alumni Review, speaking editorially, bemoans the fact that members of fraternities "are liable to become accustomed to thinking in terms of their 'crowd' rather than in terms of their college". Such a charge is a serious one, but none the less true, as any fraternity man will realize by observing his motives or those of his friends and the ideas they express in the discussion inter fratres of any problem affecting both fraternity and college. Such a state of affairs is one of the most powerful tools in the hands of the opponents of the fraternity system, and if allowed to grow it may some day prove the destruction of the whole system. When pressed to it, few men will maintain that the fraternity merits a position ahead of the college, but the fact remains that such a contention is implied in much that fraternity men do and say.

Where this idea has present and practical application is in the solution of the interfraternity rushing question. Another crisis is upon us, in the shape of a possible disagreement on whether or not fraternity matters shall be discussed in the second rushing period. If the minority continues to hold out, a deadlock is inevitable, and that is very patently not for the best interests of Williams. Constant squabbling between groups, inasmuch as it is detrimental to the College, may yet bring about the end of the fraternities; at least it arouses the opposition of many. An objective, unselfish consideration of the mooted points is the only true and the only effective way of considering the difficulty. Williams College must be considered ahead of any individual fraternity, or of the fraternities as a body.

LECTURE BY PROF. SMITH

Jugo-Slav Question Considered Historically—Wilson's Attitude Is Defended

Taking as his subject the history of the Jugo-Slav question as it is related to the present crisis with Italy over Fiume, Professor T. C. Smith delivered a lecture before an open meeting of the Forum held in the Jesup Hall Auditorium, Monday evening at 8.00 o'clock. By way of introduction Professor Smith showed that the present dispute is over the same question as that which furnished the excuse for the beginning of the war in 1914.

He then proceeded to give the history of the Jugo-Slav question. As early as 1905 all the Southern Slav races in the south of Austria-Hungary had the dream of one day becoming a united nation. The Serbians wished to join with them the Bosnians; and the attack of the Austrians, who desired to crush Serbia, was the origin of the world conflict.

In 1915 the Italian government had decided to enter the war and laid before the Central Powers and the Entente their aspirations, which were: First, to unite all Italian-speaking people under the mother country; and secondly, to make the Italian frontiers safe from those attacks which Italy had so often been exposed in the past. By the terms of the Treaty of London, kept secret until 1916, Italy was guaranteed such boundaries in the north and on the Adriatic as would give her protection. These boundaries included the peninsula on which Trieste is located and, the Dalmatian coast together with two groups of islands masking gaps that were to be left in the territory Italy would own along the Adriatic coast but they did not include the city of Fiume. The plan involved the annexation of territory chiefly inhabited by Bosnians and Croats for whom, and naturally, Italy had no love. It was a treaty based upon a military situation.

By the end of 1916, the Allies realized that Austria might be dealt a blow through helping the Czechs, Poles, and Jugo-Slavs to break up into their component parts, and intimidated as much in their reply to President Wilson's request in 1917 for a statement of the war aims of the fighting nations. Encouraged by this attitude, a meeting of representatives of the different branches of Slavs was held at Corfu in July, 1917. And as a result, a proclamation was issued announcing the formation of an independent kingdom of Croats, Serbs, and Slavs. Representatives of the Jugo-Slavs and Italy met in London in March, 1918, and in Rome the following month to arrange for a tentative compromise, and Italy approved a resolution of the convention stating that the unity of the Jugo-Slavs was in her interests and agreeing to settle territorial matters on a basis of justice to both nations. Other powers then proceeded to recognize the Jugo-Slavs, foremost among them being the United States through President Wilson. In January, 1917, he laid down his policy of freedom of access to the sea for all states and the policy he has followed in regard to Danzig and now pursues in regard to Fiume. The Jugo-Slavs formed a national council in Liebach which the Austrians dared not suppress.

In the armistice terms, the Italians, who since their defeat on the Caporetto had recovered most of their lost territory, claimed all the territory of the Treaty of London with additions. And inasmuch as the Austrian surrender was made without any guarantee, it may be argued that Wilson's Fourteen Points do not apply to Austria. As was to be expected, a short time brought the Jugo-Slavs and Italians into a sharp controversy. Italy occupied Fiume, which, with a majority of Italian inhabitants, declared its desire to be annexed to that country, and Italy also sent troops to points not specified in the armistice terms. The Jugo-Slavs regarded the Italians as invaders and appealed vigorously to Wilson who refused to arbitrate the matter. By March it seemed that Italy was ready to fight, and she even threatened to withdraw from the peace conference.

The Adriatic question again came up on April 14 and remained a deadlock until April 22, when Wilson issued his statement declaring that it was unfair to the Jugo-Slavs to deprive them of access to the sea and that the Italian claim of military necessity was no longer valid since these states were not a part of Austria-Hungary. France and Great Britain were puzzled since they are compelled to uphold the terms of the Treaty of London but not to support the claim to Fiume, which was not mentioned in the Treaty. The result is an extreme complication that is in danger of wrecking the whole plan of the peace conference.

In conclusion Professor Smith declared that Wilson's attitude on the matter has been consistent since January, 1917, whereas the policy of Italy has wavered with the fortunes of war and won demands more than ever before.

Following the lecture, the meeting was thrown open to the audience, and considerable discussion ensued. The majority of speeches and questions seemed to reveal an attitude of sympathy for the Italian claims, and a feeling that the controversy is one concerning only Europe and therefore America should not interfere in it.

Zeta Psi had no difficulty in defeating Kappa Alpha in a game replete with errors. As wet weather had rendered the regular diamond impracticable, a new and temporary one was constructed for the occasion. The summary:

	1	2	3	4	5
Kappa Alpha	0	0	3	1	0—4
Zeta Psi	5	2	1	0	—8

Batteries: Foster and Dunn; Cobb, and Clark.

The third game was a close contest between Beta Theta Pi and the Commons Club, marked in general by good playing. A last inning rally by the former team failed to score the winning run, as Wake-man sent in after two were out in the fifth, struck out the last man.

The summary:

	1	2	3	4	5
Commons Club	1	2	2	0	1—6
Beta Theta Pi	1	0	1	0	3—5

Batteries: Roth, Wakeman, and Hahlo; Painter and Kimball.

The results of the games on Tuesday afternoon were as follows: Alpha Delta Phi 20, Faculty Club 0; Phi Gamma Delta 6, Delta Kappa Epsilon 5; Psi Upsilon 4, Delta Upsilon 2.

The Faculty team was simply smothered by the Alpha Delta Phi team in their first game of the season. Twelve runs were driven home in the first inning, Mears being replaced by Galbraith, who held down the turbulent batters of the opposing team to better advantage. Perry pitched a good game for the winners. The summary:

	1	2	3	4	5

Batteries: Mears, Galbraith, and Botsford; Perry and McKelvy.

The Phi Gamma Delta-Delta Kappa Epsilon game proved to be the most hotly contested of the afternoon. Buel pitched well for the winners although nearly succumbing before the attack of a last inning rally. Fulle's pitching for the Delta Kappa Epsilon team was responsible for the close score and he would have probably won his game if given the proper support in the field.

The summary:

	1	2	3	4	5
Delta Kappa Epsilon	2	1	0	0	2—5
Phi Gamma Delta	0	2	2	2	—6

Batteries: Fulle and Burger; Buel and Wilkinson.

1921 defeated 1920 by a 7 to 2 score last Wednesday afternoon on Cole field in a game marked for the most part by mediocre playing; the lead of the Sophomore team was never seriously threatened after the second inning. The Senior-Freshman contest scheduled for the same date was called off and will probably be played the first of next week. The Sophomores thus far have the edge on the interclass series with victories over all three rivals to their credit. As both 1921 and 1922 defeated the Juniors by comparatively narrow margins, the next clash between the two teams will be of major importance, in all probability deciding the series.

The first inning of the 1920-1921 game was a pitchers' battle in which both sides were retired scoreless. In the second frame Dorsey was hit successfully for the only two runs made by the Juniors during the game. Outside of this one inning the Sophomore twirler pitched a fine brand of ball and had the game well in hand. Foster pitched well for the Juniors but was not supported by the remainder of the team at critical moments. In the third inning two runs placed the Sophomores in front, a lead which they maintained throughout the rest of the game. Careless work by the 1920 team in the last inning clinched the game for their opponents by allowing three additional runs to cross the home plate. Brown was the individual star for 1921, and Christian and Ward played a good game for 1920.

The score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
1921	0	2	2	0	0	3	—	7
1920	0	2	0	0	0	0	—	2

1921—Dorsey and Wilkinson.

In the third game of the afternoon the undefeated Psi Upsilon team easily won from Delta Upsilon in a loosely played game, many men being left on bases by both sides. An error, two hits, and two passes were responsible for three runs in the second inning, clinching the game. The summary:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	R	H	E
Psi Upsilon	0	3	0	1	0	—	4
Delta Upsilon	1	0	0	1	0	—	2

Batteries: Dorsey and Christian; Rounds and Kellogg.

On Wednesday afternoon the Theta Delta Chi team went down in defeat before Delta Upsilon in a well played game. Grindy nearly hung up a no-hit game to his credit, the only hit off of him being laid down in the third inning. The Theta Delta Chi pitcher, Krieger, was knocked out of the box in the first inning, but his successor, Bumsted, allowed only one run during the remainder of the game. The summary:

Delta Upsilon	4	0	1	0	—	5

Combined College Smoker Scores Hit

exceedingly attractive chorus, and closed the act with the invitation "Come to the Devil with me."

During the first intermission boxes of cigarettes were tossed out to the audience while Frazier rendered two selections of popular songs which were
"How You Gonna Keep 'em Down on the Farm" and "Everybody Shimmies Now". Foster and Frazier also sang a song about Doctor Healy to the tune of "Summer Salter Blues". a song hit of the 1917 smoker. Through the generosity of Mr. J. S. Adriance two acrobats from the New York Hippodrome were secured for the performance, who gave several exhibitions of physical strength at this time, which were well applauded.

The Richmond Cabaret was the setting for the second act and the curtain rose to the tune of "Have a Cigarette", while the chorus tossed more "smokes"
to the audience below. Bray, Ray, Birdie, and Elmer were discovered at a table quaffing liquor, but at the suggestion of Birdie, they all leave, except Bray, on a hunt for women. Lois Possible, (Rudloff '20) then enters and engages in conversation with Bray about her friend Margie (Draper '20) who soon puts in an appearance and joins the party. Frazier enters in a weird costume and sings "Balls to You" one of the most tuneful numbers of the performance, while the chorus comes down the runway scattering balls in all directions. After a dance by Coughlin
'21, Frazier sings "I want a College Prof. to Love" with the chorus leaning over the footlights and ogling the faculty.
Bill Wade was here drafted to help Elmer to the exit, who by this time had reached an inebriated condition, and the curtain dropped on the second act.

Refreshments were passed around during the intermission, which was also further enlivened by short talks by Professor Wild, Doughty, and MacLaren.
The third belch took place in a hotel lobby in Russia. After a clever monologue by Frazier, the three members of the faculty and the student arrive at the hotel and establish themselves on the eighty-third floor. The plot is developed in this act by a flirtation between Birdie and Russia Closoff (Wheeler '20) and a Bolshevik plot to force Bray to give up his precious for-mual. Bray also becomes enamoured of Mrs. Richmond Wellington, (Rudloff
'20) whose daughter, Patsie (Draper
'20) has discovered in Ray her lost sweetheart. "Russia", sung by Birdie to Russia, and the Williams shimmie, written by Banks '21, were two especially tuneful numbers. The Runway Glide offered by Frazier and the chorus is also rather catchy. The performance is brought to a happy conclusion by the reappearance of the Devil, who announces that they all have but three minutes to live, and he then escorts Bray, Ray, and Birdie outside where they shoot themselves.

STERILE "COW" APPEARS

"Departing Spirits Number"
Is of Rather Poor Quality

After ten months of enforced inactivity, the Purple Cow has been at last aroused from its torpor by a sense of impending disaster and has given vent to its intense dissatisfaction with the plague of dryness about to descend upon the country. The "Departing Spirits Number," appearing last Tuesday, is the title given to the third and last effort of the 1919 Board, which found it necessary to suspend publication after the issue of June, 1918; the regime of the 1920 Board will commence with the next number.

The latest issue is decidedly not up to the usual standard set by its predecessors. There is a noticeable scarcity of jokes and humorous literary articles, and the general tone of the number is questionable. Full page illustrations by Pollard '20, Huckel, and Wallace '22 are the features of the issue; and the cover design, executed by Wasson '21, is also commendable.

much better condition due to the training.

Albert, in speaking of the German generalship, explained that their present system of warfare had been devised by William the Great. Their primary principles were to seek the psychological moment and to attack with a concentrated force. This was successful in the present war for some time, but the Germans were finally overcome. They also believed in barbarism and ruthlessness because they believed that it frightened their opponents. Having the same subject, Greeff showed that, although the German mode of conducting a war would be successful in a short war, the defeat of the Teutonic races was due to the underestimation of the allied powers. He explained how they had not expected so great a resistance from the English or the Americans. He also stated that their defeat was caused by the fact that they did not appreciate the value of an alternating offensive.

Speaking on the fifth Liberty Loan, Leeming gave an outline of the manner in which it would be spent. He showed how former loans had been used to purchase necessary war materials, and how many lives had been saved by them. He explained that a great deal of the money was really in substantial investments, which would be of great use to the nation, even if the war is over.

Powers' 19 spoke on Clemenceau, the great French statesman. He told of his studies in New York City, and how he had gone back to France at a critical time and built up the morale of his fellow countrymen. He showed the love Clemenceau had for France by relating some of his acts while premier, and explained the great works he had done. Parker then traced this great statesman's rise in power in France and gave the reasons for each promotion. He made clear the reason why Clemenceau had been elected president of the Peace Conference, and enumerated a number of good changes in the government that he had accomplished.

VARSITY TO OPPOSE STRONG COLGATE NINE FAST GAME IS EXPECTED

Visitors Have 15 Veterans on Squad—Coach Claims Best Team in Several Years

Playing the third home game of the season, the varsity baseball team will meet Colgate next Thursday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock on Weston Field. Colgate is reported to have the best team for several years and will undoubtedly provide stiff opposition for Coach Thomas's nine.

Twenty-five men have survived the recent cut in the baseball squad made by Coach Hammond of Colgate, fifteen of whom are veterans of more than one year's experience. Blume, Miller, Leonard, and Laird compose the pitching staff and the quartet has been showing up well in practise. Three games have been scheduled up to the present time, but on account of unfavorable weather, two of the contests had to be called off. The game with West Virginia played last Saturday was very close and resulted in a 1 to 0 victory for Colgate.

Judging from the results of the last two games, the varsity will have to improve rapidly in order to stand an equal chance for success with some of the strong teams which appear on the schedule this year. Neither M. A. C. nor Union had especially strong nines and yet the score in each game was close. This fact was due, no doubt, to the existence of certain defects in batting and fielding which time and practise will remove. The installation of Brown at third base was more than justified by his performance in the Union game last Saturday, at which time he proved to be a dependable hitter and a fast base runner. Coach Thomas has not yet decided which pitcher he will use next Thursday but in all probability either McLean or Burrows will be selected.

The probable lineup follows:—

WILLIAMS	COLGATE
Callahan ss	Cunningham lf
Mason 2b	McBride 2b
Brown 3b	Cotterell ss
Manning 1b	Steffen rf
Papin lf	Barnes 1b
Finn c	Schilling cf
Roth cf	Dwyer 3b
Boydner rf	Hungerford c

Fraternity Tax No Longer Paid

In response to an inquiry by Mr. W. E. Hoyt concerning the tax on fraternity dues, the following letter has been received from the internal revenue office at Boston: "You are advised that under the Revenue Act of 1918, which became effective April 1, 1919, amounts paid as dues or fees to school or college fraternities are not taxable. Returns should, however, be filed until the tax has been accounted for on all dues applying to a period previous to April 1, 1919, and subsequent to November 1, 1917."

Reunion Plans of 1914

1914 is entering a strong bid for the honor of having the biggest and best reunion in Williamstown this spring. Class headquarters will be at Marble Hall. Already a large number of the class membership have signified their intention of being present during commencement week, and any others desiring to come should notify John A. MacGruer, who has been acting secretary of the class for three years and is running the present reunion. He may be addressed either at Hoosick Falls, N. Y., or at the Lyon Block, Albany.

REGULATIONS REVISED BY STUDENT COUNCIL

Will Investigate Methods of Limiting Participation in Non-Athletic Activities

Several minor changes were made in the freshman regulations at the meeting of the Student Council held last Friday night in Jesup Hall. Severe criticism of some of the clauses has been heard ever since the publication of the revised freshman rules last March, so that it was deemed advisable to drop out a few of the objectionable points. The rules were retained intact through article 7, but in article 8, which read, "Freshmen must not wear sheepskin, mackinaw, leather, or fur coats", the phrase "leather or fur coats" was omitted. Article 8, reading, "Freshmen must not dance at the Greylock, the Opera House, or in any dance hall or hotel in North Adams", was revised by dropping off, "the Opera House, or in any dance hall or hotel in North Adams". Article 10 was cut out entirely, and articles 11, 12, and 13 were left as they stood.

Two committees were appointed for the purpose of investigating the methods in force in other colleges of electing cheer leaders and also of limiting participation in extra-curriculum activities. The first committee, composed of Merselis '19 and Mills '20, was created with a view to improve the cheering at athletic contests by training better leaders. Hedden '18 and Ward '20 make up the second committee to consider the possibility of limiting the non-athletic activities that any one man may engage in. It was also voted to engage a band to play at the Amherst game on May 30.

With regard to the Trophy of Trophies, Secretary Roth '19, announced that he had communicated to the Amherst officials the desire of Williams to award it this year on the results of the contests played since January 1919, but that he had not as yet received a reply.

It was further voted to have the managers of the various sports post detailed lists of the recommendations in the competitions for assistant managerships in Hopkins as well as Jesup Hall, in order that the college body may have an opportunity to form a better opinion on the relative merits of the competitors before casting any ballots. The Council decided in addition that eight men should be retained in the baseball competition, from whom the assistant managers of baseball and football would be elected at the College elections this spring.

TUG O'WAR ON TUESDAY Victors of 1921 Pull to Face 1922 Across Green River

In the only underclass contest to be held this year, the Sophomores will face the Freshmen across the cold and muddy waters of the Green River tomorrow afternoon at 4.15 o'clock. Although 1921 won the tug o' war its first year in College, the number in the ranks of 1922 seems to promise a less happy outcome tomorrow. At 4.00 o'clock the Sophomores will assemble at Lasell Gymnasium and the Freshmen at Jesup Hall, and will then march to the river under the leadership of the underclass Contest Committee.

According to the decision of the committee, the tug o' war will take place, as usual, over the Green River pool about 200 yards below the Main Street Bridge. As in the past four years, the classes will be divided alphabetically into three equal sections. Brown '19 will handle the starting gun, firing one shot to start each pull and one to indicate the end of the contest. The Underclass Contest Committee, consisting of Brown '19, chairman, Hedden and Sawyer '18, Collins, Hegardt, Nordhouse, Prescott, R. H. Smith, Spencer, Squire, Walker, and Wright '19 and Gilham '20 will regulate the contest meeting at Jesup Hall at 4.00 o'clock.

TENNIS TEAM DEFEATED

Loses Six Straight Matches to Strong Dartmouth Squad

Williams opened its 1919 tennis season last Saturday afternoon at Hanover by losing six straight matches to Dartmouth. The Purple team succeeded in winning but three sets in all, the Dartmouth men finding little difficulty in triumphing over their opponents in most cases. The most closely contested matches were those between Farnham and Pollard and Ranney and Rowse. The summary of results is as follows: Larmon of Dartmouth defeated Fraker of Williams, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2; Farnham of Dartmouth defeated Pollard of Williams, 9-7, 1-6, 7-5; Ranney of Dartmouth defeated Rowse of Williams, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3; Carlton of Dartmouth defeated Harden of Williams, 6-0, 6-1; Larmon and Farnham of Dartmouth defeated Fraker and Pollard of Williams, 6-1, 6-0; Ranney and Carlton of Dartmouth defeated Rowse and Harden of Williams, 6-3, 6-2.

1921 HOLDS MEETING

Vote Not to Award Sweaters— Class Party Is May 22

Affairs of only minor importance were taken up at the meeting of the Sophomore class in Jesup Hall last Friday evening. After some discussion a motion to award sweaters to the football team which represented the class in the fall of 1917 was defeated, as was also a similar motion in behalf of this year's baseball team.

Since no members of the class expressed any desire to enter the Sophomore-Freshman debate, that annual event will be omitted this year. In spite of the apparent lack of interest in debating, President Belcher urged any men with oratorical ability to enter the Moonlights contest which is open to members of the middle classes only. This competition was omitted last year on account of the war. The date for the annual Sophomore class picnic was announced as Thursday, May 22.

WILLIAMS IS VICTORIOUS OVER UNION IN BASEBALL AND TRACK

GARNET LOSES 4-3 ON DIAMOND AND 83-43 ON TRACK

ROTH MAKES FOUR HITS KIESER HEADS SCORING

Ragged Playing and Heavy Hitting Features of Second Home Game of Year

In a sloppily played game last Saturday afternoon on Weston Field, the varsity nine secured its second victory of the season by defeating Union by the score of 4 to 3. Although the visitors were outthrust throughout the game, the Purple seemed unable to make its hits count for runs and the game was in doubt until the eighth inning when Roth scored the winning tally on Boyden's single to right field.

During the first four innings, the Williams nine exhibited a loose brand of baseball. Errors and misplays were frequent and the Garnet scored three times in the third inning, although Gilbert and Hanley were the only men to get safe hits. Only sixteen men, however, faced McLean in the last five innings of play, and in the sixth Mason made a sensational barehanded catch of Bartley's hot grounder through second base and Manning retired the side by catching his difficult throw to first.

Gilbert, who was on the mound for the opposing team, pitched a steady game and his fast ball for a while bewildered the Williams batters. McLean, who was rather erratic for a few innings, steadied down after the fourth and held the opposing batsmen at his mercy for the remainder of the game. The batting honors went to Roth, who secured four hits out of four times at bat. Brown and Boydner of Williams and Gilbert of Union were also successful at the bat, the latter smashing a three bagger in the third inning which hit the track near the left field bleachers and bounded up the embankment.

Union secured all its runs in the third inning when two errors and two hits accounted for three runs. Bartley drew a base on balls, and went to third when Mallory made first on an error by Manning. Finn's throw to Mason was slightly wild and the latter fumbled it, letting Bartley tally, while Mallory stole second base. Gilbert then hit his three bagger to left field, scoring Mallory from second run. Reynolds was out on a fly to Brown. Beaver walked but was put out at third when Hanley singled, tallying Gilbert. Mason retired the side by catching Wittner's fly.

Williams came back in the fourth inning with one run. Finn got on base when the Union center fielder dropped a fly. Roth singled and Finn was caught while trying to score. Roth scored when Boydner hit to right field.

The Purple tied the score in the next inning by gathering three hits off Gilbert and by an error by Reynolds, the Union center fielder. Brown, the first to bat, got a two base hit, and came home when Finn singled. Roth then reached first on a single to center field. Finn was caught by the catcher while trying to score, but Reynolds let Wittner's return throw by, and Roth scored on the error. Papin grounded out to Gilbert retiring the side.

Neither team scored again until the eighth inning when two singles and a sacrifice brought in the winning tally. Roth went to first on his fourth hit of the game. Papin sacrificed, advancing him to second. Boydner's single brought him home with the winning run.

The box score follows:

Purple Team Takes First Place in Nine Events—Williams Strong in Distances

Williams easily defeated Union in the first track meet of the season, for both teams, held last Saturday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock on Weston Field. The final score was 83 to 43, the Purple athletes taking first in nine of the fourteen events and tying for first in two others.

Kieser '20, who won the 440-yard dash and the running broad jump and tied Potter of Union for first in the 100-yard dash, was the individual star of the meet. Greeff '19 came next with ten points to his credit, breasting the tape in both hurdle events about five yards ahead of his nearest competitors.

Williams proved itself to be much stronger in the distance runs. The Purple track men took the first three places in the mile and half mile and first and second in the two mile runs. H. H. Brown '20, the New England champion two miler, easily won from his nearest rival in the longest distance event and found it unnecessary to sprint at the finish. The Garnet men, however, showed themselves to be superior to their opponents in the weight events, taking first and third in both the discus and hammer throws and second and third in the shot put. Owing to the fact that Hanley, the star weight man for Union, was on the baseball team, these events were run off intermittently, he being able to take part in the track meet only when his team was at bat.

The summary is as follows:

100-yard dash—Potter of Union and Kieser of Williams tied for first; third, Graubart of Union; time, 10 4-5 seconds.

220-yard dash—Graubart of Union and Allen of Williams tied for first; third, Stevens of Union; time, 24 2-5 seconds.

440-yard dash—won by Kieser of Williams; second, Potter of Union; third, Olson of Williams; time, 54 seconds.

880-yard run—won by Stewart of Williams; second, Kellogg of Williams; third, Penfield of Williams; time, 2 minutes, 2 2-5 seconds.

One mile run—won by Parker of Williams; second, Coan of Williams; third, Joslyn of Williams; time, 4 minutes, 45 2-5 seconds.

Two mile run—won by H. H. Brown of Williams; second, Crofts of Williams; third, Dean of Union; time, 10 minutes, 24 4-5 seconds.

220-yard low hurdles—won by Greeff of Williams; second, Lyman of Union; third, Dana of Williams; time, 27 4-5 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles—won by Greeff of Williams; second, Phillips of Williams; third, Rapelje of Union; time, 19 seconds.

Shot put—won by Mills of Williams; second, Hanley of Union; third, Beekman of Union; distance, 34 feet, 2 inches.

Hammer throw—won by Beekman of Union; second, Sidley of Williams; third, Hanley of Union; distance, 111 feet, 3 inches.

Discus throw—won by Hanley of Union; second, Fieser of Williams; third, Beekman of Union; distance, 102 feet, 10 inches.

Running broad jump—won by Kieser of Williams; second, Lyman of Union; third, Wickwire of Williams; distance, 20 feet, 3 inches.

High jump—won by Rapelje of Union; second, Anderson of Williams; Wallace

The question of legislation to limit the individual's participation in non-athletic extra-curriculum activities is receiving the attention of the Student Council at present. A committee has been appointed to draw up a plan to this effect, and indications point to its coming before the College for its approval or disapproval in the near future. It is a matter which deserves the careful consideration of all undergraduates, and a little thought on the subject would not be amiss before any decisions are made.

Swimming Re-Appears

The attention of all swimmers is called to the announcement in another column concerning the meet to be held on May 21 and 22. Since 1917 there has been no swimming team, and but three veterans of 1917 are at present in College. The coming meet marks the revival of the sport in Williams. Valuable medals will be given for places in the meet as a further incentive to entries, and Captain Davis and the other members of former teams will be in the Gymnasium at regular times to help those who want practice. This is the only way to develop material and make possible a successful season in the ensuing year. In order that the plan may be assured of success the participation of all swimmers, plungers, and divers is essential, both in the meet and in the practice.

"Purple Cow" Board to Meet

Material for the houseparty issue of the Purple Cow will be considered at the first meeting of the 1920 board this evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall. Competitors must hand in all offerings at this time. The houseparty issue will appear on May 30, and will be the last issue this spring.

Greylock Alterations Complete

Extensive alterations and repairs which have been under way in the Greylock Hotel since last March have been completed, according to Mr. Teague, the manager, and the building is now open for inspection, although it will not be opened for business until May 24. The redecorations, which were made necessary by the $18,000 fire last October, include new windows, a new hardwood floor, and a paneled ceiling in the lounge on the first floor, the installation of a fireproof elevator, new lighting arrangements, and various other changes and improvements designed to make the hotel more attractive.

Finals of Van Vechten Contest

Final trials in the Van Vechten Extemporaneous Speaking Contest will be held in the Common Room Monday evening at 8.15 o'clock and Tuesday afternoon at 4.45 o'clock. The six men who have competed in the previous trials are Bonner, Leeming, and Powers '18, Albert, Greeff, and Parker '19 who will again deliver six minute speeches on subjects given them an hour before the contest.

Rushing Pact to Be Considered

With the amendments made at the meeting of the Interfraternity Council held a week ago Saturday, the new rushing agreement will be submitted to the fourteen fraternities for consideration Tuesday. This discussion previous to the casting of a final vote is necessitated by the fact that the majority which is against the talking of fraternity matters during the rushing season is not unanimous. Final action on the agreement is expected to follow this discussion.

HAND-TAILORING gives something to a suit of clothes or a Topcoat, which is absolutely essential to style. It gives it character and tone and exerts a softening influence on its lines. Add to these considerations, soft-finish chevots and flannels and worsteds, and you have a combination which no machine-work can approach and no custom tailor improve. We know you will like the models, and the fabrics, and you cannot get anything finer in the shape of workmanship and finish.

Two American and two National league games were played in the Intramural Baseball Series last Friday afternoon. Several postponed games still remain to be completed, but every team in each league has now played at least one game, and the race for the pennant is well under way.

The best game of the afternoon was between Psi Upsilon and the Faculty Club. It was necessary to play two extra innings before either team could break the 5-5 tie, but in the seventh session Agard's arm tired and the Psi Upsilon batters piled up six runs, making the final score 11-5. The other National League contest resulted in a walkaway for Phi Delta Theta over Delta Psi, 18-1. The victors piled up 15 runs in the first inning on several long hits and errors by the opposing players, and Fleming held the Delta Psi nine down during the rest of the game.

In the National League Zeta Psi managed to hit Lyon, the Chi Psi pitcher, freely, and aided by errors won by a 9-2 score. The remaining game, between Kappa Alpha and Sigma Phi, resulted in a 7-5 victory for the former team. Stanley, who started in the box for Sigma Phi, forced in two runs on passes in the first inning, giving the victors a lead which was not overcome during the rest of the contest.

Postpone Declamation Contest

Freshmen who wish to enter the Freshman Declamation Contest must hand their names and selections to Mr. Griseom today or tomorrow. This contest was scheduled for next Friday, but has been indefinitely postponed.

To Discuss Prison Reform

Evan W. Thomas will speak on the subject of "Prisons Today and Tomorrow" at an open meeting of the Williams Forum at eight o'clock this evening in the Jesup Hall Auditorium. As an inmate of Leavenworth Prison for three months, Mr. Thomas can give much first-hand information on the important question of prison reform. He will, however, not confine himself to his personal experiences, but will discuss the topic in a general way. Mr. Thomas is a recognized authority on the subject and has contributed articles to the Survey and the World's Moral. Following his address, the Forum will be opened as usual for public discussion.

LOAN CAMPAIGN LAGS

Less Than Half of Town's Quota Has Been Subscribed

About $100,000 out of Williamstown's quota of $231,000 has been subscribed in the Victory Liberty Loan, according to a statement issued last evening by Mr. F. C. Moore, chairman of the local committee. The campaign ends next Saturday, by which time all money must be in.

Mr. Moore has appointed as canvassers 25 men who will cover Williamstown as thoroughly as possible. Since they will not be able to see everybody, however, Mr. Moore urges that all persons able to buy bonds do so at the Williamstown National Bank without waiting to be interviewed.

It is impossible to state how fast the Loan is progressing among the undergraduates, since Mr. W. C. Hart, chairman of the committee for the College, was called out of town Saturday, and left no record of the subscriptions to date. On last Thursday only $2550 had been received at the Williamstown National Bank from students, but this did not represent the total amount pledged, since many of the men who are conducting the drive at the various fraternity and eating houses had not reported at that time. Although no definite quota has been set for the College, it is hoped that $20,000, the mark set for the second Liberty Loan in 1917 will be reached. At that time, when the College was in fairly normal condition, $24,750, an oversubscription of 25%, was pledged by the undergraduates. The men who are assisting Mr. Hart at the various eating places are as follows: Bowen, Rogers, Thurber '18; Bernard, Drew, Hegardt, Hoyt, Goodrich, R. H. Smith, Spencer, Wyckoff '19; Hutton and Stites '20.

COLLEGE GETS COINS

Mr. James W. Bullock '81 Gives Valuable Collection

Williams College has received a very valuable collection of ancient Roman coins through the generosity of Mr. James W. Bullock '81, of Cincinnati and Williamstown. Taken as a whole, this collection is without doubt one of the finest now in the possession of any college or university in the country. The University of Cincinnati, the Cincinnati Museum, and Historical Society were all eager to acquire it.

The collection contains more than 500 specimens of the finest quality, ranging from the time of the early Republic to the end of the twelfth century after Christ, and is both comprehensive and representative. Beside the coins of the Western Roman Empire and those of the Gothic kingdoms of Italy, there are a large number of specimens of the currency of the Eastern Empire. Many of the coins are exceedingly rare. The first and third century after Christ are best represented with nearly 100 coins of each.

GUN CLUB ORGANIZED

Meeting Adopts Constitution and Elects Officers

With 21 men as a nucleus for future growth the Williams Gun Club has been formally organized. The following officers were elected for one year: President—Behre '20; Vice-President—Keegan '21; Secretary-Treasurer—C. M. Smith '20. The main features of the constitution provide for membership eligibility and for annual dues of two dollars per member.

Information has just been received from the United States Government that rifles and ammunition will be furnished free to civilians in the same manner in which the government supplied those articles before the war. The Gun Club expects to enter a team in the National Matches held at the Navy Rifle Range, Caldwell, New Jersey, sometime during the month of August. In order to get an estimate of the number of men for whom it will be necessary to secure rifles and ammunition from the government, the Gun Club requests every man interested in rifle shooting to hand his name to one of the officers of the club. This will imply absolutely no obligation on his part.

Traps have already been sent for, and opportunities for trap-shooting will be offered members by the middle of May. The Gun Club at present consists of the following members: Spencer '19, Behre, Carey, C. M. Smith, Sutton '20, Carman, Huyek, S. Irwin, Keegan, Painter, Wagner '21, Burger, Davis, Ewing, Field, Loizeaux, W. H. Prescott, Schaffler, H. C. Smith, Wilson '22, and Professor Kellogg.

Taft Game Cancelled

Faculty action at Taft School has caused the cancellation of the game scheduled with the freshman team on May 10 at Williamstown. The Taft authorities have barred all games outside of a seventy-five mile radius. Since this date has not been filled, the first game for the 1921 nine will be with Pawling on May 17.

PLAN SWIMMING MEET

May 21 and 22 have been selected as the dates for a College swimming meet to be held in the pool in the Lasell Gymnasium. The customary events will be run off, and Captain Davis '19, of last year's swimming team, is now making out the detailed schedule. The meet will be open to all undergraduates. Prizes in the form of gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded for the first three places in each of the eight or ten events.

As there are very few varsity men left in College, this meet offers an exceptional opportunity, since it will be practically the only means of ascertaining next year's material. It will also take the place of the annual novice meet, which is usually held in the fall. Williams was not been represented by a varsity swimming team since 1917, but there is every indication that the sport will be resumed next year on the old basis. Notices for registration for the events will be given out at a later date.

Much Smoke at Vassar

According to an article in the Vassar Miscellany News, the famous story recently published in Metropolitan newspapers concerning the efforts of the faculty of that institution to suppress smoking among the undergraduates, has been traced to its source. Said source, states the News, was an "over-confidential Vassar girl and her amused fiancé", who started the report which "made anxious mothers withdraw the registration of their daughters from the class of 1932."

WILLIAMS CLUB GAINS ADDITIONAL BUILDING

LEASED BY MRS. THOMPSON

Donor of Many College Buildings Makes Large Increase of Old Space Possible

Mrs. Frederick F. Thompson has made it possible for the Williams Club, now located at 291 Madison Ave., New York City, to lease from her the adjoining building, which will more than double the accommodations now available. Last December Mrs. Thompson, who also owns the present quarters of the Club, granted a renewal of that lease upon most generous terms.

Mrs. Thompson, whose husband was for many years a benefactor and trustee of the College, has shown her strong interest in Williams since his death by many large and munificent gifts. She donated the Physical, Biological, and old and new Chemical Laboratories, the Chapel, and the Infirmary. Among her other gifts is the fund to be used for the Thompson Course of lectures and entertainments.

The Club will combine its old and new quarters and will operate both buildings as one. This arrangement will greatly increase the number of sleeping rooms and will make it possible to enlarge the dining room and other facilities of the Club.

Although more than 50 per cent of its members have been in the service of the country in various capacities, the last year has been a prosperous one for the Club. Organized in 1913, this community of Williams men has steadily increased in membership to nearly 1000, and of late it has been difficult to meet the demands made upon its space and operating staff.

WESLEYAN TO MEET WILLIAMS ON TRACK

RED AND BLACK IS STRONG

Close Contest Is Expected—Teams Are Evenly Matched on Track and Field

Williams will face Wesleyan in the second track meet of the season for both colleges tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock on Weston Field. This meet is expected to be closely contested as the Red and Black squad is one of the strongest that the college has put out in several years, and slight changes and more practice have resulted in marked improvements in the Purple team.

Coach Seeley has made several slight changes in the list of entries, among which is the placing of H. H. Brown '19 in the mile run as well as the two mile run. Kieser '20 is again expected to be a winner in the dashes and the running broad jump, and Greff '19, and Mills and Parker '20 are counted on to place high in their events. Although the squad has been handicapped in its practice by the wet condition of the track, improvement has been shown, and Coach Seeley expects the team to be in good shape for the meet tomorrow.

In the dual contest with the New York University last Saturday, Burbank, Gale, and Anderson were the stars for Wesleyan. Burbank showed up well in the dashes and hurdles, Gale in the middle and long distance runs, and Anderson in the weight events. The Red and Black scored 93 of the 126 possible points, taking first in eleven events, but none of the times or distances were exceptional. They were, however, in several cases slightly under those of the Williams-Union meet last Saturday.

Wesleyan seems to be strongest in the distance runs and weakest in the dashes. Williams, however, is equal to the Red and Black in the distances and seems to have the edge on her in the shorter runs. In the field events both

TO GIVE DEGREES FOR THREE YEARS

Trustees Decide to Award
Honorary B. A. Degrees to Men Who Entered Service

ANNOUNCE $50,000 GIFT

Fail to Take Action on Proposed Library and Changes in College Curriculum

With the exception of a decision regarding the award of honorary degrees for war service, the Board of Trustees took definite action on no important matters at the regular May meeting held yesterday. Plans for the proposed new library and for curriculum changes were discussed, but no final decision was reached.

Several gifts to the college were also made public at this time, and the regular business of appointment and reappointment of members of the faculty was concluded. It was also decided that the College will issue a publication describing in detail the participation of Williams men in the war, and that Mr. Frederick T. Wood '98, president of the Williams Club of New York City, will be editor-in-chief of the book.

In regard to the conferring of degrees, two decisions were made. The first was that: "A regular Bachelor of Arts degree in Course shall be conferred upon any student who, having satisfactorily completed the work of the first semester of senior year, entered war service, and received an honorable discharge therefrom, provided that in the judgment of the advisory committee of the faculty he had at the time of withdrawal fulfilled the requirements of the curriculum on a basis of seven semesters." The second statement provides that: "An honorary Bachelor of Arts degree shall be conferred upon any student who having satisfactorily completed the work of six semesters, entered war service, and received an honorable discharge therefrom, provided that in the judgment of the advisory committee of the faculty he had at the time of withdrawal fulfilled the requirements of the curriculum on a basis of six semesters."

The largest gift to the College announced at this time was that of Mr. Samuel Hopkins of New York City, who has given $50,000 in 6% New York Central Railroad bonds, to increase the Samuel Hopkins Memorial Fund, established in 1918 for the purpose of assisting in the payment of the salaries of the faculty. [Mr. Eugene Delano '66 has

WEST POINT FACES VARSITY TOMORROW

TEAM GREATLY IMPROVED

Williams' Opponents Have Won Six of Nine Games Played—Defeated Union

Fresh from its 10-2 victory over the strong Colgate nine yesterday, the varsity baseball team will meet the United States Military Academy tomorrow afternoon at West Point in the fourth game of the season. The opposing team has won six of the nine games which it has played this spring, and the contest tomorrow should prove one of the closest and most exciting on the Williams schedule.

Although West Point has suffered defeat from three teams this season, its nine has proved its ability to hit and has succeeded in overcoming Lehigh and Union by decisive scores. The Army started its schedule by losing to Seton Hall by a score of 5-4, but came back and took its next game from Boston College 3-1. Since it has defeated Manhattan College 6-1, Lafayette 2-1, Lehigh 12-2, Union 13-7, Villanova 2-1, and has been defeated by Tufts in an unequal contest by a score of 12-1 and by Penn State yesterday 7-2. Union is the only team which both Williams and West Point have played and the latter defeated her by far the more decisive score. The remarkable hitting of the varsity in yesterday's game with Colgate and the decided improvement in fielding since the Union game indicate, however, that the chances are bright for a victory over the Army.

McLean will start the game tomorrow in the pitcher's box and Papin will take his place in left field. Brown, who has shown up so well in the last two games will cover third base. This was a rather weak point on the varsity's line-up until Coach Thomas picked him for the position.

Either McGrath, Milton or Polk will pitch for West Point. McGrath is a reliable man and has shown his ability in holding the strong Villanova team to one run last Saturday in spite of four errors by his teammates.

The probable lineup follows:—

WILLIAMS	ARMY
Callahan ss	Dominney 3b
Mason 2b	Wildie ss
Brown 3b	Tate (Capt.) 2b
Manning 1b	McCarty c
Papin lf	Homen rf
Finn c	Billo lb
Roth cf	Johnson lf
Boydner rf	Lystad cf

TRUSTEE FILLS PULPIT

Dr. H. P. Dewey to Preach at Chapel Service Sunday

The Rev. Harry P. Dewey, pastor of the Plymouth Church of Minneapolis, Minn., will occupy the College pulpit at the regular service next Sunday morning. Dr. Dewey was graduated from Williams in 1884 and awarded the degree of Bachelor of Divinity from Andover Theological Seminary in 1887. This was followed in 1898 by a D.D. degree from Dartmouth. He was ordained into the Congregational ministry in 1887 and was immediately made pastor of South Church, Concord, N. H., a pastorate that he held until 1900 when he accepted a call to the Church of the Pilgrims in Brooklyn, N. Y. After seven years there, he left to occupy his present pulpit in Minneapolis, Minn. He is a trustee of Williams College, Andover Theological Seminary, and Carleton College.

Dr. Dewey will conduct the communion service in the afternoon which will take the place of the regular vespers.

WILLIAMS DEFEATS STRONG MAROON NINE

Colgate Is Overwhelmed by Decisive Score of 10 to 2 in Third Contest of Season

PURPLE SCORES 13 HITS

McLean and Roth Share Batting
Honors of Game—Six Tallies
Scored in Seventh Inning

Outplaying their opponents in every department of the game, the Williams nine triumphed over the strong Colgate team yesterday afternoon on Weston Field by a decisive 10-2 score. From the very first inning, right through to the end, the home team displayed its superiority over the visitors, in fielding as well as batting. McLean and Roth sharing the honors in the latter department. In fact the whole team showed such a hitting streak, that Colgate was forced to use three men in the box.

Williams lost no time in getting started. After retiring the Maroon nine in short order in the first inning, the Purple came to bat. Callahan struck out, but Mason reached first on an error by short stop, and Brown was given a walk. On Manning's scratch hit Mason scored and Brown reached third, crossing the plate immediately after Cotterell threw wild to first. Finn reached first base on a fielder's choice which retired Manning, and advanced to second on Roth's safety to center. McLean was safe at first on a fielder's choice and Finn came home on a wild throw from second to catcher, making the third run of the inning. Boydner retired the side with a fly to right field. At this juncture Laird was taken out of the box and Miller put in his place. The former was used against West Virginia recently, when he shut them out 1-0. In this game he allowed only two men to reach first, and but one gained second.

Colgate scored her first run in the second inning. Steffen gained first on Callahan's error, made second when Barnes was tossed out, pitcher to first, and tallied when Brown missed Manning's throw to third. Schilling fled to Callahan, Hangerford walked, and Cunningham fouled out to Brown, retiring the side.

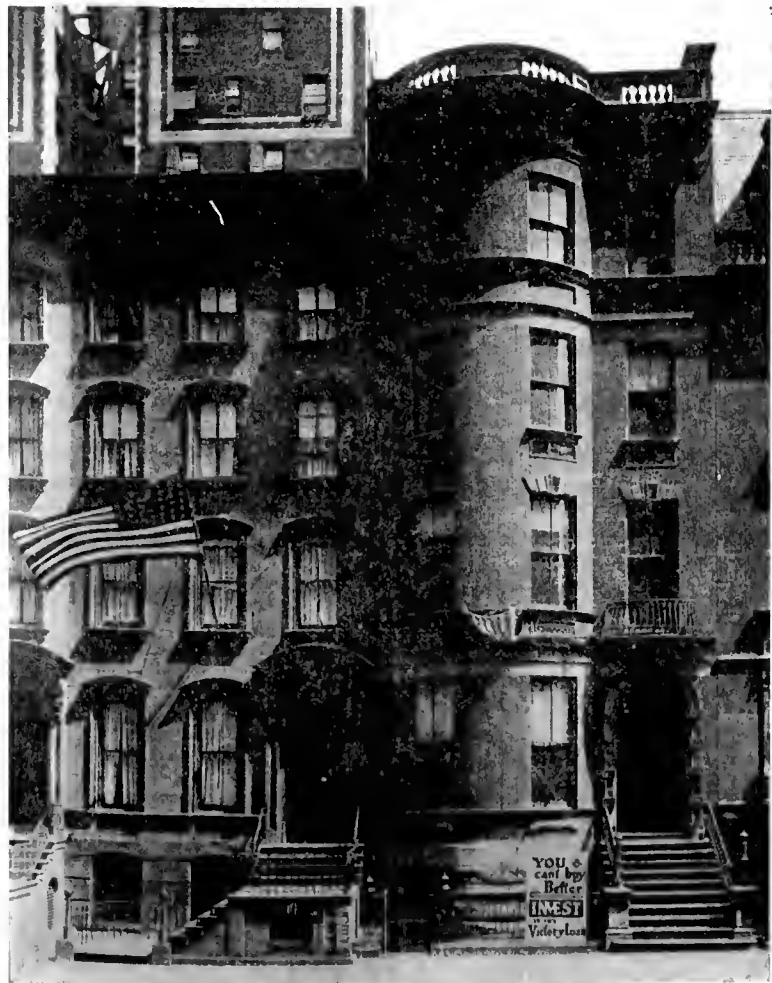

In the next inning the Maroon scored its last run of the game. Miller made first on Callahan's fumble, went to second when Cotterell was put out at first and reached home on McBride's double to left field. Durger and Steffen were both retired on grounders, short to first.

Williams came near scoring again in the last of the third. Finn doubled to left field, Roth was passed on balls, and each advanced a base on McLean's single. With none out and the bases filled, Miller, the opposing pitcher took a brace and succeeded in retiring the side without a score. Finn was forced out at home, third to catcher, Burrows fanned, and Callahan knocked a popfly to left field.

The fifth inning was marked by another tally for the Williams nine. Roth hit a long double to center, and crossed the plate on McLean's hit to left field. McLean advanced to third but was tagged out on a throw from first, Boydner and Burrows both failing to reach first.

It was in the latter part of the seventh that Williams clinched the contest by scoring six runs. The home team found little difficulty in hitting the new Colgate moundsman, Leonard, for five safeties, who also walked two men, thus forcing in one run. Finn led off with a single to left but was caught at second on a throw from pitcher, Roth being allowed to gain first on a fielder's choice. McLean hit safely for the third time, sending

Vol. 33 May 9, 1919 No. 14

Back in 1914 a committee of the Trustees was appointed to examine into the condition of the College Library. Their report was strongly in favor of a new building, which would centralize the whole thing and put all the books under one roof, give them adequate shelf space, and afford proper facilities for their use. An evil was recognized. In 1919 the trustees meet and discuss the library question, and defer action.

Back in 1914 a revision of the freshman curriculum was promised for the near future. The evils of the then and still existing system were recognized. In 1919 the Trustees meet and discuss, and maybe someday the curriculum will be revised.

All is not darkness, though. Thought rarely goes on forever without some sort of action resulting from it, and in one respect the Trustees did act, and act most manfully. Just as energetic agitation on the subject was starting from the outside, they knocked down and trampled on the precedent scare-crow and decided to grant degrees to the fighting sons of Alma Mater who were called from her service to that of their country. We cannot applaud too loudly the manner in which the Trustees have shown their pride in the men who helped make the record of Williams in the war second to that of no other institution of its kind.

The Enlarged Williams Club

One of the most welcome pieces of news that have recently reached the ears of Williams men is that announcing the expansion of the Williams Club in New York City. The old establishment has been since its foundation a very popular meeting place among the alumni, but its popularity has recently had the effect of overcrowding. The membership has grown enormously and the facilities have been hard put to it to keep pace with the demands. This last token of the splendid interests of Mrs. F. F. Thompson, the donor of the Thompson Course of entertainments in the College, now enables the Club to increase its capacity. Such an improvement cannot fail to increase the value of the Club as a meeting place for Williams men of all ages, and thus to strengthen the feeling of unity among them and further their interest in the College. It is distinctly a feather in the cap of the Williams Club that while many similar organizations of other colleges and universities are finding themselves forced into combinations in order to live, it actually enlarges its own capacity and continues to stand on its own feet.

The present club building is in a way unique among its kind. It resembles in no way the formal, cold type of many similar establishments. The place is full of Williams atmosphere, from top to bottom, and with this atmosphere there goes a feeling of informality and friendliness that has undoubtedly been the greatest single cause of the success of the Club. If the enlargement of the building and the increase of its facilities should be allowed to mar the harmony by its newness, by its largeness, or by the general tone of its decoration and finishing, an irretrievable mistake will have been made. Those who are in charge of the details of the addition have the responsibility of this large order to fill.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Williams Record:

In many respects, Williams is now on a pre-war basis, but there still remains much to be done in the way of reconstruction. Williams surely cannot afford to be niggardly, or backward in that work.

About a year ago this time, "Doc" Barrett, trainer of our teams and a loyal worker for the college during the last twenty years, left to enter the Air Service, being one of the first to answer Walter Camp's appeal for men of this type. The signing of the armistice is now six months behind us but as yet nothing definite has been done to secure "Doc's" services for the future. In one of Great Britain's colonies a fine of $4000 is imposed upon any person who fails to re-hire a pre-war employee, but surely no such regulation is needed at Williams where we pride ourselves so much on our patriotism.

Patriotic reasons alone should prove sufficient for getting "Doc" back, but, when you add to those his twenty years' faithful and valuable service, the lack of action on the part of the Athletic Council seems deplorable. It is true they have brought the matter up for consideration within the last few weeks but this should have been done months ago and at least an attempt made to get into communication with "Doc" on the subject.

The important part of the baseball and track seasons is still ahead of us, and no one thing is going to help more in making these two major sports a success this year than the return of "Doc" Barrett. Let us hope the Athletic Council delays no longer but takes immediate action where the good name of the college as well as justice is at stake.

Williams Defeats Strong Maroon Nine

Roth to second, and Boyden filled the bases by drawing a pass. Burrows also walked, forcing in the first run, and Callahan was responsible for the next one when he placed the ball just out of reach of the first baseman. The bases were filled when Mason made a pretty hit to center field, upon which Boyden tallied. But Cotterell missed the throw to third, and then threw wild to first, allowing Burrows, Callahan, and Mason to reach home. Brown was retired on a throw from second to first, and Manning hit for one base to right field, but after stealing second, was tagged out for over-sliding the bag.

MUSICAL CLUBS ELECT

Perry to Head Glee Club and Power Mandolin Club

Arthur Bliss Perry 1920 of Cambridge, Mass., was elected leader of the Glee Club and Edward Welles Power 1920 of St. Paul, Minn., was chosen to lead the Mandolin Club, for the ensuing year, at a meeting of the Combined Musical Clubs last Monday evening in the Reading Room of Jesup Hall. Both men have been members of the clubs since their freshman year.

Perry prepared for Williams at the Browne and Nichols School, Cambridge, where he was captain of the baseball team and class editor of the school paper. In his first year in college, he was the winner of the Freshman Declaration Contest. He has been on the baseball squad for the last two years and on the cross country team. Last winter he was elected to the 1920 Gulielmian board. He is a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

Power prepared for college at the Hotchkiss School, where he was a member of the editorial board of the school paper. Since entering Williams, he has played on his class baseball and hockey teams and has been a member of the varsity track squad. He is now business manager of the Record. Last January he was elected treasurer of his class. He is a member of the Cercle Francais and the Zeta Psi fraternity.

Honor Cornell's Part in War

In honor of the Cornell men who were in the service during the war a mass meeting was held in Bailey Hall, Ithaca, last Saturday night. Among the speakers were the Dean, one of the professors, and two men who had come directly from the trenches in France. Madame Marni and Miss Scott, two well-known operatic stars, were present at the meeting, which was also for the purpose of helping the Victory Loan campaign.

TRUSTEE GIVES TALK

Clark Williams '92 Tells of Experiences in France

Giving an interesting account of his work as a Red Cross official in France, Mr. Clark Williams '92 spoke before members of the Faculty at the Faculty Club last Wednesday evening. The speaker also exhibited a large number of war relics comprising one of the most complete private collections which has been seen in this country.

Mr. Williams went to France in April, 1918, and was placed in charge of the Red Cross field stations with the First Division, arriving at the front during the opening hours of the battle of Cantigny. The description of his experiences during that battle constituted one of the most interesting items of his talk. After several days of hard fighting, the First Division was withdrawn to a rest camp in the rear, but was soon sent back to the front line on the Soissons sector. The division suffered heavy losses in the ensuing action, and the 7500 casualties soon caused a serious shortage of medical supplies and suitable food for the wounded. Mr. Williams relieved the situation by making a speedy trip to Paris by automobile and returning with several camion loads of the needed supplies.

The next action in which the First Division was engaged was on the St. Mihiel salient, and it was in connection with this battle that the speaker revealed some interesting facts which are not extensively known. St. Mihiel was an "advertised scrap" and full information of the proposed attack was allowed to leak through to German headquarters. It was hoped that the extent of the preparations made by the American forces would cause the Boches to think seriously of preliminary withdrawal from the endangered territory. That the plan was partially successful was shown by the comparatively weak resistance offered to the advancing Americans and the fact that the First Division suffered only 750 casualties as against 7500 casualties in the Soissons sector. Fighting in the Argonne region followed St. Mihiel and it was after the battle of Argonne Forest that Mr. Williams was promoted to one of the most responsible positions in the Red Cross organization at the front.

The speaker told of his various interesting experiences during air raids and bombardments and concluded his talk with a brief description of the collection of pistols, bayonets, helmets, and many other relics picked up on the battlefields of France.

Swimming Schedule Has Been Announced

The schedule for the swimming meet to be held on May 21 and 22 has just been announced. Seven events should offer plenty of opportunity for developing new material for next year's swimming team, and all men who have had previous experience as well as all other candidates are particularly urged to compete. Captain Davis, Wynian '19 and Olmsted '20 will be in the pool every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon from 4.30 to 5.30 for the purpose of giving swimming instruction to those who desire it. The schedule of events follows:

May 21—20 yard swim, back stroke (2 lengths of pool), Plunge, breast stroke (2 lengths of pool).

May 22—100 yard swim, Fancy dive (3 required and 3 optional dives), 220 yard swim.

Indian Nobility Visits Vassar

Vassar was honored with the visit of an Indian Begum and two or three other notables from the same region during the latter part of April. "We find you Vassar girls very lovely. You are so smart and neat in appearance. And your expressions, they are all so happy and contented!" said Her Highness, Begum of Janjira, in an interview graciously granted to the Miscellany News.

Treasurer's Notice

Drawing for a choice of rooms for the College year commencing next September will begin next Monday in the Office of the Treasurer, Hopkins Hall. The schedule for the drawings is as follows: 1920—Monday, May 12, at 4.30 o'clock; 1921—Wednesday, May 14, at 4.30 o'clock; 1922—Saturday, May 17, at 1.00 o'clock. The attention of all students is called to the provision in the College Laws to the effect that advance payment for the first semester must be made at the time that the room is assigned.

W. E. Hoyt,
Treasurer.

Final W. C. A. Meeting Sunday

Professor Long and Coach Thomas will speak at the last meeting of the year of the Williams Christian Association to be held Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Reading Room of Jesup Hall. The gathering, which will be very informal, will assume the character of a get-together. Coach Thomas will speak on Williams spirit and Professor Long has as his general subject "The Transformation of the Undergraduate". In addition to the speeches there will be singing of Williams songs as well as of hymns.

Council to Pass on Agreement

A meeting of the Interfraternity Council will be held tonight at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall to count the signatures already received on the Interfraternity Agreement which has been posted in the various fraternity houses for the last few days, and also to make a final ratification of the pact. This will render it binding on everyone if passed.

Tug O' War Postponed

On account of the short time for practice allowed to the baseball squad during the past week before the Colgate game, the Annual Sophomore-Freshman Tug o' War, scheduled for last Tuesday, was postponed. A new date has not been set as yet, but will be fixed within the next few days.

Underclass Debate Postponed

On account of the lack of interest of the underclassmen, the annual Freshman-Sophomore debate has been postponed indefinitely. The debate may take place next fall in order to test out the new method of holding debates on the "twenty four plan".

ALUMNI NOTES

'14—Joseph P. Cochran, after completing his training as an interne in the Brooklyn Hospital last month, has gone to Minneapolis for an indefinite stay. He is under appointment to be sent as a medical missionary to the West Persia Mission by the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions.

'16—Alden Hawkins has returned to his position with the American Hosiery Co., of New Britain, Conn., following his discharge from the army.

'18—Mr. and Mrs. Willard Woodward of New York City announce that the marriage of their daughter, Miss May Woodward, to Tully O. Buckner will take place on May 24.

'20—William H. Bulkley has entered the insurance business in Hartford, Conn.

PLAY UNION IN TENNIS

Match Will Take Place Tomorrow on College Courts

Union will be Williams' opponent in the second tennis match of the season, which will take place on the College courts at 1.30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The team will probably play in the following order: Fraker '21, Pollard '20 (captain), Rowse '22, and Shepard '18 or R. Harden '20.

The Williams men have had some good practice this week and are in excellent condition for the contest. The scores of three of the matches at Dartmouth last week were exceedingly close, and since that time the players have shown a marked improvement. On the whole, prospects for a victory seem bright. Nothing is known concerning the Union team.

"Doc" Barrett Here on Leave

Lieutenant Charles E. Barrett, pilot in the U. S. Aviation Corps, and for many years trainer for all Williams teams is now at Williamstown on a ten-day leave. Lt. Barrett entered the air service in the spring of 1917 and was soon commissioned and won his wings. He is now attached to Rockwell Field, San Diego, Cal., where he has charge of all the athletics for the field. He has been very successful as football coach; his team, composed of college stars from all over the country, winning every game but one last fall. As a recognition of his services as coach and trainer, the team presented him with a very beautiful gold signet ring with the spreading eagle insignia of the Aviation Corps. His baseball team, on which are many minor league players, has also made a remarkable record.

Intramural Games this Week

Six baseball games compose the regular schedule of the American and National Leagues for the next four days. They are as follows:

American League: Friday, May 9—Zeta Psi vs. Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Phi vs. Commons Club; Monday, May 12—Beta Theta Pi vs. Chi Psi.

National League: Friday, May 9—Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Psi Upsilon; Monday, May 12—Phi Delta Theta vs. Faculty, Alpha Delta Phi vs. Theta Delta Chi.

Seniors Take Out Policies

At the 1919 class meeting held last night in Jesup Hall, the seniors elected Albert '19 class broker and authorized him to conduct the business with regard to the insurance policies usually taken out every year by the seniors in behalf of the college. At the same time Gale, Durant and Gale of Pittsfield was specified as the firm to which the policies would be given.

Three American League games and one in the National League were played in the Intramural Baseball Series last Monday afternoon on Cole Field. Only one contest, that between Alpha Delta Phi and Delta Upsilon, was scheduled, the others being postponed from previous dates.

Close scores prevailed in all the games of the afternoon, the hardest tilt taking place between the Alpha Delta Phi and Delta Upsilon nines. The final score favored Alpha Delta Phi, 5 to 4, but a rally in the last inning threatened for a time to turn the game into a victory for Delta Upsilon.

The first American League contest resulted in the 10 to 8 defeat of Delta Kappa Epsilon by Beta Theta Pi. The winners gained a three run lead in the first inning and maintained it throughout the five innings of play. The losers rallied in the fourth inning but threw the game away in the final frame through a series of costly errors. Wyman and Vroman played good games in the field and Kimball starred at the bat, with two singles and a home run to his credit.

Phi Gamma Delta met its first defeat of the season to the Commons Club in a loosely played game, 8 to 1. The combined efforts of Buell and Richardson in the pitcher's box failed to check the hitting of the Commons nine and several errors put Phi Gamma Delta at a decided disadvantage early in the contest. Wakeman pitched a steady game for the winners. In the third game in the American League Zeta Psi defeated Sigma Phi in a closely contested game by a score of 4 to 3. Both Stanley and Foster pitched a good brand of ball and most of the runs resulted from poor support on the part of both teams. The winners were outlived by their opponents but succeeded in scoring enough tallies to win by taking advantage of Sigma Phi errors.

1921 DEFEATS 1922

Sophomores Win from Freshmen in Interclass Baseball

1921 defeated 1922 by an 11 to 1 score in the second contest between the two classes in the Interclass Baseball Series, held last Monday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock on Cole Field. The game lasted five and one-half innings and was featured by the heavy hitting of the Sophomores and poor fielding of the Freshmen.

Newell and Roth '21 were the stars of the contest, the former holding his opponents to one hit and one run, and the latter singling three times out of three times at bat.

The Sophomores started the scoring in the first inning when Gay hit safely, was advanced to second on a sacrifice hit and crossed the plate on an error and another single. Five more runs were then made by the 1921 nine as a result of five errors, two hits, and a base on balls.

The score by innings is as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6
Freshmen	1	0	0	0	0	—1
Sophomores	6	2	0	1	2	—11

GOLFERS PLAY TWICE

Face Columbia this Afternoon and Penn. Tomorrow

Two matches, both of which will be played at the Nassau Club, Garden City, L. I., comprise the schedule of the week for the varsity golf team. This afternoon Williams faces Columbia, and tomorrow afternoon, the University of Pennsylvania will oppose the Purple. The varsity will probably play in the following order: Hegardt (Captain), Pierson, Black, Coleman, Adams, and Mordock.

Walker of the Columbia team has won several intercollegiate tournaments in the past and is considered a strong contender. Last Monday, however, the Columbia team was completely outclassed by the strong Georgia Tech team, losing 6 to 0. Little is known of the team representing Pennsylvania, aside from the fact that its playing thus far has been of rather a mediocre brand. Because of the recent rains the Williams team has had little opportunity for practicing, but the few clear days have shown that the driving has considerably improved over that exhibited in the last match, and indications point toward a victory.

MONTH OF APRIL COLD

Temperature Somewhat Low —Rainfall About Normal

For the month of April the temperature was below normal, but not excessively so, according to the report of the meteorological observations at the Williams College station. The rainfall was about normal.

The highest temperature during the month was 69 on April 23, and the lowest was 14 on April 2. This lowest temperature comes within one degree of the record during April for the last 20 years. A temperature of 19 on the morning of April 25 and of 21 on the following day are also excessively low for the last week in the month.

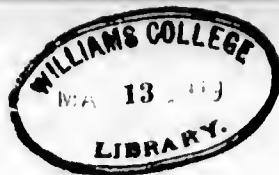

The average temperature for the month was 43.0 degrees, somewhat below the normal, which is 44.4 degrees. The coldest April during the last 20 years was in 1907, when the average was only 40.1 degrees.

The total precipitation was 3.18 inches. This is not far from the normal, which is 2.74 inches. The total snowfall was 2.0 inches, which is again close to the normal of 2.3 inches.

There were five clear days, four partly cloudy days, and 21 cloudy days during the month. Rain or snow fell on 16 days, and there was one day with thunder-showers.

W. and I. Takes Eight Straight

Washington and Lee University recently completed a record of eight consecutive victories by defeating Penn State, the University of North Carolina, and Virginia Polytechnic Institute within five days. The scores were 4-0, and 5-0 respectively. Mattox, the catcher, was the individual star of all three games, batting .667 for the trip.

FACULTY ANNOUNCES CURRICULUM CHANGES

ALL COURSES THREE HOURS

Latin or Greek Still Required for Freshmen—Sixty Year-Hours for Graduation

Changes in the curriculum of Williams College as announced during the past week by the Faculty deal chiefly with the courses to be taken by first year men. While Latin or Greek and a modern language remain compulsory, Freshmen now have their choice between Rhetoric 1-2 and a new course in American National Problems, and they may also take Physics 1-2 instead of Mathematics 1-2. Philosophy, which has hitherto been open only to upperclassmen, may now be taken Sophomore year. The only other changes are the placing of all courses on the basis of three hours a week and the fixing of 60 instead of 62 year-hours as the requirement for graduation.

The text of the complete statement issued by the Faculty follows:

Reorganization of the course of studies begun eight years ago is now completed. The changes introduced in September, 1911, applied only to the last three years of the college course, the present Major Group system being then inaugurated. It was realized that Freshman year also was in need of reconstruction, but this was left to be considered as a separate part of the general program after the readjustment of the three upper years should be made and tested. In the spring of 1914 this question was taken up and a carefully considered report was submitted to the Faculty by the Curriculum Committee during the year 1915-1916. The reasons for the changes now authorized were set forth in the President's Annual Report of 1914. The chief features of the revision are as follows:

In Freshman year the student is required to take five courses according to the following plan:

1 A required course in either Latin or Greek. Students offering Greek at entrance will take Greek 1-2; all others will take Latin 1-2.

2 A course continuing a modern language offered at entrance. The courses open to election under this requirement are French 3-4, French 5-6, German 3-4, German 5-6, Spanish 3-4, and Spanish 5-6. Students entering with Greek in place of a modern language are required, in case they offer no modern language at entrance, to elect a beginning language course.

3 Either Rhetoric 1-2 or American National Problems. Students who did not elect Rhetoric 1-2 in Freshman year and during that year are reported by their instructors in two or more courses as deficient in command of English are required to submit themselves to tests imposed by the Department of Rhetoric and if the results of these tests are unsatisfactory, to elect Rhetoric 1-2 in Sophomore year.

4 Either Mathematics 1-2 or Physics 1-2.

5 One of the courses already enumerated as open to Freshmen, or one of the following courses: French 1-2, German 1-2, Greek 21-22, and Spanish 1-2, except that not more than one beginning language course may be taken in Freshman year.

Credit in Spanish as a college course is given when passed by admission examination.

The course, American National Problems is intended to serve as a general introduction to modern political, industrial, and social problems in America and the modern world. The first semester will deal with problems of Government and International Relations, the second

WILLIAMS GOLF TEAM WINS DOUBLE VICTORY

Purple Wins Over Pennsylvania and Columbia—Team Proves Strong in Foursomes

Williams defeated Columbia University and the University of Pennsylvania last Friday and Saturday afternoons respectively by 12 to 3 and 6 to 3 scores on her opponents' links. In both matches Williams defeated her opponents in the foursomes, winning all of the points, but was not so strong in the singles.

In the contest with Columbia a drizzling rain and high wind made shots uncertain and resulted in scores that were below the average of each player. Williams easily won both of the four-ball matches and three of the singles, but in the contest between Hegardt '19 and Walker of Columbia, the latter played the best game of the day and defeated his opponent 5 and 4.

The summary follows:

Foursomes—Hegardt and Black (W) defeated Walker and Tunis (C) 3 to 0; L. H. Coleman and Pearson (W) defeated Rohdenburg and Van Raalte 2 to 0.

Singles—Walker (C) defeated Hegardt (W) 3 to 0; Coleman (W) defeated Rohdenburg (C) 3 to 0; Pearson (W) defeated Tunis (C) 2 to 0; Black (W) defeated Van Raalte (C) 2 to 0.

Final score—Williams 12; Columbia 3.

In the match with Pennsylvania Williams took all of the foursomes and won three of the singles. Hegardt and Black took the first of the foursomes from Webster and Calvas by 5 and 4. Coleman and Pearson finished 1 up against Rhodes and Rounds, and Murdock and Adams defeated Davis and Hansen.

The summary follows:

Foursomes—Hegardt and Black (W) defeated Webster and Calvas (P) 1 to 0; Coleman and Pearson (W) defeated Rhodes and Rounds (P) 1 to 0; Adams (P) defeated Davis (W) 1 to 0; Murdock (W) defeated Hansen (P) 1 to 0.

Singles—Webster (P) defeated Hegardt (W) 1 to 0; Black (W) defeated Calvas (P) 1 to 0; Coleman (W) defeated Rounds (P) 1 to 0; Rhodes (P) defeated Pearson (W) 1 to 0; Davis (P) defeated Adams (W) 1 to 0; Murdock (W) defeated Hansen (P) 1 to 0.

Final score—Williams 6, Pennsylvania 3.

"Lit" Board Meets Wednesday

Members of the editorial board of the Literary Monthly will meet in the Jesup Hall office next Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock to consider material for the first issue of next fall. Any freshmen who intend to enter the competition for positions on the editorial board should be present at this time. Upperclassmen may be elected as soon as they fulfill the requirements of the competition.

Interclass Games Tomorrow

Two interclass baseball games are scheduled for tomorrow afternoon. 1919 will meet 1922 and 1920 will oppose 1921. In the game played last Monday the Sophomores won from the Freshmen 11-1 and seem to have the edge on the Juniors. The Freshman team, however, has shown itself stronger than the Senior nine by comparative scores:

$37,000 IS SUBSCRIBED

Williams Brings Large Sum for Victory Liberty Loan

According to a statement issued by Mr. W. C. Hart, chairman of the Victory Liberty Loan committee for the College, Williams had subscribed a total of $37,000 in notes of the Fifth Liberty Loan at the close of the campaign Saturday. No definite quota was set for the College but the result has proved highly satisfactory to the men in charge of the campaign. Last week the campaign was lagging behind the schedule and subscriptions were not appearing in as fast as was desired, but within the last few days they came with a rush and brought up the total. This sum is divided into three sections: that pledged by the faculty, which was $15,000; by the Corporation of Williams College, which was $14,000; and by the undergraduates, which was $8,000.

A large oversubscription of Williams-town's quota of $231,000 has also been reported by Mr. F. C. Moore, chairman of the local committee. Less than half the quota had been pledged at this time last week, but the rapid increase in subscriptions towards the end of the campaign put the town easily over the top.

WILLIAMS TO FACE HARVARD WEDNESDAY

FOURTH GAME OF SEASON

Weak Fielding and Batting of Crimson Expected to Give Advantage to Varsity

With three victories and no defeats to its credit, the varsity baseball team will meet Harvard next Wednesday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock at Cambridge. So far this season the Crimson nine has not been successful, having lost seven out of its nine games, and the prospects look favorable for another Williams victory.

Although Harvard has lost all but two of its games, the majority of its defeats have been by only one or two runs. It started the season with a victory over Bowdoin by a 4 to 3 score, and lost the next game to Bates 9 to 7. Since then the Crimson nine has been defeated by Springfield Y. M. C. A. 7 to 1, the University of Vermont 1 to 0, the University of Maine 9 to 8, the University of Pennsylvania 6 to 2, Holy Cross 8 to 6, and Dartmouth 9 to 0. In its contest with Colby, Harvard shut out its opponents and scored six runs.

Although the pitching staff is not very dependable, the greatest weakness of the Harvard nine is inability to hit in the pinches and a tendency to lapse in fielding. This was shown by the game with Dartmouth last Saturday afternoon. The Crimson men were unable to make a hit during the entire contest.

To Test Freshman Efficiency

All freshmen not excused by Mr. Seeley will participate in a "Freshman Efficiency Meet" to be held on Weston Field sometime between May 17 and 27 under the auspices of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The contest includes competition in four events: the 100-yard dash, the running high jump, the running broad jump, and the pole vault.

INFORMAL MEETING OF W. C. A. FINISHES YEAR

Prof. Long and Coach Thomas Speak Briefly—Northfield Conference Is Described

Professor Long and Coach Thomas were the speakers at the last meeting of the year of the Williams Christian Association held yesterday evening in the Jesup Hall auditorium. The meeting was very informal in character, being in the nature of a get-together, and was marked by an extremely large attendance.

"The Transformation of the Undergraduate" was the topic chosen by Professor Long in his address. After describing the change that college life brings about in a man, he went on to deprecate the lack of intimacy existing between the present undergraduate and his professors. Much more could be accomplished, by a greater mutual cooperation between faculty and students.

Hedden '18 then gave a short description of the program of the Northfield Conference which is to be held about the last week in June of this year. Williams expects to send between thirty and forty men to the conference, and it is requested that all men wishing to join the delegation should signify their desire as soon as possible.

Reminiscences of his days in the major leagues comprised most of Coach Thomas' talk. He first gave descriptions of the hard work encountered on the southern training trips in the spring and then told how Connie Mack's famous $100,000 infield, in which Coach Thomas was catcher, was broken up because several of the players bolted their contracts with the Philadelphia Athletics for better offers elsewhere. In conclusion he made an appeal for more encouragement of the Williams players on the part of the student body and also for continued fairness to our opponents during the games. The meeting closed with the singing of The Mountains.

Rain Prevents Two Contests

On account of the heavy rain at West Point last Saturday the baseball game between Williams and the United States Military Academy was cancelled. Bad weather also prevented the playing of tennis match with Union which was scheduled to take place on the College courts last Saturday afternoon.

Haystack Speaker Secured

Bishop William F. Oldham of the Methodist Episcopal Church in South America will be the main speaker at the annual Haystack prayer meeting to be held in Grace Hall on the afternoon of Sunday, June 22, according to an announcement made by Reverend H. P. Dewey, D.D., of the Board of Trustees, who has in charge the arrangements for that ceremony. Bishop Oldham, who was formerly Missionary Bishop of the Philippine Islands and afterwards Secretary of the Methodist Episcopal Board of Foreign Missions in New York, is a man of great influence in his denomination and is known as a most effective speaker.

WESLEYAN DEFEATS VARSITY ON TRACK

Results of Discus Throw Give Deciding Point to Red and Black in Close Contest

FINAL SCORE 63 1-2—62 1-2

Rain Handicaps Runners—Williams Strong in Distances but Weak in Sprints

Williams lost to Wesleyan last Saturday afternoon in the second track meet of the season by a score of 63½ to 62½. Poor track conditions proved a handicap to both teams, and a severe rain and hail storm persisted throughout the entire contest.

Wesleyan excelled in the dashes, and a slight advantage in the field events enabled the visitors to win the point necessary to give them a close decision over the Purple. All three places in the two-mile and half-mile events, and first and third in the mile run went to Coach Seeley's athletes, but this advantage was soon overcome by Wesleyan's showing in the 100-yard and 440-yard dashes.

Anderson of Wesleyan was the highest individual point winner, taking first place in the shot put, second in the discus event, and third in the hammer throw. Kieser failed to show his usual form in the broad jump and lost the event to Johnson of the visiting team. The mile run was one of the most closely contested events of the afternoon, and Brown was pushed to the limit, breasting the tape only a few feet ahead of Gale of Wesleyan. Parker, who won this event in the Union meet a week ago, had to be content with third place. In the 220-yard dash Burbank of Wesleyan went into the lead at the start but fell on the muddy track and was unable to recover himself in time to place. Before the final event the score stood 61½ to 55½ in favor of the varsity, but Bain and Anderson of Wesleyan won the meet for the visitors by taking first and second places in the discus throw.

The summary follows:

100-yard dash—won by Keeler of Wesleyan; second, Hoagland of Wesleyan; third, Gorsuch of Wesleyan; time, 10 2-5 seconds.

One mile run—won by H. H. Brown of Williams; second, Gale of Wesleyan; third, Parker of Williams; time, 4 minutes, 47 3-5 seconds.

440-yard dash—won by Cutbill of Wesleyan; second, Kieser of Williams; third, Hoagland of Wesleyan; time, 53 4-5 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles—won by Burbank of Wesleyan; second, Phillips of Williams; third, Greeff of Williams; time, 17 2-5 seconds.

Two mile run—won by Crofts of Williams; second, Coan of Williams; third, Platt of Williams; time, 10 minutes, 47 4-5 seconds.

880-yard run—won by Stewart of Williams; second, Kellogg of Williams; third, Penfield of Williams; time, 2 minutes, 8 4-5 seconds.

220-yard dash—won by Gorsuch of Wesleyan; second, Allen of Williams; third, Carick of Williams; time, 25 seconds.

220-yard low hurdles—won by Keeler of Wesleyan; second, Gibbons of Wesleyan; third, Greeff of Williams; time, 27 4-5 seconds.

Shot put—won by Anderson of Wesleyan; second, Mills of Williams; third, Carick of Williams; distance, 36 feet, 5 inches.

Running high jump—won by Grinton of Wesleyan; second, Anderson of Williams; third, Johnson of Wesleyan; height, 5 feet, 6 inches.

The Altered Curriculum

The appearance of the new curriculum changes give the lie to an implication derogatory to the Trustees made editorially in the last issue of the Record. The Trustees are not responsible for the initiating of amendments to the curriculum, nor for their adoption. That is the province of the Faculty. Furthermore, the Faculty had already completed the changes, and was merely withholding announcement of them until they could be put in proper form for publication. The regrettable misunderstanding was a result of ignorance of the facts above stated.

But the new freshman requirements as now made public merit some comment. As far as entrance and freshman year are concerned, Spanish is put on a footing equal to that of French and German in the Modern Language department. This is a step quite in harmony with modern tendencies and modern demands. Physics 1-2 is made an alternative for the formerly required Mathematics 1-2.

The third major change demands more detailed consideration. Rhetoric 1-2, that ancient land-mark, may now be replaced by a new course, American National Problems, thus becoming an elective instead of a required course. In past years Rhetoric 1-2 was the most rigidly required of all; for no student might become a sophomore without satisfactorily completing it. We used to admire the ideal which we thought was the reason for thus stressing the course,—that of making every Williams man as thoroughly proficient in the use of his own language as possible. The present ideal of the Faculty is apparently to make him proficient in Latin or Greek rather than in English. One of the arguments they put forward for the retention of Latin as a compulsory course is its value as an aid in mastering English. We no longer study English, but instead depend on the classical tongues to teach us to speak and write our own language.

The ability to express his thoughts fluently and in correct, forceful language is a fundamental, an essential attribute of the man who is cultured, or even merely educated. Even now, when every Williams undergraduate must successfully complete this course which is designed to give him just that control over English, any bystander who is in the least acquainted with conditions and who is cognizant of this now apparently passing ideal mourns the ineptitude of a large percentage of these supposedly cultured men in the use of their mother tongue. What will be the consequence of a decrease in the study of Rhetoric? Only one answer is logical;—the number of men who cannot employ words as they should be employed will be greater, and their degree of awkwardness more deplorable. If many are "clumsy, amateurish, and juvenile" now, what will they be when they no longer study to remedy these faults?

A knowledge of the freshman's way of doing things ought to have led the Faculty to a realization of another important consideration in this regard. The very man who is most in need of the benefits of the Rhetoric course, to whom its training is all-important, will be the one who chooses the alternative course, whereas he who is already most proficient in self-expression, whose tastes incline in that direction, will elect the more attractive course. The average college man at the freshman age does not look for hard work, nor for the study most adapted to develop his backward side. He seeks rather that course in which he is interested, or which will bring him the highest grade with a minimum of labor.

In the attempt to catch those who are obviously lacking in command of English, a provision is made to have them reported to the English department by their other instructors for examination, and if they then show the necessity, to have them take Rhetoric 1-2 in Sophomore year. It seems too sanguine to expect teachers, interested as they are almost exclusively in what pertains to their own subjects, to keep constantly on the alert for mistakes in English. And then at least two of them must notice the deficiency on the part of any one man before he becomes subject to the ruling. Possibly those who offend heinously may be detected and brought to justice. The larger class, however, those commit no glaring errors, but to whom a pencil and a piece of paper represent a mental struggle, in whose hands language serves rather as a means to obscure meaning than to make it plain, who say what they have to say in a halting, round-about way, lacking in force and clarity and style,—they will be allowed to go on unhindered.

The Altered Curriculum

It would have been thought strange to expect Williams College, with its cultural ideals, to take such a step, typical rather of the vocational school than of the college of liberal arts. It has always been a regret of American educators who are acquainted with the English culture that our college man cannot compare with his English brother in his command of the common tongue. Now Williams College has taken a step to widen the gap.

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

The Editor of the Record,
Sir:

When the student body, assembled in the Common Room early in January, voted unanimously to continue the present system of taxation in support of athletics, there was expressed a very firm belief in the wisdom and justice of the Williams system. The task set the Graduate Treasurer of collecting the tax, usually paid in the early fall, as late as January and of properly including men returning so irregularly to College, seemed very great. But the undergraduates have responded cheerfully and promptly, adjusting themselves to the unusual situation in such a way that today, for the fourth consecutive year, there is not a single delinquent to be found in any one of the lists of dormitories or fraternity houses.

This is a record of which the undergraduate body may well be proud and which has made possible the present very normal condition of our athletic teams—shown by the fact that, on the first Saturday of May, four separate organizations placed teams in competition with other colleges. Because of this record, our swimming team is able to organize and to hold the coming intramural contest.

The care and upkeep of Weston Field is another large item depending upon the athletic tax, and, although Coach Thomas pronounces the baseball diamond to be in better condition than during any season since he began to work with the team, we shall be able not only to continue the present excellent condition of the field but even to improve it steadily. The hearty cooperation of the undergraduate body, of the competitors sent out by the basketball management, and of individual men in the different fraternities has made this report possible.

Signed,
E. Herbert Botsford,
Graduate Treasurer.

Intramural Games Postponed

Weather conditions compelled the postponement of the two intramural baseball games scheduled for last Friday. Beta Theta Pi plays Chi Psi this afternoon, and the two contests scheduled for Wednesday are Delta Kappa Epsilon vs. Zeta Psi and Phi Gamma Delta vs. Kappa Alpha. Friday the following games will be played: Beta Theta Pi vs. Sigma Phi and Delta Kappa Epsilon vs. Commons Club.

NORTHFIELD STUDENT CONFERENCE JUNE 20

Williams' Quota of 20 Men Is Expected to Attend Session Next Month

With a larger attendance than ever before the Northfield Student Conference will open this year at East Northfield, Mass., on June 20 and will last through June 29. More than 150 universities, colleges, and preparatory schools of the New England and Middle Atlantic states will be represented by hundreds of delegates.

Especially arranged for men interested in the intellectual and religious life of the eastern colleges, the Northfield Conference offers a fine opportunity for personal conference and interviews with leaders in the social and religious life of the country. The program will include addresses by Dean Brown of Yale, John R. Mott, David Yui, Charles W. Gilkey, Robert E. Speer, Henry Sloane Coffin, Capt. John MacNeill, and J. Stitt Wilson, a prominent labor leader.

The daily schedule will be divided between optional class periods and auditorium meetings in the morning, and athletics and other forms of recreation in the afternoon. Intercollegiate baseball, tennis, golf, and soccer matches, and a track meet will be held, and on the last evening a competitive "stunt night" will be held between the various delegations.

Williams has been asked to send a quota of twenty delegates, and Marquand Hall, situated opposite the ball field and possessing a splendid view of the Connecticut valley, has been assigned to the delegation. At the last pre-war conference, that of 1916, Williams was represented by thirty men, and it is hoped to pass that figure this year.

Detailed information concerning the conference, including the expenses involved, may be had upon application to the Northfield Class Committees, Dwight and Bers Halls, East Northfield, Mass. A limited number of positions as waiters will be open. All men expecting to attend the conference are asked to report to Bernard '19 immediately.

MAY CHANGE INSURANCE

Government Bulletin Explains Options to Holders

In order that the many men in various colleges who have been in the service may know how their War Risk Insurance policies may be converted, a bulletin has been issued by the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. Detailed plans and application blanks for conversion may be secured from the Conservation Section of the War Risk Insurance Bureau,
Washington, D. C.

At any time during the next five years a policy may be converted into any one of six forms at rates considerably lower than those of regular life insurance companies, and dividends on these policies will be paid annually.
No additional physical examination is required at application for conversion, as the amount of the premiums is calculated from the age of the holder at the time. Payment of premiums may be made quarterly, half-yearly, or yearly, and the system of remittance used by individual holders may be changed without previous written notice.
In event of death, running policies are payable only in 240 monthly installments, but payed-up policies will be reimitted in one lump sum.

Council to Pass on Agreement

Action of the new Interfraternity Agreement will be taken at a meeting of the Interfraternity Council at 7.30 o'clock this evening in Jesup Hall.
Following the count of signatures to the copies of the Agreement which have been posted in the various fraternity houses for the last few days, the Council will proceed to make a final ratification of the pact. This will make it binding on all undergraduates.

with the problems of Industrial and Social Relations. Text-books will be used and frequent written tests will be given. The course will be in charge of President Garfield and Professors Smith, McLaren, and Pratt.

Philosophy 1-2 is now brought down into Sophomore year.

Hereafter all courses will be given on the basis of three hours a week each.
This means that sixty instead of sixty-two year-hours will be required for graduation, a change that was duly authorized by the Board of Trustees at its meeting on the 8th inst.

RUSHING AGREEMENT RATIFIED BY COUNCIL

Interfraternity Body Acts on New Rules Amended and Approved by Fraternities

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Ward '20 Chosen Chairman for Coming Year—Becket '20 to Hold Office as Secretary

Ratification of the Fraternity Rushing Agreement and the election of Ward and Becket '20 as officers for the coming year comprised the chief items of business transacted at a meeting of the Interfraternity Council last Monday evening. The date for the reunion of fraternity alumni was also discussed, but, because of conflict with the date set for class reunions, the matter was referred to Dean Massey for final settlement.

Christopher Longstreth Ward, Jr., 1920, of Wilmington, Del., was elected chairman of the Council. Ward played on the Banjo and Mandolin Club during his first two years at College and in his sophomore year was a member of the College Choir, the Honor System Committee, and the Student Council. He also played class baseball. In his junior year he was elected to the No-Deal Committee, and the Gulielmsonian and became editor-in-chief of the Handbook. He has been a member of the Record Board for four years and is now editor-in-chief of that publication. He is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Robert Manners Becket '20, of East Orange, N. J., was elected secretary-treasurer of the Council for the coming year. Becket prepared for College at the East Orange High School where, in his senior year, he managed the school baseball team. He left College at the end of his sophomore year and was commissioned a first lieutenant in Field Artillery at the Second Officers' Training Camp at Fort Meyer, Va. Becket sailed for France in May, 1918 and saw three months service overseas with the 313th Field Artillery. He is the manager of the varsity baseball team and a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

The Rushing Agreement as ratified by the Council is as follows:

1. "I hereby agree upon my honor that previous to his final registration, I shall not bid nor pledge any prospective first year man of Williams College nor obtain from him any promise regarding future bidding or pledging. I also agree upon my honor that, during the period extending from two weeks before the opening of College until the beginning of the Third Rushing Period, I shall not communicate with any first year man except:—(1) to transact usual College business; (2) to greet him or carry on with him brief non-fraternity conversation upon the street; (3) to carry on in the fraternity house during the dates of the first two rushing periods conversation on non-fraternity matters.

2. "This agreement is to be binding upon every undergraduate member of a Williams College fraternity, provided that it is signed by four-fifths of the undergraduate members of such fraternity, from the time of its signature until two months subsequent to the close of the rushing season for 1919.

3. "Prospective students may be entertained at any time previous to two weeks before the opening of the College in the year of their entrance, but prior to such two weeks before the opening of College there shall be no bidding or pledging nor promises of any nature made regarding possible future bidding or pledging.

4. "After two weeks before the opening of College and up to the beginning of the Third Rushing Period, conversation with first year men shall be confined to transactions of the usual College business and greetings and brief non-fraternity conversations upon the street.

5. "Rushing season shall be divided into three periods: A, B, and C. Period A shall begin with the dinner date of the second Saturday after the opening of College and shall extend through the second evening date of the Tuesday following. Period B shall begin with the dinner date of the following Wednesday and shall extend through the second evening date of the following Friday. Period C shall begin with the dinner date of the Saturday following and shall end with the second evening date of the same evening.

6. "During Period C, there may be bidding and pledging.

7. "During the three periods, the day shall be divided into the following rushing dates: Week days: Dinner (6.00-7.30); First Evening Date (7.30-8.45); Second Evening Date (8.45-10.00). Sunday: Luncheon (12.30-2.00); Afternoon Date (2.00-3.15); Dinner and Evening Dates as on week days.

BOWDOIN NINE FACES WILLIAMS TOMORROW

DEFEATED BY HARVARD 4-3

Four Victories, Three Defeats
Is Record of Maine Team—
Ten Veterans on Squad

Williams will meet Bowdoin in the fourth home game of the season Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock on Weston Field. With ten varsity men on its squad and a record for the visiting team of four victories and three defeats, two of them by very narrow margins, the contest should be close.

A judgment on the basis of comparative scores seems to give the advantage to the visitors. Although they lost the opening game of their season to Harvard by a 4-3 score, the varsity was defeated Wednesday by seven runs. Yet the Purple undoubtedly had an off day, and this relative score cannot be considered an accurate test of the strength of the two teams. Bowdoin won its second game 13-4 from Bates, and in the next contest went ten innings to win from Tufts, 2-0. The remainder of its record consists of victories over Fort Preble, 10-0, and over Maine, 9-7 and defeats at the hands of Colby, 6-4 in ten innings, and Boston College, 11-5.

With the exception of the pitcher, the Brunswick nine is the same as that which faced Williams last year and has an advantage in the fact that its members have played together for two seasons. Much of its strength lies in its pitching staff to judge from the low scores to which its opponents have been held in all but the game with Boston College. Either Mason, who pitched a one-hit game against Tufts, or Flinn, a freshman and former All-Main-Interscholastic twirler, will be on the mound Saturday.

Couch Thomas has lost none of his confidence in the Purple nine because of the defeat Wednesday. In fact he expects it to be back in form after its undoubted slump, to which all teams are liable at times, and again expressed his judgment that the Williams men are excellent ball players if they would only realize the fact. The team has been working hard since its return from Cambridge and has continued to show its strength at the bat, at the same time improving its fielding. Burrows, who pitched a four-hit game against Colgate, will pitch for the varsity.

The probable lineup follows:

WILLIAMS	BOWDOIN
Callahan ss	Donnell 3b
Mason 2b	Cook 2b
Brown 3b	Finn ss
Manning 1b	Caspar or Clifford 1b
Papin lf	Racine cf
Finn c	Prosser lf
Roth cf	Hall c
Boyden rf	Grover rf
Burrows p	Mason or Flinn p

Tennis Team Loses in Boston

Pollard '20 and Fraker '21, representing Williams in the annual tournament of the New England Intercollegiate Lawn Tennis Association held at the Longwood Cricket Club in Boston, were both defeated last Tuesday on the opening day. Captain Pollard lost to Partridge of Bowdoin 6-3, 7-5, and Fraker was beaten by Hendrickson, captain of the Amherst tennis team, in straight sets 6-3, 6-2. The Amherst doubles team, composed of Hendrickson and Davis, also defeated Pollard and Fraker 7-5, 6-4.

New Bulletin on Northfield

All men interested in attending the Northfield Conference in June may obtain upon application to Bernard '19, a recently issued bulletin regarding the activities of the Conference.

TO PLAY TWO MATCHES

Tennis Team Will Face Trinity and Colgate This Week

Two matches, both of which will be played on the College courts, comprise the varsity tennis schedule for this week. This afternoon at 4.00 o'clock the varsity will meet Colgate, and tomorrow afternoon at 2.00 o'clock, its opponent will be Trinity. The Williams team will probably be as follows: Pollard (Captain), Fraker, Rowse, and Shepherd or R. Harden.

In the match with Yale last week, the Trinity team was decisively defeated, none of its players being able to take a set, and only one set being above 6-2. During the past week the varsity has shown improvement, and although it was badly beaten by Dartmouth early in the season, it is expected to exhibit a good brand of tennis in the match on Saturday. The Trinity team is as follows: Edsall (Captain), Henson Hartzman, and Hyland.

Little is known concerning the Colgate team. It will probably be as follows: Goodenough (Captain), Rich, Stimmel, and Turner or Virtue.

1922 IS VICTORIOUS IN UNDERCLASS PULL

1921 LOSES TUG-O-WAR

Freshmen Drag Sophomores in Green River Three Times
in Unequal Contest

Skimming the scum expeditiously off the peaceful waters of the Green River with the cream of the Sophomore class, the Freshmen out-numbering their opponents almost two to one, heaved their way to victory in the annual Underclass Tug-of-War Wednesday afternoon. The spirit and equality of the contest were evidenced by the time needed to decide each pull, the first and last trials requiring two minutes each, and the second attempt a minute and a half. In tugs-of-war of past years thirty to forty seconds has practically always sufficed to decide the issue.

At 4.15 o'clock the first-year men gathered behind Jesup Hall and the Sophomores mustered behind the Gymnasium clad in armor fit for the occasion. Shouldering the cable, the Freshmen marched down Main Street, successfully obstructing all traffic, and took up their position on the east river bank 200 yards from the bridge, while the opposing clan gathered on the west bank reinforced by spectators including all the idle population of Williamstown.

AMHERST TO OPPOSE WILLIAMS ON TRACK

RIVALS MEET TOMORROW

Chances Good for Victory Over
Purple and White in Last Dual Meet of Season

Williams will oppose Amherst tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock on Pratt Field at Amherst in the third and last dual track meet of the season. Judging from the poor showing that the Purple and White athletes made two weeks ago against Brown and the strength which the varsity has shown this year despite its defeat last Saturday by Wesleyan, the Purple should triumph over her ancient rival by a decisive score.

Couch Seeley has made several slight changes in the list of entries but the team will be essentially the same as the one which has opposed Union and Wesleyan. Captain Stewart '19 has been placed in the quarter mile as well as in the half-mile, and Joslyn '21 has been entered in the 220-yard low hurdles. In the field events, Gillham '19 has been placed in the hammer throw and is expected to show up well tomorrow.

The favorable weather this week has been an advantage to Coach Seeley's athletes, and they are in far better condition than last week when the wet condition of the track was a severe handicap to practice. H. H. Brown '19, Parker '20, and Crofts '21 in the distances. Stewart '19, and Kellogg '21 in the middle distances, and Kieser '20 and Allen '21 in the sprints are to be counted on to place high in their events. Spink '19 in the pole vault and Kieser '20, the New England broad jump champion, are expected to win their events.

In the only meet which it has held this season, Amherst lost to Brown University by the overwhelming score of 110 to 16. The only man on the Purple and White team to secure a first place was Brickett who won the pole vault, clearing 9 ft. 9 inches with perfect ease. Only two second places were taken, one in the broad jump and the other in the two-mile run. The poor showing of Amherst is undoubtedly due to the fact that Low, who was one of the individual stars in the Williams-Amherst meet last year which resulted in a tie, was unable to make the trip to Brown. Low won both high and low hurdles and placed second in the discus throw, tying Kieser of Williams for the honor of highest individual point-winner. Keeney, the Amherst captain, who took first place in the 100 and second and in the 220-yard dash in last year's meet is also entered in tomorrow's contest and can be counted on to provide substantial opposition to the Purple sprinters. Bliss won the hammer and the discus throw with little difficulty in the last meet, but Williams has improved considerably in these events, and their outcome is not at all certain. Practice has been consistent at Amherst during the last two weeks and the Purple and White team is reported to be confident of securing the victory.

The list of entries is as follows:
100-yard dash—Keeney, Capt., Wing, Kohn, Woodbridge, Barnes, and Wolf (Amherst); Kieser, Carick, Allen, Drew, Olsen, Cruse (Williams).
220-yard dash—Keeney, Wing, Kohn, Woodbridge, Barnes, Wolf (Amherst); Kieser, Carick, Allen, Olsen, Stewart (Williams).
440-yard dash—Woodbridge, Wing, Barnes, Low, Thayer (Amherst); Kieser, Stewart, Olsen, Atwell, Kellogg (Williams).
880-yard run—Woodbridge, Wing, Thayer, Nichols, Parker (Amherst); Stewart, Kellogg, Parker, Penfield, H. H. Brown, Northrop (Williams).

ERRORS GIVE GAME TO HARVARD TEAM

Williams Nine Is Beaten for
First Time this Season by Decisive Score of 11-4

VICTORS ARE OUTHIT

Purple Players Get Eleven Safe Hits to Opponents' Seven—Luck Favors Crimson

Errors in the wrong places and failure to hit safely in the pinches were responsible for Williams' first defeat of the season last Wednesday afternoon by Harvard on Soldiers' Field, Cambridge. The final score was 11-4 for the Crimson, although the Purple team outbit its opponents with 11 safeties to 7 for the victors.

Bad breaks in luck also helped Harvard to win easily. Williams batters hitting into double plays twice when hits meant runs. Knowles, the Crimson left fielder, played a stellar game for the winners, stealing four bases and making several difficult catches of long flies. For Williams, Finn and Mason shared the batting honors with three safeties apiece, and Roth played the best game in the field.

The first scoring came in the second inning. Manning singled and stole second. The next two batters were out, and Papin drove a hard one to left center. Ellis tried to stab the ball with his bare hand but missed, Manning bringing in the first run. Boyden walked, but was caught off first by Bullard, the Crimson pitcher.

Harvard came back in the last half of the inning and scored twice. Perkins was passed. Frothingham hit sharply to left, reaching third when Papin's throw in failed to get Perkins at the plate. Kerr sacrificed and Frothingham scored but the side was retired on a double play, McLean to Callahan to Manning.

A pass, two hits, and an error gave Williams two more tallies in the third, putting the Purple in the lead, 3-2.

The fourth was a bad inning. Blair walked and went to second on Callahan's fumble of Perkins' grounder. Frothingham knocked a slow roller down the first base line, and all three runners were safe when Manning threw wild to Brown, Blair scoring on the error. The runners advanced on the play, and Frothingham scored on Kerr's sacrifice. Gammack lied to the first baseman, and after Hardell was safe on Brown's error, Ellis went out, Callahan to Manning, ending the scoring for the inning.

In the fifth Callahan and Mason both hit safely with no one out. Luck broke badly for the Purple, however, when Brown smashed a hard liner into McLeod's hands, Mason being doubled at first.

Neither side scored again until the seventh, when both teams tallied, making the score 7-4. In the next inning errors and two more hits, gave Harvard four runs, giving the victors a lead that could not be overcome, Williams failing to score in the last inning.

Success cannot go on forever untouched with adversity, and Williams' defeat at the hands of the Harvard nine is no cause for worry. Coach Thomas has built up a strong unit from a number of average baseball players, and so far, despite the recent reversal, its record is one to be proud of. A victory of Harvard over a Williams team is no disgrace, and this particular one is not even an ill omen.

A Sign of Relief

The ratification of the Interfraternity Agreement practically in the form proposed by the committee of undergraduates who drafted it brings a sign of relief from all who are interested in the welfare of the College. It shows that discord is not the natural state of affairs between fraternities, and that bickerings last only for a time and then surrender to the assertive altruism of the Williams man. To compare the spirit that has reigned in the last two meetings of the Interfraternity Council with the animosities that prevailed at the time of the rupture is to compare Williams in its normal conditions with a diseased, abnormal Williams. The fondest hopes of the optimist have been thoroughly justified.

Not only are the undergraduates to be praised for the high-minded manner in which they have achieved a conciliation and an understanding, but the alumni too deserve thanks and appreciation for their co-operative spirit. They have had the unselfishness and clearness of vision to recognize that, while their advice might be of use, the undergraduates themselves, who are on the field and who have perhaps more carefully considered the question, have the right of autonomous decision. Their attitude has been one of willingness to help and care not to hinder.

Editors of the Williams Record:

Sirs:—

I desire to correct a statistical error with regard to Williams made in an article by President C. F. Thwing, of Western Reserve University in the New York Times for May 11, on the number of college men who died in the war. In this article the statistics are grouped under the three heads, "Died of Wounds", "Died of Disease", "Died of other Causes". The figures given for Williams under these heads are respectively 6, 12, 20. In the questionnaire sent out by President Thwing in January there was no allusion to the number killed in action. Since this class is not usually included under the head "died of wounds", in the reply to the questionnaire an additional statement was made as follows: "Killed in Action, 20", which was the correct number at that time. In his Times article, President Thwing now states that his first column includes both those who were killed in action and those who died of wounds. He should, therefore, have added the 20 reported by Williams as killed in action to the 6 reported as having died of wounds, thus making 26 instead of 6 as the number to be placed in the first column of the statistics for the college.

Very truly yours,
Henry D. Wild

Rushing Agreement Ratified By Council

8. "At the close of Period C there shall be unrestricted bidding and pledging of unpledged undergraduates."

9. "The Interfraternity Council shall conduct the transmission of invitations for Periods A, B, and C, and for Period A shall determine the apportionment and order by lot in a manner to be regulated by by-law."

10. "For Period A, each first year man must accept each invitation offered him or refuse all. For Period B, he may accept not more than two invitations from every fraternity he pleases. For Period C he is free to accept whatever invitations he may choose."

"First year men must mail their replies to the invitations as follows:
Period A: before 12 m. Saturday.
Period B: before 3 p. m. Wednesday.
Period C: before 12 m. Saturday."

11. "Any first year man breaking a pledge with any fraternity shall thereby render him self ineligible for fraternity membership at Williams College for a period of six months following such break and during this time shall not be entertained at any fraternity house at Williams College."

12. "First year men at any time may consult the Chairman of the Interfraternity Council for information on the Rushing Agreement."

HAWES '20 ELECTED TO CHAIRMANSHIP OF "LIT"

Bushnell '20 Added to Board—
Assistant Business and Circulation Managers Chosen

Stewart Starks Hawes, 1920, of Oak Park, Ill., was elected chairman of the Literary Monthly for the ensuing College year at a meeting of the board Wednesday evening in Jesup Hall. Hawes is the third undergraduate in the history of the College who has headed the editorial staffs of both the Literary Monthly and the Purple Cow. At the same time Harold Edward Coughlin, 1921, of Passaic, N. J., and Henry S. Acken, Jr., 1920, of Maplewood, N. J., were chosen assistant business manager and assistant circulation manager, respectively, and Nelson Sherwin Bushnell, 1920, of Cleveland, Ohio, was elected to a position on the editorial staff.

Hawes prepared for College at the Oak Park High School where he was editor-in-chief of the school paper, president of the Debating Society, and a member of the Dramatic Association and tennis team. He is editor-in-chief of the 1920 Gulielmian and of the Purple Cow, managing editor of the Record, chairman of the Press Club, and a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. Coughlin received his secondary education at the Pawling School, where he was on the editorial board of the monthly magazine and a member of the track team, basketball team, and mandolin club. Last year he was on the Williams track squad. He is a member of the Delta Psi fraternity.

Acken received his preparatory school education at Newark Academy, where he was a member of the football and baseball teams and manager of tennis. Acken is a member of the Auxiliary Prom. Committee. Last March he was elected assistant circulation manager of the Purple Cow and is a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

Bushnell prepared for Williams at the University High School, Cleveland where he was editor of the school paper, and at the Evans School, Mesa, Ariz., where he was assistant manager of the baseball team. During his first year at College, Bushnell won second place in the Freshman Declamation Contest. He is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Although no issue of the Lit. will be published until next fall, material for the first number was considered, and it was decided to hold another meeting in June to consider additional contributions.

1922 Faces Pawling Tomorrow

In the opening game of the season the Freshman baseball team will play Pawling tomorrow afternoon on Weston Field. The game will be called as soon as the varsity contest is finished.

Voting by the college body has been going on for several days at "Cabe" Prindle's store to decide who is the most valuable man to the 1919 baseball team. "Cabe" has offered a silver loving cup to the player receiving the greatest number of votes.

DR. CALKINS TO PREACH

Pastor of First Church, Cambridge, in Pulpit Sunday

The Rev. Dr. Raymond Calkins, pastor of the First Congregational Church, Cambridge, Mass., will preach at the morning chapel service next Sunday. He last preached here on January 27, 1918, and is well known to Williams men.

Dr. Calkins graduated from Harvard University in 1890 and received the degree of M. A. there in 1895. He was awarded the degree of Doctor of Divinity by Bowdoin College in 1907 and Grinnell College in 1914. Ordained in the Congregational ministry in 1896, he was pastor of the Pilgrim Memorial Church, Pittsfield, from 1897 to 1903 and of State St. Church, Portland, Me., from that time until 1912, when he received his call to Cambridge. Dr. Calkins is the author of Substitutes for the Saloon and the co-editor of Hymns of the Church, 1912.

To Organize Rifle Team

Lieut. Elliott will explain the plans for organizing a rifle team in conjunction with the Gun Club at a meeting of the Club next Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall. In order that the organization may not be handicapped by the distance of the present range, permission has recently been secured from President Garfield to use the College property near Stetson Road.

1922 Efficiency Test Monday

All Freshmen will be given a chance to display their physical perfection in the efficiency test, which will take place next Monday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock on Weston Field under the auspices of the National Athletic Collegiate Association. All members of 1922 must report at this time, wearing sneakers. No spikes will be allowed. Each freshman must compete in the 100-yard dash, running high-jump, running broad-jump, and bar-vault. Due to an error the Record stated in the last issue that there would be a pole-vault instead of a bar-vault.

Intramural Game Schedule

Six baseball games compose the regular schedule of the American and National Leagues for the next four days. They are as follows:

American League: Friday, May 16—Beta Theta Pi vs. Sigma Phi, Kappa Alpha vs. Commons Club; Monday, May 19—Phi Gamma Delta vs. Chi Psi.

National League: Friday, May 16—Alpha Delta Phi vs. Phi Delta Theta; Monday, May 19—Delta Upsilon vs. Faculty, Psi Upsilon vs. Theta Delta Chi.

New Instructor in Philosophy

Dr. Charles W. Hendel, Princeton 1913, has been secured as instructor in Philosophy. After one year's study in Germany he returned to this country and received his Ph. D. degree from the Princeton Graduate School in 1917. He enlisted in the army in the fall of that year, and received his commission as second lieutenant of infantry, being discharged shortly after the signing of the armistice.

1922 Is Victorious In Underclass Pull

For some time after the first report the outcome was in doubt, but the Freshmen pulled with a will, and at exactly 4.46.18 p. m. the first of divers—daring divers took the water. Full credit must be given to 1921 for sticking with the rope through the river water and mud rather than dropping the contest when losing. As the Sophomores had been dragged clear through the river to the other bank, the Senior president decided that sideshould be changed for the second contest, and the triumphant Freshmen in turn were forced to brave the perils of the deep.

Strengthened by their cold plunge, the Sophomores in the next round gradually pulled their rivals inch by inch over the brink until eight or ten first-year men were in the water. A rally saved the day for the Freshmen, and, gaining back lost ground again, a wild backward stampede gave them victory. In the final pull systematic and rhythmic yanks gained appreciably until the Sophomores were literally swept off their feet and came easily behind Belcher who led 1921's sortie.

Towed at reckless speed, the class completed the voyage to the west bank and ran aground, head on. Meanwhile the remainder of the Freshman class, surmounting impedimenta in the shapes of zealous but wet-through Sophomores, bore their hawser in triumphant and necessary speed up Consumption Hill.

Underwood, ex-'21, who has been on active duty in Mediterranean waters for several months, has returned to Norfolk, Va., where he is awaiting orders transferring him to transport duty.

WILLIAMS WILL FACE YALE NINE WEDNESDAY UNIVERSITY TEAM STRONG Has Very Formidable Pitching Staff—Coxe Held New York Giants to 4-3 Victory

Williams will journey to New Haven next Wednesday to oppose the strong Yale baseball team in the second game of the season away from home and the fifth game of the year. The University nine has displayed great promise in the last few weeks although it is impossible to judge of the relative merits of the two teams, since they have played no common opponents.

Yale won her first two games with Springfield Y. M. C. A. and Fordham, the scores being 2-0 and 8-7 respectively, the second contest going eleven innings before a decision was reached. On April 22 the University team played its annual game with the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds and came very near gaining a victory. Coxe held the professionals to seven hits while his own team rapped out nine safe ones, but the Giants scored one more run than their opponents and won 4-3. Speaking of the Yale nine, McGraw, manager of the New York team, said, "Your team looked very good to me. They had more finish than is usually in evidence this time of the year with a College team." Again on May 2, the Blue and White were defeated in a hard-fought game with Brown by the close score 2-1.

Notwithstanding its defeat at the hands of Harvard in its last trip, Coach Thomas is confident that the Purple team will come through successfully in Wednesday's contest. He considers that the varsity has had a slump which it will overcome in the game with Yale, and is sure that had not rain prevented Saturday's game, it would have regained its confidence in a victory over Bowdoin.

The probable batting order for Wednesday is as follows:

WILLIAMS	YALE
Callahan ss	Holden of
Mason 2b	Praun 3b
Brown 3b	Lynch 1b
Manning 1b	Boyd lf
Papin lf	Crotty ss
Finn c	Sawyer 2b

COLGATE DEFEATED

Tennis Team Wins First Victory by 4-2 Score

Colgate was defeated by the varsity tennis team in the second match of the season last Friday afternoon by a 4-2 score, giving Williams its first victory of the year in tennis. The first match was lost to Dartmouth 6-0, and a second match with Union was postponed last Saturday because of rain.

Rowse and Shepherd played exceptionally strong games for Williams, and Goodenough was the Colgate star, defeating Captain Pollard of Williams in the only singles match won by the Maroon. Both the matches won by the visitors required three sets for a decision, but three of the four Williams victories were taken in only two sets, most of the scores being one-sided. The summary follows:

Singles—Goodenough (C) defeated Pollard (W) 6-3, 4-6, 6-3; Fraker (W) defeated Stimmler (C) 4-6, 6-3, 7-5; Rowse (W) defeated Rich (C) 6-2, 6-2; Shepard (W) defeated Turner (C) 8-6, 6-4.

Doubles—Goodenough and Stimmler (C) defeated Pollard and Fraker (W) 6-4, 8-6; Shepherd and Rowse (W) defeated Rich and Turner (C) 6-4, 6-3.

GOLF TEAM WINS

Dartmouth Loses to Varsity 3-0 at North Adams

By defeating Dartmouth 3-0 last Saturday morning on the North Adams Country Club links the Williams golf team scored its third straight victory of the season. All the Purple players showed greatly improved form, as is evidenced by the fact that Dartmouth won earlier in the season from the Harvard team which defeated Williams 12-3 in its first match.

The best score of the day in Saturday's match was made by Boyd of Dartmouth, who is reputed to be one of the best college golf players in the East. Two of the three matches were very close, both being won 1 up, whereas Coleman and Pierson defeated their opponents easily 4 and 3. The scoring was on the basis of one point for each match. The summary follows:

Foursomes—Hegardt and Black (W) defeated Boyd and Wetherby (D) 1 up; Coleman and Pierson (W) defeated Frost and Gunnison (D) 4 and 3; Adams and Murdock (W) defeated Mauk and Rice (D) 1 up.

SWIMMERS TO COMPETE FOR MEDALS THIS WEEK

All Undergraduates Eligible To Enter—Finals on Wednesday and Thursday

Seven events comprise the schedule for the College swimming meet which will be held on four days, beginning this evening at 8.00 o'clock in the pool in Lasell Gymnasium. All undergraduates are eligible to compete for the prizes which will be in the form of gold, silver, and bronze medals and will be awarded for the first three places in each event. The finals will take place next Wednesday and Thursday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock.

All men who have the least ability in swimming are urged to enter the meet as it is the only opportunity that has been offered in nearly two years for sizing up the material available for a team. Entries will close at noon tomorrow. Professors Agard, Milham, and McElfresh have been secured as timers and Professor Allen as scorer. The complete schedule of the seven events, preliminaries and finals, follows:

Monday, 8.00 p. m.—220 yard swim (Preliminaries).

Tuesday, 4.15 p. m.—50-yard dash (Preliminaries).

WILLIAMS VICTOR BY DECISIVE SCORE IN ELEVENTH DUAL MEET WITH AMHERST

COACH SEELEY'S MEN WIN 81¼ POINTS TO RIVALS 44¾

H. H. Brown Individual Star with Firsts in 2-Mile and 880— Captain Stewart and Greeff Secure Eight Points Each— Team Gets Eleven Firsts, Six Seconds, Ties Twice

Scores of 11 dual meets held between Williams and Amherst in the history of the two colleges:

Year	Williams	Amherst
1898	66	60
1908	57	69
1909	81	45
1911	85	41
1912	85 1-2	40 1-2
1913	49 1-3	76 2-3
1914	90 1-3	35 2-3
1915	71 1-6	54 5-6
1916	72 1-2	53 1-2
1918	63	63
1919	81 1-4	44 3-4
Totals	802 1-12	583 11-12

Winning eleven firsts, six seconds, and four thirds, together with a tie score in one first and one second place, Williams ran away from Amherst in the eleventh dual track meet between the two colleges held Saturday afternoon on Pratt Field. Despite their failure to get more than third place in the 100-yard dash, Coach Seeley's athletes had won the lead at the end of the third event, and increased it steadily throughout the meet to its victorious close when the score stood 81 1-4 to 44 3-4.

H. H. Brown of Williams was clearly the star of the meet for he not only won two firsts but ran the two-mile in the fastest time ever made in a Williams-Amherst dual meet, lowering his own record of 10 minutes, 7 seconds in 1916 to 10 minutes, 2 seconds. Captain Stewart and Greeff each amassed eight points and Low, on whom Amherst had counted for firsts in the hurdles, secured but 7 1-4 points, being tied by Wolff.

Once more the Purple runners showed their strength in the middle and long distances, not only by taking first and second in every race, with a clean sweep in the half-mile, but by making excellent time despite the high wind blowing across the track and the fact that it commenced to rain in the middle of the two-mile and continued to pour throughout the half. Both hurdle races fell to Williams which also won five of the field events and tied for first in the sixth.

The track was in fair condition for all the events until the two-mile when it commenced to rain, interfering greatly in the half-mile, low hurdles, pole vault, and broad jump. Only in the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes and in the high jump were the Williams men weaker than their rivals. In the first mentioned race, won by Maynard of Amherst, Carick secured third place and in the high jump Anderson of Williams was one of four who tied for first at 5 feet 6 inches, higher than he has ever gone before. Revenge for the 100-yard dash was quickly taken when Greeff stepped the high hurdles in 17 seconds, good time in the face of the wind that was blowing, and Captain Stewart won the quarter in 52 seconds. Taking the pole at the start, Stewart led during the whole race, with Wing of Amherst second and Kieser following, until the final sprint when Kieser passed into second place.

In the mile run, Parker of Williams took and kept the lead throughout the race despite the efforts of Parker of Amherst to pass him on the second turn. Coan ran behind them until the third lap when he forged ahead of Parker of Amherst and finished second with Nichols of Amherst third.

The two-mile and half-mile runs were the most closely contested races of the afternoon. From the start both were Williams events. In the former H. H. Brown and Crofts set out at a terrific pace running the first mile in 4 minutes and 50 seconds. On the sixth lap, Crofts, who had been pacing Brown took the lead, but Brown regained it on the last lap and with a strong sprint finished first in 10 minutes, 2 seconds, five seconds better than his record in the Williams-Amherst dual meet in 1916. Crofts came in second and Johnson of Amherst, though nearly lapped by Brown, secured third. In the 880-yard run Kellogg, Stewart, and H. H. Brown took the lead and remained bunched until the

The Season's Climax

The victory of the track team over Amherst Saturday proves one of the gratifying satisfactions of the year to followers of Williams teams. The score was large and the victory decisive, but the really welcome news is simply that Amherst was defeated. It has nearly become a shibboleth that upon the contests with our ancient rival hangs the success or failure of an athletic season, and if the team in some incomprehensible fashion should fail to score a single point in the Intercollegiate, nevertheless, Williams may justly feel proud of its 1919 track team.

To both Coach Sealey and Captain Stewart congratulations are decidedly in order. Without the aid of a fall meet to develop material, a well balanced squad has been evolved and Amherst has been conquered by one of the largest margins in recent annals. Perhaps it is too much to expect a victory at the Intercollegiate, but Williams cannot fail to make a really creditable showing. And considering the fact that the team will lose by graduation but two of its more important members, 1920 promises to be a banner year for track athletics in the College.

Good Intentions

If a certain pathway of ill report is paved with good intentions unfulfilled, we are seriously in danger of joining the large and motley crowd that strolls down it. To peruse a bound volume of the Record of six years ago is to be forcibly awakened to a realization that Williams, proud as we are of her, might be a much better place. That year seems to have been one of high purpose, of great and good plans, and love of Alma Mater working itself out in words and deeds. Unluckily, though, the inspiration was in a measure transient, and what was then projected for future action has been converted into paving blocks for the above mentioned gloomy road.

Here are a few of the plans which at that time saw the light of day, but which since have mouldered in the dark cellar of the forgotten. A new fire house for the student volunteer brigade was to be erected between Jesup Hall and the Physics Laboratory, adapted to its purpose and containing modern equipment. A New England Inter-scholastic track meet, to be held yearly on Weston Field, was contested that year for the first time. The old library buildings and arrangement were examined and condemned, a vigorous campaign was carried out for a new building, and one was promised for the "near future". And last and most progressive and full of the promise of great things was President Garfield's plan for the maintenance of a summer university in Williamstown, drawing to it scholars of international repute who were to lecture on their specialties in order that professors and others in search of higher learning might have the benefit of a great intellectual stimulus.

Where are they now? Does Williams lack the energetic men to carry these great and good schemes to completion? It almost startles one to contrast what the College is with what it might have been, especially if the last mentioned project had been redeemed from its sad state as a mere intention.

of interest about the game, heavy hitting against weak pitching predominating. Few errors were made. The summary:

Kappa Alpha 1 2 3 4 5
Chi Psi 2 0 3 2 2—9

Batteries: Cobb and Phelps, Wyckoff and Lyons.

A third straight victory was won by Beta Theta Pi in a loosely played game with the Sigma Phi team. Thexton's sensational fielding was the outstanding feature of the game, while Painter pitched a good game for the victors, allowing only three hits. Stanley's lack of control in the first two innings lost the game for his team. The summary:

Beta Theta Pi 1 2 3 4 5
Sigma Phi 3 3 1 2 1—9

Batteries: Painter and Taylor, Stanley, Fitch and Richmond.

Bowdoin Game Cancelled

On account of the heavy rain and the poor condition of the diamond last Saturday, the baseball game between Williams and Bowdoin was cancelled.

Kappa Beta Phi Initiates 14

Fourteen members of the Junior Class, Becket, Black, Bogart, Carson Dessau, A. A. Harden, R. Harden, Krieger, Lasell, Pearson, Pollard, Stites, Tiebout, and Woolson, were initiated into the Williams chapter of Kappa Beta Phi at the annual banquet last Saturday evening in North Adams. Boynton ex-'20 was also elected an honorary member.

Pawling Game Called Off

Owing to the bad weather last Saturday afternoon, the game between the 1922 baseball team and the Pawling School nine was cancelled.

Prof. Rice to Teach in China

Assistant Professor John P. Rice has been appointed to the teaching staff of the College of Yale in China at Changsha and intends to spend six months of his sabbatical year there. He will leave Williamstown as soon as the examination period is over in June. He does not know as yet what courses he will conduct but while at Williams he has taught French, Spanish, and Italian.

Whittlesey Awarded War Cross

Lieutenant-Colonel Charles W. Whittlesey '05, who led the famous "Lost Battalion" for which he received the Congressional Medal of Honor, has recently been awarded the French War Cross with palm in recognition of his services to the allied cause, and as a special token of appreciation of his exploit with the "Lost Battalion".

'17—Lieut. Bryan Hamlin has received his discharge from the U. S. Aviation Service, and has resumed his studies at the Columbia Law School.

last hundred yards. Then with a terrific burst of speed Brown passed into first place breasting the tape just ahead of Stewart who was as closely followed by Kellogg. The time of 2 minutes, 2 2-5 seconds was fast considering the weather conditions.

As the Purple sprinters did not qualify in the preliminary trials for the 220-yard dash a final heat was not run and the points were divided among four Amherst men. After running preliminary heats in the 220-yard low hurdles, Phillips and Greeff won first and second, respectively, and Low, on whom Amherst had pinned great faith, secured third place.

Wickwire won the broad jump with a margin of half an inch over Gillies of Amherst, and Kieser, who had previously run the quarter and two heats in the 100-yard dash, placed third. Mills and Carick took first and second places in the shot put and Hibbard, with a throw of 107 feet, won the hammer throw with Sidley third. Fieser, the only Williams entry in the discus, won the event with a throw of 97 feet, 3 inches.

Torrents of rain and a high wind greatly handicapped the men in the pole vault which was the last event in the meet. In spite of several bad falls, however, Spink won first place with a beautiful vault over 10 feet. P. Brown and Zink of Amherst tied for second place.

Too much credit for the overwhelming victory, the eighth Williams has won out of eleven dual meets that have been held between the two institutions, cannot be given to Coach Seeley for his conscientious and untiring labor in training the men. And the success of his efforts is all the more remarkable since his service in the Aviation prevented his commencing work before the middle of March.

Contrary to the usual custom in dual meets between these two colleges, no medals were awarded to the men who placed in the various events. The summary follows:—

100-yard dash—won by Wolff (A); second, Keeney (A); third, Carick (W); time, 10 4-5 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles—won by Greeff (W); second, Low (A); third, Stauff (A); time, 17 seconds.

One-mile run—won by Parker (W); second, Coan (W); third, Nichols (A); time, 4 minutes, 43 3-5 seconds.

440-yard dash—won by Stewart (W); second, Kieser (W); third, Wing (A); time, 52 seconds.

Two-mile run—won by H. H. Brown (W); second, Crofts (W); third, Johnson (A); time, 10 minutes, 2 seconds.

HOLD EFFICIENCY TEST

Freshmen in Competition for Collegiate A. A. Prizes

Competition among the colleges and universities of the country is included in the plan of the National Collegiate Athletic Association for the Freshmen efficiency tests, which will take place at Williams this afternoon at 4.15 o'clock on Weston Field. A loving cup will be awarded the college with the highest average score, and a certificate will be presented to the three colleges with the highest score in each district, Williams being in the first district, which includes the New England States.

At least 80 percent of the freshman class must compete in order to qualify for the national mass athletic championship. In the 100-yard dash, one point will be given for a time under 13 seconds, two under 12 2-5 seconds, and three under 11 3-5 seconds. In the high jump, over three feet six inches will count one point, over three feet, 11 inches two points, and over four feet, three inches three points. In the broad jump the marks will be 12 feet, 13 feet four inches, and 14 feet four inches. The marks for the bar-vault will be four feet, four feet six inches, and four feet nine inches.

WILLIAMS TO OPPOSE R. P. I. NINE AT TROY TEAMS OUT OF CONDITION

Opponents Defeated Worcester 12-3 in Only Game Played Thus Far this Season

Williams will oppose Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in the second out of town game of the season at Troy, N. Y., tomorrow afternoon. Although this is the fifth trip that the varsity team will have taken, weather conditions have prevented the playing of all but one of the games, that with Harvard. The R. P. I. nine has been handicapped to an even greater extent, having been able to play but one game out of five scheduled. The result of that contest, 12-3 in favor of the Troy team over Worcester, does not afford any real means of judging the relative strength of the two teams in tomorrow's contest.

Coach J. Reed of R. P. I. had about sixty candidates this spring from which to pick a nine, and though there were but four veterans in the squad, he has been able to build up a team that won the only game that the weather has permitted it to play. But since the contest with Worcester took place three weeks ago, the present strength of the nine cannot be determined. Either Baldwin or Lawlor will be on the mound tomorrow in the first home game for the Troy team.

Almost continuous rain and the trip to Yale Tuesday, from which the team did not return until yesterday morning, have greatly interfered with the practice of the varsity. After the game with Harvard, the unfavorable result of which was due to an undoubted slump on the part of the Purple nine, Coach Thomas felt sure that the team would vindicate itself in the next game. But as both subsequent games have been cancelled because of weather conditions, the team is somewhat out of condition. Coach Thomas hoped, however, when the Record went to press, to give the men some hard practice this afternoon. As E. C. Brown is now confined to the Infirmary with the mumps, C. C. Noble will substitute for him at third base. Unless the strength of the R. P. I. team makes it seem unwise Coach Thomas plans to use all three pitchers, letting Burrows, McLean, and Patton each pitch three innings by way of preparation for the hard games coming at the end of next week.

The probable lineup of the two teams follows:

WILLIAMS	R. P. I.
Callahan ss	Dewey cf
Mason 2b	Mackey lf
Noble 3b	Sparrow 1b
Manning 1b	Holden ss
Papin lf	Elwer c
Finn c	Luby 2b
Roth cf	Flandreau rf
Boyd rf	Walsh 3b
Burrows, McLean	Baldwin,
Patton p	Lawlor p

Dr. Sinclair before Faculty

Dr. Donald Sinclair will speak before the Faculty Club on "Base Hospital Work in France" tomorrow evening at 8.00 o'clock. This will be the last club night of the present academic year.

Rain Prevents Tennis Match

Owing to the continued rains the tennis match with Amherst scheduled for yesterday afternoon was postponed. The team did not even leave Williams-town. Manager Kimball is trying to have the match played Monday, but as yet final arrangements have not been made.

"PURPLE COW" ELECTS

Humorous Monthly Chooses Six Men from Underclasses

Six men from the Sophomore and Freshman classes were elected to membership on the Purple Cow board at a meeting held last Monday evening in Jesup Hall. Plans for the annual banquet which is to be held at an early date were also discussed at this time.

Alan Lamplough Becket '22, of East Orange, N. J., Lee Charles Jeffries '22, of Greenwich, Conn., and William Huckel '22, of North Hempstead, L. I., were elected to positions in the art department of the publication; and John Andrew Withrow '21, of Cincinnati, Ohio, was added to the literary staff. Elections to the business staff included Richard Barton Cole '21, of West Newton, Mass., as assistant business manager, and George Nelson Ostrander, Jr., '21, of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., as assistant circulation manager.

1922 AVERAGES 7.53 IN EFFICIENCY TESTS

Meet Held Under Auspices of National Collegiate Athletic Association

In the efficiency tests which took place at 4.00 o'clock last Monday afternoon on Weston Field, the Williams Freshmen averaged 7.53 points out of a possible 12. 141 men, or 87.67 per cent of the class, took part in the tests which were conducted under the auspices of the National Collegiate Athletic Association in competition with other colleges and universities of the country.

The four events run off were the 100-yard dash, the broad jump, the high jump, and the bar-vault. The scoring was as follows: 100-yard dash—13 sec., 1 point; 12 2-5 sec., 2 points; 11 3-5 sec., 3 points. High jump—3 ft. 6 in., 1 point; 3 ft. 11 in., 2 points; 4 ft. 3 in., 3 points. Broad jump—12 ft., 1 point; 13 ft. 4 in., 2 points; 14 ft. 4 in., 3 points. Bar-vault—4 ft., 1 point; 4 ft. 6 in., 2 points; 4 ft. 9 in., 3 points. No information is yet available as to how the record here compares with that at other colleges. A loving cup will be awarded the college with the highest score, and a certificate will be given to the three colleges with the highest scores in each of the nine districts.

These freshman efficiency tests form the opening wedge in the "sports for all" campaign that is receiving such widespread attention in the college world, according to Professor Wild, who has represented Williams in its relations with the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The outstanding purpose of the tests is to find out the physical ranking of the various freshman classes, but the underlying aim is to arouse enthusiasm for athletics in as many college students as possible. The idea originated at the meeting of the Association in New York last December, when Dr. Thomas A. Storey, New York state inspector of physical training, strongly advocated sweeping reforms in collegiate athletics. The tests which are described in a circular letter as "based upon the military and physical efficiency needs shown in the examination of large numbers of soldiers", are the direct outgrowth of this meeting. Many other plans for mass athletics are under consideration by the Association and will probably be put into effect next year.

Interclass Baseball Tomorrow

1919 will meet 1920 in baseball tomorrow afternoon on Weston Field in the final game of the Interclass Series. Since the Sophomores have already won the championship, this contest will have slight effect on the final standing.

NOVICE RACES ARE WON IN FAST TIME

MILLER '22 LEADS MEET

Records in Dashes and Plunges Show Improvement over Results of 1917 Contest

Results of the finals in the College swimming meet held in the pool of the Lasell Gymnasium at 4.15 o'clock Wednesday and Thursday afternoons give Miller '22 first place by a large margin with three first places and a third to his credit. Although no remarkably fast times were made, considering the slight opportunities for practice up until the last few weeks, very creditable performances were made which compare well with those of former years.

Miller's record of three firsts, in the 50-yard dash, in the 220-yard swim, and in the 100-yard dash, and of a third in the back-stroke race give him nearly three times the number of points of his nearest rival, an unusual large margin between first and second place men. Although he made no very fast time in any of the races of the meet, his all-around ability marks him as a valuable man for the varsity team next winter. Truman '20 performed well, ranking second in the meet with a first place in the back-stroke race, a third in the 50-yard dash, and a third in the 220-yard swim, while Richardson '22 took third honors by capturing two seconds in the 50 and 100-yard swims respectively.

Comparison of the times of the meet with the last Novice Meet which was held in the fall of 1917 show much better times and results in all events. In the 100-yard dash this year's time surpassed that of the last meet by some five and four-fifths seconds, and the time for the 220-yard swim showed an improvement of seven and one-fifth seconds, all three men who placed bettering the 1917 record. The former mark for the plunge was 49 feet, whereas Fuller '21 this year plunged over 60 feet in the trial heat and 58 feet in the final event with Davis '22 and Seaman '22 close seconds and thirds at 56 1-2 and 55 1-2 feet respectively.

The prizes will consist of gold, silver, and bronze medals awarded for the first three places in each event. Professors Milham and McElfresh and Assistant Professor Agard served as timers for the meet, and Professor Allen acted as

DR. CADMAN IN PULPIT

Brooklyn Pastor to Preach at Sunday Chapel Service

The Reverend S. Parkes Cadman, D.D., of the Central Congregational Church of Brooklyn, N. Y., will occupy the pulpit at the regular Sunday morning chapel service next Sunday. Dr. Cadman was born in England and educated at Richmond College of the University of London, later receiving the degree of Doctor of Divinity from both Wesleyan and Syracuse Universities.

He was pastor of the Metropolitan Temple in New York from 1895 to 1901 and went from there to his present pastorate in Brooklyn. He is also chaplain of the Twenty-third Regiment, New York National Guard. Dr. Cadman is one of the best known preachers in the country and is the author of several books, including Charles Darwin and Other English Thinkers, The Religious Use of Memory, and The Three Religious Leaders of Oxford.

SOPHOMORES CLINCH CLASS CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeat 1919 Team in Deciding Game Last Wednesday—1919 Is Also Beaten by 1920

1921 clinched the class baseball championship last Wednesday afternoon on Weston Field by defeating 1919 in a fairly well played game, which was closer than the 8 to 0 score would indicate. The Senior team likewise met defeat at the hands of the Juniors Monday afternoon in a game featured by loose playing and a large score, 14 to 10.

The first half of the first inning of the 1919-1921 game started off auspiciously for the underclassmen, four hits and two errors bringing in four runs. In the second inning two more runners crossed the home plate on hits by Frazier and Wilkinson. From there on, however, Ewing tightened up and held the Sophomores hitless as well as scoreless until the last inning, receiving able support from the remainder of the team. In the final session Frazier walked, Wilkinson tripled, and later scored on an infield hit of Belcher's before the side was retired.

Newell, the Sophomore hurler, was continually in trouble through wildness, but always pitched well in the pinches. Three times during the course of the game 1919 placed three men on bases but in each case was unable to score.

The score by innings is as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6
1921		4	2	0	0	2—8

Batteries: Newell and Wilkinson, Ewing and Walker.

Seven innings were required to decide the Senior-Junior contest Monday afternoon. The score stood 10 to 10 at the end of the sixth inning, but in the extra inning 1920 amassed a total of four more runs. Loose playing and a multitude of errors characterized the game. Both pitchers were hit freely and apparently almost at will. Carson played well for the Juniors whereas Whittier had the best batting average. Wild was the individual star in the Senior line-up.

The score by innings is as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7
1920		6	2	0	2	0	4—14
1919		2	2	0	3	1	2—10

Batteries: Foster, Whittier, and Christian; Ewing, Kimball and Parker.

To Hold Lehman Cup Meet

Arrangements have been made to hold the annual Lehman Cup Track Meet next Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. The meet was originally scheduled to take place before the spring recess but was postponed on account of the poor condition of the track.

SIXTEEN COLLEGES ENTER N. E. I. MEET

PURPLE MAY PLACE HIGH

Fourteen Williams Track Men to Compete in Contest at Cambridge Tomorrow

With a record of two victories and one defeat to her credit, Williams will compete with fifteen other colleges in the Thirty-third Annual New England Track and Field Meet on Tech Field, Cambridge, Mass., tomorrow afternoon at 1.45 o'clock. Amherst, Bates, Boston College, Bowdoin, Brown, Holy Cross, Maine, M. A. C., M. I. T., Middlebury, New Hampshire State, Trinity, Tufts, Wesleyan, and W. P. I. have also entered teams. Colby and Vermont will not be represented this year.

On account of the large number of entries, it is expected that the meet will be won on comparatively few points this year so that little prediction can be made as to the probable outcome. Brown's 110-16 defeat of Amherst seems to indicate that the Rhode Islanders will be among the powerful contenders for the championship. Wesleyan, also, has had a successful season this year and M. I. T., the winner of last year's meet, is also expected to place well, especially in the field events. Boston College will be represented by a team of twenty men, of whom several placed high in their events at the Eastern Intercollegiate Meet in Springfield two weeks ago.

Fourteen of Coach Seeley's athletes will make the trip to Cambridge today, to represent Williams in all events except the high jump, the shot put, and the 100 and 220-yard dashes. The varsity team should make a good showing, especially in the distance and middle distance runs. H. H. Brown '19, who won the two-mile in the meet three years ago, and Crofts '21 are expected to place high in their events. Captain Stewart and Kellogg '21, who are entered in the 440 and 880-yard runs, are also probable point winners.

Chief among the opponents of the Williams distance runners are Nightingale of New Hampshire State College, Gale of Wesleyan, and Murray of M. I. T. In the middle distances Borden of M. I. T. and Cutbill of Wesleyan loom up as serious contenders for first places. Nagel of M. I. T., a former Yale athlete, is counted on to win the pole vault.

The cup for the meet has been donated by Major Frank H. Briggs, chairman of the advisory committee of the N. E. I. A. A. The college winning it the most times in eight years becomes the owner. Inasmuch as the trophy was secured permanently by Dartmouth last year, competition for a new cup will start tomorrow.

The entries are as follows:
440-yard dash—Kieser, Stewart.
880-yard run—Kellogg, Stewart.
One-mile run—Parker, Joslyn, Coan, H. H. Brown, Crofts.

Two-mile run—H. H. Brown, Crofts, Coan.

120-yard high hurdles—Greeff.

220-yard low hurdles—Greeff.

Broad jump—Kieser, Wickwire.

Pole vault—P. Brown, Spink.

Hammer Throw—Hibbard.

Discus Throw—Fieser.

Tennis Match Here Tomorrow

Springfield Country Club will meet Williams in a tennis match to be played tomorrow afternoon on the College courts. Nothing is known of the visiting team's strength.

Vol. 33 May 23, 1919 No. 18

At a meeting of the Board in the Press Room, Jesup Hall, last evening, Hampton Denman Ewing, Jr., 1922 of Yonkers, N. Y., and Jo Allison Humes, 1922, of New Orleans, La., were elected to membership on the editorial staff of the Record.

Once more is Williams College indebted to the generosity of Mr. Alfred C. Chapin '69, who has time and again given concrete evidence of his undying interest in the welfare of his Alma Mater. This time it is the Record to which he has extended the helping hand, by giving a substantial sum of money to be expended towards the liquidation of the debt with which the publication has been struggling. Last year he contributed to the support of the Gulielmsonian when war-time conditions made its existence precarious. It is unnecessary to enumerate the long list of his other gifts to the College, among which Grace Hall is numbered. We desire to express publicly our gratitude for the way in which, unsolicited, Mr. Chapin has so generously come to the aid of the Record in its hour of need.

The Lit. has started its campaign for subscriptions for its support during the 1919-1920 academic year. After lying dormant during a whole season, the College's one mouthpiece for its poetic and literary ideas is to return to the land of the living to continue its past good work in the development of that side of the culture of Williams. But no magazine can live on praise and manuscripts. The Lit. must be provided with the wherewithal for its existence, in the shape of subscriptions. Both undergraduates and alumni owe it to the College to support the literary efforts of her sons and to keep actively and appreciatively in touch with them by subscribing to and reading the Literary Monthly.

Where Are Those Songs?

Where are the class songs, and where the singing practice? But a scant week remains before the four classes must prove to a gala throng that Williams of today is as good as Williams of old in respect to her much vaunted singing contests. Great is the task of singing leaders and singers if they are to make anything but a near approach to a farce of the contest a week from today. The reputation to be upheld is too high, the contest itself too important and worthwhile a tradition to admit of any laxity in preparation for it. Songs must be whipped into shape at once, and practice must be held repeatedly from now until Memorial Day if we are not to hide our heads in shame and admit our inferiority to our predecessors.

As a result of rainy weather during the past week, only two games on the Intramural Baseball Schedule were played both in the National League. On Monday, Delta Upsilon defeated the Faculty Club 5 to 3, and on Wednesday the same team lost to Phi Sigma Kappa 6 to 3 in a six inning contest.

The game between Delta Upsilon and the Faculty Club last Monday afternoon was closely contested, but was featured by frequent misplays and ragged fielding. Mears pitched a good game for the Faculty until the fifth inning, when he was replaced by Agard. Timely hitting enabled Delta Upsilon to collect enough runs to win, and the game ended with the score 5 to 3 in their favor. The batteries were Grindy and Kellogg for Delta Upsilon; and Mears, Agard, and Buffinton for the Faculty.

Bunched hits in the sixth inning of an extra-inning contest were responsible for Phi Sigma Kappa's victory over Delta Upsilon last Wednesday afternoon by a score of 6 to 3. Both teams played good baseball throughout the game and scored three runs apiece during the first five innings. In the extra period, however, a combination of hits and errors gave the decision to Phi Sigma Kappa. The batteries were Mendes and Baldwin for Phi Sigma Kappa, Harder and Kellogg for Delta Upsilon.

Rain Hoodoo Persists

Rainy weather again caused the cancellation of a baseball game last Wednesday afternoon when the Williams-Yale contest scheduled at New Haven, Conn., was called off. This is the fourth game of the season to be similarly prevented, out of town contests with Holy Cross, Army, and Yale, and a home game with Bowdoin, all having been cancelled.

To Exhibit War Drawings

War drawings by Muirhead Bone and Lucien Jonas will be exhibited by the Art Department in 12 and 13 Hopkins Hall during the next three days from four o'clock until six o'clock in the afternoon. The exhibition, which is open to the public, consists of 60 reproductions of British official war drawings sent by the British Bureau of Information, and a group of 24 lithographs, entitled Les Grandes Vertus Francaises, contributed by Hubert Bennett '17.

GYMNASIUM BEDECKED FOR SOPHOMORE PROM

WILL BE HELD THURSDAY

Joseph C. Smith's Orchestra to Furnish Musix—About 450 to Attend Dance

Bedecked with gay garlands of pale pink and white bunting, Lasell Gymnasium has been transformed from its usual dun, drab self into a veritable dance hall of the gods for the Sophomore Promenade next Thursday evening. The stern playthings of Hercules have given place to the enhancing decorations of Terpsichore.

About 450 merrymakers will start dancing at 9.00 o'clock and will continue until the wee, small hours of Friday morning begin to assume more alarming proportions. From the rafters overhead, hang long streamers. A spotlight will illuminate the floor with all the colors of the spectrum, while other necessary lights will be provided with tulip shades in order that no glare may annoy the dancers. Around the sides of the floor are comfortable booths, each bearing the name of the fraternity whose guests and chaperones will be accommodated there.

A comfortable place for weary couples to rest has been furnished by the erection of a large tent just outside the gymnasium to which entrance may be gained through several windows. Here, amid a profusion of ferns and Japanese lanterns refreshments will be served under the direction of the Lucas Confectionery of Troy.

Musix will be furnished by Joseph C. Smith's orchestra of eight pieces from the Hotel Plaza of New York City. Black leather vanity cases for the ladies and cigarette cases for the men will serve as favors and dance programs. They were manufactured by George Fry of Philadelphia. The admittance charge to the balcony has not yet been decided upon.

All credit for the economical and efficient way in which the Prom. is being conducted must be given to the committee which has had charge. It is composed of Dana '21, chairman, Carr, Heath, Hibbard, and Phillips '21, and the Auxiliary Committee consists of Acken, Allison, Baker, Banks, Burger, Gray, Joslyn, Kent, Stonemetz and R. P. Towne '21.

The guests will be received by the following ladies of the faculty: Mrs. A. H. Buffinton, Mrs. S. F. Clarke, Mrs. A. L. Cru, Mrs. J. N. Cru, Mrs. W. H. Doughty, Mrs. G. B. Dutton, Mrs. J. S. Gallbraith, Mrs. H. A. Garfield, Mrs. W. C. Hart, Mrs. J. H. Hewitt, Mrs. F. H. Howard, Mrs. W. E. Hoyt, Mrs. C. W. Johnson, Mrs. C. E. Howes, Mrs. F. J. Kellogg, Mrs. C. L. Maxcy, Mrs. W. I. Milham, Mrs. W. E. McElfresh, Mrs. W. W. MacLaren, Mrs. A. H. Morton, Mrs. J. B. Pratt, Mrs. N. J. Rees, Mrs. C. F. Seeley, Mrs. E. I. Shepard, Mrs. P. A. Smedley, Mrs. R. L. Taylor, Mrs. I. M. Thomas, Mrs. G. M. Wahl, Mrs. M. N. Wetmore, and Mrs. H. D. Wild.

Baseball Recommendations

Manager Becket of the baseball team has announced the following recommendations for the candidates for the second assistant managership of baseball and football: Class I—Brucker, Conner, Dana, Irwin, Jarrett, Milton, North, Painter, Phillips, Prime, E. P. Taylor; Class II—James and Seager '21. North was awarded his recommendation by the Student Council because he was manager of the S. A. T. C. football team. Due to the extra amount of work which was done by the competitors on Cole Field the number of first recommendations is larger than usual.

LEHMAN TRACK MEET TO BEGIN TOMORROW

IS TWENTIETH CONTEST

Changes Made in Schedule of Postponed Event—Dashes
and Hurdles Longer

Arrangements have been made by Coach Seeley and Captain Stewart to hold the twentieth annual Lehman Cup meet tomorrow and Wednesday afternoons on the Weston Field track. This contest is usually scheduled to take place on the board track and in the Lasell Gymnasium during the winter months, but on account of the late opening of College this year, plans were made to hold the meet during the week prior to the Easter recess. A heavy snowfall at that time put the track in bad condition, and the meet was postponed indefinitely.

The competition is for two silver cups which have been offered for the last nineteen years by Mr. Herbert H. Lehman '99. All undergraduates are eligible to enter the meet. Any men who have ever run are urged to come out in order that any latent ability may be discovered.

Several changes have been made in the schedule of the meet and Coach Seeley and Captain Stewart have not yet made a final decision on the question of the hurdle races. In former meets the dashes have been 35 yards, but early in the spring when the question of holding the contest first arose, it was decided to lengthen them to fifty yards. The present plan is to hold one 100-yard dash instead of the two 50-yards dashes and to give the full number of points allowed for each of the first four places. The hurdles, both high and low, which were increased from 40 to 50 yards in March, have now been made the regular distances for high and low hurdles. The question of the points to be awarded for these has not yet been decided.

The complete schedule, with the points to be given for the first four places in each event, follows:

Tuesday afternoon: 100-yard dash (10, 7, 4, 1); 120-yard high hurdles (undecided); 440-yard dash (10, 7, 4, 1); mile run (10, 7, 4, 1); pole vault (one point for every two inches over 8 ft. 6 inches); shot put (one point for every six inches over 29 ft.). Wednesday afternoon: 220-yard low hurdles (undecided); 880-yard run (10, 7, 4, 1); potato race (10, 7, 4, 1); high jump (one point for every inch over 4 ft. 6 inches). The schedule and points are subject to change.

TENNIS COMPETITORS' STANDING ANNOUNCED

Manager Kimball '19 has announced the following recommendations for the second assistant managerships of tennis and golf as a result of the competition just concluded. The list of men in each class with their rating on a basis of 100 follows: Class I—Carmen (94), Gray (91), Tyler (88), Piatt (83), Poncet (83), H. Towne (83); Class II—(Stanley (79), Keegan (74), Schlesinger 70). Six of these men will be chosen at a meeting of the Sophomore Class to be held in the near future.

Freshmen to Banquet

The main dining room of the Hotel Richmond in North Adams will be the scene of festivities this evening when 1922 makes merry at the annual Freshman banquet. At the time of going to press it was rumored that the Freshmen would make an attempt to kidnap the Sophomore Class officers if 1921 held its party on the same evening.

College Votes Tomorrow

Polls for the election of the second assistant manager of track will be opened at the Managers' Office, Jesup Hall, from 12.00 to 2.00 and from 5.30 to 7.30 o'clock tomorrow. Undergraduates will vote on the following five candidates who were nominated at a meeting of the sophomore class last Friday evening in Jesup Hall: Banks, Carr, Heath, Jones, and R. Towne '21.

Four games in the Intramural Baseball Series were played during the past week end, two being in the National League and the other two in the American League. Comparatively few of the teams in either League have been able to complete their schedules, and it will be necessary for the postponed games to be played off as soon as possible if the original schedule is to be fulfilled.

Last Friday afternoon Beta Theta Pi met and defeated Kappa Alpha on the temporary diamond on Weston Field by a score of 7 to 3. With the exception of the second inning the game was fast and well played. In that inning Cobb was hit freely, and Beta Theta Pi scored five runs, thus gaining a lead which their opponents were unable to overcome. Kappa Alpha scored twice in their half of the inning on a hit and two errors and again in the third inning on a hit and a passed ball. Painter pitched a steady game for the winners and had

WILLIAMS DEFEATS R. P. I. NINE AND PLACES FIFTH IN N. E. I. TRACK MEET

FOURTH BASEBALL VICTORY—RUNNERS SCORE 11 POINTS

CAPTAIN MANNING STARS BROWN WINS TWO MILE

First Baseman Gets Four Hits and Fields Well—Burrows Pitches Steady Ball

Williams won its fourth victory out of five games played last Saturday by defeating the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute nine at Troy by the score of 7-4. A slippery field, resulting from rain which lasted during most of the contest, greatly hampered the fielders and accounted for most of the errors.

Both Burrows and Baldwin pitched good ball, but the Purple batters were able to lurch hits in several innings for the deciding tallies. Williams clinched the game in the seventh session, scoring four runs and making the count 6-1. The home team threatened to come back in the last half of the inning when a pass and four hits brought in three runs but the rally ended when Dewey was caught between second and third, and both he and Mackey, who tried to score from third on the play, were tagged out.

Captain Manning was easily the star of the day. In addition to fielding without an error and making several spectacular catches, he hit safely four out of five times at bat, and scored three runs. He was the only Williams man to get more than one safety but seven out of the remaining eight reached first on clean hits.

The visitors started the scoring in the third inning with one run. Manning doubled, stole third, and scored on a wild throw by Eller. Rensselaer came back in the last half of the inning, tying the score when Lawlor walked, advanced to second on a pass to Luby and scored on two fielders' choices.

There was no more scoring until the sixth, when the Purple counted again. Finn opened the inning with a single and took second on Roth's sacrifice. Papin's out advanced him to third, and he scored when Sparrow juggled Noble's hit.

In the next inning Williams forged ahead by scoring four more runs. Callahan started off with a clean double, went to third on Luby's error, and scored on Mason's single. McLean struck out. Manning singled for his third hit, scoring Mason, advanced to second when Finn walked, and came in on two wild throws. Roth fanned, and Papin singled, scoring Finn. Noble flied to Lawlor, retiring the side.

Rensselaer came back with three runs in the last half, but fast handling of the ball by the Purple infield stopped the scoring, and the game was practically decided. Williams scored another run in the eighth inning on a pass, a sacrifice fly, and a hit, and the home team was retired when Flandriau and Baldwin flied out and Luby fanned.

Stewart, Crofts, Spink, and P. Brown Score—M. I. T. Wins
With Sum of 37 Points

Williams placed fifth among the sixteen universities and colleges entered in the Thirty-third Annual New England Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet, held last Saturday afternoon at 1.45 o'clock on Tech Field, Cambridge, Mass. Massachusetts Institute of Technology was easily the winner, leading its nearest opponent by 17½ points.

The final joint score was: Massachusetts Institute of Technology 37, Wesleyan 19½, Brown 19, New Hampshire State College 17½, Williams 11, Boston College 10, Bowdoin 9, Holy Cross 8, University of Maine 6, Tufts 5, Amherst 5, Middlebury 5, Massachusetts Agricultural College 1, and Worcester Polytechnic Institute 1.

H. H. Brown, Spink, and Stewart '19, Crofts '21, and P. Brown '22, were the only Williams men to score. H. H. Brown, who won the two mile run in 1916, again took first in that event, and Crofts took second. Stewart placed third in the 880-yard run, and Spink and P. Brown tied with four other competitors for third in the pole vault.

H. H. Brown, having little opposition in the two mile, covered the distance in 9 minutes and 51 2-5 seconds. His time was 1 2-5 seconds better than that which he made in 1916.

He started off the race with a long lead, which he gained by sprinting the first quarter of a mile. He ran the first mile in 4 minutes and 42 seconds, and continued his fast pace to the end of the race. Leath of New Hampshire State was his nearest competitor throughout the greater part of the run, but on the final stretch Crofts sprinted ahead of him and placed second.

Cutbill of Wesleyan easily took the 880-yard run by covering the distance in 1 minute and 59 3-5 seconds, which is the fastest time that any New England athlete has run the half mile this year. Mullen of Holy Cross finished second, running three yards behind Cutbill and a little ahead of Stewart '19.

M. I. T., the winner of the meet, had a well rounded team, placing in nine out of the fourteen events. The Tech athletes took first in the 100-yard dash, running high jump, and pole vault; second in the 220-yard dash, running high jump, and hammer; and thirds and fourths in three events each. In the pole-vault Nagel and Walton of M. I. T. tied for first, and of the six men tied for third, two of them were from the winning team.

The summary is as follows:
100-yard dash—won by Rollins of M. I. T.; second, Mullane of Brown; third, Burbank of Wesleyan; fourth, Sullivan of M. A. C.; time, 10 2-5 seconds.

All in "Due Time"

Year by year as registration time rolls 'round we are brought in foreible and altogether unpleasant contact with that cumbrous machinery which weighs down the curriculum as the heavy engine of a tug boat weighs it down. It is largely a necessary evil; for the curriculum must drag after it a barge-load of undergraduates who lack motive power of their own. Unfortunate as it may seem, a college must be planned with a recognition of the fact that must be led through by a system of required courses and prerequisites, much as if he were blind and in need of a guide for every step he is to take. After that manner has the curriculum of Williams College been organized. It is built for the average man, and unfortunately the average man wants an easy rather than an instructive time of it; he lacks the necessary initiative and breadth of vision to choose for himself as he should. The result of which is that deadly condition of enforced equality among minds that in reality are far from being equal.

Much of this must be regarded as inevitable. But why the earnest student, the true seeker after knowledge, who can hew out his own pathway better than anyone else can hew it for him,—why he should be fettered with the ropes that are used to help along his weaker brother we do not understand. He demands, and with justice, that he be allowed to work out his own salvation, to develop his own individuality according to his lights. And it is not inconsistent with strict supervision of those who are in need of it to emancipate the real scholar from his ball and chain. A system of greater elective freedom and honors courses for those who have proven their right to them has often been advocated. The Faculty has at times actually been at work on the details of the honors courses system. In the general description of the curriculum contained in the College Catalogue we are informed that students of "very high scholarship" may petition for greater freedom of election in Junior and Senior years than is ordinarily allowed, and that "Such petitions will be referred to the Advisory Committee for consideration and report to the Faculty, and will be decided with a view to the establishment in due time of a system of honors courses." The italics are ours. This statement first appeared in the Catalogue in April, 1911. Can we humbly hope that before another eight years have flowed by and two college generations come and gone the Faculty will decide that it is "due time"? Or will each succeeding edition of the Catalogue continue to hold out to each succeeding class the vain and deluding hope it has flattered for these past eight years?

TENNIS TEAM DEFEATED

Varsity Loses to Springfield Club by 5 to 1 Score

In the second home tennis match of the season the varsity team lost to the Springfield Country Club by a score of 5 to 1 on the College courts last Saturday afternoon. Bullock and Rowse played a brilliant doubles game and secured the Purple's only victory by defeating Chase and Chapin in straight sets.

The Springfield players easily captured the four singles matches, although the varsity showed flashes of excellent play. The steady drives and accurate placing of the visitors proved the decisive factors. Davenport played the best individual game of the afternoon, exhibiting aggressive net work which featured the contest. In doubles Captain Pollard and Fraker gave a pretty exhibition, but succumbed to the greater experience of their opponents. The summary of scores follows:

Singles—Pike (S) defeated Captain Pollard (W) 6-2, 6-3; Davenport (S) defeated Fraker (W) 6-2, 6-3; Chapin (S) defeated Rowse (W) 6-2, 7-5; Chase (S) defeated Bullock (W) 6-1, 6-1.

Doubles—Pike and Davenport (S) defeated Pollard and Fraker (W) 6-3, 6-4; Rowse and Bullock (W) defeated Chase and Chapin (S) 6-4, 6-3.

TO MEET AMHERST

Tennis Team Will Play Fourth Match on Thursday

Williams will meet Amherst in the second athletic contest this spring between the two old rivals next Thursday afternoon at 4.00 o'clock when the tennis teams will clash on the College Courts. The Purple has already been victorious in track by a 81 1-4 to 44 3-4 score, and the two colleges will meet both in tennis and baseball during the coming week.

Indications favor the Amherst team in Thursday's match, since Pollard and Fraker were defeated 7-5, 6-4 by Hendrickson and Davis, the Purple and White doubles team, in the annual tournament of the New England Intercollegiate Lawn Tennis Association in Boston on May 13. Fraker was also defeated at the same time in singles by Hendrickson in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2. Hendrickson, the Amherst captain and mainstay of the team, was winner of the singles tournament in 1918, and is counted on to be a sure point-winner this week. Little is known of the ability of the other members of the visiting team, but it is hoped that Rowse and Bullock, who showed up well last Saturday against the Springfield Country Club, will be able to score victories. The teams will probably play as follows:

WILLIAMS AMHERST

Singles:—

Fraker	Hendrickson
Pollard	Davis
Rowse	Sprague
Bullock	Thorp

Doubles:—

Fraker and Pollard	Hendrickson and Davis
Rowse and Bullock	Sprague and Thorp

Prof. Licklider to Lecture

Professor Licklider will give a stereopticon lecture this evening at 7.30 o'clock in the Thompson Physical Laboratory under the auspices of the Outing Club. A large number of slides showing winter sports and carnival activities at Dartmouth have been secured for the occasion. The general public, as well as members of the Outing Club, is invited.

1922 MEETS DEFEAT

Freshmen Outplayed by Hotchkiss—Score 15 to 4

Playing its first out-of-town game of the season, the 1922 baseball nine met defeat at the hands of Hotchkiss last Saturday afternoon on the Lakeville diamond by a score of 15 to 4. Ability to hit the Freshman pitchers almost at will was the greatest factor in the victory of the preparatory school team.

Hotchkiss started the scoring in the first inning when two hits and some clever base running brought in the first two runs of the game. Another run was added in the second inning, three more in the third, six in the fifth, and five in the sixth. During the last three innings of the contest, the Lakeville team was unable to score, but the lead already acquired was too great for 1922 to overcome.

The effective pitching of Pond prevented the Freshmen from scoring until the third inning, when a combination of hits and errors resulted in three runs. Pond was replaced later in the game by Lincoln, who proved to be equally effective, allowing only one run to be made during his stay in the box.

Lack of practise was made evident by the poor showing of the Freshmen and contributed largely to their defeat. Burger and Brigham played well for 1922, and Pond and Mitchell starred for the winners.

Score by innings:—

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Hotchkiss	2	1	3	0	6	5	0	0	—17
1922	0	0	3	0	0	0	1	0	—4

Batteries: Pond, Lincoln and Shady; Buell, Wakeman, Nichols and Smith.

To Play Intramural Games

Theta Delta Chi will play the Faculty Club in the last scheduled round of the intramural baseball series on Cole Field at 4.15 o'clock this afternoon. Several other games, which have been postponed on account of rain, will also be held during the week, and the world series will take place as soon as the schedules are completed.

Vanderbilt Laboratory Raided

Police recently raided the medical laboratory at Vanderbilt University and seized two patrol wagon loads of whiskey and other intoxicants. Four students were arrested, charged with violating the state storage act.

BARNES EX-'19 HONORED*Awarded Naval Air Force Cross
by King of England

In recognition of his work while with the British aviation service, Ensign Philip J. Barnes ex '19 has been awarded the Naval Air Force Cross by His Majesty King George of England. Admiral Sims has also recommended him for decoration to the American government.

Barnes won his fame by establishing a new record for a non-stop flight last October while on duty on the east coast of England, when he flew for thirty hours without relief in a Z-type machine. Barnes has the reputation for being one of the best pilots in the naval air forces of either Great Britain or the United States and was requested to remain in the service in order to participate in the trans-Atlantic flight. One of his numerous feats was a fall of 1000 feet in a parachute. Barnes received his discharge last March and is now in Chicago where he has a position.

the opposing batsmen well under control at all times. Phelps starred at the receiving end of the Kappa Alpha battery and his accurate throws to second base cut short the careers of opposing base runners on several occasions. The batteries were Painter and Kimball for Beta Theta Pi, Cobb and Phelps for Kappa Alpha.

On the same afternoon Delta Upsilon defeated Phi Delta Theta 6 to 5 in a well played game on Cole Field. The winners gained a five run lead during the early part of the contest, while Rounds held the Phi Delta Theta batsmen hitless and scoreless. In the final inning, however, he was hit freely and the opposing team brought in five runs, tying the score. Delta Upsilon scored the winning tally in their half of the inning on a hit, an error, and a passed ball. Both teams fielded well throughout the contest, and Rounds pitched a good brand of ball. The batteries were Rounds and Kellogg for Delta Upsilon, Fleming and Acken for Phi Delta Theta.

Commons Club won its fifth straight game of the series when they defeated Chi Psi 3 to 1. The contest was close and the score was tied 1 to 1 until the fourth inning. In that period Commons Club made a trio of hits which resulted in the two winning runs, and Wakeman held Chi Psi scoreless during the remaining innings. Both Wakeman and Lyon performed well in the box and the fielding was generally fast. The batteries were Wakeman and Hahlo for Commons Club, Lyon and Clark for Chi Psi.

Psi Upsilon tightened its hold on the National League championship last Friday by defeating Phi Sigma Kappa 5 to 0. Dorsey had the opposing batsmen at his mercy throughout the contest, and Bianchi, pitching for Phi Sigma Kappa, was wild and ineffective. Loose fielding featured the game. Phi Sigma Kappa is now tied with Alpha Delta Phi for second place in the League standings. The batteries were Dorsey and Whittier for Psi Upsilon, Bianchi and Baldwin for Phi Sigma Kappa.

COLLEGE ASSUMES GAY HOLIDAY APPEARANCE

215 HOUSEPARTY GUESTS

Many Festivities Are Included in Week-end Program—Dances at Different Fraternities

Williamstown is again in the hands of the fair sex. With the arrival of the Promenade guests yesterday the College relaxed and gave itself up to a week-end of merriment. As a sequel to the Sophomore Promenade eleven of the fourteen fraternities are opening their doors to the visitors and will entertain them with Houseparties until Sunday afternoon. Three fraternities, Delta Psi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, and Phi Sigma Kappa will not join in the festivities. Several others, following the example set in previous Houseparties, have joined forces over the week end. Among these, Alpha Delta Phi, Kappa Alpha, and Sigma Phi form one group, and Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, and Theta Delta Chi comprise a second. The remaining five fraternities are entertaining separately.

This afternoon at 2.30 o'clock the annual Memorial Day contest with Amherst will take place on Weston Field, after which the interclass singing contest and the Gargoyle elections will be held on the Laboratory Campus. In

Horace Hallock Brown 1920, of Bernardsville, N. J., was elected captain of the varsity track team for next year at a meeting of "W" and "AWA" men held Wednesday afternoon in Lasell Gymnasium. Brown prepared for College at the Bernardsville High School, and though he had had no track experience previous to his coming to Williams, he has since developed into one of the best distance and middle distance runners that has ever represented the Purple on the track. In the spring of his freshman year Brown won the two mile in the dual meets with Amherst and Wesleyan and also at the New England Intercollegiate Meet at Boston. The next fall he was equally successful in the dual cross country meets and finished the season by winning the New England Intercollegiate five mile championship in the fast time of 28 minutes, 38 2-5 seconds. He left for France in May, 1917 but his 21 months of service over-

WILLIAMS WILL FACE AMHERST NINE WITH RECORD OF FOUR OUT OF FIVE VICTORIES

SEASON HAS BEEN SUCCESSFUL—CLOSE GAME TODAY

TEAM HITS HEAVILY

Varsity Has Defeated M. A. C., Union, Colgate and R. P. I., But Lost to Harvard

With a record of four victories out of five games played, the 1919 baseball season has been a decided success to date. Rainy weather has proved a persistent hoodoo, forcing the cancellation of four games, three of them out-of-town trips, but the Purple nine has shown excellent form in all contests played.

The pitching staff was materially strengthened at the beginning of the season by the addition of McLean '21, who was ineligible last year. In the first game of the season he pitched excellent ball against Massachusetts Agricultural College, lasting throughout the thirteen innings required to decide the contest. He was also victorious over Union in the second game, and pitched effectively against Harvard although the Crimson won on errors by the Williams infielders. Burrows, mainstay of last year's staff, has pitched two games and won both. He showed

BURROWS WILL PITCH

Visitors Have Lost Three Out of Five Contests, but Have Shut Out M. A. C. 5 to 0

All forecasts seem to point to an exceedingly close game when the Amherst and Williams nines meet tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock on Weston Field. Forty automobiles, bearing the entire Amherst student body will journey to Williamstown for the annual Memorial Day contest, and the number of Williams rooters will be greatly augmented by the arrival of many alumni and house-party guests.

Under the able direction of Coach Jacklitsch, Amherst has produced an extremely strong and well-balanced team. Unfortunately it was slow in getting started and lost its first two games of the season, the first 7-0 to Brown, and the second 5-1 to Dartmouth. On May 3 the Purple and White defeated Wesleyan decisively 8-4, and on May 14 the Massachusetts Agricultural College was overwhelmed by an 8-0 score. A week later Harvard succeeded in shutting out Amherst 5-0. This completes a record is a phrase we often hear, at the club, at our social gatherings, and in business itself, or practically anywhere, where men of business tendencies are associated. They tell you of the wonderful success of friends and acquaintances of theirs, they tell you of the great iron, steel and sugar kings and of articles they have read in the newspapers and magazines about men who have reached their goal. They go on continually, day after day, repeating the same story and the ultimate result is always the same; that of "Big Business"; or he is a "big business man."

Big Businesses were at one time ordinary or small business—they grew to be a Big Business because they were engineered by men of foresight and ability. Men who were careful to see that their customers were satisfied; men who kept themselves in a modest little background and allowed their business the "limelight." And if you should ask these same men today for their secret of success, they would tell you that it is all very simple—they produced quality at reasonable price and used the greatest business asset they have—Advertising.

Now, Mr. Business Man,—regardless of the size of your business, take advantage of that secret and use your greatest asset and advertise. Let us get in touch with you and show you samples of Printed Matter that commands attention and gets results.

FORUM HAS PLACE IN UNDERGRADUATE LIFE

FOUR DISCUSSIONS HELD

Speeches Dealing With International Subjects Followed by Informal Debate

As an outgrowth of the broader vision and greater interest in the affairs of the world, brought about by the war, the Williams Forum, a new forensic society, modelled somewhat on the plan of the old Adelpic Union, was formed late in February. The purpose of the Forum as stated in the constitution, "is to encourage the discussion of current social, economic, and political questions", and the method of achieving this object has been by means of meetings at which an address by some chosen speaker has been followed by discussion and debate by those present.

Walter Page Hedden 1920, one of the originators of the society who was largely responsible for the successful launching of the venture, was elected president of the Forum, John Gray Reinhardt 1920 is vice-president, and Alan Wilson Joslyn 1921 is secretary-treasurer. With these officers and various committees to arrange the programs, the Forum held four open meetings during the spring term. A room was secured on the second floor of Jesup Hall where periodical literature pertaining to the particular subjects under discussion was kept available for the use of members.

The Forum preceded its first meeting by a statement which stated both its objects and general plan in these terms: "The world today is confronted with large questions of social reconstruction. It is the duty of a liberal minded man to test the justice and practicality of every program offered for the solution of these problems and the betterment of the world in which we live. Realizing the need for free discussion and intelligent understanding by Williams men of such programs and problems, a group of undergraduates together with some of the faculty, have decided to establish a forum for the discussion of political, social, and economic questions. The plan in brief is this: at the regular meetings of the Forum, held at stated intervals, an undergraduate, faculty member, or special outside speaker will present a program or a criticism of political, social, or economic reform. The speaker will be restricted to a definite time at the expiration of which any member, upon recognition by the chairman, may speak for seven minutes for or against the proposal. At the conclusion of the meeting the original speaker will have the privilege of a five or ten minute review of the criticisms."

All of the questions taken up for discussion by the Forum at the four meetings held during the spring have dealt with international affairs. At the first Professor Pratt spoke on the proposed covenant for the League of Nations, upholding the principle by refuting the criticisms of the League made a short time before by Senator Knox. Professor Morton attacked the League, in the next meeting held a week later, and the presentation of both sides of the question gave ample opportunity for informal speeches by those in favor of and opposed to the League. Shortly afterwards, at the suggestion of the Forum a straw ballot was conducted in the Record on three questions connected with the League of Nations, it showed that a majority of the undergraduates favored the principle of a league, but was opposed to the suggested covenant and opposed to its inclusion in the peace treaty.

Hedden '20 addressed the next meeting on the subject of a policy towards Russia, advocating the cooperation of the Allies with the Bolsheviks to aid them in the working out of their ideas for the future of Russia. Various phases of the question were discussed afterwards though fewer participated than at the preceding meetings. At this meeting a constitution for the Forum was adopted and permanent officers elected.

Early in May the complications resulting from Italy's claim to Fiume and the determination of the other Allies not to grant the claim were filling the newspapers and were discussed, chiefly from the historical standpoint, by Professor Smith.

The final meeting of the Forum was to have been on the subject of prison reform, as presented by Mr. Even W. Thomas, but his inability to fill his engagement caused the abandonment of the plan. Although the meetings of the Forum have not been followed by as thorough and general a discussion as was hoped for, their claim to a place in College life has been justified by the interest shown and by the number of undergraduates who have attended them.

Program For The Day

of the G. A. R. The latter will be comprised of a parade this morning, speeches, and the recital of the G. A. R. ritual over the grave of Edward Payson Hopkins.

The line of march will be from Spring street to the Soldiers Monument at 9.45 o'clock, where Douglas Wild '17, will make the address and C. K. Parker '19 will recite Lincoln's Gettysburg speech. After the placing of the wreath on the monument, the line will pass to the College Cemetery, where the G. A. R. ritual will be given.

The next event of importance will be the Williams-Amherst baseball game at 2.30 on Weston Field. Following this will come the interclass singing contest at Jesup Hall, and the election to the Gargoyle Society of members of the junior class, the ceremony taking place on the laboratory campus.

In the evening the Combined Musical Clubs will give their concert at 8.00 o'clock in Grace Hall, followed by dances at the various fraternity houses.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR 1919 FOOTBALL ELEVEN

Experienced "W" Men Assure Success—Boynton Certain To Play at Quarter

With an unequaled wealth of experienced material on which to build the football team next September, Williams may look forward with confidence to a most successful season. Five letter men as well as a number who played less regularly on the undefeated eleven of 1917 will be available at the opening of College next fall and should form a remarkable combination without the addition of the former 1921 class team and the S. A. T. C. players.

Every department of the game can be well covered by veterans. The backfield will be both heavy and fast. Boynton, who has definitely decided to return to College, will be the foundation of the offence. Although he was picked as All-American quarter-back in 1917 he should be in even better form during the coming season. No less valuable than his line plunging and passing will be his kicking ability which will cover any possible weakness in that department. Krieger another veteran who did excellent work, will account for full-back. A complete line can be formed of experienced players. Mills, who played a steady game as center will fill his old position. Fieser, another "W" man, is a reliable guard. Carrick will again play the end position and with Bonner as a mate should make a fast combination. Gilham and Stabler will also give decided strength to the line. Lasell and Papin as well as Franzheim who may return to College in September are other experienced players.

Owing to war conditions the members of 1921 who played on their class team during their freshman year, have had no opportunity for varsity play, but they will provide much likely material for the coming season. Fulle is a good man in the line and Phillips, McLean, and Coddington are other strong members of the former 1921 eleven. Joslyn, although rather light did good work at left end on the S. A. T. C. eleven. A number of other men showed decided ability last fall and are prospective candidates for the squad.

At present the College has not secured a coach for next September, but efforts are now being made along that line.

Last Tuesday and Wednesday two more postponed games on the intramural schedule, both in the National League, were played off on Cole Field. Very few games still remain to be played and it seems assured that the Commons Club and Psi Upsilon will be the rivals in the Worlds Series to be held in the near future.

On Tuesday afternoon Psi Upsilon clinched its hold on first place by a victory over Delta Psi by the overwhelming score of 21-0. The game was very loosely played on the part of the losers and proved to be a literal "comedy of errors". But the winners also displayed their ability at bat by hammering out thirteen safeties, of which two went for more than one base, whereas Critze was the only man of the defeated team who could connect safely with the ball. This was due entirely to the steady work of Dorsey in the box, who pitched air-tight ball with never a let-up through the five innings of play. Psi Upsilon started off in the first inning and made four runs, and from then on there was no doubt about which side would win. The third inning proved to be the most fatal for Delta Psi, for at that time, thirteen of the victors came to bat for a total of nine runs. The batteries were Dorsey and Whittier for Psi Upsilon and Mellen and Hegardt for Delta Psi.

Phi Sigma Kappa maintained itself in second place by its defeat of the Faculty Club by a 6-5 score in a close and well-played game last Wednesday afternoon. Up to the last inning the winners were in the lead by 5-1, but a rally by the Faculty brought in four runs and tied the score, making another inning necessary. In the sixth inning Cameron singled, stole second, and reached home on a wild throw to first for the winning run. The batteries were Mendes and Baldwin for Phi Sigma Kappa and Agard and Buffinton for the Faculty Club.

Cornell Tournament Completed

In a closely contested match, K. M. Reid '21 defeated L. W. Fisher '20 in the final round of the University tennis tournament, thus winning 1919 championship honors.

CAMPUS RINGS WITH SOUNDS OF CONFLICT

UNDERCLASSMEN IN CLASH

1921 Party and 1922 Banquet Terminate in Only Pitched Battle in Three Years

Echoes of pagan paeans resembling the historic strains of Caesar's Veni-Vidi-Vici March were heard on the Campus last Tuesday from the swollen throats of the first Freshman class since 1916 which has dared to attempt official wrath by promoting hostilities with its traditional enemies, the Sophomores. Plans for the abduction of the 1921 class officers in an effort to break up the annual Sophomore class party at the Hopper were successfully carried out, but the ensuing revenge of the second year men in the midnight fistic tournament caused a slight, yet somewhat satisfactory, diminuendo in the 1922 songs of victory.

Ever since their success in the underclass tug-o-war two weeks ago the Freshmen had been seeking further opportunity to exhibit their superiority over their immediate elders, and the desired chance came last Monday upon the occasion of the 1921 party at the Hopper. During the early hours of the morning, Adams '21, class treasurer, was awakened from a deep dream of peace by a presence in his room. An overpowering rush of fractious freshmen, a rope, a gag, and a speedy Stutz constituted Adams' Nemesis, and he was silently spirited away to a deserted cabin far up on the Mohawk Trail.

No inkling of the event reached the ears of 1921, so the next coup of the first year men, directed against Dana '21 at 1:45 o'clock, came as a complete surprise. Dana was enticed away from a history class by a mysterious telephone call with a squad of freshmen serving in the capacity of Central Operator. For several minutes the line was very busy while Dana was being overpowered, thrown into a car, and transported to a secure retreat near the rifle range on East Mountain. His vocal efforts, however, aroused a number of his classmates who immediately placed a garrison in Hopkins Hall in time to prevent the abduction of Belcher '21, president of the class, and Frazier '21, chairman of the Hopper party committee. For a time, the sounds of combat resounded through the halls of the administration building, but Faculty intervention put an end to the festivities soon after Belcher and Frazier had been safely escorted from their classes.

During the afternoon, parties of sophomores in automobiles scoured the surrounding country in a vain effort to discover and recover their missing officers. No trace of the officers was found but when the class of 1921 assembled in the Hopper at 6 o'clock it had added twenty freshmen and two enemy automobiles to its list of captured articles. These freshmen were forced to remain away from the 1922 class banquet at the Richmond Hotel, North Adams, which was also being held that evening.

It was learned at this time that the freshmen, assisted by upperclassmen, had succeeded in tracing Belcher and Frazier to their hiding place in the hills whither they had been removed for the

ONCE UPON A TIME

There was a man who said the "Record" wasn't worth a cent. He said that $4.00 might better be thrown away than spent just to get vivid, interesting accounts every few days of what was happening at College.

He couldn't understand why the alumni wanted to read about what their friends were doing.

And he wasn't interested at all in a minor matter like getting more men to come to Williams.

Maybe the reason he felt this way was because he went to Amherst.

Where did you go to college?

I want to see Williams grow bigger and better every year. I can't help if I don't know what is going on inside the College. I am going to join the "Boost for Williams" Club—and besides I believe I'll get $4.00 worth of personal satisfaction out of reading the "Record"

Venus in the Berkshires

That a day lasts from sun to sun has been acclaimed by immemorial poets, asserted by philosophy professors, affirmed by the physics department, taught in the Williams curricula, past and present, approved even by the registrar, and is now almost an axiom. Yet the liberally educated Williams man transcends mere faculty precepts, rises upon two pump-clad very tired feet and declares that the sun, yea, even the moon has nothing to do with a day and that some days live forever.

May 30 means little in the life of ordinary individuals but to those within the pale, to the Williams man and the Williams guest, it is not a day but an epoch. It is bounded by two scented notes, an acceptance for anticipation and a thank you for realization. In the middle come music, cars, tuxedos, décollete gowns, two base hits, first chapels, Amherst, songs, squatting on fences, peach bloom complexions and more music. It is a day of good lines both mental and physical. Now what has the mere sun to do with this? It is a day when one loses shekels, solitaires, sleep, and chaperones, but blessed by those who receive our tribute and may they still dance when the shimie is as old as the minuet. That the learned faculty should declare that such a day has bounds is absurd. The sun of May 30 does not set by the first of June.

We have but one hope—that our guests shall feel as we, and then May 30 will be eternal. So we lie down to be walked upon by pretty French heels and we make but one request, that you, young lady clasp your hands and pray for a victory over Amherst and that we shall not have rain.

We Still Have Two Fists

Williamstown has had an awakening. Since the funeral of the late lamented Cane Contest there has been nothing to equal the "disturbances" of Monday last. Rob us of our organized and legal class battles and ever and anon we find ourselves unable to refrain from other combats, less organized and less legal. It would seem to be a fundamental need of human,—or, to speak more accurately, underclass, nature that some outlet be found for animal spirits, and for the gratification of the combative instinct.

What does it all indicate, this atavistic reversion to the "brave old days"? Some would have it that depravity is at the root of such outbursts, and that they indicate lawlessness, and a childish, undignified "rah-rah" spirit. To us it has a different significance. It means that we may still find among Williams men the more virile and heroic virtues, and that our undergraduates have retained their youthfulness, their exuberance, their love of participating in a good scrap against all efforts to turn them into mild mannered scholastics. Only a very small minority really wants to see healthy pugnacity and friendly rivalry stifled and the softer qualities of gentleness and effeminacy encouraged. After watching the undergraduates stand up like true men and give and take murderous blows until mutual exhaustion ended the fracas, and then stand up and give cheers for their erst while enemies, seniors who answer for the Class Book a query concerning their opinions of the state of virility in Williams can now raise their estimates. The same qualities of enterprise aggressiveness, and physical courage that gave the College its reputation as a breeder of fighting men during the war were very much in evidence last Monday. The Williams man is still two-fisted, and we are proud of him.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

May 26, 1919.

To the Editor of the Record.

Sir—

Members of the graduating class are eligible for membership in the Williams Club of New York City, after commencement.

The By-Laws of the Club read as follows in this regard:—

"Members of the Graduating Class of Williams College who shall be duly proposed and seconded for membership in the Club on or before November first next succeeding their graduation shall not be required to pay an initiation fee."

This will undoubtedly interest Record readers. A request from a senior or any undergraduate who plans to leave college at the end of the current term will bring him immediately further information in regard to classes of membership and annual dues. Any such request should be sent to the Committee on Membership, 291 Madison Avenue, New York City.

Yours very truly,

J. R. Hamilton,

Chairman Membership Committee.

To the Editor of the Record.

Sir:—

To all those students of Williams and residents of Williamstown who lent such timely assistance in extinguishing the serious conflagration which threatened to destroy the Kappa Alpha Lodge last Tuesday, the Society wishes to extend its sincere thanks. It is especially beholden to the management of the Greylock for its cooperation in supplying fire extinguishers and to the Williamstown Volunteer Fire Department for its prompt response to the fire call.

The society wishes also to express its appreciation of the hospitality displayed on the part of the other fraternity houses in their kind offers to share their board. This is one of the finest manifestations of the spirit of Williams College that has occurred within the memory of the writer.

Cleveland Thurber.

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION RECOVERS PEACE STATUS

Alumni Committee Gives Funds to Support Organization During Entire Year

Handicapped by the unusual condition resulting from the war, the Williams Christian Association has, nevertheless, been able to complete a successful year through the support afforded by the Alumni Committee and the able work of Mr. T. M. Banks '90, general secretary. Loss of adequate quarters on account of the fire in Jesup Hall during the S. A. T. C. period last November and the late return of many active members has caused curtailment of many of the usual activities, but since the re-opening of College on an academic basis in January, work has been resumed as far as possible along the old lines.

With the inauguration of the S. A. T. C. unit last October, a regular "Y" was established with T. M. Banks '90 as secretary. Headquarters were instituted in the regular rooms in Jesup Hall until the fire on November 5 which necessitated a change of location. A temporary reading room was provided in the Thompson Biological Laboratory until the use of the Chi Psi Lodge was secured. In a campaign for the War Work Fund the quota of $2,000, assigned to the Williams Unit, was exceeded by more than $4,000.

When College reopened as an academic institution in January, the donation of the Alumni Committee permitted the W. C. A. to resume activities on its former basis. The College was canvassed, and 253 members were secured. This number is rather less than normal, but the ruling made in 1917 to the effect that membership should last only one year and imperfect organization in canvassing is largely responsible for this condition. No Subscriptions were solicited from the undergraduate body to defray running expenses of the organization, but $375 was raised by the students for the support of the Canton Christian College, Canton, China.

No courses in Bible study were conducted by members of the faculty this year on account of the general unsettled conditions, and community work was necessarily reduced to a somewhat smaller scale than is customary. A Boy Scout troop was organized at Briggsville, and a Boys Club at White Oaks, however, and some Sunday School classes were again taken over in the local churches. Deputation teams gave entertainments at Broad Brook School House, Clark Chapel, and West Stockbridge, and the Charities Committee assisted the local Red Cross chapter in securing clothing from the students to send over-seas. Delegates were sent to two conferences, and it is hoped that at least 25 members will attend the one to be held at Northfield in June.

Fire in Kappa Alpha

A conflagration was narrowly escaped last Tuesday morning when material in the kitchen of the Kappa Alpha Lodge became ignited and the wood-work caught fire quickly. Members of the society were able to extinguish the flames by means of chemical extinguishers borrowed from the Greylock Hotel although the alarm was turned in and the College Fire Brigade summoned. The College fire fighters, however, found their work completed when they arrived on the scene. Only minor damage resulted from the accident.

After all, outfitting is just one grand merry-go-round—everybody happy or his moneyback.

TERRY WINNER OF 1922 DECLAMATION CONTEST

Lyon Gains Second Prize With Wilson Speech—Ten Freshmen Deliver Orations

James Hendrick Terry, 1922, of New York City, who delivered John M. Thurston's American Intervention, won the first prize of twenty dollars, and Hiram William Lyon, 1922, of Buffalo, N. Y., giving Woodrow Wilson's No Surrender, secured the second prize of ten dollars in the Freshman Declamation Contest, held in the Common Room at 8.00 o'clock last Wednesday evening.

Terry delivered his selection with skill, heightening the interest of the piece with appropriate and natural gestures. The speech called for the display of emotion at some points and force at others, in both of which he succeeded well. Terry prepared for College at Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., where he was president of the Christian Fraternity, editor of the Peen, the year-book, a member of the Dramatic Association, and winner of several prizes in public speaking and declamation. He is a member of the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

Lyon had a strong speech and delivered it in an exceedingly forceful manner. The other speakers, S. A. Brown, Brune, Buxton, Holsten, Lafave, Loiseaux, Schaufler, and Youngman, all gave evidence of having earned the right to compete in the final contest.

Former Student is Poet

R. E. McMillin of Boston, Mass., formerly a student at Williams College, is the author of a collection of poems recently issued through E. A. McMillin & Co., published by the friends of the late writer. The book is divided into three sections: "War Poems," "Occasional Poems," and "Baseball Poems". In the first group are his Liberty Loan Poems, which attracted some attention in 1917 and 1918, being used for campaign purposes by committees both in Boston and Washington, D. C. The baseball poems were written during the late author's years as sporting editor of the Boston Journal and later the Boston American.

TENNIS RECORD POOR

Amherst and Wesleyan Yet To Be Faced By Purple

With a record to date of one victory and two defeats, the tennis team has had rather a poor start toward a successful season, although the two decisive matches of the season, those with Amherst and Wesleyan, remain yet to be played. Inclement weather has been responsible for the cancellation of contests with Union and Trinity and for a day's postponement of the New England Intercollegiates.

At the beginning of the season Captain Pollard picked Harden '20, Fraker '21 and Rowse '22 to compose the team. In later matches, however, Shepard '18 and Bullock '21, both former letter men, have been substituted in place of Harden. Rowse has been the most consistently good player, particularly when paired in doubles with Shepard or Bullock, and has been a steady winner for the Purple. Pollard and Fraker have shown to advantage in singles and have played brilliantly at times in doubles together.

In the first contest of the season at Hanover, Dartmouth won all six matches from the Williams team. Very little previous time had been allowed the Williams team for practice because of rainy weather and delay in repairing courts, but in spite of this fact Captain

Pollard and Rowse hotly contested each point and only lost by a narrow margin. At the New England Intercollegiate tournament held in Boston shortly afterward, Pollard and Fraker, the two Williams representatives, were both defeated in the early rounds of collegiate tournament held in Boston shortly afterward, Pollard and Fraker, the two Williams representatives, were both defeated in the early rounds of the single tournament, and together in the doubles tournament by the Amherst players.

The first victory of the season was scored over Colgate May 16 on the College courts, four matches to two. Each match won by the visitors required three sets to decide. Last Saturday afternoon a visiting team representing the Springfield Country Club won five out of six matches from the varsity. Although Williams at times showed flashes of brilliant playing, the steady driving and accurate placing of the visitors scored point after point and proved the deciding factor. Rowse and Bullock won the only match of the afternoon for the Purple by pretty exhibition of tennis.

Manager Kimball '19 deserves unqualified credit for the excellent condition of the College courts in spite of continued bad weather and for the unflinching energy he has shown in arranging new matches for the varsity.

Amherst Nine

especially good form against the strong Colgate nine, holding the Maroon batsmen to four hits and allowing the varsity to triumph by a 10-2 score.

All positions on the team were filled by veterans at the beginning of the season with the exception of third base, and this place has been the weakest spot on the team all spring. Nichols, a freshman, was picked to fill the place in the first game, but was found weak in the hitting department, although fielding well. E. C. Brown '19 was next elected to fill the position, and played good ball in the next three games until forced out of the line-up when he contracted a case of mumps. Since that time McLean has played third base when not pitching, a combination which proved successful in the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute contest.

The rest of the infield has required no shifting. Captain Manning at first base has been one of the best players on the team; Mason fielded well at second and stands third in batting; Callahan proved to be a fast man at shortstop, where he was shifted from left field, his place in 1918; and Finn has probably been the most valuable man on the nine, fielding 1,000 and batting second with an average of .391.

The outfield positions were also filled with veterans, Roth and Papin having played on the 1918 and Boyden on the 1917 team. Roth leads the nine in batting with an average of .450, and Boyden is one of the four men on the team to field 1,000.

The Season Opens

The varsity opened its season on May 19 with a home game against M. A. C., which resulted in a 5 to 4 victory for the Purple after the contest had gone thirteen innings. Errors were numerous, as was to be expected so early in the season.

After the second game, scheduled with Holy Cross at Worcester, was cancelled on account of rain, the Purple nine won its second victory triumphing over Union 4-3 on May 3. The game was featured by Roth's heavy hitting, the center fielder getting four hits out of four times at bat. The play on both sides was still ragged.

On the following Thursday the varsity showed great improvement against Colgate, and the strong Maroon nine was defeated 10 to 2. The Williams men outplayed their opponents in every department of the game, scoring a total of 13 hits off three Colgate pitchers. Roth again hit heavily, sharing the honors with McLean, who filled Papin's place in left field in this game.

On May 10 the team journeyed to West Point to face the Army, but was again disappointed when rainy weather forced the cancellation of the contest. On the next Wednesday the Purple suffered its first defeat, at the hands of Harvard 11-4. Errors by the infielders and failure to hit safely in the pinches was responsible for the loss.

The next two scheduled games, with Bowdoin here on May 17, and Yale at New Haven on May 21, were both called off at the last moment because of rainy weather.

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute was defeated on a slippery field last Saturday by a decisive 7-4 score, totalling four victories for Williams. Burrows pitched his second game, showing good form, and the Purple batters continued to hit heavily, eight of the nine players getting at least one hit.

Individual Criticism

Rufus Baker Manning 1919, of Toledo, Ohio, first baseman and captain, has played a consistent game all season. Steadiness characterizes his play in the field, and he has also starred at bat, standing well up in the list with an average of .333.

William Neehall Boyden 1919, of Evanston, Ill., rightfielder, is the only veteran of the 1917 team. He has maintained the excellent reputation as an outfielder that he achieved two years ago, and has gone through the season so far without an error.

Edvard Cleveland Brown 1919, of St. Paul, Minn., third baseman, was chosen by Coach Thomas to fill this position after the first game. Brown already has an enviable record in athletics, having won his "W" on the 1917 football team, where he and Boynton '20 were the stars of the season, and his insignia on the hockey seven. He justified Coach Thomas' choice in the three games in which he played, fielding and hitting consistently.

Joseph Mortimer Callahan 1919, of Norwood, Mass., shortstop, was one of the most valuable men on last year's team, where he played left field. This year Coach Thomas moved him in to shortstop, where he has played well. He takes all the throws from the catcher, and he and Finn have proved a formidable combination in preventing runners from stealing second.

Burrows Will Pitch

of two victories and three defeats to date.

The visitor's pitching staff, although small, has been showing good form, and consists of Zink, Nash and Clark, all Veterans of last year. Davison has done excellent work behind the bat. First base is the only position in the infield which is not held by a member of last year's nine, and a freshman, Eames, has succeeded in covering the initial bag. Captain Maynard has proved to be the mainstay of the outfield at center and his ability at bat has been a valuable factor in all of the games.

Williams' record of four victories and one defeat is slightly better than that of her opponents, but a comparison of the results of both team's games with M. A. C. and Harvard reveals a greater equality in their respective strengths. For, although Amherst shut out the former team 8-0, Williams barely succeeded in winning by 4-3. Against Harvard, each was defeated by equally decisive scores.

Wesleyan Here in Tennis

Williams will meet Wesleyan in tennis tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock on the College Courts. A hard contest is expected as the Wesleyan players have been victorious in all three of the matches played this spring, winning from Trinity 6-0, Springfield Y. M. C. A. 5-1, and Brown 6-0.

Track Election Cancelled

Due to an error in the printing of the ballots, the election of the assistant manager of track scheduled for last Tuesday has been deferred until Monday, June 2 when it will take place at the same time as the election of assistant managers of football, baseball, tennis, and golf.

1920 to Hold Picnic Monday

It was voted to hold a 1920 class picnic next Monday evening to which 1918 and 1919 men will be invited, at a Junior class meeting held in the Jesup Hall Reading Room at 7.30 o'clock last Wednesday evening. A committee will be appointed to make the necessary arrangements and determine the amount of a tax to be imposed on each member of the Junior class. Those seniors and 1918 men present will also be asked to pay a small fee.

Greylock Hotel is Now Open

With a number of guests on hand and reservations for many more in the near future, the Greylock Hotel opened last Saturday for the eighth season under the management of Henry N. Teague, lessee. Since the fire last fall, the whole hotel has been redecorated and refurnished and added distinction to the interior is given by some rich pieces of furniture remaining from the old Mansion House. There are now 165 rooms in the hotel and accommodations for 100 cars in the garage.

CAPT. MAYNARD OF AMHERST

Since last Saturday's victory over R. P. I. the varsity has had some hard practices to whip it into shape for the Amherst game. The men are confident that they will win a victory although it is not yet certain that Brown and Boyden will be able to get into the game on account of their recent disabilities. In this case, the line-up will probably be the same as in last Saturday's game, with McLean at third and Noble at right field.

The line-up follows:

WILLIAMS	AMHERST
Callahan ss	Eveleth rf
Mason 2b	Eames 1b
McLean 3b	Cowles 3b
Manning 1b	Maynard cf
Papin lf	Brisk 2b

1919 TRACK TEAM

Success Attends 1919 Track Team

seas do not seem to have impaired his running ability. For this spring he has not only won his event, the two mile in the dual meets with Union and Amherst and at the New England Intercollegiate meet, but won the mile in the meet with Wesleyan and at Amherst took first place in the half mile soon after running the two. His time of 9 minutes, 51 2-5 seconds at the Intercollegiates last week is the best that has been made in the East this year and he also holds the College record for the five-mile cross country run. His total of 25 points for the four meets this season is not only the highest of any man on the team but remarkable for a long distance runner. Brown is a member of the Gargoyle society and of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Review of the Season

Victories over Amherst and Union and the winning of fifth place in the New England Intercollegiates mark the success of the 1919 track season. Although the team met defeat at the hands of Wesleyan, the score was close enough to indicate that the varsity was far from being outclassed. The results of the other dual meets, however, were overwhelmingly in favor of the Purple athletes. Handicapped as he was by the fact that no Freshman-Sophomore meet was held last fall where he could find new material and that the athletic situation here last winter prevented the formation of a relay team, Coach Seeley has done remarkably well in building up a team that has met with such uniform success. And the successful culmination of his efforts is all the more remarkable since his service in the aviation prevented his commencing work before the first of March.

Veterans on Team

The presence of several veterans of former teams has been an important factor in the success of this year's aggregation. Brown '19, who was the New England Intercollegiate two-mile champion three years ago, Spink '19, who won the pole vault in the meet with Amherst in the same year, and Captain Stewart '19, who secured second place in the 440-yard dash in the same meet, are all veterans of the highly successful 1916 team which defeated both Amherst and Wesleyan.

On account of the establishment of the R. O. T. C. here in the spring of 1917, all meets were cancelled, but several members of the 1918 squad were available for this year's team. In the distance runs, Parker '20 and Crofts '21 were winners in the meets with Union and Amherst last year, while in the middle distances, Penfield '19 and Olson '20 figured on last season's team. In the field events, Kieser '20 in the broad jump, the 1918 New England Intercollegiate champion, Wickwire '20, in that and in the high jump, Anderson '20, in the latter event, Mills '20, in the shot put, Fieser '20, in the discus throw, and Hibbard '21, in the hammer throw, were all point winners in meets last year.

P. Brown '22 is among the best of the new material discovered this spring. Besides tying Spink for first place in the pole vault in the meet against Union, he secured half a point in the Intercollegiates by tying with five other men for third place. P. Phillips '21 is another new man who has shown considerable promise. After winning second places in the high hurdles in the Union and Wesleyan meets, he succeeded in beating his nearest competitor, Greeff '19, in the low hurdles at Amherst. The latter although a senior, had his first season on the varsity track team this spring and proved to be the Purple's mainstay in the high and low hurdles, winning 20 points in the three dual meets.

Team Weak in Dashes

Throughout the season, the track team suffered a severe handicap from its weakness in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. It was only with the weak Union squad that the Purple sprinters were able to hold their own. In the Wesleyan and Amherst meets, the rival dash men secured nearly all places. In the former meet, Wesleyan took all the places in the 100 yard dash and first place in the 220, and in the latter no Williams athletes even qualified for the final heat of the 220-yard dash. Coach Seeley made no entries in either of these events in the New England Intercollegiates last week. The high jump was another weak point in this season's team, although Anderson '20 was able to tie for first place in the Amherst meet.

MANAGER COLLINS—TRACK

Williams Strong in Distances

The greatest strength of the varsity lay in the distance and middle distance events. Against Union, the Purple distance men secured all places in the mile run and all but third in the two-mile. The next week against Wesleyan, Crofts, Coan and Platt placed in the two-mile run and H. H. Brown and Parker secured first and third place respectively in the mile. At Amherst, the Williams distance runners again defeated their rivals, gaining firsts and seconds in the mile and two-mile races.

It was in the New England Intercollegiates last week, however, that it was proven that Williams has in Brown and Crofts two of the best distance men in the Eastern colleges. Not only did Brown's time beat that of any yet made in the East this season, but Crofts' was equal to that made in the Yale-Harvard meet which was reputed at the time to be the best made, next to Brown's.

In the middle distances, Captain Stewart, Kellogg, and Penfield managed to secure all places in the half mile in the Union and Wesleyan meets and aided by H. H. Brown were able to shut out Amherst in that event. Kieser '20 placed well in the 440-yard dash in all of the dual meets but was unsuccessful in the Intercollegiates.

Review of Dual Meets

Taking nine firsts, six seconds, six thirds, a tie for first and another for third, the varsity track team easily vanquished the Union team at Williamstown, May 3, by the decisive score of 83-43. It was only in the weight events that Union had any strength at all, and her only first places were in the discus throw, the hammer throw, and the high jump. The Purple showed strength in all events.

Wesleyan at Williamstown on May 10 was a more difficult proposition and the varsity lost by the close score of 63½ to 62½. Although the Red and Black was outclassed in the distance and middle distance events, its superiority in the dashes and a slight advantage in the field events gave it a close decision over the Purple.

The next week at Amherst the varsity came back with an overwhelming victory over its ancient rival by a score of 81½ to 44½. Winning eleven firsts, six seconds, and four thirds, together with a tie for one first and one second place, Williams easily ran away from the Purple and White and at no time was in danger of losing the meet. Amherst's only success was in the 100 and 220-yard dash.

Although the varsity, with a total of 11 points, secured only fifth place in the New England Intercollegiate last Saturday, the result is fairly satisfactory, taking into consideration the fact that in most of the events, H. H. Brown '19 was one of the individual stars of the meet. The strong M. I. T. team won the championship with a total of 37 points, but the other three colleges ahead of Williams had only a slight lead over the Purple.

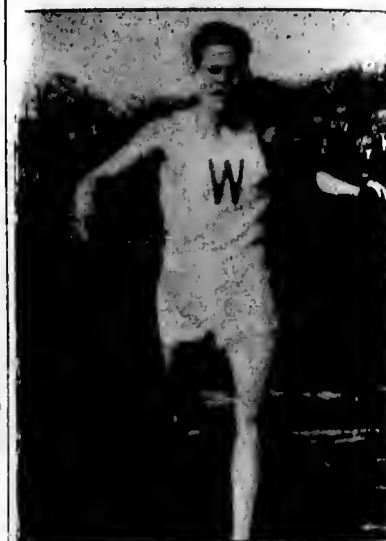

Captain Stewart, Greeff, Spink, and Penfield, who secured a total of 56½ points this year, will be lost to the team by graduation this June. Williams men, however, ran second to them in the half mile and in the hurdle races, so their loss will not prove a very serious setback to next year's team.

Individual Criticisms

Francis Barretto Stewart, II, 1919, of Ossining, N. Y., captain of the team, prepared for Williams at the Holbrook School, Ossining, N. Y. Stewart was a member of the 1916 and 1917 varsity relay teams and was a quartermiler on the spring track team in 1916. Last year he was on the cross-country team in the fall and in the spring was elected captain of track to take the place of Matz '18, who was absent from College on war service. He ran the half mile last year, and was reelected captain after the Amherst meet. This spring he has run both the half and the quarter mile, winning the former against Union and Wesleyan and the latter against Amherst. He also secured third place in the half-mile run at the Intercollegiates. He has been a valuable man to the track team and much of its success in the last three years has been due to his efforts.

Horace Hallock Brown, 1920, of Bernardsville, N. J., prepared for College at the Bernardsville High School. Although he had no track experience there at all, he has developed into one of the best distance and middle distance runners who has ever been engaged in track athletics in Williams. He is captain-elect for next year's team. In the spring of his freshman year, Brown won every race he entered in the dual meets with Amherst and Wesleyan and won the two mile in the New England Intercollegiate cross-country championship in 1916, on the victorious

CAPT.-ELECT H. H. BROWN

Williams team. He showed his versatility this spring by beating Captain Stewart in the half-mile at Amherst, as well as winning the two-mile. At the New England Intercollegiates last week, when Brown won the two-mile championship for the second time, his time, 9 minutes and 51 2-5 seconds, was the best that had been made in the East this year. He holds the college record in the 5 mile cross country race.

Charles Albert Greeff, 1919, of New York, N. Y., who scored 20 points in the three dual meets this year, has had one of the most successful seasons of any man on the team. He won both high and low hurdles in the Union contest, placed third in both events in the Wesleyan meet, and won the high hurdles and secured second place in the low hurdles against Amherst. This was his first year on the varsity track team.

Walker Penfield, 1919, of Pelham Manor, N. Y., secured two points in the dual meets. He came in third in the half-mile against both Amherst and Union. Last year he was on the varsity cross-country and track team.

Henry Russell Platt, Jr., 1919, of Evanston, Ill., secured his only point of the season by finishing third in the two-mile run against Wesleyan. He was a member of the varsity cross-country team in 1917.

Erwin Shepard Spink, Jr., 1919, of Phoenixia, N. Y., made a total of 14½ points in the dual meets and the Intercollegiate. Three years ago he won the pole vault against Amherst, and he repeated his performance this year over Union and Wesleyan, as well as tying with five others for third place in the New England.

Samuel Wagner Anderson, of La Crosse, Wis., has been the high jumper of the track team for the last two seasons. Last year he won his N.W.A. and this season has amassed a total of 8½ points by placing second in the meets with Union and Wesleyan and tying with three others for first against Amherst.

Gerald George J. Carick, 1920, of New York City, has secured six points this season by placing third in the 220-yard (Continued on page 14, col. 1)

H. H. BROWN WINNER OF LEHMAN CUP MEET

Winner Takes Two Firsts, One Second, Third, and Fourth—
Spink Wins Third Place

Securing two firsts, a second, a third, and a fourth Brown '20, with a total of 33 points, won first place in the Lehman Cup Meet held Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons on Weston Field. Stewart '19 was a close second with 30 points, and Spink '19 was but five points behind him. This is the first time that the Lehman Meet has been run on Weston Field instead of on the board track and in Lasell gymnasium, and the dash was lengthened from the usual 35 yards to 100, and the hurdles from 40 yards to the regular distance for high and low hurdles. The points for these races were therefore given on the same basis as for the longer runs, that is 10, 7, 4, 2, and 1 for the first five places, instead of 5, 3, 2, 1, and 1/2 as in former competitions.

Five events, the 120-yard high hurdles, the 100-yard dash, the half mile, mile, and shot put were run on Tuesday afternoon and the other five events Wednesday. Three heats were run in the century dash, MacWhorter '22 winning the finals in 10 3-5 seconds, with Stewart second. But two heats were necessary in the 120-yard high hurdles which were captured by Greeff '19 with Phillips '22 a close second. The half mile was one of the closest races of the afternoon with Brown barely nosing out Stewart at the finish and Kellogg '21 close behind them. There were more entries in the mile than in the half but Brown and Coan '21 took the lead and were not challenged until the last hundred yards when Kellogg cut down the distance at which he had been running behind them, but was unable to pass them. Brown finished first with Coan a close second. Carick '20 and Becket '22 were the only two to win any points in the shot put, the former making a heave 33 ft 10 3-4 inches. A point was given for every six inches over 29 feet. At the end of the afternoon Brown was leading with 22 points and Stewart was second with 14.

The high jump in which one point was given for every inch over 4 feet 6 inches was the first event on the program Wednesday afternoon. Nine men qualified for points though Anderson '20 made the highest jump and MacWhorter came second. The 440 was a closely contested race between Stewart and Brown but the former finally won by a very close margin which brought him up to within one point of Brown's total. Because of the number competing in the 220-yard low hurdles, the finals were run in two heats and the places decided on a comparison of times. Coddling '21 who was running in second place fell on the third hurdle from the end allowing Parker '20 to finish next to Phillips who won easily. Just before the potato race, the last event in which they competed, Stewart and Brown were tied for first with 29 points each and the honors hinged on the outcome of that novel race. Both qualified in the preliminary trials and Brown won the cup for first place by securing third in the finals to Stewart's fifth. The event was won by Becket and second place went to Spink '19. Despite his competition in all the previous events of the afternoon except the 440 Spink cleared 10 feet in the pole vault. There was no other entry.

The points for every event except the shot put, high jump, and pole vault count 10, 7, 4, 2, and 1 for the first five places. The scoring for these three events is indicated in the summary which follows:

Tuesday

100-yard dash—won by MacWhorter; second Stewart; third, Kieser; fourth, Brown; fifth, Coddling.

120-yard high hurdles—won by Greeff; second, Phillips; third, Spink; fourth, Parker.

880-yard run—won by Brown; second, Stewart; third, Kellogg; Kieser and Parker tied for fourth.

Shot put—won by Brown; second, Coan; third, Kellogg; fourth, Parker; fifth, Joslyn.

Shot put—(one point for every 6 inches over 29 feet) won by Carick, 9 points; second, Becket, 6 points.

Wednesday

Running high jump—(one point for every inch over 4 feet, 6 inches) won by Anderson, 9 points; second, MacWhorter, 7 points; third, Coddling, 6 points; fourth, Spink, 5 points; Stewart and Parker, tied for fifth and sixth, 4 points each; seventh, Carick, 2 points.

440-yard dash—won by Stewart; second, Brown; third, Kellogg; fourth, MacWhorter; fifth, Coan.

220-yard low hurdles—won by Phillips; second, Parker; third, Joslyn; fourth, Coddling; fifth, Stewart.

Potato race—won by Becket; second, Spink; third, Brown; fourth, Coan; fifth, Stewart.

The final standings in the meet follow:

AMHERST TRIUMPHS

Varsity Tennis Team Succumbs To Rivals by 4-2 Score

In the fourth match of the season, the varsity tennis team lost to Amherst by a 4-2 score on the College courts yesterday afternoon. Victories in three of the singles and one of the doubles matches gave the Purple and White its points, but in almost every case the sets were evenly contested, and the play was fast and close.

Captain Hendrickson, of Amherst, was the star of the match, defeating Fraker without difficulty in the singles and, with Davis, overcoming the stubborn resistance of Captain Pollard and Fraker in the doubles. Rowse was the only Williams man to win in the singles, defeating Thorpe in straight sets.

Singles—Davis (A) defeated Pollard (W) 7-5, 6-2; Hendrickson (A) defeated Fraker (W) 6-3, 6-2; Rowse (W) defeated Thorpe (A) 6-4, 6-3; Sprague (A) defeated Bullock (W) 3-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Doubles—Hendrickson and Davis (A) defeated Pollard and Fraker (W) 6-2, 8-6; Bullock and Rowse (W) defeated Thorpe and Sprague (A) 6-2, 6-4.

sake of security. Frazier was captured and, in company with Adams and Dana, was made an unwilling guest at the 1922 banquet. The details of ensuing events have been variously misrepresented in accounts appearing in the Springfield Republican and the North Adams Transcript.

The sophomores abandoned their original plans for the evening after an abbreviated repast at the Hopper and organized a Crusade to North Adams with the avowed intention of recovering their high priests from the hands of the infidels. All members of the class were specifically warned against starting any fights at the Richmond Hotel, but in all probability the warning would have had little effect if the freshmen had not met the demands of the "beetle-browed" sophomores.

Shortly after 7.30 o'clock, the 1921 Ship of State docked at the Richmond Hotel with decks cleared for action. The action failed to materialize, however, for after a brief parley in which the more inspired orators of 1922 as well as both members of the North Adams police force were involved, the first year men released Dana, Adams, and Frazier. 1921 then retired to Williamstown to prepare a revenge party pending the return of the freshmen. For three hours all approaches to Williamstown were closely guarded and incoming automobiles were carefully searched. Nothing of importance happened, however, until the 11.05 Boston and Maine train arrived from North Adams.

At this time the entire Freshman class, 120 strong, disembarked at the station, formed in column of fours and marched noisily up Cole Avenue. The two classes met near the junction of Cole Avenue and Main Street, and old inhabitants of Williamstown testify that the ensuing battle royal was the most desperate that ever took place between students of the College. Although outnumbered more than two to one, the sophomores made a silent and well organized attack upon the 1922 cohorts and quickly broke up the formation. Freshman class officers were seized, bound hand and foot, and spirited away for more leisurely punishment. The first year men resisted stubbornly but were out-fought in a majority of the numerous single combats. The casualties consisted of frequent enforced lapses from consciousness, well decorated eyes, swollen jaws and sprained wrists. The only means of determining which class was victorious is by counting the number of men in each who have appeared on Spring Street of late bearing visible marks of conflict. The disciples of physiognomical alteration are slightly more numerous in 1922 than in 1921, thus giving the decision to the sophomores by a shade.

After the cessation of hostilities, the rival classes adjourned to Spring Street, exchanged cheers, talked over the events of the day, and disbanded. In many ways, the conflict was the best thing that has happened on the Campus for years. Class spirit has experienced a remarkable revival and now that the affair is closed to the satisfaction of both classes, only the best of feeling exists between 1921 and 1922.

ANNUAL LIBRARY REPORT

Both Attendance and Circulation Near Normal Total

Although hampered in many respects by war conditions, both attendance and circulation in the College Library were not far from normal during the year, April, 1918—April, 1919, according to the annual report of the Librarian in Charge, recently approved at the May meeting of the Board of Trustees. The closing of the Goodrich Hall Reading Room for nine months of the past year caused a falling off in the attendance in that building, but the numbers in Lawrence Hall show an increase over last year's total. The attendance for the year in the three buildings was as follows: Lawrence Hall, 13,533, Goodrich Hall Reading Room, 1,613, and Griffin Hall Reading Room, 14,250, making a total of 29,396. Borrowers registered in Lawrence Hall increased from 711 in 1917-18 to 804 in 1918-19, and the number of books drawn from that building was 7,720 as compared to 8,590 in 1917-18. The total number of books withdrawn from the three buildings was 11,320 against 13,853 in 1917-18.

The accessions for the fiscal year bring the number of volumes up to 92,091. In the past twelve months were added 2,106 volumes, not including duplicates, of which 1,645 were purchased and 461 were given by various donors. The total expenditures for the year including receipts from special appropriations, were $10,361, $4,058 of this amount being expended for books and periodicals, $4,958 for salaries, $630 for binding and $687 for supplies.

In addition to the books acquired during the year, mention is also made of several interesting gifts, among which are photographs taken in the sixties and a large hand-made flag, which belonged to the family of President Mark Hopkins. General W. A. Pew has presented photographic copies of eight letters of Ephraim Williams and a plan of a battle fought near Lake George on the 8th of September, 1755, which are reproductions made from the original manuscripts in possession of the Massachusetts Historical Society. These have been framed and placed in the west wing of Lawrence Hall.

Another valuable gift was a broad-side catalogue of Williams for the year of 1815 denoted by Mr. Fisk Howe '72, who has previously contributed many rare manuscripts and documents. As one of the 22 of its kind ever issued this catalogue is especially valuable. It contains the names of the Faculty and the 58 students in College at that time. In the near future it will be mounted in Lawrence Hall with the remainder of the catalogue collection which now lacks only four copies.

STRONG HOLY CROSS NINE FACES VARSITY

SECOND HOUSEPARTY GAME

Opponents Have Defeated Penn.
Princeton, Trinity, Brown, and Columbia Teams

In the second game of the houseparty season, the Williams baseball team will face the strong Holy Cross nine tomorrow afternoon on Weston field. This contest should prove to be one of the stiffest and most exciting on the varsity's schedule because of the very formidable appearance presented by the Worcester team.

Coach Burkett had seven members of last year's team and two letter men of the 1917 season returned from service in the unusually large squad that reported for practice this spring. Out of this material he has formed a team which has scored a large number of consecutive victories, the most prominent of which were those over Trinity 20-1, over the University of Pennsylvania, 4-2, over Columbia 12-6, over Princeton, 5-2, over Springfield, 10-6, and over Brown, 7-0.

In its victory over Pennsylvania the Holy Cross team broke the hoodoo that has followed its Patriots' Day game for the past 12 years. The contest was marked by the creditable performance in pitching of McLaughlin, a freshman at Holy Cross. He allowed seven hits but kept them so well scattered that they gave only two runs. Although but three hits were yielded by the Pennsylvania twirler, Holy Cross was able to score four runs. Gagnon at third base put up a fine fielding game shutting out a score in the eighth by an unassisted double play.

Columbia was the next victim of the Holy Cross team, falling by a 12 to 6 score. The victors had all three of the New York pitchers at their mercy, smashing out 13 hits, which included a home run by Daley, a triple by Dignan, and two-base hits by Dignan, O'Connor, and Martin. The following day the Holy Cross team continued its winning streak by defeating Princeton 5 to 2 in a game in which errors counted for four of the seven runs. Gill was on the mound for Holy Cross allowing but two hits, striking out six men, and giving only one base on balls.

The 10-6 victory scored over Springfield by the Holy Cross team was a game marked by numerous errors and careless fielding on both sides. The latter team was apparently able to hit at will. In the Brown game a much better brand of baseball was exhibited, and consistent hitting in the pinches was responsible for their half of the 7-0 score. Gill on the mound for Holy Cross, was largely responsible for the other half of the shut-out and held the hard-hitting Brown nine to only two scattered hits.

For Williams, Coach Thomas will present the same line-up as that employed successfully in the game with Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy last Saturday. He characterized that contest as a fine game of ball in which the varsity played very satisfactorily considering the fact that they had been idle for nearly two weeks because of stormy weather. The sunny weather of the last few days has afforded abundant opportunity for practice, especially in hitting where improvement was needed. The Purple should be in fine form by tomorrow, and Coach Thomas confidently expects a dash and in the shot put against Wesleyan and third in the 100-yard dash and second in the shot-put against Amherst. This was his first year on the track team.

Louis Frederick Fieser, Jr., of Columbus, Ohio, threw the discus on the track team for the second season this spring. He won nine points, by obtaining a second in the Union meet, a third in the Union contest, and winning his event against Amherst.

Alfred Frederic Kieser, of Brooklyn, N. Y., has scored more points this year than any man on the team except H. H. Brown. In the Union meet, he won the 440-yard dash, the broad jump, and tied for first in the 100-yard dash. Against Wesleyan he was second in the 440-yard dash and the broad jump against Wesleyan, and in the Amherst meet placed second in the quartermile and third in the broad jump. Last year he was New England Intercollegiate broad jump champion, and the high scorer on the track team.

John Tyler Mills, Jr., 1920, of New York City, has been one of the mainstays of the team in the field events, getting a total of 13 points in the dual meets. He won the shot put against Union and Amherst and got second place against Wesleyan. He was a member of last year's team.

Sanford Olson, 1920, of Chicago, Ill., secured his only point of the season by taking third place in the 440-yard dash in the Union meet. Olson won his "W" on the team last year.

Reinold Marion Parker, 1920, of Hartford, Conn., has been the Williams miler for the last two seasons. He won his "W" in cross-country in 1917 and again last spring in track. This season he has secured 2 points, winning the mile against Union and Amherst, and placing third in the Wesleyan meet.

Arthur Mantley Wickwire, Jr., 1920, of Brooklyn, N. Y., won the broad jump against Amherst and came in third in that event in the Union meet as well as tying for third in the high jump. He won his "W" in track last spring.

Torrey Allen, 1921, of Burlington, Vt., has secured 7 points in the dual meets this year by tying for first in the 220-yard dash in the Union meet and taking second place in the same event against Wesleyan. He was a member of the squad last season.

Howard Radcliffe Coan, 1921, of Urumia, Persia, and Minneapolis, Minn., by placing second in the mile against Union and Amherst and second in the two mile against Wesleyan, has obtained a total of nine points this season. This is his first year with the track team.

John Wensley Crofts, Jr., 1921, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., was the mainstay of the varsity track team last year in the two mile and has only been beaten this year by H. H. Brown. He scored 11 points in the dual meets, winning the two mile against Wesleyan and taking second in the Union and Amherst meets. In the New Englands, he came in second.

William Dale Dana, 1921, of Brooklyn, N. Y., secured his only point of the season by getting third place in the 220-yard low hurdles in the Union meet. He won his "aWa" last season.

Acheson Adair Harden, 1921, of Hartsdale, N. Y., secured three points in the meet with Wesleyan by taking second in the hammer throw. This was his first season on the varsity.

Robert Sargent Hibbard, 1921, of Pittsfield, Mass., won first place in the hammer throw, against both Wesleyan and Amherst. He was a member of the team last year. He secured a total of 10 points in the dual meets.

Alan Wilson Joslyn, 1921, of Detroit, Mich., secured one point during the season coming in third in the mile-run in the Union meet. He won his "aWa" last spring.

Hamilton Hyde Kellogg, 1921, of Skaneateles, N. Y., obtained seven points in the dual meets this season. He ran a close second to Stewart in the Union and Wesleyan meets, and came in behind Brown and the latter in the Amherst contest. He was a member of the freshman cross-country team at Syracuse University last year.

Paul Brown, 1922, of Portland, Maine, was the only freshman to place in the Intercollegiates, tying with Spink and four others for third place. He also secured 8 points in the dual meets. He tied for first in the Union meet and for second in the Wesleyan and Amherst contests.

Philip Phillips, 1922, of Buffalo, N. Y., secured 11 points in the dual meets by taking first place in the 220-low hurdles in the meet against Amherst and second places against Union and Wesleyan in the 120-yard high hurdles.

William Dupee Sidley, 1922, of Winnetka, Ill., by taking second place in the hammer throw against Union and third against Amherst, has obtained four points this season.

Dudley Brabner Wallace, 1922, of Springfield, Mass., placed in the high jump in the Union meet. He gained half a point by tying with Wickwire for third place.

victory. He will use either Burrows or McLean, depending on the outcome of the Amherst game.

Since Williams and Holy Cross have not yet played a common opponent and both have been forced to cancel a large number of games recently because of weather conditions, no real comparison of the strengths of the respective teams can be made. The probable line-up for tomorrow is as follows:

McLean 3b	Gagnon 3b
Manning 1b	O'Connor 1b
Finn c	Daley rf

Golf Team Successful

Three victories and one defeat mark the record for the present season of the Williams golf team as unusually successful. The match with Amherst, scheduled for May 17, was called off, and the team scored a victory over Dartmouth at that time.

During the entire season the team showed its strength in the foursomes, but had considerably greater difficulty in winning the singles matches. The opening match, played against Harvard on Saturday, May 3, on the Springfield Country Club links, resulted in a 12 to 3 defeat for Williams. The team struck its stride the following week-end, however, winning from Columbia 12 to 3 at New York on Friday, May 9, and from the University of Pennsylvania 6 to 3 at Philadelphia on Saturday, May 10. The last match, played with Dartmouth at North Adams on Saturday, May 17, was a 3 to 0 victory for the Purple.

1921 Votes on Tennis Men

Six men were retained in the competition for the second assistant manager-ship of tennis and golf as a result of action taken at a meeting of the Sophomore Class last Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall. The men passed by the class were Carmen, Gray, Piatt, Stanley, H. Towne, and Tyler. The first ballot resulted in a tie between Poncet and Stanley which was decided in favor of Stanley at a special meeting last Wednesday evening.

VARSITY WILL FACE WESLEYAN TOMORROW

CLOSE CONTEST EXPECTED

Red and Black Has Played Two Contests with Amherst, Losing 4-8 and Winning 7-2

With a record of five victories and two defeats to its credit, the Williams nine will meet Wesleyan in the eighth game of the baseball season tomorrow afternoon at Middletown, Conn. Both teams have played about the same calibre of baseball this year, and the game tomorrow should prove to be one of the closest on the varsity's schedule.

Ten of the thirty-five men who reported to Coach Distern of Wesleyan at the first of the season were veterans of former teams. Several changes have been made in the line-up of last year's team, however, and the varsity will face an entirely different aggregation from that which it twice defeated last spring by scores of 13-11 and 5-4. Green, who played first base on the 1918 nine, has pitched steady ball this year, and either he or Connelly, a new man, will be in the box tomorrow against the Williams team.

Wesleyan has had a fairly successful season this spring, winning four out of seven games played. Its victories have been over the Connecticut Agricultural College by a score of 12-3, over Amherst on May 21, 7-2, over Trinity, on May 30, 8-4, and over Dartmouth, on May 31, 8-7. Wesleyan lost her first game to Amherst on May 3 by a score of 8-4. Springfield Y. M. C. A. College and Vermont also defeated the Red and Black by scores of 1-0 and 2-1 respectively.

Judging from the comparison of the scores made by Williams and Wesleyan against Amherst, the result of the contest tomorrow will depend entirely on the amount of hitting each team does and the support which is given to the pitchers. On May 3, Wesleyan was defeated by Amherst by the score of 8-4. The Red and Black pitcher was hit freely and received little support from the infield. In the next game on May 21 Wesleyan came back with a 7-2 victory over the Purple and White. Although Williams was only able to garner five runs in the contest with Amherst last Friday, this should not be taken as an indication that the odds on tomorrow's game are in favor of the Red and Black.

Either McLean or Burrows will be in the box tomorrow. In case of the

ATHLETIC CONFERENCE HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Intercollegiate Athletic Policy Discussed—Mr. Botsford Is Delegate for Williams

Important discussions concerning athletics at Williams and its relations in sports with other colleges were held at the twelfth annual meeting of the Association of New England Colleges for Conference on Athletics on Friday evening, May 23, at the new Boston City Club, Boston, Mass. Delegates, representing nearly all the 22 colleges and universities that are members, were present and the following subjects were suggested for discussion: by Amherst, Mass. Athletic Competition; by Yale, Value of the Training Table, Subsidized Training Table, Organized Scouting; by Maine, Should the one year's residence rule be required of freshmen? Is it advisable for the New England colleges to dispense with seasonal coaches and have all coaching done by full time members of the faculty? Should scholarships be granted to athletes because of high standing as they are now granted by institutions to students because of high scholastic standing? by Wesleyan, Baseball Sport-manship; by others, The New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association, Should the hammer-throw be eliminated?

It was shown that some colleges were fortunate in having on their faculties men qualified to act as coaches and that in these institutions the plan was working out satisfactorily, while at others there were no men so qualified and that in such cases qualified coaches would have to be given faculty standing. The question was then considered from two different angles. Is it desirable for members of the faculty to become athletic coaches? Is it desirable for athletic coaches to become members of the faculty? There was general agreement that coaches should be members of the department of physical training and that this department should be represented on the faculty.

Yale opened the discussion of the training table question and the scouting question. It developed that while Yale and Harvard were re-establishing the training table for reasons growing out of university conditions, the colleges were in very large majority against any return to this system, considering the question practically closed and the training tables abolished. There was unanimous agreement against paid

WILLIAMS DEFEATS AMHERST IN ANNUAL CLASH BUT DROPS SECOND TO HOLY CROSS

VARSITY WINS 5-3, LOSES 9-7 IN HOUSEPARTY GAMES

OPPOSING TEAM STRONG PURPLE FIELDING GOOD

Williams Stages Sensational Comeback in Ninth—Visitors Hit Heavily

Williams lost its second baseball game this season to Holy Cross last Saturday afternoon on Weston Field by a 9 to 7 score. The game was featured by lax playing of the varsity at crucial points in the contest and by the ability of the visitors to bunch their hits.

Holy Cross, which is considered the best college baseball team in the country, was playing very good ball, and with the exception of the fifth inning when the visitors concentrated their hits, and the Purple nine became a little careless, the two teams were evenly matched.

Holy Cross started the scoring in the first half of the third when Stutz walked and scored on Bowen's hit. The varsity came back in the latter half of the inning with two runs, giving it the lead. Mason and Brown both reached first on errors, and Manning grounded to first, advancing both men one base. Finn doubled, scoring Mason, and Brown was out at home plate on a close play. Finn scored on a triple by Roth, and the side retired when McLean struck out.

In the fourth inning Gagnon of Holy Cross reached first on an error, was advanced to second on a sacrifice, and scored on Maguire's hit. Williams went out on a grounder to short stop, another to second, and a fly to left field.

In the fifth Holy Cross started its batting fest. The first two men up, Santors and McLaughlin, singled. Stutz hit a high fly to first base, and Boyden of Williams made a misplay on a single to right field, allowing two runs to come home. The next man bled to center field, and this was followed by another single. Roth misjudged a liner to center field, which went for a homer and scored three runs. Maloney then went out on grounder to the pitcher. The visitors succeeded in getting five hits and the same number of runs, practically giving them the game.

Again in the seventh the Holy Cross team scored two more runs on a base on balls and two singles. In the same inning Williams came back with two runs. Papin, who took Boyden's place in right field, hit a fly to the third baseman, Patton doubled, Callahan walked, and Mason grounded out to the pitcher. Brown singled through the pitchers box, scoring both men. Manning then hit a fly to short and retired the side.

In the ninth the varsity made another attempt to tie the score. Papin started by grounding out, short stop to first. Frazier went in as a pinch hitter for Patton and walked. Callahan singled, and Mason hit an easy grounder to the pitcher. Brown singled, and Manning hit a long fly to center field for three bases. Finn hit to short, and the game ended with Holy Cross two runs in the lead.

The box score and summary is as follows:

Amherst Rallies Are Ended by Home Team's Clever Handling of the Ball

Williams defeated Amherst in the annual houseparty game between the two rivals last Friday afternoon by a 5-3 score. The Purple players exhibited a superior brand of play in the field and were able to bunch hits when they counted for runs, gaining a lead of two tallies in the first inning, which was never over-come.

Amherst threatened in several innings, but good fielding by the Williams infielders ended the rallies in every case. In the seventh session the visitors filled the bases with none out. On a sharp hit to short, Callahan tossed the ball to Mason for a force-out, but the latter threw badly to first, and Manning went off his base for the throw. However, Eveleth, trying to score from second, was caught at the plate by a fast throw from the Williams captain, ending the scoring.

Burrows pitched fairly good ball for the victors, although he was rather wild, passing the first man up in three innings. He was steady with men on base, however, and aided by good support, was able to pull himself out of dangerous situations. The game was won in the sixth inning on a long double by Finn, which scored two runs, and McLean's single, which scored the Williams catcher for a total of three runs.

Amherst started the run making in the first inning on a pass and a single. Eveleth, the first man up, walked, stole second, and advanced to third on Eames's fly to Boyden. Maynard singled sharply, scoring Eveleth, but Cowles and Brisk went out on infield grounders.

In the last half Williams came back with two runs. Callahan was out, Clark to Eames, but Mason, Brown, and Manning singled, scoring the first two. Finn and Roth flied out, leaving Manning on third.

The next scoring came in the sixth, when Amherst counted once and Williams three times. Cowles walked, advanced to third on Brisk's single, and scored on Palmer's grounder to Eames. Williams scored three runs in the same inning. Mason and Brown singled, and Finn drove a long liner over the centerfielder's head, scoring both men. Roth went out, Brisk to Eames, but McLean singled, scoring Finn. McLean was caught trying to steal, and Boyden popped to Brisk.

In the seventh Amherst scored once, but the rally was stopped on Manning's double play. The Purple and White threatened again in the next inning, when an error and three singles gave them another run, but Eveleth was caught at the plate, and Eames and Maynard were out at second base. The game by innings:

First Inning

Eveleth walked and stole second. Eames flied out to Boyden. Maynard singled, scoring Eveleth. Cowles and Brisk grounded out, Callahan to Manning and Burrows to Manning. One run, one hit.

Callahan was out, Clark to Eames. Mason singled and stole second. Brown singled, scoring Mason. Manning went to first on a fielder's choice, Brown scoring. Finn popped to Cowles. Roth hit sharply past Clark, but Manning, who had stolen second, was caught at the plate. Two runs, three hits.

Vol. 33 June 2, 1919 No. 21

With this issue the Record suspends publication for the final examination period. The next number will appear on Friday, June 20.

The baseball team continues its already excellent record, and has stamped the season as a creditable one by defeating Amherst on Memorial Day. Saturday's game, though a defeat, was no disgrace; for every one knows the record of the Holy Cross nine and its high standing among college baseball teams. On the contrary, Williams' showing on Saturday is deserving of high praise. The team gave a good account of itself by leading Holy Cross for some time and by rallying in the final inning with a determined effort to overcome a large handicap, and actually threatening the supremacy of the visitors. A victory would have been almost too much to hope for, and therefore the result is by no means disappointing.

Williams in Eighth Place

The popular cry for mass athletics has instituted a new form of competition between colleges in the standardized freshman efficiency contest. The purpose of the efficiency test, which was organized by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, is to encourage among the colleges the ideal of "mens sana in corpore sano", which might almost be called a new ideal, so long has it been unrecognized among the generality of institutions of the higher learning. Coincident with the war and the good example of military training in the colleges, however, it has at once achieved universal acceptance, and it seems to be a force which is helping to mould the education of the present into a more worthy and catholic future form.

Amherst, the winner of the first intercollege contest, has always laid more emphasis of this side of the development of her undergraduates, and it is doubtless because of that, and the more efficient system she has evolved because of it, that she now leads the other colleges. But where was Williams? Eighth place, with Amherst, Wesleyan, and Hamilton among the others in the lead does not satisfy those who hold high ideals for her position among institutions of her kind. Perhaps there are excuses, but at least we can hardly say that the Williams freshman is physically not good material. We hope that competition in future years will spur on the development of supervised mass athletics at Williams to the point of efficiency at which they ought to be maintained.

The Story of Your Study Lamp

IF you were studying by an old smoky oil lamp and suddenly a modern, sun-like MAZDA lamp were thrust into the room, the contrast would be dazzling. That instant would unfold the result of thirty years' development, research and manufacturing in electric lighting.

And this development commenced with Edison's first lamp—hand-made, when electricity was rare.

The General Electric Company was a pioneer in foreseeing the possibilities of Edison's invention. Electric generators were developed. Extensive experiments led to the design and construction of apparatus which would obtain electric current from far-away waterfalls and deliver it to every city home.

With power lines well distributed over the country, the use of electric lighting extended. Street lighting developed from the flickering arc to the great white way. Electric signs and floodlights made our cities brilliant at night, searchlights turned night into day at sea, and miniature lamps were produced for the miner's headlight and automobile.

While the making of the electrical industry, with its many, many interests, was developing, the General Electric Company's laboratories continued to improve the incandescent lamp, and manufacturing and distributing facilities were provided, so that anyone today can buy a lamp which is three times as efficient as the lamp of a few years ago.

SENIOR SINGERS WIN

Individual Prize in Contest Given to Prentiss '19

For excellence of the original song which compensated for the singing, in which 1921 excelled, the Seniors were awarded the cup, presented by the Combined Musical Clubs, in the twelfth annual interclass singing contest held Friday afternoon on the Laboratory Campus. In addition to the class song, for the composition of which the individual prize was awarded to Prentiss '19, the Seniors sang the "Anna Mater Song".

The judges gave honorable mention to 1921, and the Juniors received third place. The decision was made on the basis of a maximum allowance of 40 for the excellence of the original songs, 40 for excellence in class singing, and 20 for full attendance, but the actual percentage averages were not made out. The judges of the contest were Mr. E. C. Doughty, Professor W. H. Doughty, Jr., Professor J. B. Platt, Mr. Sumner Salter, and Professor C. E. Weston.

AMHERST WINS CONTEST

Williams Freshmen Eighth in Recent Efficiency Tests

Results of the nation wide freshman efficiency contest which was held on May 19 under the auspices of the National Collegiate Athletic Association give Williams eighth place with an average of 7.54 points out of a possible 12 points. Amherst freshmen won first place with 10.75 points, a margin of almost one over Oberlin College, the nearest competitor, and will be awarded a loving cup. The only other rival of Williams which placed among the first nine colleges was Wesleyan, which came third with an average of 9.67.

The showing made by the Williams freshmen is considered fairly good in view of the reduced course in physical training, the unusually high percentage of men allowed to compete, and the fact that each man was given only one chance instead of the three allowed by the rules in the jumping events. Scores of the first nine colleges follow:

Amherst College	10.75
Oberlin College	9.98
Wesleyan University	9.67
Wooster College	9.65
Case School	9.64
Hamilton College	9.30
Oregon State Agricultural College	8.90
Williams College	7.53
Vanderbilt University	7.28

Trophy of Trophies Discussed

In view of the fact that the present college year has been several months shorter than is usual under normal conditions the Student Council, at a meeting held last Wednesday evening, decided to recognize the protest of Amherst against the award of the Trophy of Trophies this year. Williams desired that the award be made as usual, but Amherst's protest could not but be recognized as just. It was decided that the competition for the Trophy will be resumed next year.

Wins Fourth Intramural Game

Phi Sigma Kappa won its fourth game in the Intramural Baseball Series by a 5-4 score in the contest with Alpha Delta Phi on Cole Field last Monday afternoon. The score was tied 4 to 4 in the fifth inning, necessitating an extra frame before the contest could be decided. In the last round, however, Winslow's single followed by an error netted the winning run for Phi Sigma Kappa. This game broke the tie for second place in the National League between Phi Sigma Kappa and Alpha Delta Phi. The score by innings follows:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	Total
Phi Sigma Kappa	1	0	2	1	0	1	5
Alpha Delta Phi	1	0	0	3	0	1	4

There's nothing remarkable about a fine shoe at a high price. And there's nothing remarkable about a low price for a mediocre shoe. But to produce a better shoe than the price indicates is a genuine achievement. It is that which makes the Franklin a great shoe.
More important than the latitude of its leathers and its many-modeled tips caliber of the service you get out of

TENNIS TEAM DEFEATED

Varsity Loses Five Matches to Wesleyan Netmen Here

Wesleyan defeated Williams in the fifth tennis match of the season by a 5 to 1 score last Saturday afternoon at 3.00 o'clock on the College courts. The varsity proved to be weaker in the doubles losing both matches, but in the singles
Bullock succeeded in taking the match with Leland. Both Fraker and Rowse played good tennis, but although they forced their opponents to play three sets, they were finally defeated. The entire contest was characterized by slow tennis, neither team playing its best.

The summary is as follows:

Singles—Ott (Wesleyan) defeated
Pollard (Williams) 6-2, 6-1; Swift (Wesleyan) defeated Fraker (Williams) 4-6, 7-5, 6-2; Steele (Wesleyan) defeated
Rowse (Williams) 4-6, 6-3, 7-5; Bullock
(Williams) defeated Leland (Wesleyan)
6-4, 4-6, 6-4.
Doubles—Swift and Steele (Wesleyan) defeated Pollard and Rowse (Williams)
6-3, 7-5; Leland and Ott (Wesleyan) defeated Bullock and Shepherd (Williams)
7-5, 6-1.

scouting of any sort, but voluntary reports from alumni attending advertised public games were considered entirely proper.

Wesleyan asked for a new statement of the attitude of the Conference upon questions of baseball sportmanship, relative to coaching from the sidelines, coaching from the bench, and chattering on the field. The delegates were unanimous in voting against the evils growing out of these practices. The attempt to eliminate the hammer-throw failed by a large majority.

There was some questioning of the method employed in arranging the details of the annual New England Intercollegiate Meets, and a committee, composed of Dr. Marvel of Brown, Dr. Whittier of Bowdoin, and Mr. Botsford of Williams, was appointed to investigate the matter and formulate a report to be presented at a meeting next December.

Cup Given for World's Series

Due to the generosity of the Williams Club of New York City, a silver loving cup will be presented to the organization winning the final game of the Intramural Baseball series to be played next Wednesday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock on Weston Field. Psi Upsilon and the Commons Club are now leading the National and American Leagues, and these two teams will probably meet in Wednesday's contest. It had been the original intention of Coach Thomas to levy a tax on each member of the two leagues, but the Williams Club was so pleased with the resumption of intramural athletics in the College that they offered to give the cup. Their offer also holds good for next year.

ONCE UPON A TIME

There was a man who said the "Record" wasn't worth a cent. He said that $4.00 might better be thrown away than spent just to get vivid, interesting accounts every few days of what was happening at College.

He couldn't understand why the alumni wanted to read about what their friends were doing.

And he wasn't interested at all in a minor matter like getting more men to come to Williams.

Maybe the reason he felt this way was because he went to Amherst.

Where did you go to college?

I want to see Williams grow bigger and better every year. I can't help if I don't know what is going on inside the College. I am going to join the "Boost for Williams" Club—and besides I believe I'll get $4.00 worth of personal satisfaction out of reading the "Record"

HOUSEPARTY "COW" OUT

Largest Issue in Some Years up to Former Standard

Containing a wealth of humorous literary material and cleverly-drawn illustrations, the largest issue of the Purple Cow in several years made its appearance last Friday afternoon. The Houseparty Number is the first under the regime of the 1920 Board and shows a marked improvement over the last issue.

The present Cow, taken as a whole, is well up to the standard of former years. Although the cover, by Jeffreys '22, is only fair and announces no title, two full-page drawings by Becket '22 on the opening pages form a satisfactory introduction. The illustrations show some good ideas and are clean-cut, in noticeable contrast to some of the sloppy work in the last number. The drawing by Wasson '21 of "Candidates for the Loose Moments Club" would have been considerably better if titles had been given to the individual sketches. "The Orchestra Drank a Little of the Lemonade", by Pollard '20, is perhaps the most genuinely humorous contribution in the art line. The verse and short jokes are, for the most part, clever. Among the longer literary contributions the interview with "America's Foremost Actress" and "Life's Little Tragedies" are commendable.

Varsity Will Face Wesleyan Tomorrow

former's pitching Brown will go back to his old position at third base and Papin will occupy left-field. Boyden may not be able to make the trip, but Coach Thomas has not yet decided who will take his place. Otherwise the lineup will be the same as that which opposed Holy Cross Saturday.

The probable line-up for tomorrow's game follows:

VARSITY FALLS BEFORE AMHERST NINE BUT DEFEATS STRONG VERMONT TEAM BY 8-4 SCORE

TEN INNING CONTEST GOES TO PURPLE AND WHITE 7-6

WILLIAMS FIELDS WELL CALLAHAN STARS AT BAT

Mason Stars at Bat in Second Defeat for Vermont—Three Double Plays Feature

Playing one of the best all-around games of the season, the varsity baseball nine defeated the strong Vermont University team 8 to 4 yesterday afternoon on Weston Field. Exceptionally fast fielding, coupled with consistent pitching and timely hitting, proved to be too much of an obstacle for the visitors to overcome, and they were forced to accept their second defeat of the season.

Burrows pitched an excellent game for the varsity, striking out four men and keeping Vermont's seven hits well scattered. With the exception of the seventh inning he had the opposing batsmen well under control, and fast fielding provided the necessary support in the pinches. Palmer started the game on the mound for the visitors, but was replaced by Furman in the second inning after he had passed four men, forcing in a run. Furman finished the game in good style, striking out eight men and allowing but one base on balls. Six hits were gleaned from his delivery, however, which accounted for four of the Purple's eight runs. Bowman, playing first base for Vermont, was injured in the first inning after making a long hit to left field which would easily have been a triple. He received an injury to his knee while sliding to third base and was forced to retire from the game. Callahan starred in the field, and Mason, with three hits to his credit, carried off the batting honors.

Vermont led off in the first inning with one run. With one out, Mooney singled, and after Berry had flied out, scored on Bowman's long triple to left. Bowman slid past third, however, and was tagged out, retiring the side. The visitors added two more in the second on a hit and two errors, but their three run lead was of short duration. In the latter half of the inning Palmer became wild and passed four Williams batsmen, forcing in one run. Callahan reached first on a fielders choice, Burrows being forced at second on the play, and McLean scored. Nichols and Callahan scored shortly after on Mason's single through second base. Mason was caught off first base and tagged out. In the fourth frame, each side added a run to its total. A base on balls, a stolen base, and a single were responsible for Vermont's tally. For Williams Roth singled and was advanced to second by McLean's hit through second base. Roth stole third. Roth and McLean then made a successful double steal, Roth scoring and McLean going to second. McLean went to third on Nichols sacrifice, but was tagged out at the plate while attempting to steal home.

Burrows held Vermont scoreless throughout the remainder of the contest and, with the exception of the seventh inning, was never in danger. In the seventh Burns singled, Tryon was passed, and Kibbe was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases with none out. Hamilton sent a long sacrifice fly to Roth in center field, who made a perfect throw to the plate in time to prevent Burns from scoring. Mooney flied out, retiring the side. Williams scored twice in the fifth inning and once in the eighth, making the final score 8 to 4.

The game was featured by the fast fielding of the Williams nine. Double plays occurred in the fifth inning, Burrows to Callahan, in the sixth, McLean to

Maynard of Amherst Drives in Winning Run by Long Sin- gle with Bases Full

In one of the fastest and most closely contested games which has taken place for many years between the rival colleges, Williams met defeat at the hands of Amherst by the score of 7 to 6 last Tuesday afternoon on the Amherst diamond. After nine innings of play, the score was tied, 5 to 5, but bunched hits in the tenth brought in two runs for Amherst, whereas the Purple batsmen had been able to score but once in their half of the inning. Clark pitched a steady game for the winners, striking out five men and passing but three. It was his hit in the eighth inning which tied the score. McLean started out well but became a bit wild during the latter part of the game, passing eight men. He was constantly worried by a sideline demonstration, closely resembling the "Grand Old Duke of York" tactics which have lost much of their popularity in recent years.

The game was attended by a large commencement crowd, and the players had to give way on several occasions in favor of brilliantly costumed alumni who paraded the field to the strains of mournful music and bewailed the impending victory of the Camel over the Demon Rum. The presence of several hands further enlivened the occasion.

Amherst started scoring in the first inning with two out. Maynard walked, stole second, went to third on Cowles' single, and scored when Manning tried to catch Cowles by bowling the ball along the base line. Cowles came in on Brisk's hit, and the latter scored on Palmer's single. Williams soon overcame the three run lead, scoring twice in the second and third innings and once in the fourth. Amherst added another in the fifth, and in the eighth inning a base on balls followed by Clark's single brought in the tying run. In the first half of the tenth, the Purple scored, and for a short time it looked as if Williams had broken a nine year precedent and had run away with both games of the year played with Amherst. Mason walked, Brown grounded out, and Manning fanned, Mason going to second. Finn singled to center field, scoring Mason. Roth flied out to right field. In the last half of the frame, Davison and Clark singled after Webber had flied out. Eveleth grounded out, advancing the runners, and Eames was passed, filling the bases. Maynard singled sharply to right center, scoring Davison and Phillips, running for Clark, and the game ended with the final score 7 to 6 in favor of Amherst.

Former Williams Man Again to Be Mentor of the Eleven— Fast Team Is Expected

In order to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Fred Walker, Joseph W. Brooks ex-'13, of New York City has been secured as football coach for next fall. In 1916 he coached the team, bringing it through a successful season, and next fall with the football men under his tutelage a winning team is expected.

Brooks played on his class football team in his freshman year at Williams, and in his sophomore year he captained his class team and played on the varsity. In his junior year he transferred to Col-

125TH ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT PROMISES TO DRAW LARGEST ATTENDANCE IN SEVERAL YEARS

GRADUATION EXERCISES ON MONDAY—CLASS DAY TODAY

Pres. H. A. Garfield Will Preach Baccalaureate Sermon Sunday in Thompson Memorial Chapel—Graves Prize Speaking Contest and Moonlight Orations Today

Class Day

The Committee is made up of the following seniors: William Lathrop Hoyt, John Gaston Merselis, Jack Leopold Roth, Harvey Spencer, and Donald Wyman.

The President's reception to the alumni, the members of the senior class, and their friends will be held at the President's house at 4.00 o'clock.

The first ceremony of the evening will be the "Moonlight" Oratorical Contest on Grace Hall campus at 7.30 o'clock, followed by an outdoor concert by the Glee Club.

At 9.30 o'clock the class reunions will take place at the various class headquarters.

Saturday

At 10.00 o'clock Saturday morning the Society of Alumni will hold its annual meeting in Grace Hall to discuss all matters of interest to the graduate body. This year an unusual opportunity will be offered along this line in view of the large numbers of classes that are expected to hold reunions. According to the Dix plan the classes of '59, '95, '96, '97, '98, '99, '09, '15, '16, '17, and '18 will all hold reunions, but because of the existing conditions, Commencement time this year takes the form of a post-war celebration for both the College and the alumni, and over twenty classes will probably return.

At 12.00 o'clock noon the Alumni Athletic Association will hold its annual formal meeting in Jesup Hall.

The afternoon will be occupied by the Williams-Wesleyan baseball game, Weston Field, which will be featured by the appearance of the alumni in various startling and alluring costumes.

In the evening reunions will be held at all the fraternity houses. The reunions proper are scheduled for 9.00 o'clock, but will be preceded in most cases by banquets at the houses.

Sunday

At 10.30 o'clock Sunday morning Dr. Garfield will preach the annual Baccalaureate sermon at the services held in Thompson Memorial Chapel, and at 4.30 o'clock in the afternoon a prayer meeting will be held in Grace Hall and at Mission Park, at which the chief speaker will be the Rev. Williams F. Oldham, D. D.

In the evening a Memorial Service will be held in the Chapel in honor of Williams men who died in the War.

Monday

For the formation of the Commencement procession at 10.00 o'clock on Monday morning, the Trustees and the Candidates for Honorary Degrees will meet at the President's House, the Faculty at Hopkins Hall, the Alumni at Jesup Hall, and the Graduating Class at the Library. The order in the Alumni division of the procession will be in accordance with the reverse order of classes, the younger classes preceding. The Alumni division will be in charge of the two Alumni Marshals. The line of march will lead from the Library past Hopkins Hall, Jesup Hall, the Laboratories, and the President's House to Grace Hall. When the head of the procession reaches Grace Hall, the column will open ranks and face inward to permit the last division to march through; the succeeding divisions will fall in behind so that the procession, which arrived in reverse order, will enter the building in the order of

Joe Brooks '13 to Be Next Football Coach

In 1915 Brooks assisted Fred Daley in coaching the Williams eleven, and when the latter resigned as coach, Brooks was appointed to that position. With six letter men as a nucleus in 1916 he built up a successful team, which lost two games, tied two, and won four. It defeated Wesleyan 7 to 0 and easily won from Amherst 26 to 0. The other victories were over R. P. I. 31 to 6 and over Union 13 to 0. It tied both M. A. C. and Columbia 0 to 0. The team lost to the strong Cornell eleven, which outweighed the varsity 24 pounds to the man, by a 42 to 0 score. Brown, which defeated both Yale and Harvard that year, won from the Williams eleven by a 20 to 0 score.

When war was declared, Brooks entered the First Officers' Training Camp and was commissioned as a first lieutenant in the Infantry. Later he was made a captain. In the spring of 1918 he was sent over-seas, where he saw five months of active duty at the front.

Frantic appeals to the town authorities against the heavy tarring of the streets just previous to Commencement are of annual recurrence, yet apparently of no avail. This year is no exception to the rule that townspeople, alumni, and undergraduates are always subjected to a most unpleasant bath of ink and extremely cohesive paving substance just at the time when white shoes and white trousers and skirts are most popular. Why is it, we wonder, that road mending cannot be postponed until after Commencement, and thus adjusted to the convenience of all concerned?

Amherst Offends

Accusations of rowdy tactics are entirely too frequent these days, and we are sorry that we feel called upon to augment the number. In spite of the friendly relations that have existed between Amherst and Williams since time immemorial, last Tuesday's baseball game was the scene of actions on the part of Amherst undergraduates and alumni that were, to speak without euphemism, plainly ungentlemanly. It is not necessary to go into details; the point to be made is simply that such an occurrence was to the last degree regrettable. If the relations of healthy and friendly rivalry which have existed and ought to continue to exist between the two colleges are impaired or tinged with enmity, it will be because of the actions of thoughtless ones who consider that the best way to win ball games is to rattle the opposing side. Such tactics can not fail, if repeated, to engender bitter feelings. We only hope that they will never be repeated, and that what little damage was done last Tuesday will soon be mended by oblivion.

To the Alumni

We wish to call your attention to a recent addition to our policy. Hereafter more is to be made of the Record as an alumni paper, and a bond between the Alumni and the College. The column of "Alumni Notes" is to be enlarged by the gathering of more news, and it will be given a definite place in the make-up. A determined effort is being made to secure more subscriptions from among the graduates, in order that a greater number may be kept informed of what happens in College and of what other Alumni are doing, and that thus their interest in Williams may always be kept alive.

"The Parting of the Ways"

All times are in a sense transitional, but some to a greater degree than others mark the turning of the wheel of evolution. If unrest denotes change, the past College year is one of these. It represents the line of demarcation between the ante-bellum College and the new institution we expect to see developed as a result of the war. Signs of the times have been a plenty. Changes have been made, old projects dug up for consideration, and new ones put on foot. The curriculum is different in many respects from what it was in 1916. Undergraduate organizations are taking stock and much good is expected to come out of it. The breaking forth of the restlessness which now and again makes itself felt has been seen in the interfraternity troubles. But the new attitude of seriousness and altruism has piloted the ship safely through the storm to a new and safer harbor. Lacking a Cane Contest, and demanding some "moral equivalent for war", the undergraduates indulged in an impromptu contest, ending in a good standup fight and a general shaking of hands.

But the significant thing is that plans for a "bigger, better Williams" are on foot, among trustees, faculty, and students. The war has given us perspective, and we are much more able to criticize and construct than before. That a changed and bettered Williams is to be the final result is certain, but just what will be the characteristic of the new College, as distinct from old, no one can now prophecy. Perhaps we are at the parting of the ways where Williams becomes either a purely cultural or a purely materialistic college. "Humanitas" is contending with business and money. We are beginning to realize that we cannot serve both God and Mammon,—that either cultural learning or material training for a moneyed "success" must henceforth be our object.

In athletics, too, we are witnessing the first faint streaks in the dawning of a new era. The ideal of "athletics for all", learned in the war, is struggling against odds for recognition. Varsity teams will not disappear; mass athletics will be an aid and a stimulant to them, but we believe that the day is coming when the right of the body to its development along with the mind, with the motto "Mens sana in corpore sano", will receive the recognition it deserves.

Extra-curriculum activities are being viewed in their relations to the curriculum and to the whole of a man's life in college, and means for preventing the over-emphasis of this side of the undergraduate's many phased activity are being devised, to be discussed and acted upon when College re-opens. The aim is to put matters on a saner basis, by which no one will be over-burdened, and more will be given the opportunity of serving the College and themselves.

Out of the restlessness, the critical introspection, the determination to do better, ever better, we hope for a renewed vitality in Williams College. War, with its power to stir and shake and give new view-points and new energies, has accomplished much. But there is much more to be accomplished. There are huge questions asked, which demand the earnest consideration and energetic action of all who hold a real interest in the College. We have a splendid opportunity for accomplishment, and to lose the chance for lack of alertness or purpose would be sad indeed; for "opportunity knocks but once".

COMMUNICATION

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, or the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

Can you find a space for this in the next number of the Record.

In direct and pleasing contrast to the rowdy-like actions of the Amherst alumni, the support given the team by the small delegation of Williams men last Tuesday afternoon at Amherst was an inspiration. It was deeply appreciated by the entire team and our only regret is that we could not have brought back a victory as a reward.

A School For Intensive Instruction

IN deciding upon a summer school, do not gamble—choose one which has a proved record of success. In seven years Roxbury has prepared 600 final candidates for college entrance examinations. Only nine failed to enter. During the past two summers 144 final candidates for September examinations. Only two failed. In addition a large number of boys prepared for preliminary and preparatory school examinations. Many students took from 6 to 11 courses and passed 90% of them. Roxbury's staff of instructors is chosen largely from university faculties. These are the best teachers that can be found. They understand entrance requirements thoroughly. They have been with us for years, and have had invaluable experience. This summer the faculty numbers 25. The summer school opens officially July 16. A few boys are allowed to begin their work July 1. Dormitory accommodations for over 100 boys. Campus and farm of 155 acres, athletic fields, tennis courts. An office in New Haven, 113 College Street, F. C. Hesselmeyer, Ph. B., manager, with an additional faculty of 12 instructors.

Roxbury winter school—Sept. 24-June 20—admits 75 boys, none under 16 years of age. There are no forms. Boys, upon proper recommendation, enter at any time, take exactly the courses they need, and as many or as few hours of instruction in each subject as they may require. Instruction is in classes not larger than five—individual, if necessary.

TWO NEW $150 PRIZES WILL BE GIVEN COLLEGE

To Be Called William Bradford Turner Prizes—First Annual Award in 1920

In memory of William B. Turner '14, who was killed in action in France last September and was posthumously awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor, his family has endowed two prizes amounting to $150 each. They will be awarded annually beginning with 1920, and will be known as the William Bradford Turner Prizes.

One will be given for the best essay in the field of American History and Institutions, and will be open to men who have completed the necessary courses on these subjects in the College curriculum. Details of the qualifications for competition will be presented to the Board of Trustees when the gift is formally accepted at the meeting to be held today. It has been suggested that a student, in order to compete for the prize, shall have completed the courses in Government 1-2 and History 3-4, and that he be taking History 9. The purpose of the prize will be to promote thorough and independent study of American History and of the Republican habits of government which have inspired it from its beginning.

The other prize will be awarded to that member of the graduating class who in the judgment of his fellow students shall have best fulfilled during his course his obligations to his College, his fellow students, and himself. The award of this prize shall be according to the decision of a committee composed jointly of Faculty members and members of the senior class.

COMMONS IS VICTOR

Defeats Psi Upsilon for the Intramural Championship

In the final intramural baseball game of the season between the champions of the American and National Leagues the Commons Club defeated Psi Upsilon, Tuesday afternoon, June 3, on Weston Field by a 6 to 4 score. Although the World's Series had originally been planned to be three games, it was found necessary to make this one contest decisive on account of the beginning of the final examination period two days later.

The Commons Club started the scoring in the first inning, when two men crossed the plate. Psi Upsilon then secured a run in the second and took the lead the fourth by making two more runs. The Commons nine tied the score in the fifth and again forged ahead in the seventh by another tally. In the last half of the ninth with two men out, a single, two stolen bases, and an error by the first baseman gave Psi Upsilon another run which forced the game to continue an extra inning. But with two out in the tenth inning the Commons Club nine succeeded in getting two men on bases by errors and scored them by a double.

The score by innings is as follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
Commons Club	2	0	0	1	0	1	0	0	2	—6
Psi Upsilon	0	1	0	2	0	0	0	1	0	—4

Batteries: Dorsey and Whittier for Psi Upsilon; Wakeman and Hahlo for Commons Club.

ELECT MANAGERS FOR FIVE ATHLETIC TEAMS

UNITE TWO COMPETITIONS

College Body Elects Football, Baseball, Track, Golf, and Tennis Team Managers

William Dale Dana, 1921, of Brooklyn, New York, was chosen assistant manager of the football team; Dudley Marvin Irwin, Jr., 1921, of Buffalo, New York, was made assistant manager of baseball; and Morton Mortimer Banks, 1921, of Noroton, Conn., was elected assistant track manager at the College elections held Tuesday, June 3, in Jesup Hall.

At the same time Herbert Sands Towne, 1921, of Holyoke, Mass., was selected for assistant manager of the golf team, and Julius Caulkins Gray, 1921, of New Rochelle, New York, was voted assistant manager of tennis. In view of the fact that there was no regular football season during the S. A. T. C. period last fall the managers of both baseball and track were chosen from the baseball competition.

Dana prepared for College at the Hotchkiss School, Lakeville, Conn., where he was leader of the mandolin club, a member of the banjo club, president of the Musical Arts club, a member of the editorial staff of his school paper, and a member of the gymnasium team. Since entering College he has been a member of the Mandolin Club and the varsity track team for two years, and in his sophomore year vice-president of his class, and chairman of the Sophomore Prom Committee. He is a member of the Sigma Phi fraternity.

Irwin graduated from the Central High School, Buffalo, New York, where he played on the hockey and baseball teams. In his freshman year at Williams he was on the varsity hockey squad. He is a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Banks secured his secondary education at the Phillips Exeter Academy, Exeter, N. H., where he played on his class football, tennis, and hockey teams, and was a member of the musical clubs. In College he was a member of the Auxiliary Prom. Committee, and is on the art board of the Purple Cow, art editor of the 1921 Gullfennian, and a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Towne went to the Hotchkiss School, Lakeville, Conn., where he made his letter in football and track. He was a member of the freshman football team and the varsity track team at Williams. He is also a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Gray prepared for Williams at the New Rochelle High School, New Rochelle, New York, where he was president of the senior class. At Williams he has played on the Mandolin Club for two years and is a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity.

PURPLE TO FACE RED AND BLACK TOMORROW

Williams Nine Eager to Turn Tables on Wesleyan Team—
Close Contest Expected

With a record of six victories and four defeats to its credit, the Williams baseball team will meet the Wesleyan nine tomorrow afternoon on Weston Field. Although the varsity met defeat at the hands of the Red and Black on June 3 by a score of 12 to 7, the season records of the two teams compare favorably, and a close contest should result tomorrow.

Coach Distern of Wesleyan started the season with a squad of thirty-five men, ten of whom were veterans of former teams. Many shifts have been made in the line-up, however, and the present team in no way resembles the aggregation which Williams twice defeated last season. Green, who played first base in 1918 has proved to be a steady pitcher this year, and either he or Connelly will probably be on the mound tomorrow.

Wesleyan has had a fairly successful season, winning a majority of games played. Amherst, Trinity, Dartmouth, and Williams appear on the list of teams defeated by the Red and Black, whereas the tables have been turned by Amherst on May 3, by Springfield Y. M. C. A. College, and by Vermont. It is difficult to judge the teams of tomorrow's game on the basis of competitive scores. Wesleyan defeated Williams 12 to 7, lost to Amherst 8 to 4 after defeating the Purple and White 12 to 3 in a previous game, and lost to Vermont 2 to 1. The varsity lost to Amherst last Tuesday 7 to 6, after defeating the same team on May 30 by a score of 5 to 3, and defeated Vermont yesterday 8 to 4. All available statistics indicate that the game tomorrow will be fast and close. The Purple team has been playing well lately and is anxious to wind up the season with a victory.

Immediately before the game, Manager Morris of the Commons Club team will be presented with the cup offered by Mr. Frederick T. Wood of the Williams Club of New York for the champions of the 1919 Intramural Baseball League. Coach Ira Thomas wishes to express his appreciation of the interest which Mr. Wood and other alumni have shown in intramural activities during the past season. "Cabe" Prindle will award the cup offered by him to the man voted the most valuable player on the 1919 varsity nine, also at this time. The trophy has been voted to Finn '21 for his excellent work during the past games.

academic rank. Thus the division of the Trustees and Candidates for Honorary Degrees will enter first, next the Faculty, then the Alumni, and finally the Graduating Class. The Trustees, the Candidates for Honorary Degrees, and the Faculty will take seats on the stage, the Graduating Class in the body of the auditorium, and the Alumni in the order of their classes behind the Graduating Class.

At the conclusion of the exercises in Grace Hall, the various divisions of the procession will pass out under the leadership of their respective marshals, the Graduating Class first, then the Trustees, followed by the Faculty, and last the Alumni, each division made up in the order of academic rank. At the Gymnasium, the Graduating Class only will open ranks and face inward, while the other divisions pass through and enter the building. Luncheon will be provided in the Gymnasium for Trustees, Guests, Faculty, the Graduating Class, and all Alumni who have registered at Jesup Hall.

The final event of the Commencement activities will be the Senior Banquet, which is to be held at 9.30 o'clock at the Commons.

Modern Lightness—With Stability

THERE is much to be said for the closed car bodies that set the first high standards of coach building applied to motor cars.

Peerless leadership in Closed Car construction was established in the early days of the industry.

There is much to be said for newer methods—where they work real improvement.

The Peerless Closed Cars of today embody those fundamental principles developed by the old master coach builders, combined with all that constitutes genuine improvement in modern methods.

The result—modern lightness with stability.

Mounted on the famous Peerless Eight chassis, with its two separate and distinct ranges of power, the Peerless Closed Cars of today maintain their leadership.

In substantial comfort they are not to be surpassed.

In operation they give the most distinctive performance yet attained by motor cars.

The "loafing" range offers the acme of soft, smooth, efficient, economical application of power.

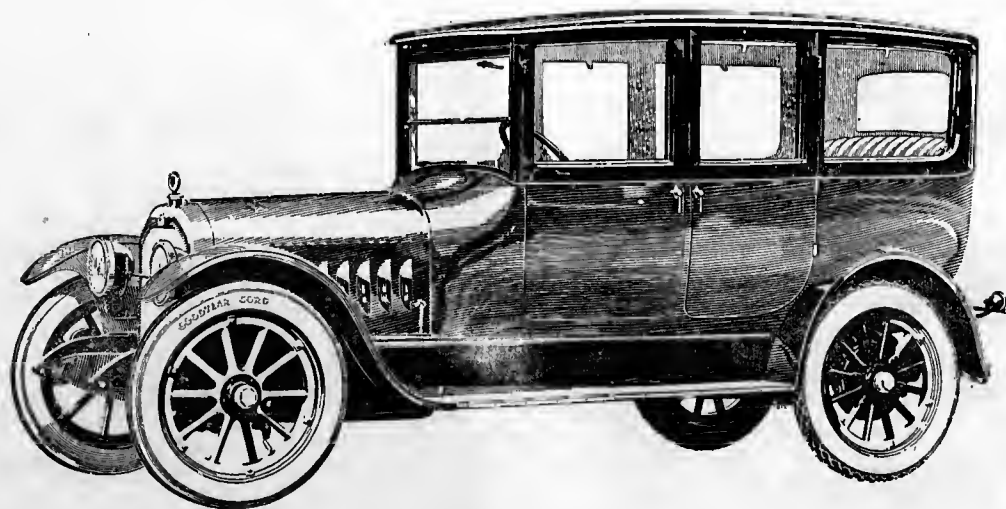

The "sporting" range releases an abundance of power for emergencies and speed which few cars now possess.

Let us show you its remarkable range of performance—those contrasts of opposite virtues which have made the Peerless Two-Power-Range the distinctive motor car of the day.

36 MEN REPORT FOR FOOTBALL THIS YEAR

FIVE VETERANS IN LINEUP

Initial Scrimmage of Season Held Last Wednesday—Team Will Be Unusually Light

With only one week left before the first game of the season with Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Coach Brooks is rapidly rounding into shape an eleven which should prove formidable to all its opponents. Football practice had its formal start on September 10 when Coach Brooks arrived to take charge of the squad of fifteen candidates who had reported for early practice. Since that date more men have returned and at the present there are thirty-six candidates reporting for the daily drills on Weston Field.

Coach Brooks has a nucleus of five "W" men around whom to build this year's team. Of these five veterans four were members of the undefeated 1917 eleven and one was a regular on the 1916 team.

CAPTAIN BOYNTON

Captain Boynton, quarterback and star performer of the undefeated varsity eleven of two years ago, will without doubt be the mainstay of this year's aggregation also. Re-elected to the captaincy last Monday after an absence of a year spent in the aviation service, Boynton is an admirable leader. He was chosen All-American quarterback two years ago and everything points to an equally sensational record during the coming season. Krieger, who played fullback on the 1917 team, has also returned to college this year, and should strengthen the backfield materially. In the line, Fieser, Gilham, and Mills are relied upon to furnish the main defense, the first two at tackle and the other at center. Fieser and Mills earned the "W" in 1917 and Gilham is a veteran of 1916.

In addition to these men there are several substitutes of former elevens as well as two regulars on last fall's S. A. T. C. eleven. In the backfield Coleman, Hibbard, Montgomery, Papin, Perry, and Wilson are likely candidates, and Beebe, Beckwith, Fargo, who was captain of the freshman eleven two years ago, Lasell, Quigley, N. Smith, Stabler, and Towne are competing for positions in the line. Bonner, Carick, Coddling and Joslyn have been showing up well in the end positions.

During the first week of practice the workout was light. Coach Brooks commenced by putting his charges through a preliminary drill in the rudiments of the game, consisting of handling the ball, starting, and getting down the field.

WANT ONE-ACT PLAY

Combined Musical Clubs May Make Long Western Trip

The Musical Clubs have issued a call for a short one act play with music. This playlet will be used on the Christmas trip, and must not exceed twenty minutes. The minimum of scenery and the maximum of real humor is the ideal to be sought after. The plan now is to have the mandolin club act as orchestra and the glee club as chorus, with certain members of both clubs picked to fill the roles. The play will probably be a collaboration, and for this reason any men interested in writing the play proper, the music, and the lyrics are urged to see Power '20 in the near future.

Elaborate plans for the coming season are being made by the officers of the Musical Clubs. A Christmas trip for the Combined Clubs to extend as far as Minneapolis is now practically assured. Six or seven large cities will be included in the itinerary, to be made public at a later date.

Alumni in these cities have shown great enthusiasm in promoting the concerts, and as this is the first year that such an elaborate program has been definitely decided upon those in charge of the clubs feel that the alumni co-operation will assure the success of the trip.

As all these concerts will be held before mid-years the clubs will be made entirely from the three upper classes. It is therefore, extremely important that every man with musical talent reports to the leaders when the trials are held.

During the Easter recess it is very probable that further concerts will be given. At this time freshmen will also be eligible for the clubs. The success of last year's entertainments and the fact that this year's personnel will not be materially affected by the loss of a few 1919 men seems to point to an unusually talented organization for this year.

Practice will be started within a comparatively short time for both clubs.

CROSS COUNTRY SQUAD HOLDS FIRST PRACTICE

Eight Candidates Report for Team Wednesday Afternoon—Brown Appointed Captain

Seven men besides Captain Brown reported last Wednesday afternoon for the first practice run of the Cross Country squad this fall. There were but two second year, and no first year men, at this practice, but it is hoped that in the near future more candidates will appear. As yet, Manager Coe has not prepared a schedule for the team, but is waiting for the date to be set for the running of the New England Intercollegiate Cross Country Meet, after which he can arrange his schedule accordingly.

Horace Hallock Brown '20, who was elected captain of the varsity track team last spring for the coming year, has been appointed leader of the Cross Country team by Coach Seeley. Brown prepared for Williams at the Barnardville High School where he had no track experience whatever. But in the spring of his freshman year at Williams he won the two mile in the dual meets with Amherst and Wesleyan and also at the New England Intercollegiate Meet at Boston. The next fall in the dual cross country meets he displayed equally good form and completed the season by winning the New England Intercollegiate five mile championship in the fast time of 28 minutes, 38 2-5 seconds. After 21 months spent in service overseas, Brown returned to Williams last spring and ran in sensational form all season. He made a total of 25 points in the four meets and at the end of the season was elected captain of this year's team. As the holder of

ALUMNI ESTABLISH NEW LOYALTY FUND

DISREGARD EMERGENCY FUND

Mr. E. H. Botsford '82 Is New Alumni Secretary—Opens Office in Jesup Hall

In order to create a fund that will produce every year a considerable sum of money for the support and maintenance of Williams College, the Society of Alumni at its annual meeting last Commencement adopted the constitution and by-laws of the Loyalty Fund Association of Williams College and appointed Mr. E. H. Botsford '82 as the secretary-treasurer of the new organization. At the same time Mr. Botsford was elected secretary of the Society of Alumni, to take the place of Mr. W. C. Hart '94. The former will devote his entire time to the interests of the alumni association and has resigned as a special instructor in mathematics.

A permanent alumni office has been established at 15 Jesup Hall where all alumni records will be kept on file. A card catalogue system has been instituted and this will contain the civil and military record of every living alumnus and sometime member of the College. From this office will be issued the regular numbers of the Williams Alumni Review, the annual alumni bulletin and the obituary record of the College.

Another feature of the new office will be an alumni employment bureau which has already placed a number of the younger graduates in excellent business positions. The employment bureau is also in charge of Mr. Botsford.

The Loyalty Fund will take the place of the Emergency Fund which was started by Mr. Willard E. Hoyt, treasurer of the College, to meet the unusual conditions arising from the war. During the year July 1, 1917 to July 1, 1918 $15,368.51 was subscribed to this fund by 926 persons. Letters will be sent this month to the subscribers to this benefit, requesting them to become the first members of the Loyalty Fund Association. The establishment of a perpetual fund in Williams falls in line with action taken by the authorities in many of the eastern colleges, including, among others, Yale, Cornell, and Brown.

W. C. A. WELCOMES 1923

Will Hold Freshman Reception Tomorrow Night in Jesup

Members of the class of 1923 will receive their official welcome at the W. C. A. Freshman Reception, which will take place at 8.00 o'clock tomorrow evening in Jesup Hall. President Garfield has been invited to address the class. The other speakers will be Mr. Withington and Mills '20, general secretary and president respectively of the association and Captain Boynton of the football team. Mrs. Garfield, members of the Faculty, and their wives will be present to aid in extending the welcome. The W. C. A. urges all the freshmen to attend, as it will give them an opportunity to meet many of their classmates and a large number of the professors and to hear helpful advice and learn some of the traditions of the College.

Mr. Withington will address the first meeting of the W. C. A. at 7.30 o'clock on Sunday evening in the Jesup Hall auditorium on the subject, "The Challenge of the Day to College Men".

HARVARD ATHLETE NEW SECRETARY OF W. C. A.

F. B. Withington, Appointed to Succeed T. M. Banks '90, Is Experienced Coach

To fill the vacancy made by the resignation of T. M. Banks '90 as general secretary, the W. C. A. has selected Frederic B. ("Ted") Withington, a graduate of Harvard and Union Theological Seminary, and for several months an army chaplain in France. Mr. Withington won his letter in football at Harvard and has since had considerable experience in coaching college and service teams.

An interesting feature of Mr. Withington's career is that he spent the earlier years of his life in Honolulu, graduating from Oahu College a year before he came east to enter Exeter. Completing his course there in 1911, he went to Harvard, where he made the freshman football team and crews. Later he won his letter in football, as mentioned before, and also in track, besides earning soccer and swimming insignia and playing on the varsity baseball squad. The football teams with which he was associated in college were never defeated. After entering Union Theological Seminary in the fall of 1915, he coached the line at Columbia for two years and the Passaic High School football team for one year. In two of those three years his teams were undefeated. During his years at the Seminary, he also worked with boys' clubs on the East Side of New York, played on the Seminary basketball and tennis teams, and taught in the Choir School of St. John the Divine.

After his graduation from Union in 1918, Mr. Withington went to the Chaplains' Training School at Camp Taylor, from which he was ordered to France with the commission of first lieutenant. After the armistice he became Divisional Athletic Officer for the Twenty-ninth Division, organizing athletics in every unit as well as divisional teams. The football team which he coached and captained won the Fifth Army Corps championship, defeated the Eighth Army Corps, but lost to the Thirty-sixth Division for the First Army championship. After this defeat Mr. Withington helped prepare the Thirty-sixth Division eleven for the A. E. F. finals, which they lost by a 14 to 6 score to the Eighty-ninth Division team of his brother, Major Paul Withington. Mr. Withington is a member of a family of six brothers which has been famous in Harvard athletic history, and which has to its credit three football, one track, and three crew letters.

EPH'S SONS DISPORT IN SUMMER GAMBOLS

ADVENTURES ARE VARIED

Post-Bellum Activities of Undergraduates Extend over the Entire Continent

Deprived of the excitement afforded during the past two years by the recent little controversy overseas, Williams men have been forced to seek vacation adventures in more peaceful regions, with results that have in many cases been startling. Tales of summer deeds and misdeeds now current on the campus illustrate the awful consequences of turning loose on an unsuspecting home population sons of Colonel Eph whose natures have been reduced to an almost primitive state by their gruesome experiences in the trenches in France, not to speak of the demoralizing influence of the terrible battles waged in the camps on this side of the billows, and in the dead-but-not forgiven S. A. T. C. When a Williams man has devoted himself to the pursuit of the "fire-eyed maid of smoky war" for two years, and is forced by the decease of that damsel to seek consolation from a female of less bellicose nature, its hard on the local girl, what?

"Chris" Ward, spurning a life of luxury, dared death and worse by accompanying the far-famed Professor Licklider on a walking trip through the wilds of Maine. The Professor himself did all the cooking, it is reported, with the aid of only a French chef, who was brought along with a few of the other bare necessities of life. The hardships endured by the daring pedestrians are ghastly to contemplate. They were forced to go without porterhouse steaks for hours at a stretch, and had nothing to drink but tea and coffee, which "Chris" killed with his bare hands. Professor Licklider was totally incapacitated for several days as the result of a combat with a wild mulberry bush.

Harvey Jewett returned from La Belle, France a few weeks ago, and modestly disclaims all rumors that seven French countesses deserted their husbands on his account. Reliable reports which have reached the college from other quarters, however, state that the South Dakota Marvel caused a great sensation in French society, and that the hearts which he fractured would, if laid end-to-end, reach from Jesup Hall to the Haystack Monument.

Todd Tiebout, with his self-sacrificing nature, gave up a great part of his summer to relieving the president of the Corn Exchange National Bank of New York City while the latter took a trip to Venezuela. When asked how he like his position Todd stated "Oh, it was a nice little job just for the summer, you know. These easy jobs get rather tiresome after a few weeks, though. Ho hum!"

Innumerable other members of the classes of 1919, 1920, and 1921 took extended trips over the continent, and bring back yarns that would make your hair stand on end, b'gosh. John Carson narrowly escaped assassination at the hands of an ardent supporter of the Feminist movement, who told him that "Any man as handsome as you, young fellow, is a danger to progress of the world. You take the girls' minds off their work."

"Mort" Banks accepted a position posing for one of New York's prominent commercial artists, who draws clothing advertisements for our leading tailors. Not exciting, "but such nice restful work, you know", says "Mort".

PERRY '18 WRITES OF ARMENIAN RELIEF STATIONED AT KARAKLIS

Alumnus Describes His Life
As Member of American Commission in Armenia

Several letters have been received by Prof. Wild from Edward T. Perry, '18, who is a member of the American commission for relief in the Near East. These letters give a vivid picture of the distress and suffering in that region. At the time the letters were written Perry was stationed at Karaklis in the Caucasus region and in the present republic of Armenia, which is really Russian Armenia. The district of which he has charge is about 80 miles long and 25 miles wide. An extract from one of his letters follows:

"I found three centers already organized under an Armenian, who speaks English more or less and is a pretty good organizer. In these three centers there are about 15,000 refugees, absolutely destitute. They have no money and there is no work for them, for the natives are in almost as bad a fix as they. They are clothed, more or less, in variegated patchworks of rags. Their food consists entirely of the flour and rice we give them and the weeds they pick on the hillsides and boll. We give them one-quarter pound of flour and one-quarter pound of rice a day, except when the flour gives out, and then we give them one-half pound of rice. That is the best we can do for them. They boil the rice with weeds and with the flour they mix hot water, making a thin paste which they eat with no seasoning whatever. I had some of the stuff the other day, only mine being especially elaborate, was covered with 'oil,' which seems to be rancid, melted, sheep's butter. That is the nearest thing to butter there is and costs 60 rubles ($3) a pound.

"The natives are no more fortunate. There are 63,000 natives in this part of the district and they are in desperate need of food. Even the rich go hungry, because there is nothing to be had hardly, and what little there is costs outrageous prices. Bread used to cost three to five kopeks (100 kopeks equal one ruble, and one ruble is worth from three to five cents.) Now it is two to five rubles a pound. Imagine paying 25 cents for one pound of bread! In Tiflis I paid $1.45 for a cup of cocoa and an ordinary piece of cake, 50 cents for three fried eggs, and I saw a pair of boots, much like those I paid $12.50 for in the states, which were priced at $110.

"Just at present there is desperate need of seed in this district, for unless the farmers get their fields planted pretty quick there will be another winter of starvation. And every day, all day long, a pitiful stream of hungry humanity passes through our office. You ought to see, or rather you ought not to see, the suffering that is indelibly stamped on their pinched faces. They live in the most miserable hovels or dugouts or in the open air, and yet they have the courage to try to keep their habitations clean. Practically every family mourns at least one, more often three or four, persons massacred or died of starvation. Alexandropol, 40 miles west of here, is a city of 40,000. There are in addition 68,000 refugees there now. A month ago they were dying on the streets at the rate of 200 a day."

the college record for the five mile cross country course he should prove to be the mainstay of the squad.

Three other "W" men have also reported for the team. These are Parker '20, and Coan and Crofts '21. Platt '20, Kellogg '21, and Adams and Oliver '22 also appeared for practice today. Around these men Coach Seeley is confident that he will build up a strong squad.

WESTON FIELD GRADED

Concrete Bleachers Erected— Drainage Much Improved

Steel and concrete bleachers 200 feet long have been erected on the east side of Weston Field to replace the former wooden structure which had become unsafe. In addition the entire drainage system on the football field has been placed in perfect working order; the baseball diamond has been leveled, and the track is now receiving a new covering of screened cinders which will be rolled until the track is in perfect condition.

In repairing the drainage system on the gridiron new catch basins were built where necessary, which required deep excavations on the track to reach the levels of the drainage pipes. The entire length of the left field on the baseball diamond has been filled in and returned, and the infield has been graded.

The cost of these improvements, amounting to $6000.00 was largely paid out of the Alumni Athletic Association fund. The work was done by the Fred T. Ley Company of Springfield to whom the contract was sublet by Mr. Perry A. Smedley, superintendent of buildings.

College Office Hours Changed

Slight changes in the office hours for the Administrative Body of the College are as follows:

For the Dean—9.30-11.30 a. m.—Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday. 10.30-11.30 a. m.—Thursday and Saturday. 2.00-3.00 p. m.—Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

For the Registrar—9.30-12.00 a. m. and 2.00-4.00 p. m., except Saturday.

For the Treasurer—9.00-12.00 a. m. and 2.00-4.00 p. m., except Saturday.

Office hours for the President have not yet been announced.

Fall Competition is Under Way

Twelve men from the class of 1922 have entered the competition for the second assistant managership of football, and eight others are competing for the second assistant managerships of golf and tennis. Managers Carson and Behre have both expressed dissatisfaction over the small number of competitors who reported at the meetings held yesterday evening in Jesup Hall and have decided to admit any other sophomores who are interested. Names should be handed in as soon as possible. The list of competitors follows:

Football—Blanchi, P. R. Blake, C. E. Blake, Chapman, Humes, Jeffries, Kellogg, H. M. Lawder, Maish, P. Phillips, H. S. Prescott, and Youngman. Tennis and golf—Davis, Emerson, H. C. Lawder, Newman, Olmsted, Vercoe, Wentworth, and Wilcox.

151 NEW MEN REGISTER

List of Entering Class Still Incomplete Due to Short

Registration of new men in the class 1923 at the time of going to press has reached 151. The list of new men, however, is still rather incomplete due to the short time given for compilation. Previous to the war, the number of freshmen was slightly larger, in 1914 and 1915, the number of new men being 156 and in 1916 and 1917 the incoming class totalling 171. Last year, however, the enrollment of new freshmen was only 134, and that of special students, was 15.

News Editor This Issue-- S. Winslow

Vol. 33 September 19, 1919 No. 22

At a meeting of the Record Board in the Press Room yesterday, John Kinner Blitz 1921, and George Carleton Underwood 1922, were re-elected to the Board, having returned to College after war service.

After careful considerations of the pros and cons of such action, the Record has decided to continue throughout the present volume the experiment of confining itself to two issues per week, instead of publishing three as before. From the results of the plan this year will be determined the advisability of its future continuance. It is believed that the Record will be able to give its readers more news, with greater accuracy and better all around handling than before. This plan also makes possible a greater frequency of feature issues, containing special articles and cuts. We invite comment either for or against this change in policy from undergraduates, alumni, and all others interested.

To Captain Boynton, to Coach Brooks, and to the whole football squad, the Record extends its most fervent wishes for a highly successful season. When Williams faces R. P. I. at Troy a week from tomorrow, there will begin what has been missing from college life for the past two years,—a football season after the old style. The 1917 season was a really war-time one, although enlistments and schedule changes did not work complete ruin. Last year but two games were played, and the eleven that played them could hardly be called representative of Williams. But this fall a full schedule has been arranged, and the large squad that is already on the field includes a number of veterans, with no fear of a war to call them away. Everything points towards a brilliant season.

The New Year

We venture to say that few, very few Septembers have equalled the present one in furnishing causes for rejoicing to Williams men who return to their Alma Mater. To see, after two years of gloom, that not only football but everything else in and of the College is again on its feet and moving ahead adds tremendously to the usual "glad-to-get-back" feeling. The enrollment, both of freshmen and of the

When You Buy—Buy from "Record" advertisers

College as a whole, is record breaking, and that by itself means a big year. With the ante-bellum conditions and a large nucleus of the ante-bellum men, the ante-bellum spirit and activity cannot fail to be present.

But the handicap which is to be overcome must not be ignored. No college could withstand such deep inroads as the war has made on Williams during the past two years and still preserve a whole skin. There are small wounds to be patched up and much work to be done before everything can truly be back where it once was. Organizations, athletic and non-athletic, demand a great deal of active support in order that they may not merely equal past standards, but also maintain the record of progress, which is itself a part of the tradition of Williams. That indefinable something called the "spirit" of the place has suffered from wear and tear, and the present college year must see it completely rehabilitated. But these things will certainly be done, and Williams will emerge, indeed, is already emerging, from the cloud of war bigger, brighter, and better.

To the Freshmen

The Freshman Class which enters Williams this fall is fortunate in many ways. It comes at a time when trying years are over and the College is fast becoming its former self. It is stronger in numbers than any entering class of recent years; and strength in numbers may be a great asset. These facts place on the shoulders of the class of 1923 a heavy burden of responsibility; for at a time like the present, when the College is still recovering from the blows of war, a large Freshman Class may be either a help or a hindrance.

Which of the two it shall prove to be it depends entirely on the class itself to decide. If 1923 does not strive honestly to assimilate and put into practice the traditions, tangible and intangible, of the College, no efforts of the upper classes can force it to do so. The legacy of tradition and of "spirit" must descend from class to class in an unbroken chain, or the loyalty of Williams men for generations has gone for nothing. What it is cannot be defined on paper, or expressed in words. The knowledge of it must come by experience, and it must be passed on by a subtle kind of teaching on the part of the older Williams men and gotten by an earnest desire to learn on the part of the newer ones.

You have already some idea of the stock "advice to freshmen", and will continue to get more. Follow it; it is meant for the best and will pave the way for your becoming true Williams men. You cannot be told too often to learn all the songs and cheers, to attend all games, to learn and obey with cheerfulness and good grace the Freshman Rules. Nor can it be too heavily emphasized that, after all, the curriculum is your major duty here. On the other hand, Williams is a small college, yet it proudly supports a multitude of activities. A moderate participation in extra-curriculum work hurts no man's studies. But the tendency is always for a few men to do the greater part of the work. Over participation in campus activities is ruinous. The solution of the problem is for all to work, and for no one to monopolize the positions.

In conclusion, the Record offers to 1923 its heartiest welcome. It wishes each member of the class a full measure of happiness and success during the four best years of his life, which he is about to spend "neath the shadow of the hills".

The Passing of Cinderella

THE quaint little childhood tale of the poor kitchen maid is not so far removed from recent reality.

For we all recall the staggering piles of dishes, the dust-strewn floor, the tubs of clothes, the treadmill task at the sewing machines! Yes, Cinderella-like was the housework of yesterday.

And now, the girl of 1920 looks to electricity—most tractable of hand-maids—as the fairy prince who makes life easier and fuller.

Just a push of the button—and tiny electric motors sweep, wash dishes or clothes; clean, scour and polish; make ice or ice cream, run the sewing machine and play the piano or phonograph.

While the motors do the work, other electric appliances are distributed about the house to make good living more convenient. Electric cooking utensils, hair driers, cigar lighters, burglar alarms, door bells, and furnace regulators, are now operated by the magic wand of electric power.

The development of the miniature motors for the kitchen and electrical devices was made possible by the rapid progress in experience gained by the General Electric Company's Engineers, whose efforts in the application of electricity for every sort of industrial endeavor during the past quarter century have brought freedom from the drudgery of other days.

RUSHING SEASON TO START SEPTEMBER 27

COUNCIL TO MEET TONIGHT

Increase In Number of Periods and Dates is Feature of New Interfraternity Agreement

In order to perfect plans for the fraternity rushing season which will begin with the dinner date Saturday, September 27, the Interfraternity Council will meet this evening at 7.45 o'clock in Jesup Hall. A by-law to the present rushing plan will be adopted to govern the transmission of invitations for Period A and an executive committee of five will be elected.

This year's plan differs from that of former years in several respects. In the first place there will be three periods instead of two. During the first two periods, A and B, conversation must be confined to non-fraternity matters but in the third period, C, bidding and pledging may go on. In former years it has been the rule to have one period covering the same time as the new periods A and B.

Another change is in the number of dates on each day. Instead of the two dates, dinner and evening, there will be three, one dinner and two evening dates. Every freshman must visit each fraternity that desires to see him during Period A.

The complete agreement, as adopted by the Alumni Interfraternity Council and changed and ratified by the fourteen fraternities, follows.

INTERFRATERNITY RUSHING AGREEMENT

1. I hereby agree upon my honor that previous to his final registration, I shall not bid or pledge any prospective first year man of Williams College or obtain from him any promise regarding future bidding or pledging. I also agree upon my honor that, during the period extending from two weeks before the opening of College until the beginning of the Third Rushing Period, I shall not communicate with any first year man except:—(1) to transact usual College business; (2) to greet him or carry on with him brief non-fraternity conversation upon the street; (3) to carry on during the dates of the first two rushing periods conversations on non-fraternity matters.

2. This agreement is to be binding upon every undergraduate member of a Williams College fraternity, provided that it is signed by four-fifths of the undergraduate members of such fraternity, from the time of its signature until two months subsequent to the close of the rushing season for 1919.

3. Prospective students may be entertained at any time previous to two weeks before the opening of the College in the year of their entrance, but prior to such two weeks before the opening of College there shall be no bidding or pledging or promises of any nature made regarding possible future bidding or pledging.

4. After two weeks before the opening of College and up to the beginning of the Third Rushing Period, conversation with first year men shall be confined to transactions of the usual College business and greetings and brief non-fraternity conversations upon the street.

5. Rushing season shall be divided into three periods: A, B, and C. Period A shall begin with the dinner date of the second Saturday after the opening of College and shall extend through the second evening date of the Tuesday following. Period B shall begin with the dinner date of the following Wednesday and shall extend through the second evening date of the following Friday. Period C shall begin with the dinner date of the Saturday following and shall end with the second evening date of the same evening.

6. During Period C there may be bidding and pledging.

7. During the three periods, the day shall be divided into the following rushing dates: Week days: Dinner (6:00-7:30); First Evening Date (7:30-8:45); Second Evening Date (8:45-10:00). Sunday Luncheon (12:30-2:00); Afternoon Date (2:00-3:15); Dinner and Evening Dates as on week days.

8. At the close of Period C there shall be unrestricted bidding and pledging of unpledged undergraduates.

9. The Interfraternity Council shall conduct the transmission of invitations for Periods A, B and C, and for Period A shall determine the apportionment and order by lot in a manner to be regulated by a by-law.

10. For Period A, each first year man must accept one invitation from every fraternity offering him one, or refuse all. For period B, he may accept not more than two invitations from every fraternity he pleases. For Period C he is free to accept whatever invitations he may choose.

First year men must wait their replies to the invitations as follows:

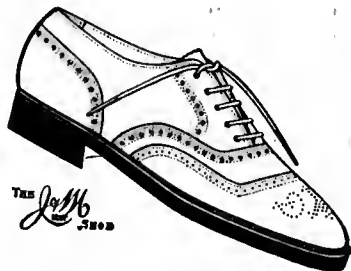

Period A: before 12m Saturday.
Period B: before 3 p. m. Wednesday
Period C: before 12m Saturday.

11. Any first year man breaking a pledge with any fraternity shall thereby render himself ineligible for fraternity membership at Williams College for a

IRA THOMAS TO RETURN

Underclass Baseball Series to Open at Early Date

In accordance with plans formulated during the summer by Coach Ira Thomas and Manager Tiebout, a series of baseball games between 1922 and 1923 will be played during September and October. Finn '21, acting manager for 1923, has issued a call for candidates, and an attempt will be made to play the first game tomorrow afternoon on Weston Field.

Coach Thomas expects to arrive in Williamstown tonight and will take charge of the underclass series in an attempt to discover and develop new material for the 1920 varsity. His activities during the summer have been confined to various scouting expeditions in the interests of the Philadelphia Athletics and a successful term as coach of the Atlanta, Ga., team, Southern League. Thomas took charge of the Atlanta club early in July and in a short time had started his outfit on a winning streak which continued long enough to land the pennant. He will resume his duties at Williams and will remain as long as necessary during the fall months.

Improvements in Jesup Hall

All repairs and renovation in Jesup Hall made necessary by the fire in the fall of 1918 were completed during the summer. In addition, the auditorium has been greatly improved by the installation of comfortable upholstered seats to take the place of the old wooden benches. In the Record office a staircase has been cut through to the basement, a large section of which has been finished off in beaver board to furnish quarters for the business department of that publication.

LIBRARY SITE PREPARED

Prof. Kellogg's House Removed And Ground Staked Off

Long considered plans for a new library have matured to the extent of preparing the proposed site in the rear of Hopkins Hall and the Thompson Memorial Chapel. Professor Kellogg's house has been moved north on College Place and the plot for the library staked off and surveyed. The actual breaking of the ground for the foundations is awaiting the completion of the working plans, which are being drawn by Cram and Ferguson, Boston architects. The contract for building has not yet been actually awarded.

According to the announcement of President Garfield at the Alumni Luncheon last June, the College has considerably over $200,000 in special funds given for library purposes, at that time the Trustees decided to proceed with plans that had been under consideration for several years, both because of the inadequacy of the present facilities for housing the College books of special value and also to furnish a fireproof building for the remarkable collection of books that Alfred C. Chapin '69 is making for Williams. The plan of the Trustees is to continue the erection of the building as far as the present funds will permit, and then if further gifts should not be forthcoming, to stop the work in order not to encroach upon the two million dollar endowment raised for the purpose of increasing the professors' salaries.

Newspaper Published In Town

On July 17th a Williamstown weekly newspaper called The News and Advertiser made its appearance. This paper was edited by Edward W. Power '20 and was published by the Williams Print. One thousand copies were distributed free, the expense being paid for by the advertising which the paper contained. The motive responsible for the publication was to provide a medium for Williamstown merchants to inform the townspeople of their special stock. So far the paper has been successful and will doubtless become a fixture in Williamstown, although Power resigned from the editorship upon the opening of college.

1922 "Gul" Elects Youngman

Arthur Vreeland Youngman '22, of Montclair, N. J., has been elected to the business managership of the 1922 Gul-telmensian, as a result of the competition held during the past spring and summer. A limited number of the 1920 Guls have been placed on sale and may be obtained from Cutler '20 or Youngman '22 at the regular price of three dollars.

"Cow" Competition To Start

Freshmen who wish to enter the competition for the editorial board of the Purple Cow and all others interested will meet at 7.30 o'clock this evening in Jesup Hall. Material for the October number of the Cow will be considered at a meeting of the board Monday night at 7.30 o'clock in Jesup Hall.

To Hold Choir Trials Monday

Trials for positions on the College Choir will be held next Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock in the choir room of the Thompson Memorial Chapel. Men from all classes are eligible to try out, and Mr. Salter is especially anxious to meet any members of the entering class who have vocal talent.

Plan To Increase Salaries

Substantial increases in the college funds have made it possible to devote the income from two million dollars to increasing the salaries of the members of the college faculty. President Harry A. Garfield outlined the entire plan for this step in his report at the Alumni Luncheon on June 23, 1919, stating that, on the receipt some time this year of the $800,000 given the college under the terms of the will of Mrs. Russell Sage, the permanent funds of the college will amount to $3,600,000.

In 1913 it became necessary to raise a million dollars to take care of the annual deficits of the college and later a second million dollars was raised to provide increases in the salaries of the professors to be used for general purposes of the college, and to provide additional professorships. The Trustees have since decided, according to President Garfield's report, to use the entire income of the second million dollars for the increase of salaries. This resolution was adopted in view of the flourishing condition of the college finances and the increase in the cost of living. Although it will be put into effect as soon as possible, the whole of the second million dollars is not yet available, because of the fact that much of it is embodied in legacies which have not yet fallen due.

What is an Advertisement?

To a great many people an advertisement is a necessary evil—a little bit of printing in a little bit of white space. To the average reader, the advertising section of a publication is more or less a matter of course—after all the news is written, there is a certain quantity of white space which must be filled, hence the advertisements.

Just what the science of advertising is, and how important a part it plays in merchandising today cannot be told in a few words. It is sufficient to say that advertising has two definite ends in view; namely, to act as a silent salesman for the dealer, to sell his goods to the public; and to keep the public informed of what the dealer has for sale, to make it EASY for the public to buy.

The successful publication of the Record depends entirely upon the buying power of its readers. By 'buying power' we mean the ability and willingness to purchase goods at certain places. Williams men have the ability,—all we ask is the willingness, to buy from Record advertisers. They spend their money with the Record in order to tell you their story, to enable you to buy easily and quickly. That is their part. Are you willing to do yours?

Make a mental note to watch the advertisements a little more closely; take advantage of the offers which the dealers make to you.

There was also some kicking, in which Boynton displayed his usual form and got away some good punts. Wednesday afternoon two temporary teams were picked and the first scrimmage was held. The first eleven showed a decided advantage and had little difficulty in making some good gains. But the lineup is by no means permanent and is subject to constant change as practice progresses.

Although the whole team will necessarily be light this year, Coach Brooks is confident that he will build a successful eleven out of the material he has at hand. He will be ably assisted by Secretary Withington of the Williams Christian Association who played on the Harvard team while he attended that University. Nothing has been learned as yet of the strength of next week's opponents.

COACH BROOKS

'54—Frank Semple Bissell, aged 87, well known manufacturer and banker died recently at his home in East End, Penn. In addition to his work as organizer and head of Bissell & Co., stove manufacturers, Mr. Bissell was vice-president of the Exchange National Bank.

CAMPUS REGULATIONS TO BE WELL ENFORCED

1923 Will Follow Rules Only Slightly Modified From Preceding Years

Certain privileges are reserved by college custom for the members of the two or three upper classes. In order that there may be no occasion for lack of knowledge on the part of the incoming class the new Campus Rules are again published complete as approved by the Student Council last Spring. They are as follows:

1. Freshmen must not appear upon the street coatless or bareheaded and must wear the regulation cap in Williamstown and North Adams until the Spring recess.
2. Freshmen must not smoke on the street at any time of the year.
3. Freshmen must not sit in the front rows in Lasell Gymnasium and Jesup Hall, nor in front rows or boxes at the theatres in North Adams unless accompanied by an upperclassman; they must occupy seats in the gallery at College meetings and smokers in Jesup Hall.
4. Freshmen must not wear purple in any form unless they have won varsity or class insignia, and then only on sweaters and jerseys.
5. Freshmen must not wear preparatory school insignia on caps, jerseys, or sweaters.
6. Freshmen must yield precedence to upperclassmen on the street and in trolley cars and upon entering and leaving all buildings.
7. Freshmen must not sit on Spring Street benches. Only seniors may sit on the Lab. fence.
8. Freshmen must not wear leather or fur coats.
9. Freshmen must not dance at the Greylock.
10. Freshmen must not wear knickerbockers or army breeches. Freshmen and sophomores must not wear corduroy or moleskin trousers.
11. Freshmen must not sit in the center section of Walden's theatre unless accompanied by an upperclassman.
12. Freshmen and sophomores must not lead varsity cheers or the singing of The Mountains.

'77—Dr. Albert H. Tolman, Professor of English at the University of Chicago, has recently published an article Why Did Shakespeare Create Falstaff? in the Publications of the Modern Language Association.

Cups will be awarded to the winner in both singles and doubles. The runner-up in the single event will also receive a trophy. In addition to the members of the tennis team last spring, Chapin '23, the Springfield City champion and runner-up in the national junior championship, seems a likely candidate for the college title. A large entry list is expected as the tournament marks the resumption of activity in the tennis field. At present Manager Behre is making tentative arrangements for several informal matches.

STREET R. R. LOCKOUT

Strike Throughout Berkshires Isolates North Adams

When the irate trolley men of the Berkshire street railway decided sometime in the dim past of last summer to follow the lead of nearly every other recognized and unrecognized branch of labor and strike for wages sufficient to allow each and every conductor to keep three Fords instead of the two purchased from the proceeds acquired by persistent "knocking down," no one realized the dire consequences to follow.

The first thing to happen was the bankruptcy of the Berkshire railway. Evidently no inkling of this reached those Williams undergraduates to whom the "natural beauties" of North Adams mean so much. At least the two solitary "students" who by an error of judgment voluntarily marooned themselves in the Village Beautiful, saw no influx of enraged brethren.

But what a shock was in store for five hundred young men, when, upon their return, they were greeted with the news that North Adams had suddenly become indefinitely remote from the average unfortunate in search of diversion or relaxation. Now, it is only the plutocratic or the modern "Diogenes" (you will remember the original, who was willing to wait for years to get what he wanted) that can tap the sweets in wait for the city-goer. The plutocratic may roll over smooth pavements, as in former untroubled times; but the majority must hasten to the foot of Consumption Hill, there to watch a bus. Sometimes this feat is accomplished in two or three hours. More often it takes the better part of the day. One of the leading offenders, the proprietor of a leading bus line, was accused today by a "Record" reporter, of playing hide and go seek. Although the accusation was denied, the conviction is too deep-seated to be easily uprooted.

The question which easily ranks first with Williams men of the present generation is: where can we find a substitute for delicious, delicate dainties furnished to us for decades by the source now irrevocably removed for the next nine months, at least?

Self-Help Bureau Now Open

The Student Self-help Bureau, organized for the assistance of students who desire to be self-supporting, is now open in Room 18, Jesup Hall. Nearly $15,000 was earned by the student body during the past year, and at present the opportunities for earning money are greater than ever before. The two most profitable forms of work are tutoring and waiting on table. The Bureau urges all who are looking for opportunities for self-help to communicate with it immediately.

"The Williams News Room" will see that the "Record" is sent home for you.

FACULTY PERSONNEL HAS MANY ADDITIONS

TWO PROFESSORS ABSENT

Thirteen New Instructors Appointed—Three Men Are Williams Graduates

Material changes have been made in the Faculty for the coming year due to the addition of instructors in almost every department. The return of the College to normal times with its much larger registration and consequent wider demand for varied lines of study has forced this increase in the personnel of the teaching staff. These changes are occasioned by two professors away on their sabbatical years, two instructors who have returned to College from their leaves of absence granted for war service, and thirteen new instructors.

The two members of the Faculty who are at present enjoying their sabbatical years are Professor John P. Rice of the Romance Languages Department, who will spend the year in China, and Professor W. H. Doughty, Jr., of the government department. The two Cru brothers, who left Williams in 1914 to enter the French military service, have both returned this fall after extended activities both abroad and in this country after the signing of the armistice. J. N. Cru will act as Assistant Professor in Romance Languages, while his brother, A. L. Cru, will be an instructor in the same department.

Three Williams graduates are numbered among the new instructors. These are Spencer W. Prentiss, a member of last year's Senior Class, who becomes Assistant in Chemistry, H. Douglas Wild '17, who returns from service overseas to be an Instructor in English and Rhetoric and R. M. Geer '16, instructor in Greek and Latin, who received his M. A. at Harvard in 1918 and has served overseas for six months.

The remaining recent appointees are as follows:

C. S. Hoar, Ph. D., Instructor in Biology. After receiving his B. S. at Dartmouth in 1911, Dr. Hoar pursued graduate studies and in 1915 received the degree of Ph. D. from Harvard. From then until 1917 he served as instructor at Kansas State College, later entering war service for a year and a half.

J. P. Brinsmade, Ph. D., Instructor in Physics. Graduation at Yale in 1906 was followed by six years at Harvard as graduate student and instructor. Until recently Dr. Brinsmade has been engaged in army work in Washington, D. C.

J. W. Bell, Ph. D., Instructor in Government and Economics. Dr. Bell received his A. B. from Colorado in 1912 and his Ph. D. from Harvard in 1918 after having entered the service. He went with an artillery unit to France, saw active service at the front, and after the signing of the armistice acted in the Personnel Division of the Red Cross in Paris.

Charles W. Hendel, Jr., Ph. D., Instructor in Philosophy and Religion. Following graduation at Princeton in 1913, Dr. Hendel studied a year abroad and then returned to the same university, where he received his Ph. D. in 1917. Since then he has been in the army, first at Camp Dix and later at Camp Lee in the 78th Division.

Guy B. Colburn, Ph. D., Instructor in Romance Languages. Dr. Colburn received an A. B. from Brown and a Ph. D. from Wisconsin. He left his work as instructor at Harvard to engage in war work, serving in war service and welfare association work in Italy for over a year.

R. Peattie, Assistant Professor in Geology. Continuing his studies after graduation from the University of Chicago, Mr. Peattie was well on the way to his

MUSICAL CLUB TRIALS

Glee and Mandolin Clubs May Enlarge Personnel

In order to fill the vacancies in the Glee and Mandolin Clubs, trials for those organizations will be held during the latter part of this week. A notice concerning the trials will be posted on the bulletin board in Hopkins Hall. All men with any musical ability whatsoever are urged to come out there is every chance for success since many members must be taken to compensate for the withdrawal of the 1919 men.

An extensive tour for the Christmas recess has been planned, but is still tentative. This trip will include a number of the larger cities of the east and middle west such as Chicago, Minneapolis, Cleveland, Rochester, Buffalo, and Auburn. It is also probable that the personnel of both Clubs will be enlarged.

Plans are being made to put on a musical comedy or a short skit of twenty or thirty minutes. Costumes and a small amount of scenery will be allowed.

SOPHOMORES WIN FIRST UNDERCLASS BALL GAME

Excellent Playing Gains 4-3 Victory in Close Contest on Saturday Afternoon

Saturday afternoon Weston Field witnessed the first clash between the entering class of 1923 and last year's Freshmen. In a close and generally well played contest, 1922 vindicated itself by winning from the Freshmen by a 4-3 score, the first game in the annual fall underclass baseball series.

During the first inning both sides were able to secure two hits, but the Freshmen lost their chance to score when Mallon was caught at the plate. The end of the next inning likewise came with no score by either team. In the third, Mallon reached first on balls, Papin went out on a fly to right field, but hits by Hoyt, Boynton, and Stevenson brought in three runs before the inning was over. The first year men held the Sophomores in the third but through a weakness in the pitching were unable to prevent a rally in the fourth which tied the score. Brigham, the first man at bat, reached first on a single and was advanced to second when Clark gave Hahlo a base on balls. Nichols, Richardson, and Richmond followed with hits but only succeeded in tying the score. Cobb flied out to left field, Smith struck out, and Rounds was put out at first.

The Freshmen lost a chance in the sixth inning to tie the score when, with Papin on third, Hoyt knocked a fly to center field. In the last half Cobb reached first on a single. Smith flied out, but Rounds advanced Cobb to second and Brigham brought him in with the winning run.

For the Freshmen, Papin played the best game with a single and a double to his credit. On the other hand, the whole Sophomore team played an excellent game far better, in fact, than in any of the contests in the interclass series last spring.

The score by innings is as follows:

1	2	3	4	5	6
1923	0	0	3	0	0

Batteries: 1922—Rounds and Smith
1923—Clark and Stevenson. Umpire—Prindle.

Competition Opens for 1923

All freshmen interested in entering the competition for the position of business manager of the 1923 Gulielmian will meet Adams '21 this evening at 7.15 o'clock in the Reading Room of Jesup Hall. This is the first managership competition open to 1923.

TEAM WILL BE FAST AND LIGHT THIS YEAR

BACKFIELD MEN SCARCE

Straight Football Used in Second Scrimmage of Season—Linemen Show Up Well

Williams will face Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute next Saturday at Troy, N. Y., in the initial football game of the 1919 season. With only five days remaining before this contest, the Williams eleven is fast rounding into shape, and a tentative line-up has been arranged which will probably represent the Purple at Troy.

Prospects for the fall, as far as they can be determined at such an early date, are for a fast and light eleven with Boynton as the mainstay of the backfield. In spite of the lack of heavy men, however, it was evident from the scrimmage held last Saturday that there is good line-backing material in the backfield, and it will not be necessary to rely on an open game to score touchdowns. The line-men were able to open holes in the second team defense, and the first team backs went through the center and off tackle for substantial gains time after time. Ragged handling of the ball, with frequent fumbles, kept the gains from being consistent, although Boynton ran through the entire opposing eleven several times on end runs.

The line-up used in last Saturday's scrimmage was as follows: L. J. Joslyn, L. Fieser, L. G. Gilham, C. Smith, E. Lasell, R. T. Fargo, R. E. Carick, J. B. Boynton, L. H. B. Krieger, L. B. Hibbard, R. H. B. Papin. This will probably be unchanged in the first game, except that Mills, who has been unable to attend practice for several days, will be back at center. In addition to these men, Coddling and Clark, ends, Bruce and Beebe, line men, and Becket and Perry, backs, are showing up well. Becket is a new man on the squad and has shown considerable ability during the past two days. In the line Beebe, who is by far the heaviest man on the squad, weighing over 200 pounds, has been receiving especial attention from Assistant Coach Withington and is improving rapidly.

Although the present combination in the backfield is now working, Coach Brooks states that he needs more material in this department and desires all men who have any ability to report at once.

Executive Council Chosen

Five men, elected by the Interfraternity Council at its first meeting last Friday evening in Jesup Hall, will form an executive committee to transmit all invitations to Freshmen and to govern the apportionment of Freshmen to the various fraternities during Period A of rushing. The new committee consists of Ward, chairman, and Beckett, secretary, ex-officio, and Black, Carson '20, and Lasell '21. The plan in the agreement to allow each fraternity to draw by lot for the dates in which to entertain first year men has been abandoned as impracticable, and the executive committee will decide on the dates arbitrarily.

TENNIS EVENT OPENS

Tournament Has 92 in Singles and 25 Teams in Doubles

With 92 entries in the singles and 25 teams in the doubles, play in the first round of the annual fall tennis tournament started Saturday afternoon on the College courts. Owing to the large number of entries, the lists were closed at noon Saturday instead of Saturday evening, which was the original time limit.

Results of the matches played Saturday were as follows: Dillingham '21 defeated E. W. Johnson '22, 4-6, 6-4, 11-9; Baker '22 defeated Chapman '20, 6-1, 6-0; Rowse '22 defeated J. C. Baker '21, 6-3, 6-3; C. L. Taylor Jr. '21 defeated Hnyek '21, 6-2, 6-0; Fleming '22 defeated Brandegee '20, 6-0, 6-1; Greeff '23 defeated Ullery '22, 6-1, 6-2; Brune '22 defeated Lee '20, 6-4, 6-4. By far the most closely contested match of the round was that between Dillingham '21 and Johnson '22, which was hard fought all the way and ran into three sets.

In the drawing for the first round, the following men drew byes: Bonner Burrows, buck, Carey, Dessau, Ferguson, Murdock, Power, Sutphen, Schermerhorn, Ward, Whittier '20; Allison, Balch, Conklin, Cutler, Freeman, Hall, Kent, North, E. P. Taylor, Truman '21; Bullock, Blunt, Chapman, Cobb, Gardiner, Klopfer, Mendes, Newell, Rosenwald, Schaffner, Wallace '22, Chapin, Ely '23.

Three matches in the second round of the event took place Saturday, with the following results: Kent '21 defeated Wallace '22, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2; Rowse '22 defeated Carmen '21, 6-1, 6-0; and C. L. Taylor Jr. '21 defeated Fleming '22, 6-2, 6-1.

Drawing of opponents in the first round of the doubles took place yesterday afternoon and play will start Thursday, allowing time for the singles to get well under way. All matches in the first round of the singles must be played off by tomorrow evening and the results entered on the schedule posted on the bulletin board in Hopkins Hall. In arranging for matches, underclassmen are expected to set the time of playing.

WITHINGTON ADDRESSES CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

New General Secretary Speaks Before Large Attendance at First Meeting of W. C. A.

Service to the world in general and the utilization of the educational advantages open to college men in the life of the nation were the chief topics of discussion in the talk delivered by Frederic B. Withington at the regular meeting of the Williams Christian Association last evening in Jesup Hall. The meeting was of shorter duration than usual, and this fact coupled with the significant and direct remarks of the new general secretary, tended to establish a popular precedent for future sessions of the association.

Mr. Withington used as the basis of his talk the mottoes inscribed upon the gates of the Campus at Harvard which are read daily by the students of the institution. At the entrance are the words "Enter, to grow in wisdom", and at the exit, "Depart, to better serve thy kind". The spirit of service, which has been one of the outstanding features of American participation in the late war, is incorporated in these two mottoes, a constant and much needed inspiration to the college men of this generation. Opportunities for service are more numerous today than ever before in the history of the nation, and the burden of responsibility should rest upon the collegemen during this great period of transition and reconstruction. The country is on the verge of a great economic upheaval, and the significant questions of the day must be solved in an efficient manner. Naturally, the

FRESHMEN WELCOMED AT W. C. A. RECEPTION

FACULTY MEETS NEW MEN

President Garfield Delivers Address—Interfraternity Agreement Is Explained

More than one hundred and forty-five members of the incoming Freshman Class attended the annual freshman reception held under the auspices of the Williams Christian Association in Jesup Hall last Saturday evening and made their formal debut into social life at Williams. President and Mrs. Garfield assisted by other members of the Faculty and their wives and also by two representatives of each fraternity, received the Freshmen.

After the customary greetings had been exchanged and refreshments served, addresses were delivered in the auditorium by Dr. Garfield, Secretary Withington of the W. C. A. and the leaders of various college activities. Mills '20, as head of the W. C. A. presided. After a few words of greeting to the new men, he introduced Dr. Garfield, who welcomed the Freshmen in the name of the College.

The President spoke in an informal manner, emphasizing the importance of friendliness as the keynote of his address. He declared that in a small institution like Williams a sense of community between the faculty and the freshmen is a vital part of the process of education and should be encouraged to the utmost. By this means the graduates of the College will go out imbued with the friendly spirit found here and will leave behind them a well-knit college body.

Mills '20 spoke in behalf of the W. C. A., explaining its work and urging the Freshmen to participate in its activities. Mr. Withington, newly appointed secretary of the W. C. A., suggested that the class of 1923 adopt as their watchword the phrase "Something More" and explained that he and the other W. C. A. officers were ready to serve the College with this spirit. Boynton '21 spoke on athletic activities, laying emphasis on the importance of maintaining the scholastic standing necessary for eligibility. Ward '20, chairman of the Interfraternity Council discussed the rushing rules and interfraternity agreement. The meeting was closed by the singing of The Mountains.

To Resume Operation of Cars

The General Manager of the Berkshire Street Railway announces that cars will be started as speedily as possible though tracks must be cleaned and carefully inspected, authority to raise fares secured from the public service commission, and new schedules of operation put into effect. The company has decided to grant the demand of its men for an increase of 16 per cent in pay. It admits that it has no resources with which to meet this increase, but takes this step in the interest of the public.

"Cow" Board to Meet

For the consideration of material for the October issue of the Purple Cow, the board of editors will meet at 7.30 o'clock this evening in the editorial rooms in Jesup Hall. The first number of the year will appear on or about October 15 and will be styled the "Initiation Number". In order to gain credit in the competition for membership on the editorial board of the publication, competitors should have all material in the hands of the editors before the meeting this evening. The first elections will be held at the December meeting of the board.

"The Editor-in-Chief is always responsible for the opinions expressed in the editorial columns, and the Managing Editor for the matter which appears in the news columns."

News Editor This Issue—G. V. D. Hutton

Vol. 33 September 22, 1919 No. 23

The communication which appears in another column of this issue voices a wide-spread and emphatic complaint. Tennis is among the best games for the majority; it provides an excellent means for spreading athletics among the mass of college men. And yet, Williams College boasts of but eight courts for the use of a student body of over 500 men. At present the system of leaving the care of even these few courts to the undergraduate Tennis Association has caused their deterioration during the summer until but four are available for the tournament, in which 92 men are entered.

We think it not out of place at this time to remind the fraternity members, as individuals, that they are honor bound by their signatures to an agreement. This arrangement is a new thing this year, and it is hard to change an entire attitude in a short space of time. Heretofore the Interfraternity Agreement was looked upon as a legal matter, to be violated if it could be with impunity. This year the same principles govern the Agreement that govern the Honor System, and they should result in a similar desire to observe its provisions, and with a similar flawless result.

The Loyalty Fund

Nearly all criticism of the College, both vituperative and constructive has recently centered about the numerous and pressing needs of Williams. The intellectual shout for a new library and for a better paid faculty. The athletic shout for a new gymnasium. The average man shouts for them all and for many other improvements; for each is a legitimate demand. One thing only keeps Williams below the level we wish to see her attain with respect to equipment and salaries, and that is the obvious and very important matter of funds.

Other colleges, notably Harvard and Yale, have recently benefitted by the giving habit which the country acquired during the war. And now Williams has followed with the organization of an excellent machine for collecting funds. The Loyalty Fund Association of Williams College has been formed by a group of alumni who are in touch with the times and who earnestly desire the betterment of the College. Their work cannot be praised too highly. No Williams man, graduate, former graduate, or present undergraduate is excluded from membership in the Association, which may be secured by a contribution, however small to the fund. In the past, College endowments have generally resulted from the generosity of the few who were in position to donate large sums. Pecuniary service to the College is now democratized, and those who have talked about the needs of Williams may make concrete proof of their loyalty and benevolence. Actions accomplish more than words, and many small gifts equal one large one.

Williams and Expenses

The recent wave of constructive effort that has swept the College, both graduate and undergraduate, has brought about a large amount of introspection and a healthy taking account of stock. The old stand-bys of the knockers have been recalled and inspected to find upon what basis of truth, if any, they may stand. Among these is the "rich man's college" slogan. It is attracting a great deal of attention at present, mainly for the reason that the allegation is not entirely unfounded. There is too much spending among Williams men,—more than there should be,—but the hopeful part of the situation is that this unnecessary looseness of the purse-strings can be remedied. Fundamentally, Williams tradition is sound in this respect; it does not demand that a man be rich or a spender in order that he may occupy a high place in the respect and honor of the community. In fact, many of the men who have been the very best Williams men, and had been recognized as such by common consent have been by no means "rich men." And the student who works his way to an education in the College by his own efforts is on as good a footing as the son of a millionaire, at least as far as the regard and friendship of his fellows is concerned. Of course, there are a few snobs, but their presence is a negligible quantity; they are the exceptions.

The lesson of which is that it depends on the individual, in his actions both personal and as a part of a group, whether or not Williams is to deserve its nickname. Especially to the freshmen is this lesson a pertinent one. They are at an impressionable and formative period, they come here to "do as the Romans do", and if their first impression is that Williams demands much spending, erroneous conclusions result in false values. Each entering class has it in its power to take the right stand and help to rid the College of what ostentation and prodigality there is in matters of money. The bugbear must be combatted both in personal and collective expenditures.

A final word is due lest the above be taken to indicate that Williams Col-

20 Volunteers Sent to Boston

Twenty Williamstown men left yesterday afternoon for Boston in response to a call for aid in keeping order there during the police strike. Word came about 11.00 o'clock yesterday morning that the authorities wanted 20 men from North Adams and 20 from Williamstown. A number of men volunteered at once so that it was not necessary for the members of the Faculty who belong to the State Guard to leave. Of the 20 men accepted, 15 were from the State Guard and five were ex-service men. Company E, the local State Guard Company, is no longer under orders from the Governor, but has offered its services as a unit to aid if called upon in the Boston crisis.

Register Ambulance Men

In order to revise the list of men who were volunteers in the American Field Service in France, copies of the roster from 1915 to 1917 are being sent to all colleges in the country which were represented by units in this corps. A copy has been received at the office of the Alumni Secretary, and all undergraduates who were in this branch of the service are asked to call for the purpose of verifying the records.

lege is in truth the "rich man's college" of the country. We have at hand the figures on the average cost of educating the class of 1917, which was $3890 for the four years, or $973.79 per year. We believe that this would compare favorably with the averages of other colleges of similar size. Expenses for members of fraternities are of necessity greater than those of non-fraternity men, and in a college where a large percentage of the undergraduates belong to fraternities as in Williams, the average is correspondingly high. The benefits of fraternity life must of course be paid for.

September 21, 1919.

To the Editor of the Williams Record.
Sir:

"Athletics for all" has been strongly advocated at Williams during the last few years by those in authority. A laudable step was taken in the right direction last Spring when three baseball diamonds were built on Cole Field in order to encourage intramural baseball.

But there has been a noticeable failure on the part of these authorities to take the same interest in the upkeep of the College tennis courts, which are used by a much larger number of undergraduates than are the baseball diamonds. At the present time, in the midst of the fall tennis tournament, four out of the eight courts are in a pitiable state, being for the most part overgrown by weeds. The remaining four are in extremely mediocre condition. Furthermore, the nets are badly ripped and the backstops are broken in many places.

Almost without exception colleges all over the country maintain their tennis courts in excellent shape by the employment of outside labor, whereas Williams persists in the policy of relying upon competitors to do all the work. As a result, during the summer months the courts are left uncared for, and in the fall they are almost unfit to be played upon. A large sum has just been expended to improve Weston Field. A very small outlay on the part of the Athletic Association would suffice to put the courts in proper playing conditions. The undersigned are sure that prompt action in this matter would be greatly appreciated by the entire college body.

Ph. D. degree at Harvard when the call to service interfered. After over a year in France where he taught in the army engineering school for some time, he resumed regular work at the University of Chicago last summer.

Robert S. Hussey, Instructor in Chemistry. Mr. Hussey received his B. S. degree from the University of Maine. This he followed by six years of instruction at Norwich University, Norwich, Vt. After war had been declared he entered the service in the employ of the Dupont Powder Company, Wilmington, Del.

Frederick W. Whitman, Instructor in Romance Languages. Mr. Whitman was in the class of 1911 at Harvard and later took up graduate studies at that university, receiving his M. A. degree. Four years were spent as instructor at the New Hampshire Agricultural College, Durham, N. H. In Paris during the war he acted as informant concerning enemy gases, translating German scientific periodicals and works of a similar nature in regard to this mode of warfare.

Arturo Rooseco Torres, Instructor in Romance Languages. Mr. Torres is a graduate of the University of Santiago, Santiago, Chili. He later pursued work in pedagogy in Chili and then came to this country, where he has been a writer for numerous Spanish periodicals.

Judge Sanborn G. Tenney, Lecturer in Government. Judge Tenney has long been a resident of Williamstown, but this is his first official connection with the College.

educated men, those who are best equipped to cope with problems which require deep and accurate thought, will be needed for positions of responsibility. If they are found wanting, their positions in the life of the nation must be taken by men who are not slackers, even though they are less thoroughly prepared and educated.

Before the war, a feeling of antagonism prevailed in the minds of many people toward the American college man. Colleges and universities were considered as a fit place for idlers and those who wished to escape the early adversities of a more strenuous life, but now the college man has more than vindicated himself by his splendid manifestation of efficiency and faithful service during the war. He is looked to more and more, as a fit candidate for positions of responsibility, and the time is at hand when large demand will be made upon his knowledge and educational training. The nation needs trained minds to serve during the period of reconstruction, and the colleges must furnish them.

Mr. Withington concluded his talk with an appeal to Williams men to make the most of their opportunities, to avoid the temptation to become a slacker, and to incorporate in their individual standards of life some idea of service which will qualify them to "depart, to better sever their kind."

Your Friends, Your Family and YOU

Did you ever stop to think just how much your family are interested in you, your college course, and your college?

Your letters home tell much; the "Record" will add to this. Your father and mother appreciate the little things you do for them. Don't they?

Why don't you make them a present of a year's subscription to the "Record"?

And another phase of the same feeling that has prompted so many men to do this is that wherever the "Record" goes it carries the name of WILLIAMS with it.

YOU want people to know of Williams. The more widely this college is known, the larger will be the field from which each year a new freshman class is drawn.

A better freshman class each year means a better college.

What are you willing to do to make Williams better and bigger?

It will surely help a little to send the "Record" to your father or your mother; to that kid brother of yours or to your prep school, anywhere where people are interested in you and

Columbia To Have Strong Team

To former captains and other veterans form the nucleus of coach Dawson's Columbia football squad this fall, and prospects are bright for a successful season. Practice has been confined to dummy tackling and signal drill so far but daily scrimmages are to begin this week.

Weber to Coach Hailton

Hamilton Institute's football squad, at present numbering 24 men, will start practice on September 25 under the direction of Charles L. Weber. Mr. Weber is a graduate of Colgate and was chosen all-American tackle in 1913 by Sol Metzger.

Princeton Squad Starts Practice

Starting practice with 75 candidates coach Roper of Princeton got down to serious work yesterday. Not a single member of the squad has played varsity football before, but much of the material although green is promising.

Cornell Squad Lacks Veterans

Captain Shiverick is the only member of the Cornell squad who has played regular varsity football before although several members were substitutes on the 1916 and 1917 teams. Unless two 1916 veterans, who are expected, return later the line will be entirely composed of green men.

WILLIAMSTOWN, MASS., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1919

NO. 24

SENIORS ELECT WARD NEW CLASS PRESIDENT

OTHER OFFICERS CHOSEN

Fargo and Humes Are Picked to Head Junior and Sophomore Classes Respectively

Christopher Longstreth Ward, of Wilmington, Del., was elected president of the senior class at the meeting held last Monday evening in Jesup Hall. Edward Albert Fargo, Jr., of Evanston, Ill., and Jo Allison Humes, of New Orleans, La., were also chosen presidents of the classes of 1921 and 1922 respectively at their meetings held last Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in Jesup Hall. At the same meetings each class elected a vice-president, a secretary, and a treasurer, and their representatives to the Student Council.

Ward received his secondary education at Taft School. In his first year at Williams he was elected to the editorial board of the Record, of which publication he was chosen editor-in-chief in his junior year. He was also, in his freshman year, a member of the Honor System Committee, the mandolin and banjo clubs, and the Cercle Francais, and played on his class baseball team. He was chosen to represent his class on the Student Council and the Honor System Committee in sophomore year, was on the editorial staff of the Handbook and the 1920 Gul, and was a member of the choir and his class baseball team. Last year Ward was editor-in-chief of the Handbook, delegate to the Student Council and Chairman of the Interfraternity Council, and served on the No-Deal Committee, and the Fire Brigade. He played with his class nine again and was taken on the varsity baseball squad. At the Gargoyle elections last May, Ward was the first man to be tapped. He is a member of the Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Other officers chosen by the seniors at the same meeting are: vice-president, Edward DeLorme Cutler, Montpelier, Vt.; secretary, John Gray Reinhardt, Spokane, Wash.; treasurer Joseph Percival Pollard, Chicago, Ill.; representatives on the Student Council, John Lind Carson, Jr., Buffalo, N. Y.; John Allen Coe, Jr., Waterbury, Conn.; Warren Ames Draper, Duluth, Minn.; Stewart Starks Hawes, Oak Park, Ill.; John Tyler Mills, New York City.

Edward Albert Fargo, Jr., of Evanston, Ill., is the newly elected junior president. He prepared for Williams at Evanston High School where he played on both football and basketball teams. He was captain of the freshman football team and a member of the class basketball squad. He is a member of the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

The class of 1921 also elected the following officers for the coming year: vice-president, John Hartney Finn, Northampton, Mass.; secretary, Frederic William Fuller, Jr., Montclair, N. J.; treasurer, John Conger Baker, Jr.; Great Neck, L. I.; representatives on the Student Council, Hugh Bullock, Denver, Colo.; and Alan Wilson Joslyn, Detroit, Mich.

Jo Allison Humes, of New Orleans, La., sophomore president, transferred last year from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. He spent one year at the Academy during which he played on his class tennis team. He is a member of the Record board and the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

At the same meeting the sophomores elected their other class officers as follows: vice-president, Arthur Lewis Hurst, Glen Ridge, N. J.; secretary, William Wilson Stout, Menomonee, Wis.; treasurer, James Mellick Baker, Great Neck, L. I.; representative on the Student Council, Philip Randall Blake, Springfield, Mass.

TRACK PRACTICE STARTS

Interclass Handicap Meet Will Be Held About Oct. 20

About 20 freshmen have reported to Coach Seeley for fall track practice during the past week in addition to the regular track squad. The autumn season will culminate in the annual interclass handicap meet which will take place on or about October 20. The Freshman-Sophomore meet will be held during the week preceding the interclass event.

On account of the short time that the new men have been out for practice, Coach Seeley is not yet able to make any predictions in regard to their ability. Members of the entering class, however, seem to be showing up well in practice in many events. In the high jump and pole vault there appears to be promising material and several 1923 men look well in the dashes and middle distance runs.

COLLEGE ENROLLMENT WITHIN TWO OF RECORD

Registration this year Reaches 547—Largest Number Is 549 Three Years Ago

According to the latest statistics, the total enrollment of students in College this year is 547. This number is only two less than that of 1916-1917, when the enrollment reached 549, the largest it has ever been in the history of the College.

Of the 547 in College now, 123 are seniors, 113 are juniors, 134 are sophomores, and 177 are freshmen. The unusual size of the senior class is due to the number of 1918 and 1919 men who have returned for a year to get their degrees.

In 1914-1915 there were 493 men registered. The next year the number was increased by 17, making a total of 510. In 1916-1917 the enrollment reached its height 549. Due to the declaration of war in the spring of 1917, a great number of men went into the Army or Navy, and in 1917-1918 the enrollment was reduced to 412. In the fall of 1917 the College was under a military regime, and the S. A. T. C. was composed of about 300 men. At the same time there were 26 regular academic students. In January 1919 College was started on the pre-war basis with 374 men. During the winter, men returned from the different branches of Service, and on March 7 the total enrollment was 457.

Since the list of freshmen was published in the Record, three new men have registered. They are as follows:

Geoffrey Rupert Bennett 13 C. H.
15 Bronson Place, Toledo, Ohio.
Joseph Titcomb Chatman 7 B. H.
200 Ocean Ave., Phillips Beach, Swampscott, Mass.
George Perrin Davis
1005 E. Jefferson St., Bloomington, Ill.

"Record" Staff Wants Juniors

Owing to the failure of the assistant business manager of the Record to return to College this fall, there is a vacancy on the business board which will be filled by a member of the class of 1921. Any juniors who are interested in such an opportunity are requested to report at once to Power '20, the business manager. While previous experience in soliciting advertising and ability to use a typewriter are desirable, the only essential qualifications are a real interest in the work and average business sense. To any one who intends to enter business after graduation, there is no better way of securing a considerable amount of practical experience while in College than by spending two years on the business staff of the Record.

Mandolin Club Trials Tonight

Mandolin club trials for members of the upperclasses will be held tonight in Jesup Hall. All men with musical ability are urged to report.

RUSHING SEASON TO COMMENCE SATURDAY

NEW SYSTEM IN EFFECT

Increase in Number of Dates to Feature Entertainment of Freshmen this Week

Beginning with the dinner date at 6.00 o'clock tomorrow evening, Williams fraternities will entertain the members of the class of 1923 under a new rushing system, the practicability of which is to be tested for the first time. Invitations for period A were placed in the hands of the Executive Committee of the Interfraternity Council last evening for transmission to the freshmen. Dates have been designated under the by-law adopted at a meeting of the Council on September 19.

Much care has been taken during the past six months to eliminate many of the objectionable features which were so evident in the rushing agreement utilized in former years, with the result that the existing code of regulations is expected to prove generally satisfactory. There will be three periods, as explained in a previous issue of the Record instead of the two periods required by the former agreement. The outstanding feature of this change is that every freshman must accept one invitation from every fraternity offering him one, or refuse all. Replies to invitations must be mailed by first year men as indicated on the following schedule: Period A—before 12m Saturday; Period B—before 3 p. m. Wednesday; Period C—before 12m Saturday. Failure to follow this schedule will necessarily cause confusion and inconvenience to the freshmen as well as to the fraternities.

First year men must be in their rooms shortly before six o'clock of each evening during the rushing season, and will be called for by members of the fraternities to which they have been assigned for the dinner date. At the end of the dinner and the first evening dates they will again be called for, at the house where they may happen to be. At the conclusion of the second evening date, freshmen must leave fraternity houses unaccompanied by any member of the three upper classes or fraternity alumni. Although this ruling is not directly incorporated in the Rushing Agreement, fraternities cannot escort first year men to their rooms at the conclusion of the second evening date without violating the rules governing entertaining and conversing.

The following articles from the Rushing Agreement should be kept in mind by all first year men:

Article 11. "Any first year man breaking a pledge with any fraternity shall thereby render himself ineligible for fraternity membership at Williams College for a period of six months following such break, and during this time shall not be entertained at any fraternity house at Williams College."

Article 12. "First year men at any time may consult the Chairman of the Interfraternity Council for information on the Rushing Agreement." Such information cannot be properly obtained from any other source.

Dr. J. S. Zelic '87 Will Occupy Chapel Pulpit Sunday

Rev. John Sheridan Zelic '87, former pastor of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, Plainfield, New Jersey will preach in the College Chapel next Sunday morning. Following his graduation from Williams, Dr. Zelic received his B. D. degree from Yale in 1890. He entered the ministry as pastor of the Bolton Avenue Presbyterian Church, Cleveland, O. and was transferred to the First Reformed Church, Schenectady in 1900. Dr. Zelic was called to his present parish at Plainfield, N. J. in 1903 where he continued to serve as pastor until the beginning of the war. Since then he has been acting as a chaplain with the forces overseas. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by Williams in 1904.

Dr. Zelic is the author of many works on religious subjects among which are Bill Pratt, the Buck-Saw Philosopher, written in co-authorship with Carroll Perry, and The Book of Kindly Light, Imitations from Cardinal Newman's Hymns.

On account of rushing dates the usual Sunday evening meeting of the W. C. A. will be omitted this week.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT REACHES THIRD ROUND

Play Is Ahead of Schedule— E. P. Taylor '21 Gives Capt. Pollard '20 Good Match

Play in the singles tennis championship tournament is progressing satisfactorily with 13 out of 31 matches in the third round already played off, and but two matches of the second round remaining to be played before Saturday night. Although drawings have been made, play in the doubles had not commenced at the time of going to press.

The closest match in the third round was that between Pollard '20, captain of the varsity team, and E. P. Taylor '21 with the former finally winning 6-2, 2-6, 7-5. The scores in the other matches were as follows: Burrows '20 defeated Dillingham '21, 6-4, 10-8; Rowse '22 defeated Carman '21, 6-1, 6-0; Kent '21 defeated Wallace '22, 6-2, 3-6, 6-2; C. L. Taylor Jr. '21 defeated Fleming '22, 6-2, 6-1; H. S. Prescott '22 defeated Murdock '20, 6-2, 6-2; Sewall '23 defeated Chapman '22, 6-1, 6-2; Greeff '23 defeated Brune '22, 6-2, 7-5; Conklin '21 defeated Hall '21, 6-1, 6-2; Chapin '23 defeated Gardiner '22, 6-1, 6-1; Truman '20 defeated Ward '20, 6-4, 6-0; Schaeffer '22 defeated Bonner '20, 6-2, 6-1; and Allison '21 defeated Dessau '20, 8-6, 6-4. In the only match of the fourth round played to date Rowse '22 defeated Kent '21, 6-2, 6-4.

The following matches in the third round remain to be played: Fraker '21 vs. Seager '21; Cluett '21 vs. Baker '22; Power '20 vs. Jones '21; North '21 vs. Everts '23; Finner '20 vs. Bullock '21; Cutler '21 vs. Rosenwald '22; Holt '20 vs. Freeman '21; Hastings '22 vs. the winner of the match between Webb '20 and Brigham '21; Sutphen '20 vs. Coleman '22; Wiley '20 vs. Morse '23; Newell '21 vs. Hahlo '22; Prescott '20 vs. Balch '21; Ferguson '20 vs. White '20; Cohn '21 vs. the winner of the match between Youngman '22 and R. C. Clark '23; Klopfer '22 vs. Mendes '22; Schermhorn '20 vs. Northrop '22; Allen '21 vs. Ely '23; Buck '20 vs. Carey '20; and Blunt '21 vs. Adams '22.

1921 "Gul" Board Meets

Plans for the coming year were discussed at the meeting of the editorial board of the 1921 Gul, held last Monday evening in Jesup Hall. The dedication of the volume will be made at a later date.

1919 SEASON OPENS WITH R. P. I. CONTEST

Rensselaer Eleven Expected To Give Purple Hard Struggle In First Game of Year

NEW MAN IN LINE-UP

Becket to Start at Half-Back Tomorrow—Eleven in Good Condition for Conflict

Williams will face Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute tomorrow afternoon at Troy, N. Y., in the opening game of the football season. Reports on the strength of the opposing team indicate that the Purple eleven will meet stiff opposition, although the R. P. I. eleven may be weakened by the loss of one of its best players because of ineligibility.

Practice at the Troy institution started a week ago when a squad of 63 candidates, including nine letter men, reported to Coach Reed. The letter men include the entire line and Eller, quarter-back, from last year's team, and Norton, half-back, from the 1917 eleven. Captain Richards, center, is considered one of the most valuable men on the team. Vorhees, left guard, and Lawler, right tackle, are also formidable members of an unusually heavy line. This weight in the line may prove a great factor against Williams, whose line is unusually light. Sweet, left-end, has been counted on to do excellent kicking for R. P. I., but information received from Troy last night indicates that he will probably be declared ineligible because of scholarship. An important change in the Purple line-up has been made during the past week in the substitution of Becket '21 at right half-back. Becket, a new man on the squad, has shown unusual ability, especially at line-backing and will start the game in place of Papin. Boynton, Lasell, and Hibbard will do the kicking for the Purple eleven, and from indications in practice Hibbard is expected to get off some good punts.

Coach Brooks has worked the team hard all week, drilling the men on fundamentals, and giving them a scrimmage every day. The team-work has improved rapidly, and in yesterday's scrimmage the frequent fumbling, which was so noticeable a week ago, was entirely absent. Boynton is carrying the ball in the stellar form he showed in the season of 1917, and the line, although light, is charging hard and is finding little trouble in smashing the second team's defense for substantial gains on line-backs. No secret practices have been held as yet this season, and it is expected that Coach Brooks will rely on straight football tomorrow, in spite of the weight of the opposing line. Skull practice was held last night for the eleven, and the Coach spent an hour going over plays and emphasizing the principles he has already set out for the team to follow. Practice this afternoon will be light, in order to avoid any chance of injury, a contingency which has fortunately been avoided altogether thus far. The team will leave Williamstown on the 10.01 train tomorrow morning, and the game will be called at 3.00 o'clock in the afternoon.

The line-up of the opposing teams will be as follows:

WILLIAMS	R. P. I.
Boynton (capt.)	l.h.b. Richards (capt.)
Joslyn	l.b. Sweet
Fieser	l.t. Armstrong
Gilham	l.g. Vorhees

Vol. 33 September 26, 1919 No. 24

The football team journeys to Troy tomorrow to play R. P. I. in the opening game of its season. It goes unfortunately, without the usual little band of loyal followers, who are prevented from making the trip by the fact that the Rushing Season begins the same day. But it may go with the realization that, even if we cannot be on the field to support its efforts in person, we will be there in spirit. Back in Williamstown we will eagerly attend the telegrams which we hope and expect to announce to us the successful taking of the omens for the season. We wish the best of luck to the team, and may they come back completely satisfied with the result of the afternoon's work.

Football and Publicity

Such a slangy by-word as "it pays to advertise" may have real application even to a dignified institution like Williams. Perhaps we may not desire to increase the enrollment of the College beyond its present size, but more applications mean more men to pick from, and better entering classes. The Alumni realize this, and they have been doing good, although not the best possible, work along such lines recently. The undergraduates realize it, too, but it seems to pass unrecognized by the Faculty and Administration.

The communication in concerning football and publicity in another column quotes the amplification of a practical truism, from a New York newspaper. The writer relates it to undergraduate publicity, but it has other significance which ought not to be overlooked. In the first place, varsity athletics deserve more help from the administrative side of the college than they have been in the habit of getting. It is at least debatable whether or not the eligibility rules have become too strict when failure to secure a passing grade in one course may exclude a man from athletics. This occurred last fall, and as a result at least three varsity football prospects are now on the side-lines, instead of in the game.

As far as the publicity side of the argument is concerned, the Record advocates the enlarging in numbers, the increasing in efficiency of the College Press Club. It was revived last year and it did good work, but it has almost always been handicapped by the fact that its members are, generally speaking, swamped with other work. The Press Club has too important a mission, can do too great a service to the College to be slighted in any way.

Wolves in the Fold

The "college boy", especially the verdant freshman, has, time out of mind, been marked out by merchants of various kinds as an unusually easy and worth-while prey. He has been found to be good natured, prodigal, and not over careful about the prices he pays. And when it began to be considered good business to do a little profiteering on the side, the merchants who counted the college men among their clientele lost no time in practicing their new-found art on this gullible class.

Not only have the visiting salesmen from metropolitan tailors, shoe shops, and haberdashers taken full advantage of their splendid opportunities, but this year even our old friendly enemies the Spring Street merchants seem to have discovered the true extent of the gold mine over which they have been living. Among other necessities, furniture, both new and second-hand has soared in price. Books are much higher than before, although we do not go so far as to include their vendors in the category of profiteers, because the fault may lie back of them and out of their control. But those necessary luxuries the "movie" and the soda have increased in all cases from 50 to 100 per cent. over their pre-war, and from 25 to 50 per cent. over their last year prices. They now rival and even exceed in cost their counterparts as bought in the large cities, although rents, taxes, and overhead expenses in general in Williamstown can hardly compare with the overhead in the cities. We see the elimination of competitors and are threatened with monopolies, so earnestly do the good "servants of the public" struggle to get at the very dregs of our pocket-books.

The high cost of living has affected the college man as well as the rest of the world. He is not exempt; he realizes it and complains. It would seem time that he should turn gullibility into shrewdness and prodigality into thriftiness. Let him read the words of Francis Bacon, looking on them as slightly figurative, and, by reading "pipes" for "little stones" and "shoes" for "rarities", and understanding that "words of ostentation" mean certain enormously priced tailored suits, apply them to the twentieth century. Says Bacon: "Do you not see that feigned prices are set upon little stones and rarities? And that works of ostentation are undertaken that there might seem to be some use of great riches?"

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

To the Editor of the Record.

Sir: The recent communication in the Record in regard to the tennis courts is timely and the points well taken.

The tennis situation emphasizes the wide gap at present existing between the organized associations supported by student tax and the rather vague program of "Athletics for all". The College authorities built the tennis courts and turned them over to the tennis association for upkeep. In order to spread the budget allowance over as extensive a schedule as possible, the managers depend upon the competitors for keeping the course in shape. In normal times this plan has worked moderately well but under present conditions it is a failure. The association should own a limited number of courts from which the student body in general should be debarred. These courts could thus be kept up in first-class condition at all times for intercollegiate matches. The College should own and control a much larger number of courts open to every student.

The Athletic Council recognized the situation and stands ready to place the present courts in good condition and would have done so this past summer had not the imperative needs of Weston Field taken first place.

The unusual weather conditions of the summer, the difficulty in obtaining labor of any sort, the almost prohibitive cost of common labor are factors entering into the case in hand. The football field, the baseball field, the track have received attention. Tennis come next, and then will loom up the very perplexing problem of the Hockey Rink. Student opinion upon these problems is always welcomed.

"Athletics for all" will develop a financial problem of huge dimensions, but with faith and vision one may see an adequate Field House with competent men in charge, numerous well-kept tennis courts as well as baseball allocated on Cole Field. One may even picture the made-over into a lake where winter swamp sports flourish, and all these benefits a part of the regular College equipment for which the student body does not pay an exorbitant athletic tax.

E. Herbert Botsford,
Graduate Treasurer.

To the Editor of the Record:
Sir:

"Where football is played, thither trends the mind of the preparatory schoolboy, whether or not he himself be a follower of the pigskin. There is a certain allurements, a certain suggestiveness of élan, an ineffable glamor of romance about an institution where the great autumn sport is made much of, that you do not find in places where it is ignored or followed in a more or less perfunctory manner. The game develops an undefinable atmosphere which you breathe and recognize as soon as you set foot on a campus—potent, compelling to youngster and old man alike."

New York Evening Post.

The above is a generally accepted fact, exceptionally well stated, and be borne in mind by all Williams press correspondents. For of what use in this respect is a successful football season unless it is given as prominent and wide-spread publicity as possible. For several years now Williams activities have not been getting the space in the Metropolitan dailies that they deserve. Whether this may be attributed to the dormancy of the Press Club, or to the lack of a College Press Agent, I do not know. At any rate, efficient arrangements should be made so that Williams news may be given as prominent, wide-spread, and frequent publicity during the coming year as possible. News should not be limited to athletics, but should make as wide an appeal as possible.

Sayre Called to Harvard

Francis Bowes Sayre '09, formerly assistant to President H. A. Garfield and instructor in government and international law at Williams, has received an appointment as assistant professor of law in the Harvard Law School. After his graduation from Williams in 1909 with the degree of A. B., Prof. Sayre obtained the degree of LL.B. from Harvard in 1912 and that of S. J. D. from the same institution in 1917. In 1912 and 1913, he was assistant district attorney of New York county, after which he came to Williams as assistant to the president and instructor in government and international law. He remained here for three years, after which he left to accept the Ezra Ripley Taylor teaching fellowship at Harvard. He spent over two years in France, from 1916 to 1918, as a Y. M. C. A. worker with the American Expeditionary Force and during the past summer lectured in law at the Harvard Law School. Prof. Sayre is a son-in-law of President Wilson.

TRAP SHOOTING REVIVED

Improvements Planned for Cole Field Targets and Range

Plans are being formulated for a revival of trap and rifle shooting by Professor Kellogg, who has supervised these activities in previous years. He is planning to improve the ranges at Cole Field by the construction of a trap house and a set of permanent targets.

For the past few years, shooting as sport has been partially abandoned in favor of more practical training of a military nature, but since the end of the war, the interest of sportsmen has been renewed, and trap-shooting again tends to become one of the most popular of sports. Professor Kellogg is reputed to be an expert in this field, and any men interested in either trap or range shooting have an excellent opportunity to receive training under his tutelage. Professor Mears has been offered the management of the rifle shooting, and will probably accept the position for which his previous experience has well qualified him.

It is expected that the Rifle Club, which was reorganized last spring under the leadership of Behre '20, will meet in the near future to discuss plans for the fall season.

McFarlin ex-'21 is now a student at Cornell University.

SOPHOMORES WIN AGAIN

1922 Nine Defeats Freshmen by 6 to 5 Score

Playing in the second and deciding game of the series, the Sophomore baseball nine defeated the Freshmen 6 to 5 on Weston Field last Wednesday afternoon. The game was well-played with the with the exception of the third and fourth innings, when all the scores of both sides were made.

During the first two innings neither team was able to score, due to the excellent pitching of Holmes '23 and H. M. Rounds '22. In the third inning, however, hits by Papin and Boynton, combined with temporary wildness on the part of the Sophomore pitcher, resulted in five runs for the Freshmen. The second-year men rallied in the following inning and pounded home six runs. The fielding of both teams was loose during these two innings, and errors were numerous. These two rallies ended the scoring, and the game was called in the sixth inning on account of rain, with the score 6 to 5 in favor of the Sophomores. Although Wednesday's victory gives the series to 1922, the third game will probably be played Saturday afternoon as scheduled.

Coach Ira Thomas expressed his satisfaction with the showing made by the undergraduate players, and considers some of them likely material for future varsity nines.

The score by innings follows:

	1	2	3	4	5	6
1922—	0	0	0	6	0	—6
1923—	0	0	5	0	0	—5

Batteries: 1922—H. M. Rounds and Nichols; 1923—Holmes and Stevenson.

W. C. A. Finance Drive Started

Starting last Monday evening with a canvass of the dormitories, the W. C. A. finance campaign is now well under way. Exact figures are not yet available as to the amount of money taken in so far, but the campaign has everywhere met with success. The drive in the fraternity houses begins today. The committee in charge consists of Bullock chairman, Dana, D. M. Irwin, Newell, E. P. Taylor '21.

Additions to the football squad during the past week have raised its total number of men to 47.

ALUMNI PLAN GREAT VICTORY CELEBRATION

MAJ.-GEN. WOOD TO SPEAK

Bronze Medals to be Presented on Oct. 17 to All Williams Men Who Were in Service

In order to commemorate the part of Williams men in the War the alumni have planned an impressive ceremony, to be known as the "Victory Celebration", which is to be held on Friday, October 17, at 10.45 a. m. in Grace Hall. At this time the Williams Victory Medal will be presented to all Williams men who were enlisted in the army, navy, or marine corps of the United States, or in any military organization of our Allies. This includes all men who were inducted in the S. A. T. C. Major General Leonard Wood, honorary 1902, will deliver the presentation address, and Professor Bliss Perry '81, head of the English Literature Department at Harvard will also be one of the speakers. This will be the first celebration of its kind to be held at any college. It is especially urged that all men who have their uniforms available should wear them with all insignia and decorations. A large military band will furnish special music for the occasion.

According to the latest statistics which are correct up to June 2, the total of Williams men in the service is placed at 1721. This number comprises over 40% of all known Williams men, both graduates, under-graduates and sometime members. Especially to be remarked is the record of the class of 1917, which out of a total of 103 men is credited with having 101 members in the service.

The Victory Medal, which is to be made of bronze, represents on the obverse side a trench line of doughboys with full equipment about to charge over the top. It bears the legend, "For Humanity, 1918." On the reverse side there is a imaginary portrait of Colonel Ephraim Williams in his officers' continental uniform mounted upon a charger. In the upper circumference the words, "E Liberalitate E Williams Armigeri 1793", are transcribed from the college seal, while on the lower portion is inscribed "The Williams Medal." The designer of the medal is James E. Fraser of New York City, who also designed the Victory Medal which is to be given by Congress to all members of the United States army,

PLAY IN TOURNAMENT REACHES FIFTH ROUND

Matches in the tennis tournament played on last Friday and Saturday brought the play into the fourth and fifth rounds in a few cases, although there are several matches still to be played in the third round. Play in the doubles has not been started, although drawings have been made.

The results of the matches played is as follows: Fraker '21 defeated Seager '21, Fraker '21 defeated J. M. Baker '22, Fraker '21 defeated Burrows '20, Chapin '23 defeated Conklin '21, Youngman '22 defeated Truman '20, Pollard '20 defeated Sutphen '20, Wiley defeated Morse '23, Jones '21 defeated Power '20, Bullock '21 defeated Finner '20, Prescott '20 defeated Baleh '21.

GENEROUS RESPONSE TO W. C. A. CAMPAIGN

One-Fourth of Sophomores and Three-Fourths of Freshman Have Been Canvassed

Response to the drive for funds to conduct Williams Christian Association activities during the coming college year has so far been very generous. Already three-fourths of the freshman class and one-fourth of the sophomore class have been canvassed by the committee in charge which consists of Bullock '21, chairman, Allison, Dana, D. M. Irwin, Newell, and E. P. Taylor '21.

On account of the interference of rushing season, the committee will do little work, this week, but will complete the campaign next week by canvassing the fraternity houses and the Commons Club. Last week's subscriptions were obtained mainly in the dormitories, and the upper classes have not yet been solicited for funds.

The money which is obtained will be used to carry on the work of the W. C. A. during the coming year, except for $500 which will be used to help toward the support of a missionary in China. Charitable work in North Adams and the securing of speakers for the Sunday evening meetings of the association are among the many ways in which the funds will be expended.

Although the committee has been able to canvass less than half of the college body a considerable sum has already been obtained and if the response from the upper classes is in proportion to that from the underclasses, the W. C. A. will be

SLIGHT CHANGES ARE MADE IN RUSHING PACT

General Character of Agreement Remains Unaffected By Minor Alterations

Arrangements in regard to the filing of invitations for the Period B of the rushing season have been revised. Fraternities will transmit to the Executive Committee of the Interfraternity Council their invitations to the freshmen in stamped, addressed, and unsealed envelopes, Tuesday, September 30, at 11.00 p. m. These will be placed in the mail early Wednesday morning. Freshmen must reply and place their acceptances or refusals in the mail not later than 2.00 p. m., Wednesday, October 1. Invitations for Period C will be transmitted in a similar manner, being received by the Executive Committee at 11.00 p. m., Friday, October 3, answered and re-mailed by the freshmen before 2.00 p. m., Saturday, October 4.

The fraternities may secure date and return cards from the Chairman of the Interfraternity Council at any time. First year men may also consult the Chairman at any time for information on the Rushing Agreement.

During Period B a first year man may accept two, one, or no dates with the fraternities from which he receives invitations, and in case of conflicting dates, he may arrange them so that such conflicts will be removed. Return cards must be signed by the freshmen.

In Period B discussion of fraternity matters and pledging will not be permitted, but in Period C there may be bidding and pledging. At the close of Period C there may be unrestricted bidding and pledging, except that in case a first year man breaks a pledge with a fraternity, he renders himself ineligible for membership in any fraternity at Williams College for a period of six months following such break, and during that time he may not be entertained at any fraternity house at Williams College.

Club Open to Undergraduates

During the vacations of the college year the privileges of the Williams Club in New York City will be extended to undergraduates of the College, according to an announcement just received from Stuart Peabody, chairman of the publicity committee. A resolution to this effect was recently passed by the Board of Governors of the Club. The one exception is the use of the sleeping accommodations. As these are limited, the members of the club will have first option on them.

1918 VICTOR OVER 1919 IN WILD BASEBALL GAME

Erratic Throws and Numerous Hits Prevail in Contest—Game Will be Protested

Playing a brand of baseball such as has seldom been witnessed on Weston Field the Class of 1918 met and conquered 1919 in mortal combat last Friday afternoon. The victors outplayed and outran their opponents throughout the contest, covering a vast amount of territory from the grandstand to the cinder track in pursuit of numerous overthrows and foul balls. "Cabe" Prindle forsook his usual role of umpire and utilized his gymnastic ability in covering a territory of four dimensions as first baseman for 1918, assuming much of the blame for the victory of his team.

Scoring started in the first inning and continued with uncanny regularity throughout the game. Jewett led off for 1919 and retired himself by hitting into Prindle's territory. Allen singled through shortstop and went to second when Howland walked. Jones dribbled a slow one to Dempsey who threw the ball to deep right field on an attempted force play. Allen and Howland scoring. Jones stole third and scored when Northhouse hit to center-field. Davis singled, but was intercepted and retired while walking to second. 1918 failed to score in the latter half of the inning.

PURPLE WINS FIRST 1919 FOOTBALL GAME

Varsity Overwhelms R. P. I. by Decisive Score of 22 to 0—Fumbles Mar Contest

PASSES ARE BIG FACTOR

First Touchdown Made Within 45 Seconds of Play—Team Is Weak in Backfield

Opening the football season with a rush, Williams overwhelmed the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Troy last Saturday afternoon, and succeeded in running up a decisive score of 22 to 0 against the Red and White. The superiority of the Purple was so marked that their goal line was never threatened during the entire contest.

From the start of the game until play stopped, Williams held the advantage, outplaying their opponents in every department of the game and keeping them hopelessly on the defensive. The R. P. I. eleven was apparently bewildered by the long and accurate forward passes of Captain Boynton coupled with the excellent work of the ends. The play of Carick and Joslyn in these positions was one of the most gratifying features of the game. In general they handled passes very well, were fast in covering kicks, and tackled hard.

Fumbling by both Williams and Rensselaer marred the game to a great extent. But for loose handling of the ball, the Purple would have totalled a much larger score. Four times the team pushed inside of their opponents 12-yard line only to lose the ball by careless play. On the other hand the R. P. I. players were even worse offenders. A fumble by Holden in the first thirty seconds of play was directly responsible for the Purple's first touchdown. The Williams men followed the ball closely and showed up well in recovering their own in addition to their opponents' fumbles.

The Red and White was soon put on the defensive. Their line was unable to hold the Williams players long enough to allow the backs to get a good start, and numerous times the runner was thrown for a loss. R. P. I. was forced to resort to a kicking game, and with poor results, as Boynton, steadily out-kicking Eller, gained on almost every exchange of punts. The Purple linemen also succeeded in breaking through and

Undergraduates and Alumnus

The Board of Governors of the Williams Club of New York has just given another proof of its wisdom and farsightedness, this time by extending to undergraduates of the College the privileges of the Club. This is simply the adoption of a further means towards the fundamental aim of the Club, the bringing together of Williams men. One of the advantages of a small college has always been said to be that the undergraduate body may be a unified and harmonious group. Another advantage, not so universally recognized, is that the alumni may likewise form a closely-knit body. Ever since its foundation, the Williams Club has accomplished perhaps more than any other factor towards realizing this ideal. But now a new and more perfect ideal has superseded the old one, and the Club is endeavoring to effect a closer unity among all Williams men, both new and old. There is plenty of room for a better understanding between alumnus and undergraduate, and we believe that the mingling of the two classes which this new arrangement will bring about is a sure road to greater sympathy and solidarity.

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

The Editor of the Record:

For the sake of avoiding such unpleasant situations as arose two years ago in regard to the chapel monitors may I use your column in order to explain, in behalf of all the monitors, just the conditions by which they are regulated? The following rules from the instructions issued to the monitors apply to the undergraduates in general: "Inasmuch as the monitors are paid to perform a definite task, it is demanded that they carry out the following instructions to the letter, assuming no authority to change or extend these rules but calling at the Dean's Office for further instructions in all cases of doubt. "Every student not seated in the pew officially assigned to him at the moment when the head of the procession of the choir appears in sight in the chancel is to be reported; if the student arrives after that moment he should be reported "Tardy". The monitor is not permitted to count a student present who sits elsewhere than in his own seat nor has the monitor any right to give permissions of any sort in this connection.

"Do not tell any student that sitting back or sitting anywhere else than in his own seat will be all right; such irregularities have to be accounted for at the Dean's Office and may prove otherwise."

In the past, it is true, some of these rules have been more or less strictly interpreted according to the various monitors. But this year they have all signed the following pledge before taking over the work:

"I,....., in consideration of the sum of .....$, TO be paid to me in semi-annual installments by the Treasurer of Williams College, do hereby agree to faithfully discharge the duties of monitor under the direction of the Dean of Williams College, and pursuant to the rules and regulations governing monitors as they now exist or may be established by him.

(Signature)..... In other words, the monitors are bound quite as strictly as is every student by the Honor Statement in class room examinations, that is by their signatures, to carry out the rules that are quoted above. Under the circumstances, therefore, it is hoped that the high regard for honor that is shared by all Williams men will prevent them from requesting the monitors to break rules to which they have pledged themselves, or, what is more to the point, from blaming the monitors for performing the task they have agreed to carry out. Respectfully yours,

H. Radcliffe Coan, '21

Sirs:

When the editorial column of a publication is used as a medium for personal attack with very few facts to substantiate the writer's assertions, it causes unnecessary unrest and puts the publication itself in a bad light. The writer of the editorial referred to, which appeared in last Friday's Record misrepresented the methods of the Spring Street merchants thru ignorance of prevailing costs and expenses. While we do not think that the writer was intentionally malicious we do think that he has made a mistake thru lack of information. The merchants have tried to cater to the good-will of the undergraduates, for the good-will of patrons is necessary to successful business. In regard to the movies, film rental has jumped from 30 to 200 percent over last year's rates. Therefore a 17 percent raise in admission (and not a raise of from 25 to 50 percent as was stated in the editorial) was considered necessary to keep open but with no idea of profiteering, for profits now are less than when movies were shown at ten cents admission four years ago. Furthermore the increase is national, not a local affair. As a whole the student body is broad minded enough not to imagine they are being done any injustice.

The writer was evidently laboring under the same misapprehension when he made his comparison of city and small town business. Overhead expenses increase in proportion to the volume of business and the more often stock can be turned over the smaller the dealer can afford to make his margin of profit on each article. Advertising in the Record has also increased 37 percent over last year's rates in keeping with prevailing costs.

Running movies in a small town is not an easy proposition for patronage is limited while in a city there are thousands to draw from, and film rentals are in proportion. The raise of admissions was entirely out of our control and will remain so until the unrest of the country is settled and prices are regulated. If the writer of the editorial had looked deeper into this matter, we do not think he would have written statements so unjust and he would have seen the distinction between profiteering and business essentials. Yours for fair play and good good-will all around.

Both teams scored occasionally during the next few minutes of play, and after the first half of the third inning the score stood 4 to 1 in favor of 1919. In the last of the third, however, Hatch led off for 1918 with a single to center field, but was forced at second when Swain hit to Jones. Singles by Chapman and Dempsey brought Swain home with a tally. Chapman, who attempted to mimic the play when Heimstreet, singled, was tagged out several feet from the plate. Heimstreet took his life in his hands and stole second, and Hough filled the bases by waiting for four balls. Murdock, pitching for 1919, had a slight attack of wildness and passed Rose forcing in Dempsey with another run. The next batter rolled a grounder to Jewett, who heaved the ball in the general direction of Spring Street, allowing Heimstreet and Hough to score. The inning ended without further scoring with the count 5 to 4 in favor of 1918.

Three wild throws and a single resulted in three more scores for the league leaders in the fourth inning, and various tallies during the last two innings brought the final reckoning 11 to 7 in favor of 1918. The team defeated, however, has demanded that the game be played over, protesting strongly on the grounds that 1918 included two professionals, Prindle and Hatch, in their lineup. The controversy will probably result in a second game, to be played a week from next Saturday.

M. K. Schermerhorn '65 Pays Visit to Williamstown

Rev. Martin K. Schermerhorn, a member of the class of 1865, is at present visiting in and around Williamstown and taking daily hikes over the familiar Berkshire hills. In spite of his 79 years Mr. Schermerhorn ably maintains his reputation as one of the most noted pedestrians in this country or Europe. A ten to thirty mile hike a day is but an ordinary task for his splendid constitution and to this he attributes his fine record of never having been sick in bed a whole day in his life.

Mr. Schermerhorn is at present on his way to Harvard where he will resume his duties of lecturing at the university. He has the distinction of being an alumnus of four colleges and universities. After receiving his A. B. degree at Williams in 1865, he entered Yale and studied for several years there. From there he went to Harvard and still later completed his graduate work at Oxford University.

Mr. Schermerhorn took an interest in everyday walking and in mountain climbing at an early age along the Hudson and in the Catskills where his Holland ancestors had lived and where he was born. Since his college days he has climbed the mountains in all the more interesting portions of North America and Europe.

His first European trip was made in 1871. This trip was a tramping and climbing tour from the Lake of Como through Switzerland and the Black Forest and along the Rhine to Rotterdam. He has since repeated this tour many times.

Baldwin and Fernald ex-'22 have entered Columbia University this Fall.

Blocking two of their opponents' kicks, one of which bounded behind the R. P. I. goal line scoring a safety for Williams.

First Quarter

Lasell opened the game with a kick-off to the Red and White's 25-yard line. As R. P. I. put the ball in play for the first time, Holden fumbled, and Carick gathered in the pigskin and carried it to the 7-yard line. A few seconds later Boynton ran around right end and carried the ball over the line for a touchdown less than 45 seconds after the kick-off. Boynton missed the goal which was from a difficult angle. Lasell again kicked-off, and an exchange of punts followed without gain. With R. P. I.'s ball on its 25-yard line, Fieser cleverly blocked Eller's punt, but the Red and White recovered the ball with a loss of 10 yards. Williams' line-men again broke through and blocked the kick which bounded behind the R. P. I. goal scoring a touchback for Williams. The quarter closed with the Purple again carrying the ball.

Score, Williams 8, R. P. I. 0.

Second Quarter

During the second quarter the playing on both sides was at its worst. Play started with a fumble by Williams only to be followed by a similar error by their opponents. In a series of misplays that followed, the Purple eleven was forced back into its own territory before assuming the offensive. Becket and Krieger made considerable gains which were immediately neutralized by a fifteen yard penalty for holding. Boynton kicked and R. P. I. regained the ball on the 50-yard line, but was unable to gain. Williams in turn gained distance by a series of passes and had the ball within Rensselaer's territory at the end of the half.

Score: Williams 8; R. P. I. 0.

Third Quarter

Fargo received Eller's kick-off on the 32-yard line. Williams gained 12 yards on center rushes by Krieger and Burger. Boynton punted and Eller returned, losing five yards on the exchange. Bradley and Sparrow were substituted for Captain Richards and Lawler in an attempt to strengthen the Rensselaer line. By a series of long forward passes to Carick and Kreiger, the ball was carried to the Red and White's 12-yard line. A delayed forward pass by Boynton which Carick captured by a sensational catch off the goal posts gave the Purple its second touch down. Boynton kicked the goal.

Boynton received Eller's kick-off and carried it 27 yards through a broken field to the center of the gridiron. An end run by Boynton gained no ground and a subsequent forward pass was incomplete. Coddling was substituted for Carick but the quarter ended before the ball could be put in play.

Score: Williams 15; R. P. I. 0.

Fourth Quarter

On the third down, with Williams' ball in the middle of the field, a forward pass netted several yards. Boynton punted, driving the Rensselaer eleven back to their 18-yard line. The return kick gave the pigskin to the Purple 38 yards from their opponents' goal. Becket carried the ball for a gain of 13 yards, while center rushes netted five more. An incomplete pass followed, and for the second time during the game, the Red and White won the ball on downs. They tried to punt out of danger, but Boynton carried the ball back to the 40-yard line. The Rensselaer defense which had been weakening perceptibly during the last half, now cracked completely. Joslyn broke free from the interference and received a pass netting a long gain. Boynton carried the ball around left end, but fumbled just as he crossed the goal line. Lasell running beside him as interference fell on the ball scoring the touchdown. The goal was kicked by Boynton. At this point a number of substitutions were made in the Williams line and back-field. Following Boynton's kick-off, the R. P. I. backs succeeded in breaking through the substitute line for short gains. The game ended with the ball on the Red and White's 40-yard line.

J. E. Wilson was elected class football manager at a meeting of the Sophomores last Wednesday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock in the Jesup Hall Reading Room. At the same time the class chose H. M. Lawder and R. E. Rowse as its representatives on the Honor System Committee. Announcement was made that last year's class tax would be collected from all those who had not already paid.

1923 HAS PROMISING FOOTBALL MATERIAL

38 CANDIDATES REPORT

Many Experienced Preparatory School Players on Squad Line Will Be Heavy

With a nucleus of several experienced preparatory school players and a large amount of promising material, Coach Withington hopes to turn out one of the best Freshman football teams that has been in Williams for the past few years. Practice started on Tuesday, but up to the present time no fixed division and formation of the men has been made, most of the time being devoted to preliminary drills and exercises.

Thirty-three men reported for the first regular practice and since that time several more have joined the squad bringing the total number up to thirty-eight. Without a doubt the team will be well balanced with a heavy line and a fast backfield.

Humes and Jones are two of the most likely candidates for the guard positions. Jones has had four years experience at the Berkshire School where he captained the team, and Humes played two years at the Hill School. Laws and Ely should fill the tackle positions, the former having been a member of the Swarthmore Preparatory School team for three years, and the latter having played a year at Taft. Boynton and Shuttleworth are contesting for center, although Boynton may be shifted to the back-field on account of his light weight. The average weight for this line would be about 174 pounds. Other men trying for line positions are Angevine, Faber, Goff, Heavenrich and Irwin.

Cheering Section Organized

Headed by the College cheer leaders, a large body of undergraduates assembled at Jesup Hall yesterday afternoon for the purpose of organizing an efficient cheering section for the Union game Saturday. After practicing a few cheers, the crowd adjourned to Spring Street and combined the business of cheering with the pleasure of watching returns from the World Series baseball game. A similar meeting will be held this afternoon at 4.30 o'clock on Weston Field. The entire student body is expected to attend, and the freshmen in particular should take the opportunity to become familiar with his College cheers.

RUSHING NEARS CLOSE

Bidding and Pledging are Permissible Tomorrow Night

With the end of Period B this evening, the rushing of first year men is practically brought to a conclusion. Invitations for Period C will be transmitted by the fraternities to the Executive Committee of the Interfraternity Council by 11.00 p. m. tonight, and the freshmen must mail their replies before 12.00 o'clock noon tomorrow. This final period will begin with the dinner date tomorrow evening and will terminate with the end of the second evening date of the same evening. Bidding and pledging will be permitted in this period.

From the conclusion of Period C bidding and pledging may be carried on without restriction, with the single exception that, should a first year man break his pledge with any fraternity, he renders himself ineligible for fraternity membership at Williams for a period of six months following such break, and during that time he may not be entertained at any fraternity house in College.

Enrollment Breaks Record

Revised registration figures show that five more men have entered College during the past week, bringing the total enrollment up to 552. This number exceeds the large 1916-17 enrollment of 549 by three and establishes a record unequalled in the history of the College.

As usual the entering class, numbering 180, is the largest of the four. There are 136 sophomores, 122 seniors, and 114 juniors. Detailed figures concerning the enrollment of the past few years, which reached its maximum three years ago and fell to about 250 last fall, were published in the Record last Friday.

PURPLE FACES UNION IN FIRST HOME GAME

GARNET HAS STRONG TEAM

Opponents have eight Veterans in Line-up To Start Season with Tomorrow's Contest

Union College will be the opponents of the Purple eleven tomorrow afternoon in the second football game of the season, which is also the first contest to be played in Williamstown. With several veterans of former teams in the line-up Union will doubtless prove herself such a formidable adversary that an exceedingly close game may be expected.

About thirty men reported to Coach Metzger for practice on the gridiron at the first call for candidates on September 15, and this number was later increased to forty. Among those who responded were eight men who had played on former Union varsity elevens, and to these were added two more veterans who returned to college at a later date. With this foundation of ten experienced players and a wealth of green material Coach Metzger has rounded out a heavy and well-balanced team which should put up a stiff resistance in tomorrow's contest, Union's first game of the season. The entire Garnet line is composed of veterans, of which the mainstay is Captain Hanley of last year's varsity in the center position. Wittner, star quarterback of two seasons ago, has returned and will again undertake the running of the team. Coach Metzger is assisted in his duties by Rosekrans, captain and star fullback of the 1916 eleven, who is considered the greatest drop-kicker Union ever had.

Varsity practice this week has been rather light. Coach Brooks has drilled the squad in fundamentals every day in an effort to overcome the tendency to fumble which was especially noticeable in the game with Kearsaer last Saturday. After this practice the varsity was then put through a long signal drill. The only scrimmage of the week was held on Tuesday, when the scrubs managed to score twice on the first eleven, and in one instance they succeeded in rushing the ball the whole length of the field for a touchdown. Practice this afternoon will be of a light nature so that no varsity player may be excluded from the game tomorrow on account of injuries.

The Purple line-up will remain practically the same as it was at the opening of last week's contest. The only change will be the substitution of Hibbard, who was rendered unable to play by a strained tendon, in place of Burger at left half. The game will be called at 3.00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The line-up of the opposing teams will be as follows:

Joslyn	l.e.	Foster
Fieser	l.t.	Dubois
Gillham	l.g.	Gregory
Mills	c.	Hanley (capt.)
Lasell	r.g.	Speer
Fargo	r.t.	Beckman
Carick	r.e.	Comstock
Boynton (capt.)	q.b.	Wittner
Krieger	l.h.b.	Notman
Hibbard	f.b.	Goff
Becket	r.h.b.	Murray

To Teach in French University

Mr. Robert Plaisance, a former instructor of French in Williams College and later dean of the school for American soldiers in the University of Montpellier, France, returned to this country August 1 and sailed again today to accept the position of full professor of English in the above-mentioned university. It is one of the oldest educational institutions in France, and Mr. Plaisance is the first American to be given a full professorship in a French university.

Where Were the Others?

When a paper which tries to keep its columns immune from triteness and the ordinary begins to print editorials on the subject of cheering and singing, its readers may know that that subject is deemed of predominant importance at the time. Only under the spur of necessity do we descend to that hackneyed text in this issue. Yesterday afternoon a college meeting was called for four o'clock. At five minutes after four, Jesup Hall contained not over fifteen men, and it was only by dint of scouting and bush-whacking that enough freshmen were assembled to warrant cheering and singing practice. Although the assembly was primarily for the purpose of instructing the new men, everybody needed the practice, and upper-classmen too were requested to be present. The final stigma was attached to the whole affair when the meeting adjourned to Spring Street in order that college business might not interfere with any one who wished to be in constant attendance on the World's Series bulletin board.

It is of no use to reiterate that the football team cannot do without the support it derives from organized and enthusiastic cheering. That is practically a truism, and yet those who hang with bated breath on the results of the season are too diffident or forgetful to lift a finger in order that the eleven may not be without the best it can give in the line of moral aid from the grandstands. The Union game, one of the most important home games of the entire season, comes tomorrow. After that, the team plays Cornell and Columbia away. Good cheering in the stands tomorrow is necessary not only for the immediate game, but also for the taste it will leave in the mouth of the varsity during the following two weeks. The only way to send the team against Union, Cornell, and Columbia with the confidence of the heartiest backing from the College is to cheer and sing well tomorrow, and the only way to make sure of good cheering and singing is to have the College en masse at the practice on Weston Field this afternoon.

GRADUATE TREASURER ANNOUNCES TAX RATE

DOES NOT REACH MAXIMUM

Additional Expenses Cause Increase of Nearly 3 Percent Over Previous Assessment

A flat rate of 20% on $100 of room rent has been fixed by the Graduate Treasurer upon the compilation of items entering into the student tax, which is collected during the first semester of each college year and is used for the support of the various athletic organizations of the college. This rate is an increase over recent years, but is below the maximum paid when the present system was first adopted. Increase in salaries, cost of supplies, transportation, and hotel charges have made the increase necessary, while the large enrollment has kept the amount below the maximum. Competitors for the assistant-manager of basketball will make out the lists and send out the bills immediately following the rushing season. Prompt payment of bills is necessary in order to give the treasury working funds for the present semester.

The rules governing the collection of this tax are reprinted at this time for the benefit of the new men who have just entered the college:

1. Collections. The undergraduate athletic subscriptions shall be collected annually under the direction of the Graduate Treasurer of Athletics. The proceeds, until the collections have been completed, shall form a single fund and shall then be apportioned among the several associations on such a basis as the Athletic Council shall direct.

In the last issue of the Record before the Christmas recess, a notice shall be run reminding the undergraduates body of the date set for final payment of their taxes. Moreover, the Graduate Treasurer of Athletics shall inform every delinquent at the same time of such delinquency by means of an individual notice to that effect.

The names of all undergraduates, who have failed to pay their athletic taxes on or before the fifteenth day of January of any college year, shall be published in the first issue of the Record subsequent thereto.

All undergraduates delinquent in paying their athletic taxes up to the aforesaid time limit shall be considered ineligible for membership in any college organization.

2. Basis of Subscription. The basis of subscription shall be the room rent paid by each undergraduate for the current year. The following exceptions shall be observed:

(A) Men rooming in fraternity houses shall pay on the basis of the average struck from the room rentals that they paid two years previous to their entering the fraternity house.

(B) Holders of scholarships shall pay on the basis of seventy-five percent of their room rent.

(C) Men who give satisfactory evidence that they are working their way through college shall be asked for no subscription.

Harvard Raises Endowment

A world-wide effort to raise a $15,250,000 endowment fund was started by Harvard University among her 36,000 alumni the first of the week. The bulk of the fund will go toward raising the pay of the professors 50 per cent, as it has been shown that at present they are not receiving even a living wage. Nearly a quarter of Harvard's alumni live in Boston, and it is there that the most intensive campaigning has been launched.

Large Registrations General

Record breaking enrollments have taken place in most of the colleges throughout the country. The Committee on Entrance at Princeton University has announced the admission of 556 new students, 470 of whom are regular members of the entering class.

Brown reports a Freshman class of nearly 500 with no dormitory rooms available for several weeks past. Some new arrangements in class schedules will have to be made in order to provide sufficient classrooms for the large attendance.

13 Year-Old Enrolls at Harvard

The roster of the Freshman class at Harvard University includes the name of a 13-year-old boy, Jacob Schankman, of Chelsea.

TO HEAR BISHOP FISKE

Noted Divine Will Preach in Memorial Chapel Sunday

Rt. Rev. Charles Fiske, D.D., LL.D., Bishop of Central New York, will deliver the sermon to the undergraduate body in the College Chapel at the morning service next Sunday. Bishop Fiske, whose home is in Syracuse, N. Y., has occupied the chapel pulpit several times in the past few years. He was graduated from St. Stephen's College, Annandale, N. Y., with the degree of A. B. in 1893, and three years later obtained the degree of B. D. from the General Theological Seminary. He was accorded the degree of D.D. by St. Stephen's College in 1912 and that of LL.D. by Syracuse University in 1916. In 1896 he was made a deacon in the Protestant Episcopal church and in 1897 he was ordained a minister. Bishop Fiske was an associate missionary at Trenton, N. J. from 1896 to 1897, and for the next three years was pastor of the church of his denomination at Westfield, N. J. In 1900 he was transferred to Baltimore, Md., as assistant in the Mt. Calvary church, where he remained until 1901. In that year he became rector of the Church of the Transfiguration in Philadelphia, Pa., which post he held until 1902, when he was called to a pastorate in Somerville, N. J. In 1908 he left Somerville to become rector of St. John's Church at Morristown, Pa., returning to Baltimore in 1910 as pastor of St. Michael and All Angels' Church. In 1913 he declined election as Bishop Coadjutor of Dallas, Tex., and on September 29, 1915 was elected Bishop Coadjutor of Central New York, which important position he still holds.

Bishop Fiske has made a name for himself in the field of religious literature, having written The Church-What It Is and Why I Belong To It, The Religion of the Incarnation, Sacrifice and Service, and Back to Christ.

1923 Has Promising Football Material

The candidates for end are Chapman, Hamilton, Quaintance and W. S. Crosby. Crosby filled the position on the Berkshire School team for two years, Quaintance played at Pawling for a year, and Chapman and Hamilton have both had experience at Pomfret and Ridgefield respectively. Whitcomb, Romaine, and Olmstead are also out for end.

There are several experienced candidates for the backfield and choice of men to fill these positions promises to be difficult. Holmes has played three years in the backfield at the Ridgefield School, and Hoyt and Chapin were members of the Taft team. Garvin has also had two years of football experience at the Shattuck School. In addition to these men, Parker, Sellwood, Ingols, Taylor, Bancker, and McAnney are candidates for backfield positions.

It is expected that a schedule of five games will be obtained, one of which will undoubtedly be with the Union Freshmen.

Business "Heelers" to Meet

Six juniors have entered the competition for the assistant business manager-ship of the Record, a position left vacant by the failure of Wilkinson '21 to return to College. A meeting for these men and for any others who intend to enter business and who realize the value of experience in advertising will be held in the business manager's office on Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock. As the competition will be a short one and include as little routine work as possible any others who are interested, in addition to the six men listed below, are urged to attend the meeting. The men are: Baker, Carr, Jarrett, Montgomery, Seager, and R. P. Towne.

COLLEGE NOTES

Webb '20 has been chosen College chime ringer as a result of the competition held last Monday afternoon in the Thompson Memorial Chapel.

Carson '20, chairman of the Student Council, has announced that the annual pushball contest between the Freshman and Sophomore Classes will not be held this year on account of the expense involved.

9. Benediction.
10. "The Mountains."

Commemoration of the part of Williams men in the war as embodied in the "Victory Celebration" to be held on Friday, October 17, at 10.45 a. m. in Grace Hall is attracting the attention of large numbers of alumni in all parts of the country. The event is particularly noteworthy as being the first celebration of that kind to be held in any college, and as a result is drawing widespread attention in the country at large as well as among Williams alumni.

Formal invitations to attend the celebration were mailed last week to all Williams men in the name of the President and Trustees of the College, and it is expected that many service men will be in Williamstown to receive their medals in person and also many alumni who, though not themselves eligible to receive medals, are proud of the record of their alma mater. It is desired that service men present shall wear their uniforms if available together with all insignia and decorations, but this will not be strictly required. In honor of the occasion the 17th of October will be a College holiday.

Families and the next of kin of the 44 Williams men who died in service have also been invited to be present to receive the bronze Victory Medal as a posthumous award to those men in recognition of their service to their country.

According to the latest statistics the total of Williams men in the service is placed at 1770, which includes 299 inducted members of the S. A. T. C. This number comprises over 40 per cent. of all living Williams men, graduates, undergraduates, and sometime members. If alumni beyond military age are deducted from the 4250 living alumni, some 60 per cent. of Williams men of military age were enlisted in the army, navy, and marine corps of the United States or in the military service of an ally.

In addition to Major General Leonard Wood, honorary 1902, who will make the presentation address, and Professor Bliss Perry '81, head of the English Literature Department at Harvard, who will deliver the oration, it has been announced that Rev. John S. Zelle '87 will offer the invocation. Dr. Zelle acted as a chaplain with the forces overseas. A fine musical program has been arranged for the occasion and in addition a large military band will furnish the music for the procession. Members of the S. A. T. C. still in College are to act as a guard of honor to escort General Wood.

Among the prominent guests who have been invited to be present are Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts, Major General Clarence Edwards, Commander of the Department of the North-

TENNIS FINALS TODAY

Fraker '21 to Play Chapin '23 for College Title

Fraker '21 made his way into the final round of the tennis tournament of the championship of the College last Saturday afternoon by defeating C. L. Taylor '21 in straight sets. At the same time Chapin '23 qualified to meet Fraker by an easy victory over Ely '23. The final round will be played on the College courts this afternoon at 3.00 o'clock. Only four matches have been played so far in the doubles tournament. No progress was made in this event on Saturday, although the last match of the first round must be completed by tomorrow night.

A summary of the play follows: Fifth round—Chapin '23 defeated Newell '22 9-7, 6-2.

Semi-final round—Fraker '21 defeated C. L. Taylor '21 7-5, 6-0, 6-4; Chapin '23 defeated Ely '23 6-1, 6-1, 6-1.

CROSS COUNTRY SQUAD MAY HAVE FIVE MEETS

Dual and Triangular Contests Being Planned—Team Registered in National Event

Plans are now being made by Coe '20, manager of the track team to hold five meets for the cross country squad. A schedule including two dual meets, one triangular meet, and registrations in the National as well as the New England Intercollegiate Cross Country Meets is now pending. This must be ratified by the Athletic Council, however, before the exact dates of the events can be announced.

Williams is registered this year in the National Intercollegiate Cross Country Meet for the first time and has not entered a Cross Country team in the New England Intercollegiate contests since 1917. The National meets have formerly been held in New York, but this year it has been proposed to shift to Franklin Park at Boston and to run the Cross Country events on the same day as the Harvard-Yale football game.

Of the eight men now composing the cross country squad Captain Brown Parker '20, Coan, and Crofts '21 are letter men. Parker was a member of the 1917 squad, and Captain Brown and Platt '20 ran on the 1916 championship team. Kellogg '21, Adams, and Wolfe '22 are also members of the squad this year, and with these men, who have been training since College opened, Coach Seeley is confident that he can build up a team which will be successful with the proposed schedule.

The names of the freshmen pledged to each fraternity are as follows:

BISHOP FISKE TALKS ON PERSONALITY OF CHRIST

Responsibility of College Men to Community Emphasized in Speech before W. C. A.

Taking as his subject "The Manliness of Jesus Christ", Bishop Charles S. Fiske, of the Central New York diocese of the Episcopal Church, gave an informal talk to a large number of W. C. A. members in Jesup Hall yesterday evening at 7.30 o'clock. The speaker's original subject was "Stained Glass Saints", but at the last moment he decided to describe the personality of Christ.

In opening his talk, Bishop Fiske recommended as guides to the character of Christ Dr. Peabody's books, "Jesus Christ and the Social Question" and "Jesus Christ and the Christian Character". Passages from these books show Christ's power over the souls of men, His masterfulness, and His quiet consciousness of strength. It is too frequent, said Bishop Fiske, that we take the popular conception of Christ as being the true one. He is too often described as, "Jesus, meek and gentle" and as being sort of a namby-pamby creation.

The war, has made it a necessity that the manhood and womanhood of tomorrow feel the masterful personality and tremendous power that Christ has over the souls of men. Many episodes in the life of Jesus show His masterfulness and His heroic manhood. Dying on the cross, His last words were "Father forgive them for they know not what they do". His courage in this instance when His body was being racked upon the cross aroused the admiration of the thieves who heretofore had admired none but strong, although dishonest, men. Even they knew Christ as one to be admired for His manliness.

In driving the dishonest moneychangers out of the temple Jesus also showed the strength of His personality and the tremendous power of His manhood. He denounced the Pharisees although theirs was the supreme law of the Jews.

Long runs by Captain Boynton and Becket and excellent work on the part of the light Williams line gave the Purple its second football victory of the season last Saturday afternoon when Union was defeated by the decisive score of 23-0. On the first kick-off Becket received the ball and aided by good interference on the part of the entire Williams team, ran 95 yards for a touchdown, giving the varsity a lead which was never threatened.

The defensive work of the line and of Krieger in the backfield was also a feature of the game. Although the Union line-men and backs outweighed their opponents from ten to twenty pounds, they were unable to gain through the line consistently and made first down only three times during the entire contest.

Straight football was used for the most part by both sides as practically all the gains were made on off-tackle plays and end-runs. One of the deciding factors of the day was the superior tackling ability of the Williams players. The Union ends and backs let the Purple runners slip out of their hands time after time, whereas the opposite was true of the varsity. Carick, at right end, was particularly good in stopping the garnet backs.

The Purple line showed up well in the second half when Williams players twice blocked punts. Murray and Hanley of Union were slightly superior to Boynton of Williams in punting, but the Williams captain kicked the ball over the Union goal line several times, preventing the Garnet backs from running the ball back, whereas the Union punts were returned over twenty yards in almost every case.

The game by plays:

First Quarter

Hanley kicked off to the Williams five-yard line, and Becket ran almost the entire length of the field for a touchdown. Boynton kicked goal. Hanley kicked off to Fargo on the Purple 20-yard line, and the Williams left tackle returned the ball 15 yards. A line-plunge netted four yards. On the next play Boynton skirted right end and made another touchdown, making the score 13-0 in the first two minutes of play. No goal. Hanley kicked off to Carick on the 18-yard line. The ball was run back 15 yards. Hibbard went off tackle for six yards. On a fake line-back Boynton again took the ball and gained 23 yards for first down. A forward pass was incomplete. Two line plunges gained only four yards, and Boynton tried a drop-kick from about the forty-yard line which failed. Union ball on twenty-yard line. Three line-backs made it first down for the Garnet, Notman showing up well on a plunge

Williams is to be entered in the National Intercollegiate Cross Country meet this year for the first time in the history of athletics in the College. This is good news to everyone. We have boasted of good cross country teams for many years, and have always stood among the leaders in the New England meets, but now we have a chance to demonstrate the ability of our runners before a larger audience. That the team, with Captain Brown at its head, will make a good showing ought to be a foregone conclusion, and the prominence that the meet will receive in the newspapers of the country will be excellent publicity for Williams. We congratulate the track management on this forward step.

"Cogitare et Cognoscere"

The purpose of a college education, broadly speaking, is intellectual training and development. The purpose of a man then, in coming to college must be likewise intellectual. In other words, what the undergraduate in this as in every college ought rightly to be seeking, ahead of all else, is the broadening, quickening, and ripening of the mind.

But it is another question whether or no they actually do seek what they ought. At present college men seem to be divided into several classes, of which the following may be given as examples: that small class of the intellectually active and aggressive; the unquestioning, merely receptive, "all ears" type, who are but blotters in the intellectual sea of ink; the honest group of learners by rote; who know all the dates and score high marks on examinations but fail by a wide margin to grasp the spirit of the thing; and those who, clad in "intellectual oilskins", shed all learning as ducks shed water.

What is lacking is curiosity and interest and earnest desire to know the truth of everything. A few have those qualities, and that few is by no means the top few as far as "scholastic standing" is concerned. Good signs are seen now and then, by fits and starts, when statements of authority are questioned, or when an effort is made at originality in curriculum work. But the great majority go on in ignorance of the positive pleasures of intellectual interest. A list of electives should be a tempting field to a college man, instead of a forbidding array of tortures, with chances for "snap" courses here and for arrangements of schedule which ensure frequent week-end vacations there.

The fault is not all with the student. Some professors (more power to their courses!) encourage the asking of questions and arguing against the authority of that tyrant the text-book. But there are far too many who cough, look ironically knowing, and pass on when as incipient Socrates begins to doubt. Our average thinkers are too tender at the budding time to withstand such treatment, and many an attempt to understand a question, to arrive at an honest opinion, in short, to think, has been nipped in the bud by bull-headedness behind the desk.

Intellectual heaven is all too sparse in the mass of dough which constitutes the voting democracy of this country. What there is is supposed to come from the colleges. Whether it does or not is another question, but it is indubitably true that the college man is far and away the best opportunities for becoming heaven. In the crises which have begun to appear in the economic, political, and social spheres of our life more thinkers are needed, and will continue to be needed. The colleges must supply the deficiency and if the undergraduates refuse to learn to think, the deficiency will not be supplied.

But Jesus was above all a natural man, as well as a perfect God. Straightforward and outspoken as He was, the religious gush and pious cant of some people would have disgusted Him. He was natural, lovable, and likeable, and His personal appearance, as Bishop Fiske described it, was little like the caricatures on the stained glass church windows.

From this description of Christ's personality, the college men of today should take certain principles to themselves. In the first place we must realize that we can be good without being miserable and can be saints without being of the stained glass variety. Secondly, we see the tremendous need for men of courage and personality in the church. Even if there are things that are wrong in our religious system, it would be far more courageous to plunge in and attempt to right them than to stand off and let matters take their course. Why not have faith in the church and work for her, as we have worked for our fraternities during the past week of rushing. As one authority has stated, "Christ did not come into the world to make life easy, he came to make men great."

Men with college educations go out into the world owing a debt to the community which must be paid off by every man exercising the "power of his privilege". It is up to each and every one of us, said Bishop Fiske in closing, to realize the responsibility of his position. Several hymns were sung during the meeting and after the close of his talk Bishop Fiske related several humorous anecdotes which were greatly appreciated by the audience.

INTERCOLLEGIATES

Princeton to Play Rochester

Forham has cancelled its game with Princeton on October 18, and Rochester has been given this date on the Tiger schedule. Princeton will play all its games at home this fall.

Tech. Starts Endowment Fund

Alumni of M. I. T. launched a campaign for a new $10,000,000 endowment fund on September 29. Letters received by President MacLaurin tell of the enthusiasm with which Technology men everywhere are taking part in the institute's campaign.

Amherst May Have Soccer Team

Soccer is back in Amherst as a collegiate sport, and an informal team to represent the College may be formed. The student council has received a petition from 15 soccer players, who desire recognition for the sport and are willing to pay all their own expenses until they have convinced the student body that soccer is essential.

Enlarge R. P. I. Chem. Lab.

Work was begun last June on a large addition to the Walker Chemical Laboratory at R. P. I. The addition, which is to be completed next summer, is to cost $175,000 and will practically double the size of the laboratory. The main extension is in the form of a wing to the north of the present building.

Swimming Prospects Good

Amherst expects one of the best swimming teams in its history this coming season. Of last year's successful team which won four out of five meets only three men have failed to return, and numerous freshmen candidates are showing up well already. Several interclass meets will be held during the fall as practice trials preparatory to starting the regular season.

Wellesley Offers Vaudeville

For the benefit of the Freshman class at Wellesley the upper classes recently gave a series of interesting and varied vaudeville shows and plays. The program was well filled and ranged from Grand Opera and classic dancing to movie farces, "Sunday School Humors," and a colored jazz band.

Peckham '22 has entered Union College.

through center for six yards. The next two plays gained nothing, and on the third down Union was penalized 15 yards for holding. Murray punted 40 yards to Boynton, who ran the ball back to the Union 40-yard line. An off-tackle play gained four yards, and then a short forward pass to Krieger gained twelve yards for first down, at this point Becket was injured and was replaced by Papin. Williams was penalized 15 yards for holding, and Boynton tried another field goal. The kick failed to reach the goal line, and Wittner ran the ball back to his 25-yard line. End of quarter. Score: Williams—13, Union—0.

Second Quarter

Union ball on their 25-yard line. Union lost ground and was held for downs. After one line-buck had failed Hibbard gained eight yards on a similar play. Another line-plunge put the ball on the ten-yard line. First down. Two line-plunges netted six yards. Union was off-side and was penalized half the distance to the goal-line. Boynton went over on the second play for the third touchdown. Boynton kicked goal, making the score 20-0. Hanley kicked off to the Williams ten-yard line, and Boynton ran the ball back 25 yards. A line-buck gained five yards. Hibbard fumbled, but the ball was recovered, making it third down with twelve yards to go. Boynton punted to Wittner, who ran the ball back to the middle of the field. No gain on a play through the line. Hanley passed poorly and Union lost six yards. A forward pass was incomplete, making it last down with 16 yards to go. Murray punted to Hibbard, who returned the ball five yards to the Williams 25-yard line. Two plays failed to gain, and Boynton punted, losing five yards on the exchange of kicks. Union gained six yards on two plays, but Mills intercepted an attempted forward pass. End of half. Score: Williams—20, Union—0.

Third Quarter

Hanley kicked off to Papin on his ten-yard line. Ball returned 20 yards. Williams was penalized five yards for offside, and Boynton punted. On this play, however, Union was holding, and the ball was brought back. Boynton ran 30 yards around end, but fumbled. Union's ball on their 30-yard line. Two plays failed to gain. Hanley went back to punt, but the kick was blocked, and it was Williams' ball on the Union 28-yard line. Williams failed to gain on an incompleting forward pass and two line-bucks. Boynton attempted a drop-kick from about the 35-yard line, but failed. Union's ball on their 20-yard line. Two line bucks netted only two yards, but Wittner got through on the next play and gained first down. Hanley punted. Williams' ball on their forty-yard line. Boynton gained 18 yards on the next play, but on the next three efforts Williams lost ten yards, and Boynton punted. The ball rolled over the line, and the ball was again brought out to the 20-yard line. Two plays netted five yards and Hanley punted. Williams was penalized for holding on this play, however, and the ball was given to Union on their 40-yard line. Union fumbled, and Lasell recovered the ball, racing 35 yards before he was overtaken. End of quarter. Score: Williams—20, Union—0.

Fourth Quarter

Williams' ball on Union five-yard line. The Union line held well on the next three plays, forcing the ball back three yards. Boynton tried a field goal, and dropped the ball over easily from about the 22-yard line. Hanley kicked off to Coddling, who ran the ball back to the Williams 35-yard line. Boynton gained twelve yards but fumbled, Wittner regaining the ball and running over the Williams goal-line. The play was not allowed, however, the referee ruling that he had blown the whistle before the fumble. A long forward pass to Joslyn netted 30 yards on the next play, Joslyn making a hard catch. Williams' penalized five yards for offside. Two plays through the line failed to gain. A forward pass was incomplete. Boynton tried another field goal from the 40-yard line, and the ball went only a few feet to one side of the goal post. Union ball on their 20-yard line. And end-run netted twelve yards for first down. Two plays failed to gain. Hanley's punt was blocked and it was Williams' ball on the Union 35-yard line. Williams was penalized five yards for offside on the second play, and Boynton's punt went over the goal-line. Union's ball on their 20-yard line. Two plays brought no gain, and Hanley punted. Two plays gained only three yards, and Boynton punted, losing ten yards on the exchange of kicks. Wittner ran the ball back to the middle of the field. Union gained eight yards on a forward pass, but another pass was intercepted, and it was Williams' ball on their 20-yard line. Boynton punted to get the ball out of dangerous territory, and the ball was returned fifteen yards, the game ending with the ball in Union's possession on the Williams 30-yard line. Score: Williams—23, Union—0.

THE WILLIAMS RECORD

WILLIAMSTOWN, MASS., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1919

NO. 28

VARSITY HANDICAPPED
BY LOSS OF TWO MEN

THIRD GAME WITH CORNELL

Injuries Sustained by Captain
Boynton and Carick Weaken Attack of Purple Eleven

Williams will in all probability be seriously handicapped in the annual game with Cornell to be played tomorrow afternoon at Ithaca by the loss of two men who formed the pillar of the Purple offense. The injuries received by Captain Boynton to his left ankle during scrimmage last Tuesday and by Carick in last Saturday's game with Union have both proved so severe that it is uncertain whether either will be sufficiently recovered by tomorrow afternoon to start the game against Cornell. However, the latter will be represented by an eleven made up largely of inexperienced material, since there will be only two veterans in the line-up.

Forty-five candidates reported to Coach Rush for the first practice at Ithaca on September 15. This squad, later increased to sixty-six, was put through a grueling drill for the first two weeks in an effort to develop the green material. As a result the Cornell eleven is a fast, hard-fighting, though inexperienced aggregation, and is expected to display a formidable attack tomorrow afternoon. Captain Shiverick, star of the 1915 team which scored a 10-0 victory over Harvard, and Miller, guard on the 1915 and 1916 elevens, are the only veterans of pre-war teams who have returned to the University.

In its opening game of the season last Saturday Cornell defeated Oberlin 9-0. Shiverick, playing quarterback for the first time since 1917 was the star of the game, scoring all nine points himself. He kicked a difficult field goal from the twenty yard line in the first quarter, and in the second, ran 67 yards for a touch down. One of the principal weaknesses displayed in the contest was Cornell's inability to break up their opponents' aerial game.

The Williams eleven will be weakened perceptibly by the loss of Boynton and Carick. Hibbard will probably take Boynton's place at quarter and Kreiger will be shifted to fullback, with Beckett and Burger in the halfback positions. Coddling will substitute for Carick at right end.

In the three days of practice this week Coach Brooks put the varsity through a stiff drill in fundamentals, followed by a hard scrimmage, in which the first eleven always showed up to good advantage against the scrubs. There were also long signal drills to strengthen the accuracy and team-play of the varsity. Twenty-four men made the trip to Ithaca, leaving last night at 11.45 p. m. in a special car.

The probable line-up for tomorrow's game is as follows:

CORNELL		WILLIAMS

TO RUN AT SYRACUSE

Williams Harriers to Compete
In Big Meet October 25

Williams will be represented this fall in the invitation cross-country meet at Syracuse and not in the Eastern Intercollegiate as was erroneously stated in last Monday's issue of the Record. Inasmuch as since the Purple's membership in the Eastern Intercollegiate Association was allowed to lapse a few years ago, a new application was required and while action upon it will undoubtedly be favorable, such action cannot be taken before the February meeting of the Association. Hence, Williams will probably be unable to be compete until the track meet next spring.

In entering the Syracuse invitation meet on October 25, however, the Purple harriers will compete against several of the big teams that compose the Eastern Association. Among those that have accepted the invitation are Colgate, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Rutgers, and Yale.

Trials to determine the seven men who will make the trip for Williams will be held a week from Saturday, and in the meantime a squad of eight or nine is training hard every afternoon.

1922-1923 TRACK MEET BEGINS THIS AFTERNOONSix Events to Be Run Off Today—Eight Tomorrow—Fall
Handicap Oct. 15 and 16

A schedule of six events has been arranged for this afternoon, the first day of the annual Freshman-Sophomore track meet. The events that will be run off are the 100 yard dash, the 120-yard high hurdles, the quarter mile, the mile, the high jump, and the shot put. Tomorrow afternoon the remaining eight events will take place, namely, the 220-yard dash, the 120-yard low hurdles, the half mile, the two mile, the pole vault, the broad jump, the discus throw, and the hammer throw. P. Brown was recently elected captain of the 1922 team by the sophomore class, and Mackie has been appointed captain of the freshman team by Captain H. H. Brown of the varsity.

Entries for the interclass handicap track meet, to take place Wednesday and Thursday, October 15 and 16, must be in the hands of Coach Seeley, Captain Brown, or Manager Coe, by next Monday night in order that the handicaps for the various participants may be arranged. The order of events in the interclass meet will be the same as that in the underclass meet.

Well Known Alumnus Dies

Henry Mills Alden, of the class of 1857, and since 1869 editor of "Harper's Magazine", died last Tuesday morning at 1.30 o'clock at his home in New York City at the age of eighty-two. For many years Mr. Alden has been known as the "dean of American magazine editors" and as such has occupied a high place in the American literary world. Since graduating from Williams in 1857, he has been honored with the degrees of L.M.D. and LL.D. by his Alma Mater. Although he studied for the ministry at the Andover Theological Seminary he was never ordained, taking up literary work as his profession. Among the most notable of his essays are the Eleusinian Mysteries and The Saviors of Ancient Greece. He was for many years a contributor to the editorial columns of The New York Times and The Evening Post.

A. T. C., are requested to fill out the service record cards at once. The blank forms may be procured from Professor Howes or at Mr. Botsford's office in Jessup Hall. The text of the cards follows:

FORUM TO START WITH BROADENED ACTIVITIESCampaign to Raise $1000 to Secure Outside Speakers
To be Launched Soon

In view of the interest aroused in the Forum last year, plans have been formulated for an even more extensive program during the present college year. According to a pamphlet written by Hedden '20, president of the Forum, the plans for this year call for a much wider range of activity than was possible when the organization was first founded. Speakers from out of town, of both national and international importance, will be engaged from time to time to address the meetings on social, industrial, political, and educational problems of the day. The other meetings will be led by alumni or students as was the case last year. Smith '20 has been appointed chairman of the program committee and plans to have the meetings conducted on the same basis as heretofore, that is with the first half of the time given to the principal speaker and the remainder spent in informal discussion and questions from the floor. Some of the topics already chosen for discussion are "New Educational Problems", "Prison Reforms", "Civil Liberties", "Relations with Mexico", and "The Irish Stew".

Inasmuch as the ability of the Forum to engage well known speakers will depend upon the financial means at its command, it has been decided to conduct a campaign among both the undergraduates and alumni for the purpose of raising the necessary funds. The campaign at College, which will be in charge of Joslyn '21, treasurer of the Forum, will be launched next Tuesday evening. As the aim is to raise a minimum budget of $1,000 the active membership fee has been placed at one dollar, but the officers sincerely hope that the students will give as much as possible for the maintenance of the work of the organization. GEORGE EDWIN HOWES
IS APPOINTED DEAN
SUCCEEDS MR. MAXCYWill Enter Upon New Duties
Feb. 1 Military Service is Given Further Credit

George Edwin Howes was appointed Dean of Williams College at a meeting of the Board of Trustees yesterday morning at 10.00 o'clock. He will take the place of Mr. Maxcy at the beginning of the second semester, when the latter will resume his duties as Morris Professor of Rhetoric.

PROF. G. E. HOWES, DEAN-ELECT

The change was made at the solicitation of Mr. Maxcy, who requested at the time of his appointment to the deanship in June, 1917, that he should hold the position only temporarily. In addition to his duties as professor Mr. Maxcy will also hold in the future the position of Chairman pro tempore of the faculty, replacing Dr. Howes in this capacity.

Dr. Howes was born in Reading, Mass. in 1865, and attended the Public Latin School of Boston. He entered Harvard University in 1882, receiving his B. A. degree in 1886. After teaching for two years in King's school for boys in Stamford, Conn., he became junior master in the same Latin School from which he graduated. He held this position until 1891, when he accepted a position as instructor in Latin at the Haverford grammar school. After receiving the degree of Master of Arts from Harvard in 1890 and Doctor of Philosophy in 1895, he became Professor of Greek at the University of Vermont, which position he held until called to Williams as Garfield Professor of Ancient Languages in 1905.

In February, 1917, Dr. Howes left to take half of his sabbatical year, and became assistant to the Executive Secretary of the Fuel Administration. In the following year he secured a year's leave of absence from the college, and was appointed Assistant Executive Secretary. He held this position during the war, and last January was appointed Executive Secretary. He also was given the position of Historian of the Fuel Administration, and as such will have charge of the editing of a part of the report of the activities of that department which will be made to Congress in the near future. This report will later be published in several volumes. Technically Dr. Howes will hold the position of Executive Secretary until the promulgation of peace, although he has already been relieved of most of his duties.

Dr. Howes is the author of articles in the Harvard Studies in Classical Philology

Vol. 33 October 10, 1919 No. 28

In suspending the operation of the administrative rule governing attendance at the first college exercises subsequent to a recess, for Saturday, October 18, the Faculty is doing the College a favor for which it asks, with perfect fairness, a return. The reason for the suspension of the rule is that those who wish to attend the Columbia game in New York may not be prevented from doing so. But the privilege must not be abused. The Student Council, at whose suggestion the arrangement was made, was requested by the Faculty to assume the responsibility of keeping the undergraduates in town during the whole of the Victory Celebration. The Student Council cannot act as a police force; it has enough confidence in the college body to refrain from attempting to act as such. Therefore, every undergraduate is expected to remain in Williamstown until the Celebration is completely over.

Dean Carroll Lewis Maxey's resignation has just been accepted by the Trustees. In taking the position when former Dean F. C. Ferry was called to Hamilton College, Dean Maxey entered upon the work to fill an important vacancy, with the intention of filling it only temporarily. Throughout all the trying time of the war he has carried upon his shoulders the onerous duties of the Deanship. In addition, he has led the way in compiling and keeping up to date the records of Williams men in the war, and in doing this energetically and thoroughly he has rendered a service of enormous value to the College.

To the new Dean, Professor George Edwin Howes, who returned to College this fall from service with the Fuel Administration in Washington, the Record wishes success with the duties he is to assume at the opening of the second semester.

Henry Mills Alden '57

The death of Henry Mills Alden '57 brings to the attention of Williams men a fact with which few of them were acquainted,—that one of their number has for the past 50 years been the editor of Harper's Magazine. In fact, probably a large majority of the readers of that monthly did not know who was the power behind the throne, the real executive, and the genius who gave to it its position in the fore-front of the periodicals. And yet, Mr. Alden, in his long career as an editor, was the discoverer of such lights as George Du Maurier, Mary E. Wilkins Freeman, and Owen Wister.

Few also were aware that Mr. Alden was the author of two outstanding books on religious mysticism, God in His World and A Study of Death. The latter is called by the New York Times "perhaps the profoundest essay in mysticism ever written by an American."

Made prominent only by its closing, the life of this follower of literature, this apostle of better things, is the perfect exemplification of the culture and the ideals which a college of liberal arts such as Williams stands for. Mr. Alden achieved a thing which it is not given to many to achieve,—the losing of the self in the doing of a great life work. It would have been easy and even justifiable to push under the limelight his name as the editor of such a magazine as Harper's. But he was diffident and shy about emerging from his "chosen obscurity" even when it came to the publication of his books. Standing behind a powerful force for good, a great source of pleasure to the public, and living a life of cultured labor in the service of those he loved, the people, Mr. Alden, to quote again the words of the Times, "maintained to the last his belief in the beauty and essential nobility of life, his interest in all that is indigenous and fresh." How better could an exponent of the culture of Williams conduct his life?

The "Constitution" of To-day—Electrically Propelled

THE U. S. S. "New Mexico," the first battleship of any nation to be electrically propelled, is one of the most important achievements of the scientific age. She not only develops the maximum power and, with electrical control, has greater flexibility of maneuver, which is a distinct naval advantage, but also gives greater economy. At 10 knots, her normal cruising speed, she will steam on less fuel than the best turbine-driven ship that preceded her.

The electric generating plant, totaling 28,000 horsepower, and the propulsion equipment of the great super-dreadnaught were built by the General Electric Company. Their operation has demonstrated the superiority of electric propulsion over old-time methods and a wider application of this principle in the merchant marine is fast making progress.

Six auxiliary General Electric Turbine-Generators of 400 horsepower each, supply power for nearly 500 motors, driving pumps, fans, shop machinery, and kitchen and laundry appliances, etc.

Utilizing electricity to propel ships at sea marks the advancement of another phase of the electrical industry in which the General Electric Company is the pioneer. Of equal importance has been its part in perfecting electric transportation on land, transforming the potential energy of waterfalls for use in electric motors, developing the possibilities of electric lighting and many other similar achievements.

As a result, so general are the applications of electricity to the needs of mankind that scarcely a home or individual today need be without the benefits of General Electric products and service.

Tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock the Freshman football team will play its first game of the season against the Williamstown Tigers on Weston Field. With only one week of practice, little can be said about the strength of the 1923 aggregation, although scrimmages held during the past three days have shown that the team possesses a well-balanced line and a brilliant though light backfield. Coach Withington will give each man an opportunity to play in Saturday's contest in order that he may select a formidable line-up for the game with the Union Freshmen one week from tomorrow.

1923 Elects Football Manager

John N. Anderson, 1923, of Buffalo, N. Y., was elected manager of the 1923 football team at a meeting of the Freshman class held Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall. Anderson prepared for Williams at the Lafayette High School in Buffalo, which he attended for three years. He played two years on the hockey team at that school, being captain of the seven in his Senior year, and was also manager of the baseball team, and treasurer of his class.

"For cigarette packages the fancy-colored paste-board box no longer seems to be the mode."

The Real Thing
as sure as you live

Believe it or not—it's a fact.

That simple, soft foil Fatima package is today America's most fashionable package for cigarettes.

Most fashionable because most widely used by those men who know "what's what" in smokes.

At the big hotels and clubs, at smart resorts such as Palm Beach and Atlantic City—even at Newport itself—the Fatima package now holds the prestige formerly held by the fancy, expensive paste-board box.

The reason for Fatima's popularity is "JUST ENOUGH TURKISH."

Instead of containing too much Turkish as do the expensive straight Turkish cigarettes, Fatima contains just enough Turkish—just enough to taste right and just enough to leave a man feeling right, even when he smokes more than usual.

You, too, will be proud of Fatima's package as soon as you test Fatima's quality.

HIGH COST OF LIVING SUBJECT OF MEETING

Representatives from Various Houses and Commons Called Together by President

EXPENSES ABOVE AVERAGE

Discuss Feasibility of Having Common Purchasing Agent Forming Co-Operative Store

A meeting, called by President Garfield and Mr. Willard E. Hoyt, Treasurer of the College, and consisting of one representative from each of the fraternity houses and one from the Commons, was held in Hopkins Hall Saturday evening. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss two subjects which are, and have been for some time, of vital importance to both the undergraduates and the college in general, namely, the high cost of living in Williams and Williamstown, and secondly, why Williams is called "a rich man's college."

At this meeting, Mr. Hoyt presented comparative figures of the cost per year per man in Williams for the year 1914 and also for the present time. These showed that the expenses has increased from $800.00 to $1200.00. In addition to the figures he also presented figures showing the average cost per year per man in eight other colleges and universities including Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Amherst, and other colleges about the size of Williams. In this comparison, it was found that Williams was slightly above average, but conditions throughout the various colleges and universities for the past few years have been so varied and abnormal that it was practically impossible to form any judgment or conclusion in the matter.

Two propositions for lowering the cost and for abolishing the name attributed to Williams were discussed; first, the feasibility of having a common purchasing agent for all the eating houses to include the faculty, and second, the possibility of having a co-operative store where the undergraduates could purchase their books and furniture at a much lower price than is now paid. It was decided that a committee, composed of one representative from each fraternity house, one from the Commons, one from the faculty, and with Mr. Hoyt as ex-officio, should be appointed to investigate the arrangements that could be made for having a common purchasing agent and for the organization of a co-operative store.

A general discussion then followed, the sentiment of which was that each individual member of the undergraduate body should endeavor to lower his personal expenditures and to thus set an example for the classes entering Williams hereafter. The fact that so many men now in college have cars here was thought to be one of the greatest reasons why Williams is called "a rich man's college", and it was urged that a movement be started against the undergraduates being allowed to have their cars in college.

W.C.A. Plans Membership Drive

In order that every man in College may have an opportunity to join the Williams Christian Association, the annual membership drive of that organization will begin today. The social and settlement work will be resumed this year, and all activities that were held before the war will be resumed this fall. It is hoped that a large number of men will respond to the call for service in various branches of endeavor, including work in charitable, religious, and educational fields. Detailed plans for the drive have not been worked out as yet by the committee in charge but they will be announced in the near future.

IMPORTANT DONATION RECEIVED BY COLLEGE

DONOR IS HENRY DWIGHT

Recent Gift Consists of Many Documents Relating to Col. Ephraim Williams, Junior

Announcement has been made of a recent gift to the College of extraordinary interest to all Williams men by R. Henry W. Dwight of Cambridge, Mass. The gift consists of a large number of documents signed by Ephraim Williams, among which is included his letter written from Albany to Israel Williams and the inventory of his military chest at the time of his death at Lake George. The full description of the gift is fully set forth in the following letter from the donor:

"To the President and Trustees of Williams College:—

By and with the consent of my sons, who have recently returned in safety from Service overseas in the Great War, I now offer to Williams College that portion of the Dwight Collection (Americana) pertaining to Colonel Ephraim Williams, Junior.

This gift consists of a considerable number of documents signed by the Founder, together with others in his own handwriting. Many of these documents are of intense historical interest, including his letter from Albany to Israel Williams, to my mind the most self-revealing letter of the Founder; also, second only in importance, the Plot of the original allotment of West Hoosac, in the handwriting of the Founder of town and college.

So intimately is my family associated with the history of Berkshire County and Williams College, that there are many Williams family papers already bound in the volumes of the Dwight Collection.

These cannot be separated from the volumes already bound, but all of the documents of Colonel Ephraim Williams, Junior, as are suitable to a separate volume, I propose, if agreeable to you, to now give to Williams College, said papers to be bound together by me, and to be known as the "Colonel Ephraim Williams, Junior," Volume of the Dwight Collection.

The papers you will find relate to his associates and contemporaries, and include the inventory of his military chest at the time of his death at Lake George.

Upon hearing from you, I will be glad to arrange the details of transfer to the affectionate and safe keeping of Williams College.

(Signed) R. Henry W. Dwight
Cambridge, Massachusetts,
October 6th, 1919."

Concerning this collection, Mr. Fisher Howe, of the class of 1872, recently wrote as follows:

"That not in the Massachusetts Archives, nor in the Massachusetts Historical Society, nor in Worcester, are there papers relating to the Founder, to the Hoosick Valley, to the dominant Williams family, or to Berkshire County equal in number or interest to those in the Dwight collection. . . I have been quite familiar with catalogues of dealers and auction sales of autographs during the past forty years, and have been all that time eagerly hunting for an autograph of the Founder, but in vain. Some in famous collections have been catalogued as his but have turned out to be written by the senior bearing the same name. The handwriting of father and son is almost identical and has fooled experts. The writing of the brother, (Continued on page 4, col. 4.)

PLANS COMPLETE TO HONOR WAR VETERANS

MANY WILL RECEIVE AWARD

Noted Visitors to Aid College Pay Tribute to Warrior Sons—Celebration is Unique

Final arrangements for the Victory Celebration to be held next Friday morning at 10:45 o'clock in Grace Hall, to commemorate the part played by Williams' men in the War, have now been completed. Returns from the invitations sent to the alumni by the celebration committee indicate that a large number of graduates as well as practically the entire student body and a number of distinguished guests will take part in the ceremonies.

As has been previously announced, every Williams man who has been in the military service of the United States or the Allies will receive a bronze medal. Major General Leonard Wood, honorary 1902, will deliver the presentation address. Another feature of the celebration will be an oration by Professor Bliss Perry '81, head of the English Literature Department at Harvard. The Honor Roll of Williams men who died in the service will be read by President Garfield, and the invocation will be offered by the Rev. John S. Zelle '87.

Previous to the exercises in Grace Hall, all those who will take part in the celebration will form for the procession at 10:00 o'clock Friday morning, assembling at the following stations:

The trustees and guests at the President's house; the faculty, in full academic dress, at Hopkins Hall; the alumni at the Laboratory Campus; and the undergraduates on the Berkshire Quadrangle. Students are requested to wear their service uniforms and insignia if they are available.

The procession of undergraduates in double file will start up Main Street from the Berkshire Quadrangle at 10:30 o'clock. At Hopkins Hall the faculty will fall in behind the students and will be joined at the Laboratory Campus by the alumni, who will take their places between the faculty and students. As the parade reaches the President's house, the trustees and guests will fall in at the rear.

When the procession reaches Grace Hall, the column will open ranks and face inward, following the trustees into the auditorium in the reverse of the original order, as is customary at the Commencement exercises. The trustees and guests will occupy seats on the stage. After entering the hall, the various divisions will remain standing until the colors are brought forward by the color (Continued on page 4, col. 5.)

FRESHMEN VICTORIOUS IN UNDERCLASS MEET

FINAL SCORE IS 68½ - 57½

Richmond '22 Individual Star With 18½ Points—Dashes Won by McWhorter '22

For the second time since 1906, a freshman class triumphed over the Sophomores in the fall track meet when 1923 won the annual contest from 1922 on Weston Field last Saturday afternoon. Although the Sophomores secured more points on the second day of the meet, they were unable to overcome the 15 point lead secured by the Freshmen Friday afternoon, and lost with the final score 68½-57½ in favor of the first year men. Although the two classes secured the same number of first places, the Freshmen had eight seconds to the Sophomores six, and nine thirds to the latter's five. Owing to a very slow track the times were all very slow and the distances in the field events were also less than in past years.

With three first, a second and a tie for second and third to his credit, making a total of 20 points, Richmond '22 was the largest scorer in the meet. McWhorter '22 with two firsts and a tie for third came second, and Barnes and Chapin '23 each secured ten points. In Friday's events there were a few close races. In the high hurdles Barnes '23 barely nosed out Dewey '23 at the finish of an event in which 1923 secured all three places. McWhorter in the 100-yard dash and Richmond in the 440 each won their events by fair margins. In the mile run, Adams '22 took and held the lead throughout the greater part of the race but was passed by C. F. Jones '23 in the final sprint.

Two of the prettiest contests of the meet came in the 220-yard dash and in the half mile. In the former, after getting away in about third place, McWhorter sprinted into the lead on the straight-away, winning easily from Mosher '23. In the half mile, after running third to Larkin and Clark '23 the greater part of the race, Richmond passed both his opponents a little before the 100-yard mark and broke the tape a good six yards ahead of Clark who passed Larkin at the finish. This lead for the second year men was cut down, however, when Barnes '23 won the 120-yard low hurdles from Phillips '22 and the Freshmen secured the first two places in the pole vault. Adams '22, after leading throughout the first five laps of the two mile, was out-sprinted by Fasse '23 at the finish and came in three yards behind the first year man.

The Summary follows:

Friday's events—

100-yard dash—won by McWhorter '22; second, Olmsted '23; third, Mosher '23; time 10 4-5 seconds.
120 yard high hurdles—won by Barnes '23; second, Dewey '23; third, Beal '23; time, 17 4-5 seconds.
440 yard dash—won by Richmond '22; second, Hoyt '23; third, R. L. Brown '23; time, 55 3-5 seconds.
Mile run—won by C. F. Jones '23; second, Adams '22; third, Werner '23; time, 5 minutes, 13 1-5 seconds.
High jump—won by Richmond '22; second, Dewey '23; third, tie between McWhorter '22 and Shaw '23; height, 5 feet, 2 1-2 inches.
Shot put—won by Mellen '23; second, Snyre '23; third, Sidley '22; distance, 30 feet, 4 3-4 inches.

Saturday's events—

SHIVERICK'S FIELD GOAL BEATS VARSITY

In Last Two Minutes Of Play Cornell's Captain Kicks Team To Victory

FINAL SCORE IS 3 - 0

Purple Eleven Puts Up Strong Defence Against Heavier Team — Carick Out

In the last two minutes of play, a field goal kicked by Captain Francis Shiverick gave Cornell a 3-0 victory over the Williams football team last Saturday afternoon in the Schockkopf Stadium, Ithaca. The game was featured by the stubborn defense of the Purple team on a rain soaked gridiron against a heavier eleven although the varsity was handicapped by absence of Carick, star right end, from the lineup and by the poor condition of Captain Boynton's ankle.

For Williams the defensive work of Boynton and Joslyn was especially strong, and Mills at center also played an excellent defensive game. The right side of the Purple line was the weak spot in the defense. Time and time again, Cornell, employing Maier, their right half back in a cross buck formation, went through the Williams right tackle for substantial gains. Only occasionally was Shiverick able to take the ball through center or around left end. Williams' secondary defense was remarkable, very few of the Cornell gains being for any more than five yards, and twice Captain Boynton prevented Maier and Shiverick from crossing the Purple goal line by tackling them after they had passed through the entire team. Inside their own twenty yard line the defense of the entire Williams line was nervy and stiff. Five times Shiverick was forced to attempt a drop kick when within striking distance of the Purple goal line, and it was only the fifth and last time that he was able to boot the wet soggy ball between the goal posts. Boynton and Hibbard both intercepted Cornell forward passes within the Williams ten yard line which if successful would have been certain touchdowns for Cornell.

The Cornell defense was remarkable. At no time was the Red and White forced to defend her own territory and Williams was able to secure only one first down. Boynton attempted to run with the ball but twice and each time he was thrown for a loss, Colvin and Wilson, the Cornell ends, covered Shiverick's punts very effectively and smeared any attempts at end runs.

The poor condition of the field was undoubtedly unfavorable to the opening up of a brilliant offensive by the Williams team, but the Cornell players must be given credit for the way in which they consistently outplayed the varsity and forced Boynton to punt. In his punting Boynton was slightly inferior to Shiverick who averaged about forty yards. The Williams leader averaged thirty-five yards, but he was forced to kick more often than the Cornell captain.

Both teams tried several forward passes but only one was successful. This was partly due to the wet ball which was heavy and difficult to handle. In Davies and Maier Cornell has two backs, who with Shiverick, make up an offensive which was able to take the ball down the field to the Williams twenty-yard line six times during the game. But each time the Williams line stiffened and Shiverick was forced to attempt to kick or make a forward pass.

Rain was falling when the game began and it continued throughout the contest. Both sides fumbled frequently but with no disastrous results for either side.

The first quarter consisted mainly in an exchange of punts with Shiverick (Continued on page 3, col. 3.)

Uniforms at the Celebration

The committee in charge of the Victory Celebration has requested that all participants in the ceremony who have their uniforms available use them. At present, college sentiment seems to be against the plan. One of those inexplicable prejudices has arisen, possibly having at its root that old fear of appearing collegiate, or anything but blasé, where spiritual or emotional matters are concerned. But there are very real reasons why in this case college sentiment is at fault. The Celebration is to be a military affair. One of the highest ranking officers of the United States army is to be in charge, and the pervading tone of the whole is to be the military tone. There will be marching and other details which are to be conducted strictly according to military usage. And all who have been in the service will agree that where anything military is to be done, it must not be done in a slipshod manner. Members of the S. A. T. C. and some of the men who have not been over-seas have expressed a reluctance about accepting the Williams medal. If the uniform is worn, it will be plain to all, on account of the insignia, whether or not a man has seen active fighting, and no one need fear that he is acting under false pretences. Furthermore, out of compliment to General Leonard Wood the uniform should be worn. General Wood is an adopted son of Williams, of whom the College is proud and has therefore a certain comradeship with other Williams men. To appear without uniforms, which would indicate that the attitude was generally half-hearted towards this very significant day, would be an implied slight to the General, who has agreed to give of his valuable time and travel to Williamstown that the first college Victory Celebration may be a success.

Just What Is "Humanism"

The interest that the world at large has taken in the dispute about the classics has not yet abated. Magazine articles and newspaper editorials have continued to appear supporting one side or the other. They center about two main issues, which compose the crux of the argument: The etymological and the "humanistic" values of the study of Greek and Latin. Those who are fair in their judgments and in touch with the best that has been said during the controvery have come to realize that the immediate cause for the whole discussion lies in the fact that the classics as at present taught and studied are worth far less than they might be, and that they do not fulfill all that their most unequivocal supporters claim for them. So much can be proved by the introspection of any normal college man who has had his dose of the required classical courses. But what the harder headed classicists do not yet understand is that many of the so-called anti-classicists are in fact more truly classical at heart than they themselves are. The writer, for instance, of the editorial from the New York Tribune of October 11, which is reprinted below, cannot be said to be anything but humanistic in his attitude. He expresses the plea which the Record attempted to establish last spring,—that, since under the existing system study is confined to the dry hulk and bone of Greek and Latin, in order to get the biggest and best things the ancients have to offer us, they should be studied in translation.

Following is the editorial referred to, practically in toto.

Rescuing the Classics

Who are the real enemies of the classics, those who oppose Greek and Latin as they have been taught, or their traditional friends, who have converted their study into the dulllest, blindest of all educational grinds? President Nielson of Smith College takes the latter view: "The deadly enemy of the classics is not science or mathematics or modern literature or vocational utilitarianism; it is linguistic fanaticism, the insistence that no one shall enter those fair domains save through the one door of language."

From this point of view the task of those who reverence the classics is one of salvage from a wreck rather than protection against invaders. An exceedingly interesting account of an attempt at such salvage is given by Professor W. L. Grant, of Upper Canada College, in The Bookman. Professor Grant (who is not a teacher of the classics himself) plunges frankly for the translations. He puts his own case first. In years gone by he obtained a "First Class at Oxford in Litterae Humaniores." But he now turns not to Euripides, but to Gilbert Murray and, "in despite of Matthew Arnold and of Bentley, I still maintain that Pope and Chapman will give the average Canadian more idea of the width and wealth of Homer than he can get by construing a few hundred lines of Caesar."

Professor Grant holds that the ideal goal of all study of Greek, for example, is Hellenism—neither conjugations, nor the use of the aorist, nor prosody, nor vocabulary. Here is a high peak in human history, the splendid summit of the past. . . . What Professor Grant has in view is a far broader treatment, which would invite the study of the language and the study of authors in "snippets of the original," with a later reading of the complete works in translation. Also, by combining North's translation of Plutarch's "Lives" with a good textbook on ancient history, a new and living subject might be created out of one of the driest in any curriculum, he argues.

Euripides, Aeschylus, Virgil, Plato, the cydides—it is a rare feast which can be spread forth in translation. Will not the die-hards among our classicists yield this much of ground to save their cause alive?

1923 LOSES FIRST GAME

Long Run Wins Close Contest for Williamstown Tigers

Failure to put through opportunities to score and poor tackling lost the Freshman football team its first game with the Williamstown Tigers last Saturday afternoon on the High School field by the score of 6 to 0. The contest was close throughout, the only score coming on a 75-yard run from a punt.

The Freshmen showed signs of developing into a strong team, but their playing Saturday was ragged and punctuated by frequent fumbles. However, some of the individual work was excellent. In the backfield Mallon's passing and defensive work were well above the average, and Sayre proved a consistent ground-gainer. Humes played a strong game at guard, although the line as a whole was erratic, sometimes leaving wide gaps and at other times holding well.

Except when the Tigers made their long run in the initial period, the ball was in mid-field most of the first half. Each team had a chance to score in the second half, but fumbled or lost the ball on downs. In the third quarter the Tigers rushed the ball to their opponents' 15-yard line. The Freshmen gained possession of the ball on a fumble, and Sayre made two good runs well into the Tigers' territory. An intercepted pass followed, but the Freshmen line held and forced a punt. The ball stayed in the middle of the field most of the last period.

having a little the advantage of Boynton and it closed with the ball on Williams' thirty-five yard line. Shiverick after trying to rush the ball unsuccessfully, attempted a kick from the forty yard line which failed. Boynton then kicked out of danger but Shiverick got away for a sensational twenty-five yard run which put the ball on the Williams twenty-five yard line. Shuler and Davies took the ball to the fifteen yard line, but here the Williams defense stiffened and Shiverick was again forced to kick from a difficult angle. Boynton again punted out of danger. Using their cross-buck formation, Cornell advanced the ball to the Williams thirty yard line. The Purple was then penalized fifteen yards for interfering with a man receiving a forward pass, which put the ball on Williams' fifteen yard line. Shiverick fumbled but recovered the ball. Boynton saved the Purple from having their goal line crossed by intercepting a forward pass on the five yard line. Boynton again punted out of danger and Shiverick and Maier advanced the ball to the thirty yard line. For the third time the varsity line held the heavy Cornell forwards and the Red and White captain again attempted to kick a field goal. The kick was true but the ball fell under the crossbar.

The second half was much like the first, Cornell forcing the play into Williams territory, but seeming unable to force the ball over the line. In the third quarter Shiverick attempted to kick another goal but failed. Boynton punted but the ball was Williams' again when Hibbard intercepted a forward pass. Two attempts at forward passes failed.

The fourth quarter opened more brightly for Williams than any previous period, with the ball on her own forty yard line. Boynton punted to Cornell's twenty five-yard line. In the next play Shiverick made a fifteen yard run but was forced to punt later. Cornell held, however and Boynton had to punt out of danger. Maier got away for a twenty yard run and Mackenzie gained five. Hibbard again intercepted a forward pass, and on the next play went through the Cornell right guard for eight yards. Williams made her first and only first down when Hibbard took the ball through the line for two yards. Boynton, however, was thrown for a loss on an end run and was forced to punt again. Shiverick received it and ran it back to the Williams twenty yard line by a sensational run of thirty yards. With but two minutes of play left Shiverick then kicked the winning field goal. Boynton received the kick-off but the game was over before either team had another opportunity to score.

TENNIS TEAM WINS

Ridgefield Tennis Club Loses to Varsity 4 to 1

In the first match of the fall season, the Williams tennis team defeated the Ridgefield Tennis Club team by a 4 to 1 score last Saturday afternoon at 3.00 o'clock on the Ridgefield Y. M. C. A. courts, Albany, N. Y. In general, the tennis was rather slow due to dampness of the courts and the chilliness of the air.

Captain Pollard was the individual star of the contest, playing a steady but brilliant game. Throughout his three sets with Wilson, he had his opponent continually guessing. Newell also was playing in good form, forcing Travers to go the limit in order to win. Both Rowse and Fraker won their matches in the singles but were forced to play three sets. In the doubles Fraker and Rowse won two straight sets from Coughtry and Case. Pollard and Newell, however, won one set and lost the other and then were forced to stop playing on account of darkness.

The summary is as follows:

Singles—Travers (R. T. C.) defeated Newell (W) 7-5, 4-6, 6-4; Fraker (W) defeated Coughtry (R. T. C.) 3-6, 9-7, 6-3; Pollard (W) defeated Wilson (R. T. C.) 5-7, 6-3, 6-2; Rowse (W) defeated Decker (R. T. C.) 7-5, 6-3, 6-1.

Doubles—Rowse and Fraker (W) defeated Coughtry and Case (R. T. C.) 6-3, 10-8. Pollard and Newell (W) had Travers and Scudder (R. T. C.) 7-9, 7-5. The match was called off on account of darkness.

JUNIORS LEAD 1923 IN INTERCLASS MEET

MARGIN NOW 17 1/3 POINTS

Kellogg '21 Makes Highest Individual Score—Meet Will Be Continued Next Week

With several field events yet to be contested, 1921 has won a commanding lead in the annual Interclass Handicap Track Meet which was held last Wednesday and Thursday afternoons on Weston Field. The Juniors have scored 37 points against 19 1/3 points for 1923, which is running a poor second. As unfavorable weather has prevailed on both days, it will be necessary to continue the meet on some day early next week.

Because of the large lead of the Juniors, the three remaining classes are rather low and closely grouped. Third and fourth honors go to 1920 and 1922 with 13 1/3 and 11 points respectively. Although the number of remaining events apparently precludes the possibility of 1921 losing its lead, the final positions of the other classes will depend upon their success in the discus, broad jump, hammer throw and shot-put, which will be held in the near future.

Kellogg '21 is at present the highest individual point winner. By winning one first place and two seconds, he has contributed 11 points to the total of his class. Brown '20 and Barnes '23 divided second honors, each winning two first places. The latter won both hurdling events, and Brown accounted for 10 of the 11 points of the seniors by gaining first place in the mile and two mile runs. The mile event proved one of the most interesting contests of the meet. Coming up from behind, Brown overcame a handicap of 80 yards, soon after covering the first lap, and gained a lead of 10 yards which he held until the finish line. The second place was closely contested for by Coan and Crofts '21, but finally went to the former who forged ahead in the final sprint. Although the track was soggy and slow, the times in this, as in other track events were much better than the time made in the Underclass Track meet last week.

The summary including handicaps follows:

Wednesday's events—
100-yard dash—won by Mendes '22 (4 yds.); second, Newell '21 (4 yds.); third, Mosher '23 (2 yds.); time, 10 4-5 seconds.

120-yard high hurdles—won by Barnes '23 (scratch); second, Schermerhorn (scratch); third, Mixer '21 (2 yds.); time, 18 1-5 seconds.

440-yard dash—won by Kellogg '21 (15 yds.); second, Allen '21 (20 yds.); third, Richmond '22 (10 yds.); time, 53 1-5 seconds.

Mile run—won by Brown '20 (scratch); second, Coan '21 (50 yds.); third, Crofts '21 (25 yds.); time, 4 minutes, 39 1-5 seconds.

High jump—first and second place tie between Alderman '21 (3 in.) and Wallace '22 (2 in.); third, tie between Wickwire '20 (2 in.), Dewey '23 (2 in.) and Chapin '23 (3 in.) height, 5 feet, 2 inches.

Thursday's events—
120-yard low hurdles—won by Barnes '23 (scratch); second, Wightman '23 (3 yds.); third, Dewey '23 (scratch); time, 15 1-5 seconds.

220-yard dash—won by Atwell '21 (4 yds.); second, Kellogg '21 (4 yds.); third, Mackie '23 (3 yds.); time 24 1-5 seconds.

880-yard run—won by Kellogg '21 (15 yds.); second, Mackie '23 (15 yds.); third, Atwell '21 (30 yds.); time, 2 minutes, 38 seconds.

SYRACUSE MEET OCT. 25

Purple Cross-Country Team to Run in Important Event

For the first time in the history of Williams College the varsity cross-country team will compete with teams representing the larger colleges of the Eastern Intercollegiate Association, in the Syracuse invitation cross-country meet to be held at Syracuse N. Y., on Saturday, October 25. Although the meet will not be held under the auspices of the E. I. A., teams have been entered from Colgate, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Rutgers, and Yale.

Since Parker '20 was forced to discontinue track work by order of his physician, the squad has been reduced to seven men, only two of whom have had previous cross-country experience. The men have been rapidly rounding into shape during the past two weeks, however, and are expected to make a good showing in the face of stiff competition at Syracuse.

Several other meets have been arranged for the fall schedule, starting with an open dare on November 1, which will be filled by a meet with either the Springfield Y. M. C. A. College at Williamstown, or M. A. C. at Amherst. On November 8 the Purple will meet Union on Weston Field, and it is possible that a team from R. P. I. will also be entered at this time. The varsity schedule will terminate with the New England Intercollegiate Meet at Boston on November 15. Coe '20 will attend a meeting of the Executive Committee of the N. E. I. A. at Boston Sunday, to arrange details of the meet.

FRESHMEN ELECT SAYRE TO CLASS PRESIDENCY

Humes, Ely, and Stephenson Are Also Chosen to Occupy Other Three Offices

Joel Grover Sayre, Jr., of Columbus, Ohio, was elected president of the Freshman class at a meeting held in Jesup Hall Tuesday evening. At the same time Samuel Hamilton Humes of Jersey Shore, Pa., was elected vice-president, Valentine Augustus Ely of Morristown, N. J., secretary, and William Rufus Stephenson of Duluth, Minn., treasurer.

Sayre prepared for Williams at the University School in Cleveland. He attended this school two years and was substitute back on the football team while there. At the outbreak of the war he enlisted in the Canadian infantry and saw eight months service in Siberia during the past year. He is now playing in the backfield of the 1923 team and is pledged to the Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Humes, previous to entering Williams, spent five years at the Hill School. At that school he played guard on the football team, a member of the Self Government Committee, and secretary of his class in his senior year. He plays guard on the Freshman team and is pledged to the Sigma Phi fraternity.

Ely studied four years at the Taft School in preparation for Williams. He was actively engaged in extra-curriculum work at preparatory school, being captain of the hockey and tennis teams, vice-president of the Athletic Association, manager of the Dramatic Club, left tackle on the football team, and a member of the wrestling team. At present he is playing left tackle on his class team and is pledged to the Delta Psi fraternity.

Stephenson likewise prepared at the Taft School, which he attended three years. He was a member of the football, hockey, and baseball teams of that school, and was also vice-president of the Athletic Association, and major of the Taft Battalion. He is pledged to the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

SUCCESSFUL VICTORY CELEBRATION IS HELD

NEARLY 450 GIVEN MEDALS

Several Distinguished Guests Aid in Paying Tribute to Williams Service Men

According to information available at noon yesterday, approximately 150 alumni of Williams College will be present today to receive in person, along with the 300 undergraduates, the bronze Victory Medal being given by the alumni to all Williams men who took part in the War. These men constitute practically one fourth of the 1770 Williams men who were in the military or naval service of the United States or of her Allies. In response to the special invitations sent out to the nearest of kin of the 45 Williams men who gave their lives in the War, at least 18 have signified their intention of being present.

Other distinguished guests present, in addition to Major General Leonard Wood, honorary 1902, are the Hon. Calvin Coolidge, Governor of Massachusetts, and Mrs. Coolidge, with Captain Riley of the Governor's staff, Ex-President Franklin Carter of Williams, Colonel Archibald Hopkins who represents the veterans of the Civil War, and Major William Pew. Previous engagements have prevented the presence of Major General Clarence Edwards, Commander of the Department of the Northeast, Rear Admiral Herbert Dunn, Commandant of the First Naval District, Major General M. Cain, Commander of Camp Devens, and Major General Douglas MacArthur, Commander of West Point. Major R. Heermance '04, who was to be one of the marshals in charge of the alumni, has telegraphed at the last minute that he will be unable to be present.

Final details for the forming of the procession that reaches Grace Hall at 10:45 have been completed by Dean Maxey, Chief Marshal for the celebration. At 9:55 Painter '21 blows assembly on the bugle, and for ten minutes the Chapel chimes render national and patriotic airs. As they are being played, the Trustees and guests assemble at the President's house; the Faculty, under the direction of Chairman Howes, meet at Hopkins Hall; the alumni, directed by Lt.-Col. Charles W. Whittlesey '05, and Lt.-Col. William H. Curtiss '06, on the Laboratory Campus; and the undergraduates, headed by Lieutenants R. M. Becket '20, F. H. Jones '20, and H. M. Quigley '20 assemble at the Berkshire Quadrangle.

The undergraduates, formed in double column by classes with the president and

CERCLE FRANCAIS MEETS

H. H. Brown Chosen President—Other Officers Elected

Reorganization of the Cercle Francais was accomplished at the first meeting of the society held last Monday evening in the Common Room of Currier Hall. At that time officers were elected for the current year and the future policy of the club was outlined.

The results of the elections were as follows: President, H. H. Brown '20; Vice-President, I. M. Blanchard '20; Secretary and Treasurer, A. H. Holt '20; Technical Adviser, M. A. L. Cru. After the elections M. A. L. Cru spoke briefly upon the purpose of the Society, which is to assist its members in gaining a better knowledge of the French language and people. He was followed by M. J. N. Cru, who addressed the Cercle upon the value of knowing French at this time when it is steadily growing more popular in every country. At the close of these speeches it was announced that all former members who are now in college would be considered as belonging to the club and are invited to attend the meetings. Others wishing to join the society are requested to hand their names to some member of the cabinet and they will be passed upon at the next meeting.

UNION FRESHMEN WILL OPPOSE 1923 TOMORROW

Marked Improvement Displayed by First-Year Men in Practices During Last Week

A formidable and much-improved freshman team will face the Union first year men in the second game of the season scheduled for tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock on Weston Field. The game with the Williamstown Tigers last Saturday brought to light many weak points in the play of the 1923 eleven, both in the offensive and defensive. There was an appreciable lack of coordination and team-work between the line and backfield men, who were repeatedly thrown for losses on account of the poor interference. However, the backs, even though handicapped by a wet field, exhibited a driving power and a running ability which ought to prove effective in tomorrow's contest.

Within but ten days of practice the freshman eleven has rapidly acquired the fundamentals of the game under the able tutelage of Coach Withington. This week's practice has been unusually strenuous. Monday and Tuesday the first year men engaged in severe scrimmages with the varsity scrubs, each time defeating the upperclassmen, and Wednesday they managed to hold the varsity to a 6-6 tie. Yesterday, because of the heavy rain, Coach Withington put the squad through a stiff drill in the baseball cage, stressing particularly the work of the linemen in opening up holes and in breaking through the opposing forwards. The team has further developed a strong aerial offensive which ought to prove effective against Union.

With regard to the comparative strength of the Union first year team little is known. A large squad responded to the call for candidates, from which has been built one of the strongest freshman elevens in recent years. They played their first game of the season last Saturday when they defeated Manlius School.

The line-up for the Williams freshmen will be about the same as that which opened the game last week. Hoyt, at quarter, will probably do the punting for the freshmen, and Sayre, fullback, may be relied upon to make some substantial gains on line bucks. Mallon, the light freshman halfback, also has displayed exceptional ability in open field running. In the forward positions, Boynton and

CHANCES GOOD FOR VICTORY TOMORROW

COLUMBIA LINE IS WEAK

Boynton is in Good Condition for Game—Coach Brooks May Make Shift in Line-Up

With a record of two easy victories over R. P. I. and Union, and a 3-0 defeat at the hands of Cornell, the Williams football eleven will face the Columbia University team tomorrow at New York City with excellent prospects of winning. Boynton and Carick have fully recovered from the injuries which handicapped the varsity offense against Cornell, and the Purple quarterback is expected to repeat his performance against Columbia in the fall of 1917, when he made several long runs which gave the game to Williams 9-6.

Columbia has played but one officially recognized contest this fall, which resulted in a 7-0 victory over Vermont last Saturday. The only score of the game was the result of a 25-yard run in the last three minutes of play. During most of the contest the Vermont eleven outplayed its opponents, and was only prevented from scoring by a bad pass from the center on Columbia's five-yard line. On October 4 the Blue and White team battled to a scoreless tie against the eleven from the Battleship Arizona, and was saved from defeat only when the navy team fumbled on the Columbia ten-yard line.

Columbia's strength is in the backfield, where Coach Dawson has good material in Captain Canapary, Quigley, Mosezen-ski, Thornton, and Shaw. In the Vermont game Canapary and Quigley did most of the gaining, while the line was the weak point of the Columbia attack both on offense and defense.

Although the Columbia eleven has several players like Canapary who are rumored stars, the team as a whole lacks the driving power and organization of the Purple team. Metropolitan football writers generally concede that Williams is the stronger team. In the Cornell Sun of October 14, where teams are rated according to the opinions of prominent sport writers, Williams is ranked among the leading eleven teams in the East, while Columbia is not mentioned.

The Purple line-up in tomorrow's contest will be substantially the same as that in the Cornell game, although Coach Brooks has not decided who will start in a few cases. He has his choice of Carick and Christian at right and of Hibbard and Montgomery at right half-back. Burger will continue at the other half-back position, with Becket in reserve, and he will play in the defensive quarterback position. This shift makes it possible for Boynton, playing defensive full-back, to stop all plays which break through the line. Coach Brooks has been training Burger all week in catching punts, and has great confidence in the diminutive back's ability and judgment.

Tackling has been stressed during every practice this week, and Coach Brooks expects the team to show improvement in this department tomorrow.

The probable line-up of the teams follows:

WILLIAMS		COLUMBIA
Joslyn	l.e.	Kennedy
Lasell	l.t.	Tower

Vol. 33 October 17, 1919 No. 30

The football team travels to New York today accompanied by nearly two hundred enthusiastic rooters. The Columbia game is fast becoming one of the high spots of the season, chiefly on account of the interest of the New York alumni, whom nothing can please more than a victory in the metropolis. With a cheering section composed of so many undergraduates and the large number of alumni who will be present, the team will have all the moral support necessary to a handsome victory. And we are all certain that nothing more is needed.

Williams Has Arrived

According to the Cornell Daily Sun, Williams is given a ranking with the first eleven football teams of the east, judged on its work so far this season. The ranking which the Sun gives as representing the consensus of opinion among the metropolitan football writers is as follows: Pittsburgh, Harvard, Colgate, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, Yale, Lehigh, Lafayette, Princeton, Cornell, and Williams. To what dizzy heights has "the little college in the hills" climbed! Cornell is the only team on the Williams schedule to be rated higher than Captain Boynton's eleven. Columbia is lower, and Williams keeps company with Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, and the rest, perched above such teams as Penn State, Brown, Rutgers, West Point, and Annapolis. A few years ago this would have sounded like a fairy story or a pipe dream, but now it comes only with a feeling of gratification and pride to Williams men. The undefeated eleven of 1917 brought Williams to the attention of the sporting writers, and the success of the team this year has placed it in its enviable position. If the eleven of 1919 lives up to the promise which it now gives, Williams will be given a strong and lasting place among the larger colleges for its prowess on athletic fields in general, and the gridiron in particular.

Agendum

Talking began last winter about a memorial for the Williams men who died in the war. Everyone agrees that some sort of a tribute in the memory of those men is not only fitting and proper, but even practically demanded. Other colleges have already shown the way. Where is Williams?

Sentiment is very strong among the undergraduates that the memorial should be the work primarily of the alumni, backed up, of course, by the men in College, because the older men are better judges of what should be done and because the greater part of those who died in the war were members of the body of alumni. Sentiment is also very strong that action must be taken now or never. The Victory Celebration brings the matter immediately to attention, and in order to get prompt and vigorous support the iron must be struck before it has cooled.

Many suggestions have been heard on the subject, among them those of a small chapel or addition of the present chapel, a bronze tablet, and a statue of Ephraim Williams inscribed with the names to be commemorated. Why not adopt the time honored expedient of an alumni committee?

COMMUNICATIONS

Although communications may be published unsigned if so requested, the name of the writer must in every case be submitted to the editor. The Board assumes no responsibility, however, for the facts as stated nor for the opinions expressed in this department.

October 9, 1919.

To the Editor of the Williams Record.
Sir:

If the student body at Williams professes to be composed of gentlemen, and I believe we are apt to pride ourselves on that assumption, there is one phase of its activity, at least, which it could well afford to better. I speak of our attitude at Chapel services.

There is not a man on the campus to-day who would willingly cause annoyance in any congregation, and yet there are so many little things we do unthinkingly, and which annoy exceedingly, that to a stranger we must indeed seem a set whose chief aim at that moment is to make things disagreeable for others.

Why must we throw our books into the racks before the selection is finished? Why must we turn to our neighbor and tell him the latest funny story during the prayers? Why must we be continually coughing while the scripture lesson is being read, when we haven't the semblance of a cold or an excuse?

Chapel attendance should not be a drudgery; it should be a pleasure to start or finish each new day with a Thanksgiving and Supplication to Him who made us. If it is not a pleasure for you, remember that it is for another.

A Senior.

To the Editor of the Williams Record.
Sir:

We have one golf course at the Country Club; we don't need another in front of Williams Hall. A few bewildered visitors are even asking how one can play tennis in a cornfield.

The college tennis courts are a disgrace to Williams. Visiting teams suppress a smile when they see them. Eight courts are too few for five hundred and fifty men. Four of the eight are possible to play on; the other four are hopeless. We need eight new nets, eight new tapes—eight respectable tennis courts.

Good tennis, just as good football, is good advertising. "Richard Norris Williams 2nd of Harvard" has appeared many times in the papers. "Charles Garland of Yale" is appearing now. With its present equipment this college may develop a champion truck gardener, but never a champion tennis player.

Perhaps we don't care for advertising; perhaps we don't care for complaints. But just for the sake of the decent appearance of something connected with Williams College, won't somebody please wake up?

H. B. '21.

Geologic Collections Received

Two collections of fossils and one of rocks have recently been received by the Department of Geology as a gift from the Smithsonian Institute. One collection consists of examples of the more unusual types of fossil life. The specimens are chosen so as to represent the whole of the geologic column and include examples of some of the earliest forms of life. The second collection of fossils is a general set of the more common types of invertebrate life and is intended for class room use. The set of rocks is an interesting group showing the several stages of disintegration from solid, unweathered rock to the residual clays. These collections are already arranged and available for class room use and will eventually be prepared for exhibition.

First Concert October 31

In the first entertainment of the season in the Thompson Memorial Course, the "Famous Mountain Ash Welch Male Chorus" will be heard in the Grace Hall Auditorium Friday evening, October 31st. This course, with which Williams has been favored for many years, will be continued again during the coming winter through the generosity of Mrs. F. F. Thompson. Several noted artists and entertainers have been engaged, and under the supervision of Prof. K. E. Weston, a successful season seems assured.

Two Old Catalogues Received

Two valuable additions to the file of catalogues of Williams College were recently received by the College Library. The first, the gift of Fisher Howe '72, is a catalogue of 1815, and the second, presented by the Yale University Library is one of the following year. The file of catalogues at Lawrence Hall is now lacking in only the three years of 1808, 1812, and 1821.

Plans Formulated by Gun Club

Following the resignation of Behr '20 as president of the Gun Club, Smith '20 was elected to fill the office in the first meeting of the year held last Monday evening in the Thompson Biological Laboratory. At the same time Sutton '20 was chosen secretary and treasurer, this office having been made vacant by Smith's election to the presidency. Dartmouth has requested a dual shoot to be held in Hanover either this Fall or next Spring. A communication from the National Rifle Association was also read relative to the affiliation of the Williams Gun Club with the national organization, in order that Springfield rifles and ammunition might be procured for the use of the club. Plans were made for the completion of the range on Stetson road by building a trap house. Men wishing to go out for the rifle and pistol work will have everything supplied them, but those wishing to do any trap shooting will have to supply their own guns and ammunition. Professor Kellogg will act as coach of the team.

ALUMNI NOTES

'19—Joseph M. Callahan has accepted a position with the Colonial Paint Company, New York City.

'19—Jesse A. Drew, Webster C. Powell, and Donald Wyman, are attending the Harvard Business College, Cambridge, Mass.

Chapin '23 Wins Tennis Title

Completing the final round of the College tennis tournament last Friday, Chapin '23 defeated Fraker '21 in the last set of the match. After two sets had been played on Saturday, October 4, the tournament was interrupted on account of weather conditions. Cups were awarded to both the winner and the runner up. The final score was 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Debating Resumed this Year

Hedden '20, chairman of the Forum, and Atwell '21, debating manager, have drawn up plans whereby the College will again be represented in intercollegiate debating this year. Financial backing by the Non-Athletic Council has been assured, and negotiations are now being carried on with other colleges. One triangular debate with Wesleyan and Amherst has been arranged to be held sometime in December. The exact date and place have not been settled. It is also hoped to have a similar debate with Dartmouth and Brown next Spring.

Peerade Plans Are Under Way

Plans for the annual Freshman Peerade, which will be held Saturday afternoon, October 25, preceding the Hamilton game, are rapidly nearing completion. The committee in charge, with Oppenheimer '20 as chairman, has arranged for many new and highly original numbers, including the "Broadway Beauties," a bevy of Sophomores who were omitted from the cast of last year's performance, and a resume of the Victory Celebration.

Phil. Union Elects Ward

At its first meeting since 1917 held last Monday evening in the Common Room, Currier Hall, the Philosophical Union elected officers and discussed the works and life of Ernst Haeckel, the German biologist and philosopher. Ward '20 was chosen to the position of president and Fieser '20 was elected secretary and treasurer. Professor Kellogg described Haeckel as a biologist, and Professor Pratt told of his work as a philosopher. Afterwards there was a general discussion of the philosopher's metaphysical ideas.

'19—Lieutenant Norman R. Wood is engaged in sea-plane duty at Coronado Beach, Cal.

'19—H. A. Woodward has accepted a position with the Charles H. Brown Paint Company, New York City.

vice-president of each class leading and the men in uniform in the rear of their respective classes, marches to Grace Hall via Hopkins Hall, the Laboratory Campus, and the President's house. At each stop the group there assembled takes its place in the rear of the column at whose head march the Chief Marshal followed by the color guard consisting of H. D. Wild '17 and S. W. Prentiss for the alumni, and L. W. Labaree '20, L. Moore '20, and I. D. Townsend '20, bearing the national, state, and college flags. Music during the march to Grace Hall and until the colors shall have been placed on the stage is furnished by Doring's 2nd National Guard band of 20 pieces, of New York. As the head of the procession reaches Grace Hall, the column opens ranks and faces inward, and the whole body passes in reverse order into Grace Hall, going between the color guards who take up stations at the entrance to the building. After the entire line is in the hall and while the audience stands, the color guard carries the colors down the center aisle and places them on the stage where they remain until the close of the ceremony when the color guard returns them to their place in Thompson Chapel.

The only addition to the program for the ceremony in Grace Hall, as printed in a previous issue of the Record, is the playing of taps during the reading, by President Garfield, of the Roll of Honor. The celebration ends with the singing of The Mountains.

Victory Day Details Explained

Owing to some misunderstanding on the part of the undergraduates as to the exact procedure of the Victory Celebration today, a college meeting was held Wednesday evening to explain the plans more fully. Carson '20, as chairman of the Student Council, presided at the meeting. Coach Brooks, speaking as a representative of the alumni, urged that the students give their undivided loyalty and co-operation to the enterprise, and emphasized the fact that every man who has or can possibly get his uniform should wear it in order to show to the alumni our appreciation of their efforts in arranging this commemoration of Williams men in the war. Professor Howes then spoke on the details of the celebration clearing up many of the points which had been doubtful in the minds of the student body. At the close of the meeting a motion was passed that it be the sentiment of those present that all men who have or can procure their uniforms shall wear them. The meeting adjourned with the singing of The Mountains.

LAST SEPTEMBER NEAR RECORD FOR RAINFALL

Rain to the amount of 6.43 inches, more than double the usual total, fell in Williamstown and vicinity during the month of September, according to a summary of the meteorological observations taken at the college observatory. The average temperature of 60.3 degrees was very close to the normal average of 59.6 degrees.

The amount of rainfall for the month of September has been surpassed but twice in the last fifty years, once in 1882, when the amount recorded was 7.04 inches, and again last year, when it reached 6.44 inches. The records for the past month show that there were ten clear days, six partly cloudy days, and fourteen cloudy days. Rain fell on fourteen days, and there were thunder showers on two days.

No unusual temperature was recorded, the highest being 84 degrees on September 8, and the lowest being 33 degrees on the morning of September 27. The highest and lowest temperature observed in September during the last Twenty years are 87 and 25 degrees, respectively. There was no killing frost during the month.

How on earth did it happen?

IMAGINE any first-class, medium-priced car ($1500 or $2000) ever becoming so well liked that even the millionaires would prefer it for their own use to even the highest priced cars.

Impossible.

You're right. Such a thing couldn't happen with a medium-priced automobile—nor, you would think, with anything else.

And yet this "impossible" thing has happened with a medium-priced cigarette. Just note, if you please, the evidence below, at the left.

How on earth did Fatima do it?

What is it—what does Fatima give that these wealthy smokers prefer to anything given by even the highest-priced cigarettes?

The answer is
"Just enough Turkish"

Until they had tried Fatima, most of these men had been smoking straight Turkish cigarettes—because, of course, until a year or so ago these fancy-boxed, expensive straight Turkish cigarettes were practically the only cigarettes on sale at places like those named below.

EVIDENCE

Fatima is the largest selling cigarette at the following, and scores of other prominent places:

The Breakers, Palm Beach;
Congress Hotel, Chicago;
Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago;
Casino Hotel, Narragansett Pier;
French Lick Springs Hotel;
The Vanderbilt, the Astor
the McAlpin and most of New York's other big hotels;
Marlborough-Blenheim, Atlantic City;
Hotel Traymore, Atlantic City;
Hotel Tonnaine, Boston;
New York Stock Exchange,
etc., etc.

Gradually, however, it seems that these men have learned two things about Fatima:

1. That Fatima's famous blend (containing more Turkish than any other blend) has just enough Turkish for full flavor; and
2. That the blend is so "balanced" as to off-set entirely that over-richness or heaviness of straight Turkish.

Which proves again that Fatimas are a sensible cigarette—that they leave a man feeling fine and fit even after smoking more heavily than usual.

Has your present cigarette—has any cigarette—as strong a claim for your serious consideration as has Fatima?

PURPLE OFFENSIVE CRUSHES COLUMBIA IN SENSATIONAL GAME BEFORE RECORD CROWD

CAPTAIN BOYNTON MAKES 90-YARD RUN FROM KICK-OFF

LOSERS FIGHT GAMELY

Williams Team Uses Every Opportunity to Score—Great Improvement in Offense

Displaying a strong and versatile attack and making the most of every opportunity, the Williams football team piled up a score of 25 to 0 against Columbia last Saturday afternoon at South Field, New York City. Over 200 undergraduates were on hand to back the team, and a crowd numbering about 12,000 saw the Blue and White go down to defeat.

The attendance was the largest at any Columbia game in recent years. At the main entrance a mob swept away the gates and surged into the enclosure. Despite the efforts of a large number of policemen and ushers, about 100 succeeded in forcing an entrance before the main doors could be closed. After this about 1,000 more would-be spectators were turned away.

Captain Boynton was easily the star of the game. He contributed the most sensational play of the afternoon when he received the kick-off at the beginning of the second half on his own 10-yard line and in a burst of speed ran 90 yards through the entire Columbia team for a touchdown. He also threw a beautiful pass to Coddling for the third score and made a 75-yard run, besides directing his team with rare generalship and acting as an impassable last man on defense.

The teams were evenly matched in weight and speed, but the Purple team had the edge on its opponents sufficiently to create the breaks which meant victory, and victory by so large a score. Columbia fought gamely to the end and threatened to cross the goal-line more than once but the Williams defense always stiffened when necessary and passed the danger points successfully. The Blue and White made seven first downs, to only eight for the visitors.

If Boynton was the star of the Williams eleven, he was not the only good player. His work was ably seconded by that of Hibbard, Krieger, and Burger, who proved reliable and consistent ground-gainers. Lasell and Fargo continually broke up Columbia's plays, and the former, who did most of the punting, averted trouble several times by his long kicks.

Shaw, the speedy and clever halfback of the Blue and White eleven, made a number of long end runs from kick formation, and twice caught up with Boynton, downing him once on the 15-yard line. Quigley also played a strong game on both offense and defense, and Captain Canapary was a big factor in the game until an injured shoulder forced him to retire in the third quarter.

First Half

In the first few minutes of play Columbia's chances to score were extremely bright. Quigley caught Lasell's kick-off and reached his own 40-yard line before being downed. An exchange of punts gave the Blue and White an advantage which Shaw and Quigley increased by long end runs as far as the 25-yard line. On the next play the chance was lost, for Quigley fumbled, and Williams got the ball. Hibbard broke loose on the second play for 35-yards and was downed by Quigley the last defensive man. Then the Purple launched a steady attack which reached the two-yard line on a series of short gains by Hibbard and Krieger. The first score of the game came when Krieger went over the line on the next play.

Lasell missed the goal and kicked off again. Shaw made 25 yards, but was

TEAM RECEIVES PRAISE

Metropolitan Sport Writers Give Eleven High Ranking Among Colleges

General newspaper comment with regard to the Columbia-Williams game has been of decidedly gratifying nature. Rarely if ever before has a Williams team attracted as wide spread and extended publicity as has fallen to the present eleven through its thus far successful season. Chief surprise amongst sport writers seems to center in the size of the score which the Purple amassed against the Columbia team rather than in the victory itself, as odds previous to the contest appeared to favor Williams slightly.

MAJOR-GENERAL LEONARD WOOD

Recent general surveys of the football situation by metropolitan football writers include Williams in the ranking of the first eleven football teams of the east. The size of the crowd which attended last Saturday's contest and the superior article of playing exhibited by the light Williams eleven are particularly commended.

GEN. WOOD ADVOCATES "STRONG AMERICANISM"

Talks on Post-War Problems—Brings Forth Applause from Alumni and Student Body

"Build up a strong Americanism. Hold up Americanism. Avoid internationalism as you avoid death" was the theme of the address, often interrupted by spontaneous outbursts of applause, which was delivered by Major-General Leonard Wood at the Williams Victory Celebration held last Friday morning. After a few words of tribute to the "Williams men who so splendidly represented the College and the country in the World War", General Wood asked for a continuation of the spirit that prevailed during the war, for appreciation on the part of the people at home for the four and half millions who answered the call, and also for appreciation of the tremendous losses and sacrifices in England and France, beside whose soldiers our men have been privileged to stand. Turning from the war, to present conditions, General Wood discussed in a terse, direct manner, a few of the pressing peace problems. Americanism, law, and order were the ideals he set up. Not Americanism which would "avoid international helpfulness, but Americanism with a national spirit, with a national conscience, which in another crisis would send an army to war even more quickly than this time."

Referring to the industrial problems engaging the attention of the whole country, the General paid a striking tribute to Governor Calvin Coolidge for the way in which he had handled the recent situation in Boston, and characterized him as a "governor who did not stoop to count votes before seeing that the law was upheld." Law and order must stand steady; keep your feet on the ground and your eyes on God; cling fast to your ideals support the constitution and those principles by which our country has been made;

award of the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws to the Hon. Calvin Coolidge, Governor of Massachusetts. Gov. Coolidge has had a brilliant career as a lawyer and, previous to his election to the governorship, held many public offices in city and county. In accepting the degree conferred upon him by President Garfield, the Governor delivered a short but pertinent address, about Ephraim Williams founder of this college, and his spirit which has persisted and has been a living factor in Williams since its establishment as a college many years ago.

WAR RECORD COMMENDED

Celebration Planned by Alumni First of this Character to Be Held at Any College

In the greatest procession of Williams men that has ever assembled and one that is unique in the annals of the College, Faculty, alumni, and undergraduates marched from the Berkshire Quadrangle to Grace Hall last Friday morning for the Williams Victory Celebration in honor of the 1770 sons of Colonel Ephraim who gave their service with the American or Allied military and naval forces. Over 700 Williams men, alumni and undergraduates, in uniform, of America and of France, and in multi muted for one of the most impressive and successful ceremonies that has ever been held at the College.

Promptly at 10.30 o'clock the undergraduate body, gathered at the sound of "Assembly" blown on the bugle half an hour earlier, left the Berkshire Quadrangle for Grace Hall in charge of Lieutenants Becket, Jones, and Quigley '20. The students marched by classes in a column of twos, with the Freshmen leading, followed in order by the Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors. Each class was headed by its president and vice-president, while the men in uniform brought up the rear. Doring's Second New York National Guard Band of 20 pieces furnished the music for the marching and also accompanied Mr. Salter in the musical part of the program in Grace Hall. As the column passed Hopkins Hall, the Faculty, in academic dress, fell in at the rear and the whole body marched to the Laboratory Campus where the alumni were stationed with the National, State, and College flags at their head. Labaree, Moore, and Townsend '20 bore the Colors for which Stanton Garfield and H. Douglas Wild '17 acted as an additional guard. Of these five Moore '20 and Stanton Garfield '17 were in the uniform of aspirants in the French Army and were decorated with the Croix de Guerre and Fourragere. After the undergraduates and Faculty filed past the Colors, they were followed by the Color Guard and the alumni body of about 150 in command of Lt.-Col. Charles W. Whittlesey '05 and Lt.-Col. Williams H. Curtiss '06. As the column passed President Garfield's home the Trustees fell in at the rear. On reaching Grace Hall the undergraduates and Faculty halted, opened ranks and faced inward, forming an aisle down which passed the Color Guard which took its stand at the steps of the building. Thus the alumni were the first to enter Grace Hall, and they were in turn followed by the Trustees, Faculty, and undergraduates.

Above the stage and back of it was the Williams Flag of Honor with its 45 gold stars. On the stage sat Major General Leonard Wood, who had come to present the medals, the Hon. Calvin Coolidge, Governor of Massachusetts, Major William Pew, President Harry A. Garfield, Dean Carroll L. Maxcy and five Trustees. Mr. Bentley W. Warren, Professor Bliss Perry, Mr. Solomon B. Griffin, Mr. Alfred C. Chapin, and Mr. Franklin H. Mills. Back of the distinguished guests and officers and Trustees of the College sat the College choir. The part of the main floor not occupied by those directly connected with the ceremony, as well as the gallery, was filled with visitors and guests. The whole audience remained

Vol. 33 October 20, 1919 No. 31

The success of the Williams Victory Celebration was assured when almost 300 alumni arrived in Williamstown last Friday for the commemoration. Thanks are due to them and to Professor G. E. Howes and the other men who so capably arranged the details of the day in the short time allowed them. The remarkable impressiveness of the ceremonies and the presence of Governor Coolidge, General Wood, Colonel Whittlessey, Professor Bliss Perry, and other prominent alumni, all combined to make the affair one which will be long remembered by those who were fortunate enough to be present.

Congratulations are to be extended to the Williams team which decisively defeated Columbia last Saturday, and also to Coach Joe Brooks, who is directly responsible for a large measure of the eleven's success. Although the achievement is not a remarkable one, it is highly creditable in view of the great difference in the size of the two institutions and the corresponding contrast in the number of coaches employed. The victory gives promise of a highly successful season unless some unexpected obstacle appears to block the progress of the team.

The Forum as a Remedy

Debating may be the "sick man of college activities", but it certainly is not dead. At Williams, it is at present at a very low ebb, but a team will represent the College in debates with other colleges this year. And, even if a debating team is looked upon by undergraduates as something akin in interest and value, to a chess team, some of the old importance is still attached to it by the older alumni, and by those who believe that students being after all students primarily, and not athletes, an intercollegiate test of intellect should possess some of the prominence that intercollegiate tests of brawn and bone do. Certainly a debate has as much significance although in a different realm, as a football match has. But values have been irrevocably distorted in such a way as to threaten altogether the very existence of forensic rivalry.

The Adelpic Union has disappeared, and in its place has appeared a more common-sense organization, the Forum. It is a last attempt to keep public dispute in the college, and it hopes to do so by decreasing its formality and increasing its interest and popularity. The Forum is now all that stands between us and the admission that we are intellectually bankrupt,—the admission that the undergraduate, when liberated from the irksome duties of his studies, turns his back completely on things of the mind and interests himself solely in the physical. The implication of such an admission is that college might to be a glorified gymnasium or athletic club, with no books but the rule books of games.

But intellectual interest is not dead; it is merely slumbering. With but a little urging, a little spurring on at the start, even our most throughgoing professed disdainer of brain work can arouse his dormant interest. The way to arouse it is manifold, but the Forum with its discussions of matters of real, present,—even dollar and cent, if you demand it,—value and interest, should be the starting point. And from the rank and file of its members must be chosen the debaters who are to represent Williams on the rostrum as the eleven represents Williams on the gridiron.

Gen. Wood Advocates "Strong Americanism"

support the authorities; avoid criticising as much as possible." These were a few of the guiding principles for the present as laid down by General Wood. In labor problems he declared that the Golden Rule must be used. "We must do unto others as we would have them do unto us. We must give them what is their due. Deal with capital and labor with pitiless publicity, for only so can the right kind of public opinion be formed."

As a protection against the vicious "red" element which he said has been responsible for all the trouble in the West and at Gary, the General appealed for a greater interest in politics and for the assimilation of those who come to America from foreign shores. "Drop for a time business and pay some attention to politics. See that the right man is elected to office. The people are uneasy; keep your eyes on the Balkans, but, while putting out the fire in your neighbor's house, do not neglect the smoke in your own cellar. Law and order should be your watchword. Liberty, but liberty under the law. There is room in this country for but one flag, the flag of your fathers; carry this before you. We want one language, the language of the declaration of Independence. Watch immigration. America should be a haven of refuge for the oppressed, but not a dumping ground for the degenerate. Give the newcomers more of our ideals. These are some of our problems. Keep the watchword, law and order; hold to the Constitution; show the world that America thinks and acts for herself."

INTERCOLLEGIATES

A large addition to the Walker Chemical Laboratory at R. P. I. was begun last June. It is to cost $175,000 and will be completed next summer, practically doubling the size of the laboratory.

Dartmouth completes today her 150th anniversary celebration. The celebration opened last Friday with a campus illumination and a torchlight procession.

The Amherst Greek department this year will supervise the production of one of Menander's late comedies which has never before been presented in English.

The Intercollegiate Swimming Association will hold its annual meeting at Columbia University on Sunday, October 26th.

Seventy Freshmen have been pledged to the various fraternities at the University of Vermont. This is only 22 of the entire class of 320 men.

Plans have been adopted by the Undergraduate Council of the University of Pennsylvania providing for the wearing of an "Activity Button" by the members of the Freshman Class who are participating in any of the sports of the University, those out for any of the publications, and those serving as class officers or chairman of class committees.

Baseball prospects at Amherst look particularly bright this year as not a man of last year's team was graduated.

1923 IS VICTORIOUS OVER UNION FRESHMEN

Williams First Year Men Have Strong Offensive Eleven—Win by 25-0 Score

With a slight opposition the Williams Freshman football team easily defeated the Union freshman football team last Saturday afternoon on Weston Field by a 25 to 0 score.

Throughout the entire contest the home team decidedly outclassed its opponents, keeping the ball in the visitors' territory most of the time.

Holmes was the most reliable on the offensive for the Purple freshman, continually breaking through the line of the Garnet eleven for long gains, and both Mallon and Hoyt made several long runs around the ends for twenty-five and thirty yards. Captain Boynton, Ely, and Laws were the stars of the defensive, each making a number of good tackles. Carpenter, the visitors' quarter-back, was the individual star of that team, making most of its gains. The Garnet eleven, however, found the Freshman line too strong, and it never menaced the home team's goal.

In the first quarter Boynton intercepted a forward pass and was tackled on the Union ten-yard line. By several line rushes the Williams freshmen got the ball to the one-yard line, and Holmes carried the ball over, scoring a touchdown. Mallon failed to kick the goal. During the second quarter there was no scoring, although the Freshmen succeeded in keeping the ball in their opponents' territory most of the time.

The second half started with Williams receiving the ball. After several futile attempts to gain ground, Hoyt punted, and Ely tackled the Union man on the twenty yard line. The ball changed hands on a fumble, and on a forward pass another fumble, and a recovery Holmes carried the ball over the line for the second touchdown, but the Freshmen failed to kick the goal. In the fourth quarter after several long runs and several rushes, Hoyt got another touchdown. Again the Freshmen failed to kick the goal. The Williams players, ran around right end, and scored the fourth time. Mallon kicked the goal, making the score 25 to 0.

The summary follows:

Massachusetts Agricultural College has undertaken a campaign to raise $150,000 for a war memorial building to contain offices for the Collegian, the senate, the musical clubs, a smoking room, a pool room, a bowling alley, an assembly room, a ladies room, and an alumni room.

The registration at Harvard for the present year is 5017. The college proper has 2504 students, only 78 less than the year preceding the war. The enrollment of the Graduate School of Business Administration is over twice as large as that of any previous year.

The Yale department of Demobilization Employment has recently issued a report of its first six months of activity, showing that a total of 215 graduates have been placed in positions which command salaries from $1000 to $7000.

War Record Commended

standing until the Colors had been brought down the central aisle and placed upon the stage.

The exercises commenced with the singing of the National Anthem and the invocation by the Reverend John S. Zelic, D. D., Professor Bliss Perry, L. H. D., Litt. D., D. D., delivered the first address in which he spoke of the record of service of Williams men in the war, a record unequalled, according to present statistics, by any other college. He referred also to the peace task that now lies before them, warning against giving way to the wave of cynicism and pessimism that follow the wake of every war.

Following this address, which was often interrupted by applause, the choir gave a beautiful and moving rendition of the anthem, Te Deum Laudamus by John E. West. As Dr. Garfield introduced Maj-Gen. Leonard Wood L. L. D. Williams 1902, the whole audience rose in honor of its distinguished guest. In terse, direct sentences the General appealed for a stronger Americanism, an Americanism which will make of America a united people with only one flag and one language, yet a people whose conscience will not let them avoid international helpfulness when the need arises. While warning against the "Red" element which is abroad in the land, he urged the use of the Golden Rule in dealing with disputes between labor and capital. As soon as the applause had ceased, the whole audience stood as Dr. Garfield read the names of the 45 sons of Ephraim who gave their lives in the war. Then, in the hush that fell over the entire hall as all eyes were fixed on the symbol of the sacrifice, the shining gold stars above the stage, came the distant sound of "Taps". It was the most impressive and solemn moment of the entire ceremony.

After Dean Maxey had read the names of those alumni and sometime members who were able to be present, and of the 11 members of the Faculty who had served actively in the war, they came onto the stage where General Wood shook hands with each as he personally presented the bronze medals. Among the best known of the alumni were Lt.-Col. Charles W. Whittlesey '05, leader of the "Lost Battalion of the Argonne", Lt.-Col. William H. Curtiss '06, Col. H. H. Lehman '09, and Capt. Meredith Wood '16. The members of the Faculty who received the medal were Major William Pew, Capt. Charles V. Lyman, M. Albert N. Cru, M. J. Norton Cru, Russell M. Geer, '16, Mr. Carl S. Hoar, Dr. Frederick H. Howard, Dr. Carl W. Johnson, Mr. Charles F. Seeley, Prof. Elmer I. Shepard, and H. Douglas Wild '17. Medals were also presented to about 20 of the nearest of kin to those who gave their lives in service. Then amidst tumultuous applause Dr. Garfield turned and gave a medal to General Wood himself who is an adopted son of Williams. As the General was compelled to leave to meet an engagement in New York that evening, there was not time to present medals to the 300 undergraduates present but their names were read and medals will be mailed later to them and to all the alumni who were not present in person to receive them. As General Wood turned to go, Lt. Col. William H. Curtiss '06 led the audience in a rousing Williams cheer, for the distinguished visitor.

Dr. Garfield then conferred upon the Hon. Calvin Coolidge the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. Although suffering from bronchial troubles, the Governor made a short speech in appreciation of honor done him in admitting him to the fellowship of the long line of sons of Colonel Ephraim who have done so much, not only in the conflict in Europe but in the pursuits of peace.

After the hymn—God of our Fathers and the benediction, the exercise closed with the singing of The Mountains. The audience remained standing as the Color Guard advanced and until after it had taken the Colors outside of the auditorium.

Credit for the extraordinary success of the celebration, in spite of the short time available for the preparations, is due not only to the committee of nine alumni whose names were printed in an earlier issue of the Record, but also to Professor Howes, Dean Maxey, Chief Marshal, and representatives of that committee in Williamstown, to whom fell the task of working out all the details of the procession and exercises. To the undergraduates, Professor Howes wishes to express the appreciation of the alumni committee for the fine spirit of cooperation shown by them in helping to make the celebration one of the most successful and impressive ceremonies ever held at Williams. In the original plans, General Wood had been expected to remain the whole day so that each student should have had the

Gov. Coolidge Honored

Dr. Garfield spoke as follows:

"By profession a Lawyer by preference a student of the science of government; a statesman practised in the art of governing; elected to many offices of trust and honor in city, county, and Commonwealth; in each performing services of high order, but none of greater value to the republic than in making clear and preserving the distinction between public duty and private right."

The Governor whose voice was affected by bronchial trouble, made but a short speech in reply, a few extracts from which are given:

"There speaks here with the voice of immortality one who loved Massachusetts. On every side arise monuments to that enduring affection bred not of benefits received but of services rendered, of sacrifices made that the province of Massachusetts Bay might live enlightened and secure. A bit of parchment has filled libraries. A few hundred dollars has enriched generations. The spirit of a single liberty-loving soldier has raised up a host that has shaken the earth with its martial tread, laying low the hills but exalting the valleys. Here Colonel Ephraim Williams still executes his will, still disposed of his patrimony, still leads the soldiers of the free to an enduring victory, and, with a power greater than the sword, stands guard on the frontier marches of the Commonwealth.

"This day, if it is truly to represent the spirit of this College, means more than a glorification of the past. It was by a stern determination to discharge the duties of the present that Ephraim Williams provided for a future filled with a glory that must not yet be termed complete. His thoughts were not on himself nor on material things. Had he chosen to inscribe his name on a monument of granite or of bronze it would have gone the way of all the earth. Enlightening the soul of his fellow-men, he made his mark which mented on in practically every sporting account. According to the Boston Post "Williams crushed Columbia on the gridiron this afternoon under a score of 25 to 0 in a game that was filled with a series of thrills for a cheering crowd of 12,000 that jammed the stands and overflowed thousands deep onto the running liams won yesterday chiefly because its eleven knew more football and contained one or two individual stars who could stage the spectacular at psychological moments. In weight and general speed the two teams were evenly matched, and Columbia gained almost as much ground by straight rushing as did the New Englanders. The home team although beaten, was far from disgraced and exhibited a brand of football that would have won against anything but the super article displayed by Williams."

Captain Boynton was without doubt the individual star of the game. The best estimate of his playing also appears in the New York Times, as follows: "Early in the last quarter, Boynton threw a beautiful forward pass to Coddling, who went over for another score. Aside from this, the Williams Captain contributed a touch-down, a seventy-five-yard run after intercepting a pass, tried unsuccessfully for a goal from the field, did most of the punting for his team, and contributed numerous shorter dashes around the end and through the line, besides calling the signals, directing the play in general, and acting as an impassable last man in defense. New York will admit that Captain Bennie Boynton is quite a quarterback."

"But even at that the Williams team is not a one-man eleven," points out the Boston Herald. "In fact there is no such thing as a one-man football team. There are many good men and steady gainers on the Williams team. In football a man becomes a star, as a rule, because the fellows he plays with do their work so well that he can shine."

Aside from the writeups of the game in the various newspapers, many sporting pages feature pictures of the squad or of the play. Among the most notable of these are quarter-page illustrations in the (Continued on page 6, col 1.)

Captain Canapary of Columbia in Action

Second Half

Boynton's sensational touchdown at the beginning of the next period ended all hopes of victory to which the Columbia rooters had clung. Receiving the kick-off on his 10-yard line, he rushed ahead, and evading the whole Columbia team by an excellent exhibition of broken field running, scoring the Purple's second touchdown.

In spite of this discouragement, the Blue and White started out strongly again. From about the middle of the field Canapary hurred a long forward pass to Weinstein, who was caught by Boynton on the two-yard line, but the pass was disallowed because Canapary had been off-side. The aerial attack was resumed successfully, until with the ball on the Williams 15-yard line Boynton intercepted a pass from Canapary and started once more for the goal line. Again he had a clear field, but Shaw caught up and brought him down with a fierce tackle on Columbia's 20-yard line. The Blue and White line held on the next few plays, and Boynton was forced to try a drop-kick, which went wide of the mark.

The third touchdown came early in the last quarter. Standing on Columbia's 45-yard line, Boynton threw a 30-yard pass across the field to Coddling, who caught it on the run and had no difficulty in scoring. A few minutes later Thornton fumbled on his 25-yard line, and Becket, playing in Krieger's place, recovered the ball, easily reaching the goal line. Lasell then kicked goal, Columbia once more threatened to score, but lost the ball on downs on Williams' 15-yard line just before the whistle blew.

The line-up and summary follow:

COLUMBIA		WILLIAMS
Kennedy	l.e.	Joslyn
Tower	l.t.	Ficser
Forsyth	l.g.	Beebe
Kienninger	c.	Mills
Hinch	r.g.	Lasell
Scovil	r.t.	Fargo

track", and the Springfield Union adds that "Columbia was outplayed from whistle to whistle".

In general newspaper accounts agree that the Williams team outplayed its opponents throughout the game, advancing successfully when such gains were most necessary, blocking forward passes, and always completely stopping the Blue and White advance when its own goal line was endangered. The best estimate of the Williams tactics and individual men appears in the concluding paragraph of the New York Tribune writeup:

"Summing up briefly, the Williams team was the superior of the local eleven in almost every department. The line-smashing of the Purple backs tore great holes consistently in Columbia's left side; the Williams men tackled lower and more effectively; Boynton's punting was distinctly better than either Shaw's or Thornton's; and their interference was immeasurably superior. Next to Boynton the work of Hibbard and Krieger stood out on the Williams team, and Fargo was a bear at interference."

Other papers, however, refuse to admit that Columbia was thus immeasurably inferior to her opponents and point out the closeness of the contest by the fact that Columbia gained nearly as much ground as Williams. Admitting that the Williams eleven played a high brand of football, they nevertheless point out the fact that each touchdown scored came as the result of some spectacular play or run, rather than through consistent team work and straight football. In this connection the New York Herald remarks: "The Massachusetts Collegians won by a score of 25 to 0, but this apparently one-sided looking score did not truly represent the difference between the two elevens. They seemed to be evenly matched in strength, but Williams had a faculty of making a spectacular spurt every once in a while, and of the four touchdowns came as the result of some startling play. Not one of the tallies was made by a sustained attack. The Williams team was a bit more polished than Columbia."

The New York Times is slightly more complimentary to the general brand of playing evidenced by the Purple. "Wil-

New York Times and the New York Herald. During the week previous to the game the Boston Herald sent Collier to Williamstown to draw a series of his famous miniature cartoons about Coach Brooks and his team. This appears in the Sunday Herald in addition to a feature article by Burt Whitman concerning the methods of training the varsity team and its season prospects. He says, in part:

"Up until the Columbia game all Williams was afraid that its offence was very weak. Brooks told me that he had a dandy little defence, a claim which was substantiated by no team having scored a touch down on the purple this year. The line averages about 172 from tackle to tackle, and the entire team about 160. It is green, as college teams go, even this year. But it fairly sizzles with energy and fight and determination to make the most of its opportunities.

"With the victory over Columbia yesterday, the best achievement of the season to date, Williams has a record of three wins and one set-back, that 3-0 affair at Ithaca, October 11. R. P. I. was stopped 22 to 0; and Union 23 to 0. Hamilton, Wesleyan, Middlebury, and Amherst are the games ahead of the Purple, and Williams expects to win them all, although making the reservation that Wesleyan and Amherst, their ancient rivals of the Triangular League, will be tough nuts to crack."

YALE MAN PORTRAYS EVERYDAY RELIGION

Mr. Lovett Tells W. C. A. That Christianity Is Not "Being Good" but "Doing Better"

Taking as his subject, "A New Emphasis in Everyday Religion", the Rev. A. S. Lovett of Boston, Mass., gave a short talk before the Williams Christian Association yesterday evening in Jesup Hall. The meeting was the best attended that has been held this year and, following the custom which Secretary Withington has set, was very brief.

Mr. Lovett, a graduate of Yale in the class of 1913, was voted the "most loved man" in his class. His wide experience among men makes him particularly well-fitted to speak on the principles of an active religious life.

In opening his talk, Mr. Lovett laid down a few of the reasons why so many people fail as Christians. Instead of trying to "grow better" too many try merely to "be good". There is the same distinction between these methods of living as there is between religion as Christ left it and as He found it. It is just as Christ Himself said to the young man who came to him asking how he might become good. One cannot attain a better religious understanding by merely following the rules. We must really feel our part and strive to lead truer and more earnest lives. Christ's efforts were to make religion more eccentric than concentric, more for those on the outside than for those on the inside. His was a religion of action, a religion of results, and for that reason appealed to the people of that day as it has appealed to those of succeeding generations. Our religion is mainly in our attitude of mind, which should be to endeavor always to grow better, to play fairer, and to conduct our lives in a cleaner, manlier fashion.

Mr. Lovett drew a striking analogy to Christianity by describing a mountain with all its different strata, its swamps, fields, sharp rises, great forests, barren lands and snowfields and finally the summit. The human race he represented by different figures endeavoring to reach the crest, some in the swamps, some in snowfields in sight of the top. And it is these men who, working steadily to reach the summit, are the real Christians. Any who are standing still or sliding back forfeit all claims to Christianity. Mr. Lovett concluded his talk by again emphasizing his original doctrine, that we must strive for Christianity not by merely "being good" but by "growing better."

TENNIS TEAM DEFEATED

Varsity Loses Match to Troy Club by Score of 4 to 1

Playing on courts which were slow and in poor condition, the Williams tennis team was defeated by the Van Schaick Island Tennis Club team at Troy, N. Y., by a score of four to one. For the most part, the matches were closely contested, but superior endurance and experience decided a majority of the matches in favor of the varsity's opponents.

In the singles, Smith of the Van Schaick Club had little difficulty in defeating Newell 6-1, 6-2. Bullock made a strong bid for victory in his match with James, but was defeated after two hard sets, 4-6, 8-10. Fraker, after losing the first set of his match with Cluett, came back strong in the second and third sets and scored the Purple's only point of the afternoon, winning 4-6, 6-2, 6-2. The match between Pollard and Puffer was discontinued because of lack of time, after each player had won a set, 2-6, and 8-6.

In the doubles, Newell and Pollard lost a hard-played match to Smith and James, 4-6, 7-9, and Fraker and Bullock met defeat at the hands of Puffer and Downing, 6-0, 3-6, 4-6.

The summary follows:

Singles—Smith (Van Schaick) defeated Newell (Williams) 6-1, 6-2. James (Van Schaick) defeated Bullock (Williams) 6-4, 10-8. Pollard (Williams) played unfinished match with Puffer (Van Schaick) 2-6, 8-6. Fraker (Williams) defeated Cluett (Van Schaick) 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

Doubles—Smith and James (Van Schaick) defeated Newell and Pollard (Williams) 6-4, 9-7. Puffer and Downing (Van Schaick) defeated Fraker and Bullock (Williams) 0-6, 6-3, 6-4.

DEBATE PLANS FORMED

Atwell to Represent College at Conference Meeting

Hadden '20, president of the Forum has announced that Intercollegiate Debating will be revived this year, and that plans have been made to send Atwell '21 to represent Williams at a Triangular conference with Wesleyan and Amherst to be held at Springfield either Thursday or Saturday of this week. The conference will decide the subject for the series of Williams-Amherst-Wesleyan debates which are scheduled for December 5.

Each college will be represented by two teams, composed of three men and an alternate. One team will sustain the affirmative side of the debate at home and the other will take the negative side on the trips. It is expected that a similar debate will be held with Brown and Dartmouth in the spring.

Plans for a Freshman-Sophomore debate have also been formulated and will be discussed at meetings of the two classes in the near future. All men desiring further information on the matter are requested to see Atwell '21.

Suspend Work on Library

Pending decision on some important changes in the plans, work on the new library has been temporarily suspended. Nothing further than the preparation of the ground, on which workmen are now engaged, will be undertaken this fall, but actual construction will start in the spring.

PROMINENT HARRIERS CONTEND AT SYRACUSE

BROWN EXPECTED TO WIN

Twelve Colleges Will Be Represented in Initial Cross-Country Meet Saturday

Many famous runners will contend for honors in the All-Eastern Intercollegiate Cross-Country Meet to be held at Syracuse tomorrow afternoon. Williams cross country runners will be subjected to their first test of the season at this time, and, though it is not expected that they will win, yet they ought to place high among the twelve colleges entered in the meet. Colleges that will send teams to compete are Colgate, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Harvard, Lafayette, Mass. Institute of Technology, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Syracuse, Williams, and Yale.

Each college will be permitted to enter seven men, and the team whose first five men have the lowest total will win the meet. The course will cover about four and a half miles, ending with a lap around the cinder track.

On account of the large number of champion runners who are entered the race for initial honors will be very closely contested. However, Coach Seely is confident that Brown will take first place. Among the stars from other colleges are O'Connell, Harvard's intercollegiate mile champion, and Reed and Dudley from Yale, prominent in intercollegiate distance races. Swede, former national interscholastic cross country champion, is on the Princeton squad, whereas Crawford, holder of the same title in 1917, and Kleinspeck, intercollegiate mile champion in 1918, will represent Lafayette. Pennsylvania will send in Shields, holder of the world's interscholastic mile record two years ago, and Cornell will rely upon McDermott and Wenz to place. Johnson of Syracuse placed third in the A. E. F. cross-country meet at Paris, and finished twenty-sixth out of a field of over 600 entries in the inter-Allied road race from Versailles to Paris. Simmons of the same University is a member of the New York Athletic Club four-mile Championship team. Dartmouth will be ably represented by Coakley and Crathern, and Columbia, by Hulseback and Turner all of intercollegiate fame.

Williams had excellent prospects of carrying off the honors until Parker was forced to drop from the squad by doctor's orders. The seven men whom Coach Seely will send to Syracuse are Adams, Captain Brown, Coan, Crofts, Kellogg, Platt and Wolf.

Dinner to American Legion

Veterans of the Civil and Spanish-American, as well as the recent War, including a number of College and Williamstown men, were present at a dinner given to the members of the American Legion last Monday evening at the Greylock Hotel. Henry N. Teague as host, presided over the gathering. As principal speaker, ex-governor McCall of Massachusetts delivered the address. Among other speakers were Professor Brainard Mears who responded to a toast for the local company of the State Guard and Douglas Wild '17 who spoke for the service men in College. At the close of the dinner Mr. Sumner Salter led the gathering in a number of songs.

Debating Manager Elected

Lawrence Bond Romaine of Morristown, N. J., was elected class debating manager at a meeting of the Freshman Class held last Tuesday evening in Jesup Hall. At the same time the election of the class officers which took place at the last meeting was confirmed.

JUNIORS LEAD MEET

Remaining Events Will Be Held Next Monday Afternoon

Monday's events in the Interclass Handicap Track Meet had little effect on the standing of the classes. The Juniors still lead with 42 points and 1923 is a poor second with 28 2-3 points. The Seniors now have 16 1-3 and 1922 12 points. Chapin '23 was the highest individual point winner of the day. The pole vault, hammer throw and shot put will be held on Weston Field next Monday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock. The summary:

Broad jump—won by Chapin '23 (one foot); second, Keiser '20 (scratch); third, Olmstead '23 (fifteen inches); distance, 19 feet, 10 inches.

Discus Throw—won by Newell '21 (ten feet); second, Chapin '23 (fifteen feet); third, Miller '22 (fifteen feet); distance, 87 feet, five inches.

Harriers' Schedule Announced

Four meets have been arranged by Manager Coe for the cross country team during the fall season, one of which will take place in Williamstown. Tomorrow the team will run in the All-Eastern Intercollegiate Cross-Country Meet to be held at Syracuse, and on November 1 it will engage in a dual meet with Massachusetts Agricultural College at Amherst, Mass. Another dual meet is scheduled with Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute at Williamstown for November 8, and on the following Saturday, November 15, the team will compete in the N. E. I. C. A. A. at Boston.

FRESHMAN TALENT WILL MAKE DEBUT TOMORROW

Many Prominent Sophomores Expected to Assist in Making "Peerade" Success

According to the statement of the senior committee, the long-awaited Freshman "Peerade", which will be presented to the admiring gaze of the college body and the inhabitants of Williamstown tomorrow afternoon, will surpass all previous productions. This annual revelation of budding talent will appear promptly at 1.30 o'clock, when the procession will be ushered forth from the time-worn portals of Lasell Gymnasium.

One of the prominent features, reports the chairman of the committee, will be the presence of a large number of dazzling female beauties whose charms are expected to captivate the hearts of all onlookers. There is also a rumor that in addition to the handsome boys of 1922 who will impersonate radiant femininity, several North Adams belles have been persuaded to participate, and the committee defies all spectators to distinguish which is the real article and which the substitute. The success of the affair has been doubly assured by the addition of several gay young sophomores to the dramatis personae. These prominent members of 1922, who have so kindly consented to contribute their talents, will provide a certain element of humor without which the "Peerade" would never be complete.

From the gymnasium the procession will wind its way to the Greylock, where several acts will be given. Prominent among these will be "Helmar and His Harem", a riot of oriental sympathy, synecopation and sensuality.

The committee conception of Dean Maxey's farewell dinner to Professor Howes will also contain many elements which will appeal to a large number of undergraduates. The famous episode of the "Lost Battalion" will be re-enacted in full detail for the benefit of all those who were unable to witness the production when presented in the Argonne Theatre with the original cast.

After all the acts are completed the gathering will repair to Weston Field in time for the Williams-Hamilton football game, which is scheduled for 3.00 o'clock.

WILLIAMS AGREES TO RESUME TROPHY AWARD

Student Council Approves Letter from Amherst—Agency for Trophies Awarded

Following discussion on a letter from the Amherst Student Council inviting Williams to resume the so-called "Trophy of Trophies" contest which was temporarily discontinued during the war, it was voted at a meeting of the Student Council in Jesup Hall yesterday evening to hold the competition again as in former years. This trophy, which was presented by Henry Rust Johnston '09 for supremacy in all contests between the two colleges, was last won by Williams during the College year of 1917-1918. The letter from Amherst also contained an apology for the conduct of their alumni at the Williams-Amherst baseball game last spring, and expressed the wish that the same spirit of rivalry that has existed between the two institutions in the past continue in the future.

Upon the application of those men of the class of 1919 who are still in College, it was decided to admit to the Council the three delegates, Becket, Brown and Howland, who had already been elected by their Class, with the power of one vote. The agency for selling Freshman trophies was awarded to Montgomery '21 and Schmidt '22. It was further decided to run a special train to Middletown for the Wesleyan football game on November first, and it was definitely established Freshmen must not wear sheepskin coats with fur collars.

Pipe and Quill Organizes

Pipe and Quill organized for the coming year at a meeting held yesterday evening in Jesup Hall. Pipe and Quill is the senior literary society, whose activities have been suspended for the last two years on account of war conditions. Becket '20 was elected president and Bushnell '20 was chosen secretary-treasurer. Tiebout '20 was selected to prepare a paper to be read at the next meeting which will be held Monday evening, Nov. 3, at the Alpha Delta Phi house. The society is composed of Becket, Brown, Bushnell, Fieser, Gillham, Hawes, Hedden, Perry, Power, Tiebout, Townsend, and Ward '20.

GUN CLUB OPENS SEASON

Decides Not to Join N. A. R.—Shoots to Be Bi-Weekly

By unanimous vote the Gun Club decided not to participate in the Intercollegiate Trap-shooting Matches at Travers Island in November at a meeting Wednesday evening in the Thompson Biological Laboratory. It was felt that a team could not be formed and receive sufficient practice in so short a time. Shoots will be held next spring with Dartmouth and other colleges instead, and a team will in all probability be entered in the National Matches at Caldwell, N. J., during next summer.

At the same meeting it was decided not to affiliate with the National Rifle Association as the few advantages gained would not compensate for the cost involved. This action does not prevent the participation of the Gun Club in N. R. A. matches.

Fulle, Jr. '21 was elected Secretary of the club, and it was further voted to limit club shoots to Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. Members may procure clay pigeons from Sutton '20 for practice on other days.

The first shoot of the season was held Wednesday afternoon. The new traps which have been installed near Stetson Road worked well and were kept busy throughout the afternoon. Dr. Kellogg, Gahagan '20, and Fulle '21 secured the best scores, averaging some 20 birds out of a possible 15.

PURPLE FACES HARD CONTEST TOMORROW

BUFF AND BLUE CONFIDENT

Varsity Eleven Shows Speed in Recent Workouts—Visitors Have Heavy Backfield

Backed by plenty of confidence and undergraduate support, the Hamilton football team will face the Williams varsity tomorrow afternoon at 3.00 o'clock on Weston Field. Reports from Clinton indicate varying opinions in regard to the strength of the Buff and Blue, but it is generally conceded that the game will be closely contested, the odds standing slightly in favor of the Purple.

Hamilton will invade Williamstown on equal terms with the varsity as far as the season's record is concerned, each team having won three games and lost one. The visitors started the season with three victories but were forced to accept the short end of a 7 to 0 score at R. P. I. last Saturday. The teams were evenly matched but Hamilton lacked the final punch necessary to break into the scoring column. Williams, on the contrary, had little difficulty in defeating the Troy team by a 22 to 0 score earlier in the season. This fact seems to give the Purple a slight edge on tomorrow's contest, but other statistics indicate that the Hamilton aggregation is by no means weak. In the game with New York University, the Buff and Blue rolled up a total of nine points while holding their opponents scoreless, whereas Amherst reputed to be a stronger team, defeated the New Yorkers by a bare margin of two points.

According to the Hamilton Life, their defeat at R. P. I. last Saturday was due to overconfidence and is not necessarily indicative of weakness. The article states that tomorrow's game will in all probability be the hardest of the season and that considerable worry over the outcome is being manifested by some supporters of the Buff and Blue.

It is evident, however, that the visitors are not making the mistake of discounting the strength of the Williams eleven, and they will enter the contest tomorrow with a wholesome respect for the ability of Boynton as a ground gainer and competent leader of the Purple attack. Hamilton will probably rely on line-plunging tactics, using Pape, Johnson, Sullivan, and Kaiser on the offensive. Captain Gorman at right tackle has been a big factor in previous games this season and may prove to be a stumbling block to the Purple backfield tomorrow.

Coach Brooks has been putting his men through a series of satisfactory workouts this week and has spent much time in correcting the various faults which were evident in the Columbia game. Boynton has been holding down his position as quarterback and it is not likely that his injuries will handicap him to any great extent tomorrow. Cariek however, is still on the sidelines and may not be able to appear in the lineup. Christian or Coddling will replace him at right end. No other shifts have been made during the week and the team opposing Hamilton will be practically the same as the team which overwhelmed Columbia last Saturday.

The probable lineup follows:

WILLIAMS	HAMILTON
Joslyn	Le. Lawler
Fieser	lt. Fowler
Beebe	lg. Keeler
Mills	c. Baumler
Lasell	r.g. Ogden
Fargo	rt. Gorman
Christian, Coddling	r.e. Clark
Boynton	q.b. Pape
Burger	lt.b. Sullivan
Hibbard	rt.b. Johnson
Krieger	fb. Kaiser

The decision of the Musical Clubs to make a prolonged western trip this Christmas vacation has been greeted with joy. It is one of the best ways to make the College extensively and favorably known in regions where it is not known as well as it should be. But in taking the trip, the Clubs assume a heavy responsibility. They are bringing Williams College before a large public, and that public cannot refrain from judging the College largely by the performance of its representatives,—there being no other way in which to form an opinion. And if the performance is not worthy of the College, if it is not up to the standard set by other college clubs, the estimation of Williams will be below what we want it to be. It would be better to have no trip at all than to disappoint the audiences with mediocre work and depreciate the reputation of Williams. Accordingly, we suggest that the Clubs make certain of their ground; that they have their members signify their intention to make the trip, in order that none may back out at the last moment on the plea that they wish to spend the vacation at home. And we also suggest that all who have musical ability and who feel able to spend some of the holidays on the road come forth to support the organizations.

Culture's First Prerequisite

The October Review of Reviews contains an article on "Our Use of English", full of pertinent lessons for the American public. It shows the importance of correct language as a lubricator for daily intercourse, as an aid to business efficiency, and as a bond of national union. It deplores present practices in the use of English, and points methods for their eradication. If such criticism applies to the public in general, how much more does it apply to college men! If the English of the man in the street must conform to a certain standard of excellence, how much higher must be the standard of the college graduate! The institutions of higher learning, and particularly the colleges of liberal arts, should leave on their graduates the mark of distinction in the use of the language. The young man should not be allowed to retain his habits of slipshod expression.

Look at the conversational English of those about you. They try to express in a vocabulary limited to startlingly few words and phrases, most of them slangy, what they have to say. Assign the average undergraduate something to write in which he must put forth clearly and logically an idea, and see how he balks at the task; see how clumsy and cloudy the result will be. The average undergraduate "speaks English good"; he does not speak it well. And the use of good English is generally both an aid to and a sign of clear thinking. The study of the language is the basis of all other studies. Nothing can be accomplished in other fields until the vehicle of thought is perfected. To claim culture, as a graduate of such a college as Williams, is ludicrous unless the claimant can use his mother tongue with at least a minimum of distinction. How many can do so?

English ought to be taught better than it is taught under present conditions. Every instructor, whether in the English department or not, ought to take it upon himself to see that no flagrant error goes uncorrected, no muddy or ambiguous expression is allowed to pass uncorrected. The freshman requirement of rhetoric 1-2 has been removed, with the condition that those who in other courses show deficiency in English be forced to undergo its training. If the various instructors fail to watch closely the language used by their classes, a man may go entirely through College without a single year of training in English beyond the meagre amount he may have received in preparatory or high school, and he may be badly deficient in English when he graduates. It all depends on the vigilance and earnestness of the faculty.

But nothing can be taught unless it is learned. The greater share of the responsibility is on the student himself, and he has the better opportunities for accomplishment. Primarily, what is needed is care in every day speech,—the elimination of slang and shoddy phraseology, the cultivation of the faculty of putting the right word in the right place to fit the idea it tries to express. Care in every bit of writing that is done comes next, with an effort to use nothing but pure, correct, and, if possible, graceful English. An enlarged vocabulary is essential to most men before they can do this, and nothing can be better than good, intelligent reading among the best books and periodicals both to enlarge the vocabulary and to show how thought can be expressed so that it loses nothing in the expression.

TO RESUME DEBATING

Williams to Form League with Amherst and Wesleyan

Following the announcement that debating would be resumed on a pre-war basis, plans for the season are rapidly being formulated. Goodman '20 and Atwell '21 will represent Williams at the meeting with Amherst and Wesleyan delegates to be held tomorrow in Springfield. At that time the question, rules and judges will be selected and the date definitely decided, although it is thought that the contest will be held about the fifth of December.

The only debate definitely scheduled for the Williams team is the annual one with Union, although Hamilton and Union have invited Williams to enter a triangular league with them. The league with Brown and Dartmouth, which held debates before the war, may again be resumed, although nothing definite has been announced in this matter as yet.

Preliminary trials for the College teams will begin about the middle of November, and from the candidates two teams will be selected consisting of three regulars and one alternate. It is hoped that a large number of candidates will respond to the call in order to revive successfully an activity in which Williams has always ranked high.

DR. HOLMES TO PREACH Buffalo Divine Will Conduct Sunday Chapel Services

Rev. S. V. V. Holmes '83, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Buffalo, N. Y. will preach at the morning Chapel next Sunday. Following his graduation from Williams, Dr. Holmes travelled in Europe, studying at the University of Berlin. In 1886 he received his M. A. degree at Williams and in the following year graduated from the Princeton Theological Seminary. Shortly afterwards he was ordained by the Presbyterian Church and began his ministry as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Richfield, N. Y. In 1892 he was transferred to the First Presbyterian Church in Washington from which he was called a year later to take charge of his present pastorate in Buffalo, N. Y. The degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by Williams in 1902.

Dr. Holmes being obliged to leave Williamstown on Sunday afternoon, the usual meeting of the W. C. A. will be omitted.

"Cow" Appears Tomorrow

The Purple Cow will make its first appearance of the season sometime tomorrow, in the form of an "Initiation Number". Pollard and Draper '20 have designed a very attractive black and white cover design, while the former and Huckle '22 have contributed full page drawings to the contents of this number. Other features by Oppenheimer '20, Hyndman and Moody '21 are particularly worthy of note.

Sedgwick '21 Wins Golf Title

In the final round of the fall golf tournament last Monday, Sedgwick '21 defeated Captain Black '20 on the links of the North Adams Country club. The match was extremely close, Sedgwick turning in a card of 78 to Black's 79, and winning only on the last hole.

Cap and Bells Meets Today

Candidates for Cap and Bells from the three upper classes will hold a meeting this afternoon at 4.15 o'clock in Jesup Hall. Although it has not yet been decided what plays are to be given about 25 men will be selected for membership to the society as the result of competitive trials. Negotiations are now under way to procure a coach for the organization. The first play of the year will undoubtedly be presented during the houseparty festivities in February and an extensive trip will be made during the Easter vacation.

WILLIAMS EIGHTH IN CROSS COUNTRY MEET

PRINCETON TEAM WINNER

Brown Collapses Near Finish— Crofts, Coan, Kellogg, Adams, and Wolfe Purple Scorers

Williams placed eighth in the Syracuse Invitation Cross Country meet held at Syracuse last Saturday afternoon, a track event second only in importance to the Eastern Intercollegiate hill and dale run which will take place November 22. Eleven teams, a total of 77 men were entered in a keenly contested event over a most difficult four and a half mile course. Princeton runners took first place in the meet with a total of 49 points and second honors went to Syracuse with 78 points, while Massachusetts Institute of Technology finished third with 107 points. Individual honors went to Simmons of Syracuse who finished in the fast time of 24 minutes, 56 1-5 seconds. Second and third places were won respectively by Watson, also a member of the Orange team, and by Rogers of Princeton.

At the crack of the pistol H. H. Brown took the lead and increasing it to fifty yards over his nearest opponent maintained first place for the first three miles of the race over an unfamiliar course. But at the top of Mausoleum Hill the strain was too much for him and he was passed by Simmons of Syracuse. Fighting doggedly and picking himself up twice on the descent to the Archbold Stadium, he kept within the first ten runners until he reached the gate where, with but 350 yards to reach the finish line, he collapsed. Crofts who had kept in fifth place as far as the foot of Mausoleum Hill lost a little ground but finished thirteenth the first of the Williams team to cross the line. Considering the nature of the competition he deserves great credit for finishing where he did. Among those he defeated were the captain of the Colgate, Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Syracuse and Yale teams.

Coan, was the thirty-fourth man to cross the line and Kellogg was a very close thirty-fifth. Adams and Wolfe the other members of the Purple team to score, finished forty-sixth and sixty-sixth respectively, bringing the total up to 194 points, which was only three behind Harvard with 191.

Although this result was less favorable than had been expected from the Williams team, the outlook for the New England Championship Meet to be held November 15 is not nearly as dark as it would seem. In addition to being handicapped by Brown's collapse, the Purple harriers were competing with the fastest and best known distance runners in the East, and of those teams by which it was defeated, only one, that of M. I. T. will be entered in the run at Franklin Park. The quintets from Columbia, Colgate, and Dartmouth all finished after the Williams team.

The summary of the places in which the first five runners of each college finished and the team totals follow:

Princeton—3, Rogers; 8, Foresmen; 10, Penfield; 11, Swede; 17, Helm; Total, 49.

Syracuse—1, Simmons; 2, Watson; 23, Fellman; 25, Johnson; 27, Rose; Total, 78.

M. I. T.—7, MacMahon; 16, Stone; 26, Carpenter; 28, Pureell; 30, Flanders; Total, 107.

Yale—6, Hillis; 9, Crosby; 20, Dudley; 40, Kelley; 41, Reed; Total, 116.

Pennsylvania—14, Irwin; 21, Kiviati; 24, Cummings; 29, Mitchell; 33, Brown. Total, 121.

Cornell—4, McDermott; 5, Campbell; 15, Stanton; 38, Duryea; 60, Houston. Total, 122.

Harvard—18, Lewis; 36, Bemis; 43, (Continued on page 3, col. 3.)

OCTOBER "COW" POOR

Few Redeeming Features Mark First Number of Year

Two full page cartoons by Pollard '20 and several smaller drawings by Huckel '22 and Britton '23 are among the few redeeming features of the October number of the Purple Cow which appeared last Saturday. The second attempt of the 1920 board does not come up to the standard set by the first issue.

"Ye Classe Booke of 1608" is the only prose in the number that is at all worthy of mention, and "Pipe Down You simple Frosh" with its accompanying drawing is the best verse. The jokes are fair although several of the prose selections are distinctly poor. "Everybody's Magazine Story" is merely an adaptation of an idea that was old long before the Purple Cow came into existence.

Britton '23 seems to be the best of the new competitors. His drawings of women are particularly good.

DEBATING IS RESUMED BY TRIANGULAR LEAGUE

Labor Question Offers Subject of Interest—Contest to Be Held Early in December

Final plans for the resumption of intercollegiate debating on a pre-war basis were drawn up by the Triangular League, composed of Amherst, Wesleyan, and Williams, at a meeting of delegates in Springfield Saturday afternoon. Atwell '21 represented Williams at the conference, while two representatives each were present from Amherst and Wesleyan.

Considerable enthusiasm and extended discussions characterized the meeting which lasted throughout the afternoon. Numerous alterations and changes from previous methods of debating were considered but were generally rejected. Delegates from both Amherst and Wesleyan declared plenty of excellent debating material to be available in their respective colleges and appeared confident of producing winning teams.

All three debates will be held on Friday, December 5th, Wesleyan debating at Williams, Williams at Amherst, and Amherst at Wesleyan. In each case the affirmative team will remain at home. The college winning two debates will receive the cup which is at present held by Williams. In case of a tie, should each college win and lose one debate, the cup will remain where last held until the following year.

The subject for debate, as finally settled upon, is as follows: Resolved, that the right of wage earners to bargain collectively should be recognized. The phrase "to bargain collectively" is defined as the right "to organize without discrimination, to be represented by representatives of their own choosing in negotiations and adjustments with employers with respect to wages, hours of labor, and relations and conditions of employment." Several other questions were discussed previously, notably the Plumb plan for nationalization of railroads, but each in turn was rejected.

Judges from each college were selected, and the constitution and by-laws of the league as drawn up last spring were ratified. In the final debates each speaker will be allowed nine minutes for presentation of his subject and six minutes for rebuttal. Judgment will be based on the force of the arguments, the method of presentation, the argumentative ability demonstrated, the force of the speaker in carrying the audience with him, and the delivery.

A meeting for all men interested in intercollegiate debating will be held in Jesup Hall at 7.30 o'clock Wednesday evening. As this will be the only call (Continued on page 4, col. 1.)

FASCINATING FROSH PARALYZE POPULACE

1923 FROLICS FOOLISHLY

Capitalists, Bolsheviks, Lost Battalions and Harem Dan- cers Vie in Festivity

Displaying a versatility of form and fashion which fretted and fascinated the frantic flocks of frenzied followers crowding along the line of march, the Class of 1923 issued forth from the ancient portals of the Lasell gymnasium last Saturday afternoon on the occasion of the Freshman "Peerade" and gave Williamstown its annual eye-full of beauty and pomp. The procession formed at the gymnasium at 1.30 o'clock and, after wending its noisy way through the streets and by-ways, halted long enough to stage a brief performance for the amusement and edification of spectators assembled at the Greylock Hotel. The jocular juggernaut then retired to Weston Field where it was immortalized by the (inevitable Mr. Kinsman).

Leading the parade was an ancient and awe-inspiring ark drawn by four pensive Pegasi and harboring the Perpetration Committee of Burrows, Carson, Draper, Foster, Hawes, Kemberly, Oppenheimer (chairman), and Prescott. Behind the official vehicle came a blast of blatant melody, created by the Greylock Mills Band under the leadership of Maxwell '23. Following was a banner with the strange device "Dean Maxcy Resigns" escorted by a group of animated caricatures of faculty members. Several so-ho-mores, who had kindly volunteered to aid and abet the occasion, frolicked among the sedate professors, dragging a trio of festive canines, the puzzle, as explained by a subtle and insinuating sign, being to "pick out the dogs."

Next in the line of march came an amazing troupe of Broadway Brevities, aptly named because of their choruslike costumes, who advertised themselves as "voluptuous vimen vho vamp vith vengeance." The ephemeral beauty of the wild vimen was considerably enhanced by the high rate of speed attained by the procession, which made impossible a minute examination of signs and performers. Close on the heels of the sublime butterflies crowded a delegation of the hated capitalists from the Spring Street Gold Coast whose skill in capturing College cash was verbosely flaunted. They, in turn, were pursued by an unruly mob bearing the crimson emblem of that pretty parlor pastime known as the game of Bolshevism.

Loud applause heralded the approach of the military section of the procession in which Vood, Vhittelsey, and Williams were variously represented as "vorking vor victory". The Babes in the Woods, comprising the Lost Battalion, followed their redoubtable commander and wandered aimlessly amidst the dense underbrush of the Argonne Forest, borrowed for the occasion from a neighboring oak tree. The rest of the parade consisted of a heterogeneous mass of talent, wit, and noise which defies description.

The entertainment at the Greylock Hotel was neither as pretentious nor as successful as those of former years, its (Continued on page 3, col. 3.)

WELSH CHOIR HERE

Noted Singers Will Appear in Grace Hall Friday Night

Professor Weston has announced the opening of the Thompson course with a concert by the noted Mountain Ash Welsh Male Concert Choir in Grace Hall next Friday evening at 8 o'clock. This group of singers is a world renowned aggregation of vocal stars, who are now on their fourth tour of America, under the leadership of Professor T. Glyndwr Richards.

The Welsh Male chorus is a unique organization in that each member is chosen because of his artistic value to the program as a whole, and there are no individual stars with inferior support. American and foreign newspapers and celebrities have given them a place among the highest class organizations of the sort, and Professor Richards has been given great praise for his ability as a director.

Professor Weston is unable at present to announce the remaining numbers of the Thompson Course, but he is conducting negotiations with several distinguished performers, and additional numbers will be announced as soon as they are secured.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE INCLUDES TEN CONTESTS

Seven Games Will Be Played at Home—Four New Teams Will Oppose Purple Quintet

Ten games comprise this year's basketball schedule as arranged by Manager Draper and ratified by the Athletic Council. Of this number, seven will be played in Williamstown and three will take place away from home. Three teams, Massachusetts Agricultural College, New York State College, and Brown, which appeared on last year's schedule, have been dropped from this year's list, and in their place four new ones, Dartmouth, Hamilton, Syracuse, and West Point, have been added.

As usual there will be the two annual contests with both Wesleyan and Amherst. Last year Williams lost her two games with the former and was the victor in the two with the latter. The houseparty game on February 5, which has been tentatively arranged with Syracuse, should prove especially difficult. Yale was originally scheduled for that date, but an order by the Yale faculty has necessitated a cancellation of the game.

The complete schedule will be as follows:

Wesleyan at Williamstown, Jan. 16.
Dartmouth at Williamstown, Jan. 19.
Syracuse at Williamstown, Feb. 5 (tentative).
Amherst at Amherst, Feb. 13.
Hamilton at Williamstown, Feb. 21.
West Point at West Point, Feb. 28.
Colgate at Williamstown, March 3. (tentative).
Wesleyan at Middletown, March 6.
Union at Williamstown, March 10.
Amherst at Williamstown, March 13.

To Hold College Mass Meeting

All undergraduates are expected to attend a College mass meeting which will be at 7.30 o'clock Tuesday evening in the Jesup Hall Auditorium. Plans for the enthusiastic support of the football team in the future big games will be discussed at that time. Coach Joe Brooks will speak.

Soccer Practice Begins

About thirty-five men reported for soccer practice last Friday afternoon on Weston Field. Williams '20 is in charge of the squad and will arrange a schedule for the interclass series which will begin next week. Practice will be held regularly this week for all classes, and it is expected that a large number of men will turn out as the class teams must be formed before Saturday.

HAMILTON DEFEATED IN RAGGED CONTEST

Williams Eleven Displays Poor Offensive Ability but Wins Victory by 13-0 Margin

BOYNTON AGAIN STARS

Williams Captain Responsible for Most of Gains—Makes 28 Yard Run for Score

Displaying the poorest form of the season, the Williams football eleven defeated Hamilton last Saturday afternoon on Weston Field, 13 to 0, in an exceedingly ragged contest. The varsity offense was weak except for occasional flashes of brilliancy, and the Hamilton line was able to hold several times for three downs, forcing Boynton to punt.

Captain Boynton was easily the star of the game, gaining most of the ground for the Purple. The first touchdown, at the end of the opening quarter, was the result of a 28-yard run by the Williams Captain on an off-tackle play. He managed to break through several other times for runs of from 10 to 20 yards, but was unable to repeat his performances of the Columbia contest, when he made several runs of over 40 yards.

For Hamilton, Captain Gorman, right tackle, played an excellent defensive game, stopping many plays aimed at his side of the line. The center of the Buff and Blue line, from tackle to tackle, was the strongest part of the team, and little ground was gained by the Williams backs either through center or between guard and tackle. The Hamilton ends, however, were often boxed by the Williams interference, and most of the Williams gains came on end-runs and off-tackle plays.

The Hamilton offense was inferior to that of the Purple, as is shown by the fact that Williams made ten first downs to four for the visitors. A possible explanation of the failure of the varsity backs to gain more consistently is that Coach Brooks was trying several new plays, and the team was also handicapped by the loss of Becket through an injury sustained in the Columbia game, and of Krieger because of ineligibility.

First Half

Gorman kicked off to Boynton on the Williams five-yard line, and the Williams captain ran it back 25 yards before downed. Burger gained five yards each on two line plunges for first down. Three more plays through the line failed, but Boynton gained another first down on a criss-cross. On the third down, a forward pass was intercepted by Campbell, giving the ball to Hamilton. The Hamilton backs could not gain, and Lawler punted out of bounds on the Williams 42-yard line. A succession of punts followed which resulted in an advantage for the Purple when one of Lawler's kicks went outside only seven yards beyond the line of scrimmage, giving the ball to Williams on the Hamilton 32-yard line. A series of line plunges then paved the way for a touchdown, but with the ball on the four-yard line Christian fumbled. Hamilton punted to her own 30-yard line, and after a two-yard gain, Boynton broke through, and by clever dodging scored the first touchdown of the game. Boynton kicked the goal. Lasell kicked off to the Hamilton three-yard line, and Kaiser ran the ball back thirty yards. The rest of the half was without any brilliant playing, neither team being able to gain consistently. Williams had the advantage, most of the playing being done in Hamilton territory, but Boynton was forced to punt several times after the Purple backs had failed to make the distance.
